A Dozen Deputies, Please

A consultant hired as part of the terms of the settlement of the lawsuit between Hardeman County Sheriff John Doolen and Hardeman County Mayor Jimmy Sain returned his finding, saying that the Hardeman County Sheriff's Department is understaffed.

While expert opinion in this area is not immediately considered enforceable (see Cunningham v Moore County, 1980), Madison County Sheriff Overton's report, completed February 4, recommended the staff increase by hiring 12 additional deputies.

Overton was hired by Hardeman County to advise on staffing hours and staff size as part of the county's request for a consultant to review staffing and scheduling for the sheriff's department.

In an email dated November 21, Hardeman County Mayor Jimmy Sain again brought Mr. Overton to Doolen's attention, touting him as qualified.

"Chief Overton is a native Hardeman Countian that had a successful career in administration at the Jackson Police Department and retired. After retiring, Madison County Sheriff Steve Mehr recruited Mr. Overton as his Chief Deputy. Chief Overton is a graduate of the prestigious Northwestern University Center for Public Service (Staff and Command)," he wrote, adding his recommendation if hired, came at no cost to the county.

Earlier in the month at the county commission meeting on November 19, Sain assured Doolen that Mr. Overton was an expert, saying, "He's got forty years in."

"The current staffing levels on each shift are inadequate and do not meet the demand of the workload. On any given day, with regular scheduled days off, there may be a few as two deputies working a shift, patrolling 670 square miles and servicing over 25,000 residents," he wrote.

"If the staffing levels on each shift could be brought up to the recommended numbers listed below, this would allow each deputy to spend 50% of their time conducting proactive patrols, self-initiated activities and have higher visibility, which would reduce crime throughout Hardeman County."

Overton also said his recommendation is that salaries be raised across the board, saying that law enforcement agencies compete for talent and that the lower paying ones become "training grounds."

"If the agency does not keep their pay and benefits as a competitive level, the officers start looking for something better. The agency then loses a lot of money in training and experience. Most Law Enforcement Agencies in West Tennessee are very young. In other words, a large percentage of the officers in the agency have less than five years' experience. In most cases over 50% of the officers have less than two years. It has been my experience that if an agency can retain an officer for at least five years, that officer will more than likely stay. Several things will be responsible for that happening. A good working environment being one, which keeps the morale high. Feeling safe while working (available back-up), future expectations (promotions, etc) and pay and benefits."

"The Hardeman County Sheriff's Office does not have to be a "training ground" for other agencies, costing the county thousands of dollars each time a deputy or detention specialist resigns. A salary comparison was made with similar departments in West Tennessee. I would recommend that the starting salary for law enforcement and corrections be increased by at least 7%. A graduated pay scale should be instituted with increases each reaching an increase of at least $10,000 per year above starting pay at the five year mark and at least $20,000 per year above starting pay at 14 years. In my opinion, this would make Hardeman County

Child Care Centers Wanted

Do you know a childcare center that could put $4,000 to good use?

Hundreds of child care centers throughout the state of Tennessee already have signed up to take advantage of Support and Enhancement Grants made possible through a partnership with The Community Foundation of Middle Tennessee and the Tennessee Department of Human Services (TDHS).

Announced in late October 2019, the partnership provides shared services and administers grants through ChildcareTennessee.com for child care agencies licensed by TDHS.

Shared services are essential to helping child care centers save time and money.

ChildcareTennessee.com makes available to 2,300 child care agencies more than 2,000 resources to assist child care directors with administrative tasks, from HR resources to staying compliant with federal and state regulations. These downloadable resources take some of the administrative load off directors so they can focus on what matters most — more than 161,000 of Tennessee's children.

By logging into the ChildcareTennessee.com website, child care directors can also view multiple vendors offering discounts that provide cost savings in child care administration. Directors can then reallocate those savings to better support the children they serve.

Examples of potential savings include 20% on child care products and supplies, 10%-30% on food and food service supplies and 12%-45% on office supplies.

TDHS Support and Enhancement Grants will allow any child care provider licensed with the state agency to apply for up to $4,000 to enhance equipment, programs, including supplies, and consultants and coaches.

Child care agencies in one of the 15 economically distressed counties identified in Tennessee Governor Bill Lee's Executive Order No. 1 may apply for up to $5,000. These counties include Bledsoe, Clay, Cocke, Fentress, Grundy, Hardeman, Hancock, Jackson, Lake, Lauderdale, McNairy, Morgan, Perry, Scott and Van Buren.

