The Never Ending Story, Again

A third motion to hold Hardeman County Mayor Jimmy Sain in contempt of court for failing to honor an agreed consent order has brought a change of representation and a potential bombshell in the eight month-old standoff between Mayor Sain and Hardeman County Sheriff John Doolen.

Doolen explained his reason for the filing, done by Attorney Roy Herron of Dresden. "I didn't have any choice," Sheriff Doolen explained, "but to defend our deputies and jailers who protect the public. They make thousands of dollars less than others nearby and so little that several of their families literally qualify for public assistance and food stamps. We finally got the mayor to agree to help some, and the county commission to their credit approved funds to raise deputies' and jailers' pay a bit. But ever since then, the mayor has refused to pay these men and women who risk their lives for all of us."

Sheriff Doolen stressed that not a dollar of the funds sought to improve his employees' pay would go to him. Sheriffs' salaries already are set by state law.

Attorney for Mayor Sain, Amber Griffin Shaw of Covington, hired in late January to represent Mayor Sain, did not address the contempt charge, but instead said in her motion to set aside the consent order that the original lawsuit itself was not handled according to the law.

"When any lawsuit is filed, we must follow the law and the statutes. The sheriff's case is no exception. Unfortunately, we have had to file this motion to ask the court set aside the consent order previously signed, because it isn't valid and is not enforceable. It does not follow the law of the State of Tennessee, as set out in our motion," said Shaw.

She elaborated, stating, "This is not a private lawsuit between two parties; this is a lawsuit requesting that public funds, $102,000, be paid a certain way, to the sheriff's office. Because of that, and Mr. Herron's request for the citizens of Hardeman County to pay $174,000 of his attorney's fees in connection with the suit, we have to proceed with the utmost caution and carefully follow the law, which has not been done, and now requires the consent order to be set aside or invalidated."

One of Shaw's initial points in her motion is that the special circumstances of this type of

Centennial Observes Go Red Day

The ladies of Centennial Bank wore red on Friday, February 7 in observance of Go Red Day, a day designed to bring awareness of heart disease and stroke.

Hall to Leave Chamber of Commerce

The Hardeman County Chamber of Commerce Director Laura Hall informed the Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors on February 12 that she would be leaving her position to take a position with the University of Memphis.

Hall has served as the director since April 11, 2018, when she was named the interim director. She was then asked to serve as the permanent director beginning in August of that same year.

"Words cannot express how we are going to miss her," said Chamber Board President Sharron Marden. "She has been a jewel and proven herself in our community. Her work speaks for itself. She will be missed. I wish her well."

Hall is a 2017 graduate of Liberty University with a Bachelors Degree in Business. Hall also holds an Associates Degree in Accounting from Jackson State.

Toone

Glenn Yarbrough

gnyarb@bellsouth.net

Hello from a wet and soggy Toone! I guess when the groundhog says we are having an early spring, that means to get our boats and life-preservers out and get ready! This is shaping up to be a possible flood similar to the one we had last spring. I believe the weather patterns have definitely changed since I was younger. Although we got lots of rain back then, I don't remember these horrible storms and tornadoes during the winter. I guess Ol' Al Gore is having the last laugh now thinking he was right about global warming!

I'm just glad we all survived that horrible snow blizzard that hit last Thursday. It never ceases to amaze me how the weathermen can hype snow into something that we rarely ever get. I am really surprised that the schools were out last Friday, because as I traveled the back roads early that morning, they were all completely clear. Oh well, I guess they choose to err on the side of caution with the buses.

To me this was a perfect snow, it covered the trees and ground but not the road, and then it melted within a few hours. I got to enjoy the beauty of it but not the mess that comes with snow and ice. I'll take those every winter.

Snow days were always fun when I was a kid growing up in Toone. We all prayed for snow because there were so many fun things to do. Since there are plenty of hills in Toone, there was always good sliding, plus there were lots of wooden or metal materials laying around that we could use to slide. We used whatever was handy such as sheets of old sheets of tin, car hoods, cardboard boxes, and yes, occasionally even a real sled. However, the most fun (although a bit dangerous) was to hide by the roadside and then run and grab the bumper of a passing vehicle for a free tow up one of the long hills in town, and then slide back down. Most drivers were happy to give us a tow. When I was grown and had my first 4-wheel drive pick-up truck, we would tie the sleds behind the truck and ride the backroads and open fields, sometimes until the wee hours of the morning. There was always plenty of fun to be had back in those days.