Annette Bishop, a child care agency director located in Lawrence County, was recently awarded her organization's grant money.

"I am more than excited about the Enhancement Grant, in particular for group and family child care," Bishop said. "The morale boost is much needed and very timely."

"The application was very manageable," she continued. "Plus, the ChildcareTennessee team treated me with respect and prompt attention whenever I had questions and concerns about the process."

ChildcareTennessee has regional coordinators meeting with child care centers statewide to train on usage of the website, as well as to assist with grant applications.

Registering on ChildcareTennessee.com is free until September 30, 2020. Child care directors can register now and set up an account to start utilizing shared services.

Support and Enhancement Grant applications are open and licensed agencies can apply on ChildcareTennessee.com. Applications close on August 31, 2020.

For more information and to begin exploring shared services, visit ChildcareTennessee.com.

About the Tennessee Department of Human Services

The Tennessee Department of Human Services is responsible for licensing and monitoring more than 2,300 child care agencies across the state. The primary purpose of licensing is to support child care agencies in providing environments that are safe, healthy, and educationally rich.

Volunteer Fire Department $$$ Available

State Senator Dolores Gresham of Somerville is urging all local volunteer fire departments in her district, including Hardeman County, to apply for grants through a new Volunteer Firefighter Equipment and Training Grant Program. The program was established through legislation passed by the General Assembly last year which was co-sponsored by Gresham.

"Our volunteer firefighters are always there for us, willing to risk their lives to keep others safe," said Senator Gresham. "This grant is an opportunity for them to get needed funds to help them protect both their lives, and the lives and property of citizens in our communities. I urge all of our local volunteer fire departments to apply before the March 27 deadline."

The program earmarks $500,000 for the purchase of firefighting equipment by Tennessee's volunteer fire departments or to help volunteer departments meet local match requirements for federal grants for purchasing equipment. Fire departments must hold a valid recognition from the SFMO and have a staff made up of at least 51% volunteers to apply. Grant proceeds may be used to purchase equipment used by a firefighter to extinguish fires and protect the life of a firefighter, other than fire trucks or vehicles.

Applications received during the submission period will be scored internally and submitted to a seven member committee who will make the final decision and award selection. The committee is composed of three representatives from the Tennessee Fire Chief's Association, three representatives from the Tennessee Firemen's Association, and TDCI's Assistant Commissioner of Fire Prevention. Per statute, the funds will be awarded equally among Tennessee's Grand Divisions.

Applications will be accepted until 5:00 p.m. CT on Friday, March 27, 2020. For a full list of rules and an application, applicants can visit the Department of Commerce and Insurance website.

Bolivar Energy Authority

Your Local Energy Provider

To operate your space heater and fireplace efficiently and help keep down your heating bill, here's some advice:

Turn down the thermostat and use space heaters to warm only the rooms being used. If it is below 40 degrees outside, don't use your fireplace. When a fire is burning, lower the thermostat a few degrees. And always keep the damper closed when the fireplace isn't being used.

For more information on energy saving steps you can take, call Bolivar Energy Authority at 731-658-5257.

Incorporated in 1936, Bolivar Energy Authority serves Hardeman County and parts of Fayette, Chester, Madison, and Benton (MS) counties. The Bolivar Energy Authority covers 1,350 miles of line with an average of 8 customers per mile. The governing board meets the last Monday of each month.

Specialty Block Grants Available

The Tennessee Department of Agriculture is now accepting applications for the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA) Specialty Crop Block Grant Program (SCBGP).

"Tennessee's diverse landscape is home to a wide variety of farms, and many of those grow the specialty crops supported through the SCBGP," Agriculture Commissioner Charlie Hatcher, D.V.M. said. "We're proud to administer this program and support research, education, marketing, and innovative projects that will have long-term impact on Tennessee's specialty crop sector."

The Tennessee Department of Agriculture administers the grants, which are authorized through the USDA. SCBGP funds are granted to enhance production and competitiveness of specialty crops, including fruits and vegetables, dried fruits, tree nuts, honey, floriculture, and other nursery crops.

Universities, institutions, cooperatives, producers, and industry or community-based organizations may submit a proposal for funding. The program aims to support projects that directly affect multiple Tennessee producers and have a positive, long-lasting impact on Tennessee agriculture.

Previous grant funding assisted Agricenter International to conduct research on developing sustainable practices for growing hops in Tennessee. The non-profit research hub planted three acres of hops in 2019, and they are evaluating how different varieties perform in the local climate.

"Our mission at Agricenter International is to advance knowledge and understanding of agriculture," Agricenter International Director of Farm and Research Dr. Bruce Kirksey said. "With the recent interest in growing local and the Pick Tennessee Products campaign, Agricenter chose to conduct research in the area of hop production in Tennessee. This project will provide meaningful agronomic data to growers in Tennessee who are interested in growing hops for the local craft beer market."

Eligible individuals and organizations must submit proposals using the 2020 project template. The project template, performance measures, and information required to apply are available online at www.tn.gov/agriculture/businesses/business-development/scbg.html.

Proposals are due by March 16 and should be submitted by email to tn.scbg@tn.gov. First-time recipients have a funding limit of $25,000. Early submission is encouraged.

For more information about the USDA Specialty Crop Block Grant Program, email tn.scbg@tn.gov.

WILLIAM WAYNE GRIFFIN OCTOBER 1, 1945 - FEBRUARY 14, 2020

William Wayne Griffin (Bitsy) was born October 1, 1945, to Howard and Helen Griffin. He departed this life and entered into heaven February 14, 2020.

William loved to fish, play golf, and sing Southern Gospel songs. He was saved when he was 63 and started singing when he was 66. He loved to sing in church and at the TV station in Adamsville. He was a member at Cloverport Baptist Church, but the last several years had been attending New Chapel Freewill Baptist in Counce, Tennessee. After moving to Counce in 2015, many new friends were made who helped him in his final days on this earth and they are greatly appreciated and loved.

William was preceded in death by his parents; brothers, Malcolm, Kenneth, Ronald, and Thomas Griffin; and a sister, Patsy Moore. He is survived by his wife, Karen Griffin of Counce, Tennessee; brother, Don Griffin of Southaven, Mississippi; two sons, William Griffin, Jr. and Jimmy Griffin of Jackson, Tennessee; six grandchildren; six great grandchildren; several nieces and nephews; his friend, Phil Morton, who called every day to check on him; and his fur baby, Chloe.

So thankful for our friend and neighbor, Bettie Knupp and so many others who Gdo put in our path. He knew just who and what we would need.

Donations may be made to the Darryl Worley Cancer Treatment Foundation.

Services will be held on February 21, 2020 at 1:30 p.m. at Cloverport Baptist Church in Toone, Tennessee, with Paul Childers, Tony Polk officiating. Burial will follow in the Cloverport Baptist Church Cemetery at Toone, Tennessee.

P. J. CARDENAS JANUARY 24, 1933 - FEBRUARY 15, 2020

Mr. P. J. Cardenas, age 87 of Bolivar, passed away on Saturday, February 15, 2020.

Born Tuesday, January 24, 1933 in Presidio, Texas, he was the son of Clementa and Margina Jurado Cardenas. Mr. Cardenas moved from California to Tennessee in the early 1950s. He was married to Hester Ann Avent on April 30, 1988, worked for the Madison County School System and was retired from Bruce Hardwood Floors, Inc. after 22+ years. He enjoyed hunting, fishing, riding 4-wheelers, travelling and just being outdoors. He was Catholic in belief.

In addition to his wife of nearly 32 years, he is survived by a son, Michael Bryan Cardenz of Humboldt and two daughters, Rachael Cardenas of Los Banos, CA, and Isabell Cosana of Beech Bluff, TN; four grandchildren and four great grandchildren. He was preceded in death by his parents and a brother Paul Jurado Cardenas.

The family will hold a private memorial service at a later date. Shackelford Funeral Directors of Bolivar will be charge of his arrangements.

A Dozen Deputies, Please

continued from A1 more competitive with surrounding counties and cities and allow for trained and experienced employees to be retained."

Overton further stated that the data was collected during the 2019 calendar year, was based on eight hour shifts, and that a one week sample was taken from the months of January, February, March, April, May, June, July, August, and October to determine an average of obligated time (workload) per day/month/year.