Following the worship service last Sunday, Toone Baptist Church hosted a multi-purpose celebration in the fellowship hall. In addition to a Valentine's luncheon for the church members, Larry McCarver, was honored with a surprise 70th birthday party. Also included in the party was an old-fashions "food pounding" where food items were donated and given to the church's children's minister and his family as a "welcome to the community"! Everyone enjoyed great food and lots of fun!

The youth group at Toone Baptist Church is preparing to attend the Tennessee Youth Evangelism Conference in Nashville. The dates for this year's conference are, March 13-14. There is still time to register your children. For more information, call the church at: 731-658-5922.

Go ahead and mark your calendars now for the Toone Baptist Church's Men's Prayer Breakfast, Saturday, March 28, at 9:00 a.m. All men are invited to attend.

It's spring collection time for the Toone Elementary School Box Tops program. Anyone out there who has been saving box tops should turn them in as soon as possible. You can drop them by the school office, or give them to any student or staff member of the school and they will turn them in for you. This is a very important program to the school, because the box tops are redeemed for dollars used to buy supplies for the classrooms. Let's all help our TES kids by saving our box tops. The next collection is scheduled for the Fall.

I would like to pass along a Happy Birthday wish to one of our former Toone neighbors, Aaron Chism, who celebrates his big day, February 25. Aaron and his family have a long history in Toone. His family owned and operated Ray's BBQ for several decades. Aaron is now retired and lives in Memphis. Happy birthday, my friend!

To share your community news, or promote a church, civic or school function, contact me via the information at the head of this column.

I would like to wish each and everyone of you a very Happy Valentine's Day. Until next time . . . talk to your neighbors!

Condolences to the family of Braxton Lane Wilson Adkisson. Braxton was the son of Nicole Hill Adkisson and the grandson of Jamie and Christie Hill.

Grady and Carolyn Stack enjoyed a few days of camping at Natchez Trace State Park. Mark your calendars to attend Game Night at Silerton Baptist Church on Saturday, February 15 at 6:00 p.m. BBQ and other fixins will be served. Come enjoy the food, fun and fellowship.

Bill and Gail Mayfield took a guided tour of Scotland with four friends from Mississippi and Alabama. The guide shared history of Edinburgh, St. Andrews, Oban, Pitlochry, The Trossachs and Glasgow. Of particular interest to Gail was the Ferguson Clan history in the Highlands and their part in the violent war of the Jacobites on Culloden Moor in the 1700's. They did not see the Loch Ness monster Nessie.

This week we spotlight the love in a mother/daughter relationship. Ann Hinson shares her remarkable story of the love and compassion she received from her daughter, Paula. Ann was diagnosed with shingles in August 2019. While still suffering from shingles, she spilled boiling water on her left leg which resulted in severe burns. The mother-daughter relationship was turned around. Ann became dependent upon her daughter to become the caregiver. Ann states, "Paula was a trooper and was always available to be the cook, housekeeper, do the laundry and all the other responsibilities of maintaining a home. She also stepped up to the task of changing bandages on my leg on the days that home healthcare was not scheduled. She made many changes in her work schedule to take me to the wound center for treatments." Ann expressed her gratitude because as difficult as it is for a child's role to change to caregiver, it is also difficult for a mother to be in need of a child's help. During the past several months, their relationship has grown because of the love that was given and received.

As the month progresses, please contact me if you have someone you would like to recognize for sharing their love.

FAITH

The Gospel: Part 2

Last week's column began a new series about the Gospel. Essentially, it defined what the word "Gospel" means and rehearsed the word's Latin and Greek forms as well as its English etymology. The Gospel means "good news."

For example, Mark opens his book, "the beginning of the gospel [good news] of Jesus Christ, the Son of God" (1:1, brackets added). In Matthew, when the word Gospel is used, it is in collocation with the word "Kingdom," as in "Gospel of the Kingdom." So, not only is the death, burial, and resurrection of Jesus good news, but so is the inauguration of God's reign on earth and the dawning of the new age in the person of Jesus the Messiah.