Attorney Roy Herron of Dresden, who has represented Doolen in the lawsuit, released this statement:

"The Mayor recommended to the commission and fought to have Madison Chief Deputy Overton work as the Hardeman County consultant. As the mayor pointed out to the county commission, this military veteran has 40 years of law enforcement experience. Sheriff Doolen, Hardeman County law enforcement and the many citizens endangered by the shortage of deputies, hope and pray the mayor will follow the advice of his own consultant."

A request for a comment from Hardeman County Mayor Jimmy Sain went unanswered.

According to an estimate from the Hardeman County Assessor of Property's office, if an extra $500,000 were spent on the sheriff's budget to cover deputies, each $100,000 of appraisal value on residential property would cost each taxpayer $30, while commercial property of the same appraisal value would be $48 per tax payer.

The settlement that triggered Overton's hiring has been challenged by Mayor Sain. A hearing on that matter is scheduled for February 27.

Doolen stated the report would be given to the Hardeman County Commission on February 18.

Can You Improve Your Relationship with Money?

In your life, you will have all sorts of relationships – with your family, your friends, your co-workers, and even with civic groups and charitable organizations you support. But have you ever considered another key relationship – the one you have with money?

Of course, this type of relationship has several aspects, such as saving, spending and investing. And your fellow Americans clearly face some challenges in these areas. For example, in a recent survey by financial services firm Edward Jones, only 21% of respondents reported that they feel happy when thinking about saving money, while 92% said they see room for improvement in their financial health. Yet only one in four plan to improve their spending habits. Furthermore, just 26% said retirement was a top savings priority.

If you share some of these concerns, what should you do? Here are a few suggestions:

- Identify your money-related emotions. Try to recognize the emotions you feel in connection with saving and investing. Do you get nervous about spending? Does putting away money for the future give you satisfaction or not? Do you worry that you don't know how much you should be investing, or whether you're investing in the right way? Clearly, these types of questions can cause some anxiety – and, even more importantly, they may lead you to make poor decisions. Emotions are obviously closely tied to money – but they really should not play a big role in your spending, saving and investing choices.

- Develop a financial strategy. By developing a sound financial strategy, you can reduce money-related stress and help yourself feel empowered as you look to the future. A comprehensive strategy can help you identify your goals – a down payment on a new home, college for your children, a comfortable retirement, and so on – and identify a path toward reaching them. Your financial strategy should incorporate a variety of factors, including your age, risk tolerance, income level, family situation and more. Here's the key point: By creating a long-term strategy and sticking to it, you'll be far less likely to overreact to events such as market downturns and less inclined to give in to impulses such as "spur of the moment" costly purchases. And without such a strategy, you will almost certainly have less chance of achieving your important goals.

- Get an "accountability partner." Your relationship with money doesn't have to be monogamous – you can get help from an "accountability partner." Too many people keep their financial concerns and plans to themselves, not even sharing them with their partners or other family members. But by being open about your finances to your loved ones, you can not only avoid misplaced expectations but also enlist the help of someone who may be able to help keep you on track toward your short- and long-term goals. But you may also benefit from the help of a financial professional – someone with the perspective, experience and skills necessary to help you make the right moves.

Like all successful relationships, the one you have with money requires work. But you'll find it's worth the effort.

Trouble hid while Mind Your Own Business counted to one hundred. Mind Your Own Business began looking for his brother behind garbage cans and bushes. Then he started looking in and under cars until a police man approached him and asked, "What are you doing?" "Playing a game," the boy replied. "What is your name?" the officer questioned. "Mind Your Own Business." Furious the policeman inquired, "Are you looking for trouble?!" The boy replied, "Why, yes."

Toone

Glenn Yarbrough
731-609-0939
gnyarb@bellsouth.net

Hello from Toone, where the weather roller coaster continues! It is not hard to understand why so many people are sick with allergies this winter. When the temperature drops 30° within a few minutes, and then goes back up 30° in the same amount of time, it messes with everyone's head. Also, several plants and bushes are blooming right now, so there's a lot of pollen in the air to feed our allergies. Unfortunately, it won't be long until that yucky, yellow pollen is covering everything outside. I have to say, the yellow stuff is my least favorite part of Spring, but it is the price we must pay for our warm, sunny days.

Toone Baptist Church would like to invite all of you men out there to the church's Annual Men's Prayer Breakfast, March 28, at 9:00 a.m. All men, old and young, are invited to come enjoy some good food, great fellowship and an uplifting message. So go ahead and mark your calendars for this special event.

The tentative date for Toone Elementary School's Pre-K Registration will be April 20. More information will follow as we receive it. If you have any questions, you may call the school office, or the Hardeman County Board of Education.

Rehearsals for the 2020 Hee Haw shows are underway at the Hardeman County Arts Center. This year's show, as always, will be very exciting and entertaining with funny jokes, entertaining skits and wonderful country music played and sang by our talented local singers and musicians. This year's show-dates are: March 6, 7, 9, 10, 12, 13 and 14. Tickets go on sale, March 24, at the Hardeman County Chamber of Commerce in downtown Bolivar. Be sure to get your tickets early, because they always sell out quickly. We hope to see you there!

I would like to ask for everyone's help in our struggle in keeping our roads and streets clean. As you ride along most any road in Hardeman County, you can't help but notice the unsightly litter strewn all over the sides of the road and in the ditches. In this day and age, it still shocks me to see how many people continue to throw their trash and other debris out of their cars and onto the sides of the road. I realize the problem is rampant throughout the county, but out here on Naylor and Cloverport Roads, it is terrible. I have even seen where people dump full sacks of their household garbage into the ditches, and even into the creek near my house. The roadsides are littered with beer cans, paper products and plastic drink bottles. If you or someone you know is guilty of littering, please, please don't be a Litter Bug! Keep some sort of trash bag in your car, and simply put your trash in it and dispose of it in the proper way at home, or at one of the many trash-collection centers throughout the county. Please be a responsible adult by being respectful of your neighbors, and don't litter. Help us keep our streets and roads clean and inviting for visitors coming to Toone. Thank you in advance for your help!

The Bolivar Central High School's Class of 1970 is getting together to plan our 50th Class Reunion. If you, or someone you know, are members of this class, please have them contact me via the information listed at the head of this article. We need to find as many class members as possible in order to spread the word about our reunion. Thank you! Until next time. . . . Talk to your neighbors!

Gary Siler would appreciate your prayers as he continues with his medical struggles. Praises that Lee Stack has completed his radiation and is doing great.

Gwen (Butler) recently had surgery and would appreciate your prayers as she recovers. She was so thankful that her daughter, Robbie, could travel from Ohio to spend a few days with her.

Gwen (Butler) Lindley reminded me that her mother's, Colene (Crowley) Butler Tims, birthday is February 20. She would have been 100 years of age this year. Most students who attended Silerton and Toone schools have many fond memories of her.

The Silerton Fire Department announces a save the date, for Saturday, March 28 at 6:00 p.m. for a buffet supper and a silent auction.

As we continue this week with another love story, I asked Gwen Lindley to share the blessings she received for being the caregiver for her maternal aunts, Kathleen (Crowley) Vincent and Jenetta (Crowley) Bridges. As most everyone knows who has any experience in being a caregiver, it can sometimes be overwhelming. Gwen shared how her teaching career in Ohio was having a few roadblocks and she did not find teaching to be as fulfilling as it had been in earlier days. She began thinking about moving back to Hardeman County. When she was resettled in Bolivar, she could see God's hand in her decisions. Her two maternal aunts, who had played a vital role in her childhood, needed some assistance in their senior years. She was able to enjoy being neighbors to them for a few years. Then the day came that she needed to move them in her home for more assistance. Gwen saw her new responsibilities as being obedient to the call God had placed on her. She felt one of the greatest blessings of being their caregiver was being able to be spent eight more years with them in their last days and sharing many family memories. She felt God had worked it all out. Gwen was willing to open her home and heart to her aunts, and she demonstrated her love for God in following His leading in this next stage of her life.

As the month progresses, please contact me if you have someone you would like to recognize for sharing their love.

My retirement ceremony of that year. I visited Parris Island yesterday and the Marine Corps Memories were endless. Lots of things have changed since the ceremony took place, one thing that hasn't, the making of Marines.

I cut Moma's grass for the first time, but, the pollen is Horrific! It won't be long before I head to Blackwater Hunting Services to start scouting for turkeys. When I hear "Ole Gabriel" gobble for the first time, I hope it eases the pain of No Ducks this past duck season. As normal, new friends and memories will be in the forefront!