I Corinthians 15:1-4 is the most comprehensive explanation of the Gospel in the Bible. Paul writes, "now I would remind you, brothers, of the gospel I preached to you, which you received, in which you stand and by which you are being saved, if you hold fast to the word I preached to you—unless you believed in vain. For I delivered to you as of first importance what I also received: that Christ died for our sins in accordance with the Scriptures, that he was buried, that he was raised on the third day in accordance with the Scriptures . . ."

According to Romans 15:19, Paul said, "so from Jerusalem all the way around to Illyricum, I have fully proclaimed the gospel of Christ." So, in addition to its being the content of Paul's preaching throughout most of the Mediterranean world, the Gospel saves sinners: both religious and non-religious ones. Just as he indicated elsewhere, "for I am not ashamed of the gospel, for it is the power of God for salvation to everyone who believes, to the Jew first and also to the Greek" (Romans 1:16).

Paul also answers the simple question, "What is the Gospel?" He doesn't just give an opinion. Rather, he provides the most authoritative answer. The Gospel he preached and that saves sinners is "according to the Scriptures." What Scriptures? The only possible answer is the Hebrew Scriptures, or what Christians today call the Old Testament. The Gospel Paul preached and explains in 1 Corinthians 15 isn't something de novo (anew). Instead, all parts of the Gospel were anticipated in the Old Testament. There isn't one Gospel for Abraham and Moses and another Gospel for Paul and the Church: more about this in a forthcoming column.

Finally, Paul went on to say (vv.5-8) that Jesus, who arose according to the Scriptures, was seen alive. ". . . he appeared to Cephas, then to the twelve. Then he appeared to more than five hundred brothers at one time, most of whom are still alive, though some have fallen asleep. Then he appeared to James, then to all the apostles. Last of all, as to one untimely born, he appeared also to me." Do you believe the eyewitnesses? Do you believe the good news of Scripture?

Mobile Grief

by David Coy

We live in a very fluid society. We are constantly on the move. One person has suggested that employees of some companies transfer every two to five years. It is also not uncommon for servants of God who proclaim his word also to move periodically from one work to another. This has been a standard for long enough to enable study of the effects on families and individuals. When transition occurs people prooft their familiarities, relationships and attachments built during the time lived at a particular location. Only to move to an unfamiliar place and to leave the familiar and relationships behind. It is difficult and a cause of grief mentally, emotionally and physically to leave everyone and everything you know and to start over someplace unknown. It is believed that one in five people in America move every year.

The health of our whole being is tied in our social contact with one another. It is a known fact that forced isolation has a negative impact upon our mental and emotional well-being. Don Marquis said it this way; All religion, all life, all expression comes down to this: to the effort of the human soul to break through its barrier of loneliness, of intolerable loneliness, and make some contact with another seeking soul, or with what all souls seek, which is (by any name) God. This feeling of being uprooted comes in many forms. It can be children who are enduring the divorce of parents. Or, as it is said of Sigmund Freud that he felt uprooted when his father died. In the same way, loving and being loved is the greatest blessing one can experience in life, yet it also brings much sorrow when separation comes. We may be blessed by our experience of grief just as loving has. Life is ever changing. This is Sunrise Aftercare, sunrise@sfdcures.com lawsuit were ignored.

Quoting Tenn. Code Ann., the officers shall name in the petition the county mayor as the party defendant thereto. A copy of the petition shall be served on the county mayor, who shall file an answer to the petition within five (5) days from the date of service of the petition, either admitting the allegations of the petition or denying same, or making such answer as the county mayor deems advisable under the circumstances. Whereupon, the court shall promptly in term or at chambers have such a hearing on the application, on the petition and answer thereto, as will develop the facts, and the court may hear proof either for or against the petition. The court may allow or disallow the application, either in whole or in part, and may allow the whole number of deputies or assistants applied for or a less number, and may allow the salaries set out in the application or smaller salaries, all as the facts justify.

Shaw added in her motion that no request for a hearing was made by the petitioner and that no request has been found in writing from Herron.

"Instead," Shaw writes, "Petitioner filed for a Motion for Default Judgement on July 24, 2019. No hearing was requested, as was required by the statute for the relief sought. No motion hearing was set for the Motion for Default Judgement."

Shaw also disputes paying of the attorney fees, saying, "It is clear in both Orders, the county is the identified party by which fees and expenses are to be paid. This is in clear violation of statute and case law, and the Orders must be set aside... Since the October 15, 2019, consent order does not contain the necessary party agreement, fails to identify the correct party for payment of fees and costs, and fails substantively as set forth above, it should be vacated/set aside. If it is set aside, there should be no order granting attorneys' fees and costs, since this Motion stemmed from the October 15, 2019 consent order."

Herron's office released this statement: "Four months ago the Mayor agreed to the Consent Order. Four months ago the mayor had the county attorney present the Consent Order to the county commission which approved the Order by a vote of 15-to-1. But now, unfortunately, the Mayor wants to renege on his word.

"All the Hardeman County jailers and deputies are underpaid, and some of their families qualify for food stamps because the Mayor has repeatedly refused to honor his word or the court order. He has repeatedly denied them the small pay raises authorized by the court order.

"County Attorney Chip Cary last September warned the mayor and county commissioners in a letter, 'This case has the potential to bankrupt the county.'

"County Attorney Chip Cary also wisely advised the mayor and commissioners, 'This case should be settled.' And Attorney Cary on behalf of the Mayor negotiated the Consent Order that resolved many of the issues. But now instead of heeding the county attorney's advice, or the court's order, the mayor is wasting even more tax dollars on new litigation. I have dealt with six previous attorneys who have attempted to represent the mayor, none of whom even attempted to set aside the consent order.

"The motion to set aside the order is ill-founded. It is wrong on the facts and wrong on the law. It is yet another waste of the tax dollars of the hard-working people of Hardeman County.

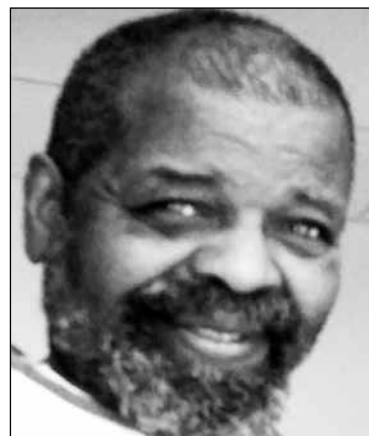

"The consent order signed in October is both valid and enforceable. The mayor's claim that the law will not permit him to pay these deputies and jailers is woefully inaccurate.

"What the mayor's motion really is about him trying to avoid being held accountable for his repeated acts of contempt for the Circuit Court and acts of contempt for the county's jailers and deputies.

"The sheriff's motion for contempt and for sanctions asks that the court assess damages for the mayor's misbehavior and that the mayor be ordered to 'personally reimburse the county.' It seeks to shift the burden of the litigation costs and attorneys' fees from the county's taxpayers to the mayor "for willfully, intentionally, and lawlessly demanding that the mayor's employees violate the law and the order of this Honorable Court.

"Respectfully, I really wish the mayor would listen to one of his seven lawyers and pay these deputies and jailers. If the mayor would do what he agreed and the court ordered, the tax money could go to Hardeman County law enforcement instead of out-of-county lawyers."

According to Hardeman County Circuit Court Clerk Billy Davis, the issue is scheduled to be heard February 27 at the Hardeman County Criminal Justice Center.

Bolivar Energy Authority

Your Local Energy Provider

To operate your space heater and fireplace efficiently and help keep down your heating bill, here's some advice:

Turn down the thermostat and use space heaters to warm only the rooms being used. If it is below 40 degrees outside, don't use your fireplace. When a fire is burning, lower the thermostat a few degrees. And always keep the damper closed when the fireplace isn't being used.

For more information on energy saving steps you can take, call Bolivar Energy Authority at 731-658-5257.

Valentine's Day: Financial Protection Can Be a Great Valentine's Day Gift

On Valentine's Day, you can give your spouse or life partner a traditional gift such as candy or flowers. But once you've done that, why not think about something that can provide longer-lasting benefits for your loved one? Specifically, think about ways to provide a lifetime of financial protection.

You can do this in several ways, including:

Protection while you're alive – As you know, it's usually necessary for both partners or spouses to work to maintain a household – so if your income were to disappear, even temporarily, it could present a big problem. Your current employer could offer disability income insurance as an employee benefit, but it might not be enough for your needs, so you may want to consider purchasing your own policy. Keep in mind, though, that disability coverage typically only lasts for a few years, and, in any case, probably won't completely replace your income. Consequently, it's a good idea to build up your financial resources in other ways, so contribute as much as you can afford to your 401(k) and IRA during your working years. If you do become disabled, it may be possible for you to tap into these funds without incurring a tax penalty, though regular taxes may still be due.

Protection if you need care – If you were ever to need some type of long-term care, such as an extended stay in a nursing home or the services of a home health care worker, you might find the costs to be considerable – and possibly a severe burden on your spouse or partner. In fact, the average cost for a private room in a nursing home is about $100,000 per year, while a home health aide costs about $50,000 per year, according to Genworth, an insurance company. And Medicare typically pays only a small percentage of these expenses. To protect your spouse or partner – not to mention your grown children – from possibly having to deal with these costs, you might consider purchasing long-term care insurance. As an alternative, you could purchase a "hybrid" policy that combines long-term care benefits with those offered by a traditional life insurance policy. So, if you never needed long-term care, your policy would pay a death benefit to your spouse or partner or another beneficiary you've named.

Protection when you're gone – If you were to pass away, would your spouse or partner have the financial resources to continue the same lifestyle, pay the mortgage or, if you have children, provide for their education? If the answer is no, then you need to maintain adequate life insurance. How much is enough? There's no one right answer for everyone. You might hear that you need a death benefit that's worth seven or eight times your annual income, but the actual amount should be based on a variety of factors – your age, size of family, current income, spouse or partner's income, and so on. A financial professional can help you determine the appropriate amount of coverage.

Valentine's Day is just one day on the calendar. But if it serves as another reminder of how much you value your spouse or partner and spurs you into action to protect her or him throughout your lifetime – and beyond – then it will be an important day indeed.

Grinding with the Grizzlies

The Bolivar Parks and Recreation Department have partnered with the Memphis Grizzlies this season as a sponsor of their youth basketball leagues.

"It's been a different experience and we've enjoyed it so far," said Bolivar Parks and Recreation Director Curtis Stack. "We'll assess the success of the program and see about next season."

The Junior Grizzlies program gives each kid a basketball and a free ticket to a Grizzlies game during the regular season along with a reversible uniform top and shorts. The team names are created by the leagues themselves.

The Junior Grizzlies website says more than 7,000 kids from all over the Mid-South participate in the program.

Black History Month Celebration Continues

As the workshop choir prepares for another dynamic presentation in songs and praises, the public is cordially invited to join and support the worship service in song on Sunday evening, February 16, at 6:00 pm at Mt. Salem Baptist Church, Pastor Melvin Bufford. The National Black History Month Theme for 2020 is "African Americans and the Vote"

Reflecting on last year's theme of "Music with a Message"- the theme for 2020 is "Show Some Signs". The chairperson and director of the choir is the very dedicated and very energetic Vicki Hill of Grand Junction. Again as last year, guest vocalist, Mr. George Dean of Memphis, will join the Workshop Choir as lead singer in a couple of songs. In addition to spiritual singing from the Hardeman County Commission for Black History, the Spiritual Excitement of Memphis will be also on the program. We would love to see your face in the place.

Trail Ride in Hickory Valley Honors Tradition

For several years Mr. Bubba Powell hosted a trail ride to kick off the beginning of the National Bird Dog Trial.

After Powell's passing his nephews carried the tradition on, with a third generation leading the ride of about 50 who participated this year.

The 121st running of the National Bird Dog Trial began February 10.

The National Championship was first organized and run near West Point, Mississippi in 1896. Later, the competition was conducted on field trial grounds south of Grand Junction, Tennessee; near Rogers Springs, Tennessee; and finally, the Ames Plantation, finding a permanent home in 1915 at Ames Plantation.

English Pointers and Setters qualify from 70 qualifying rounds in order to compete on the 6,000 acres of Ames Plantation in early February of each year. For more information go to amesplantation.org/field-trials.