Shaw to Speak at Fourth Sunday

The Hardeman County Commission for Black History will culminate its Annual events on Sunday afternoon, February 23, at 3:00 p.m. at Union Hill Baptist Church, Pastor Jerry Crisp. The keynote speaker for the Fourth Sunday County-wide worship service will be Rev. Jermaine C. Shaw, Pastor of Antioch Missionary Baptist Church, Whiteville.

Pastor Jermaine Christopher Shaw is a native of Bolivar Tennessee. He has been in the ministry for 16 years, serving 14 of those years under Pastor Willie R. Boyle at Home Missionary Baptist Church in Jackson, Tennessee. In October 2017, he became the Pastor of Antioch Missionary Baptist Church in Whiteville, Tennessee. Pastor Shaw believes that the Bible is the infallible Word of God, and that it still speaks to the disparities of our modern world. Severe Weather Preparedness

TORNADOES

Tornadoes can destroy buildings, flip cars, and create deadly flying debris. Tornadoes are violently rotating columns of air that extend from a thunderstorm to the ground. Tornadoes can:

- Happen anytime and anywhere;
- Bring intense winds, over 200 MPH; and
- Look like funnels.

IF YOU ARE UNDER A TORNADO WARNING, FIND SAFE SHELTER RIGHT AWAY

- If you can safely get to a sturdy building, then do so immediately.
- Go to a safe room, basement, or storm cellar.
- If you are in a building with no basement, then get to a small interior room on the lowest level.
- Stay away from windows, doors, and outside walls.
- Do not get under an overpass or bridge. You're safer in a low, flat location.
- Watch out for flying debris that can cause injury or death.
- Use your arms to protect your head and neck.

HOW TO STAY SAFE WHEN A TORNADO THREATENS

Prepare NOW

- Know your area's tornado risk. In the U.S., the Midwest and the Southeast have a greater risk for tornadoes.
- Know the signs of a tornado, including a rotating, funnel-shaped cloud; an approaching cloud of debris; or a loud roar—similar to a freight train.
- Sign up for your community's warning system. The Emergency Alert System (EAS) and National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA) Weather Radio also provide emergency alerts. If your community has sirens, then become familiar with the warning tone.
- Pay attention to weather reports. Meteorologists can predict when conditions might be right for a tornado.
- Identify and practice going to a safe shelter in the event of high winds, such as a safe room built using FEMA criteria or a storm shelter built to ICC 500 standards. The next best protection is a small, interior, windowless room on the lowest level of a sturdy building.
- Consider constructing your own safe room that meets FEMA or ICC 500 standards.

Survive DURING

- Immediately go to a safe location that you identified.
- Take additional cover by shielding your head and neck with your arms and putting materials such as furniture and blankets around you.
- Listen to EAS, NOAA Weather Radio, or local alerting systems for current emergency information and instructions.
- Do not try to outrun a tornado in a vehicle.
- If you are in a car or outdoors and cannot get to a building, cover your head and neck with your arms and cover your body with a coat or blanket, if possible.

Be Safe AFTER

- Keep listening to EAS, NOAA Weather Radio, and local authorities for updated information.
- If you are trapped, cover your mouth with a cloth or mask to avoid breathing dust. Try to send a text, bang on a pipe or wall, or use a whistle instead of shouting.
- Stay clear of fallen power lines or broken utility lines.
- Do not enter damaged buildings until you are told that they are safe.
- Save your phone calls for emergencies. Phone systems are often down or busy after a disaster. Use text messaging or social media to communicate with family and friends.
- Be careful during clean-up. Wear thick-soled shoes, long pants, and work gloves.

BMS Tigers Finish Third

A poor shooting night from the free throw line in the semifinals cost the Bolivar Middle School Tigers a shot at the title, but they rebounded to take third place at the Tennessee Middle School Athletic Association State Championships in Murfreesboro February 14-15.

The Tigers fell to Fairview 37-32 in the semis when they shot only 7-20 from the line. The Tigers were led by Kylan McNeal with 10 points before he fouled out with 5:33 remaining in the game and the Tigers within a point at 25-24.

In the third place game, McNeal scored 26 points and Jaylan Beard added 18 as Bolivar won 64-41, pulling away in the four quarter, outscoring Robertsville 24-7.

Stepping Stones for the Garden by Carolyn Tomlin

If you're a gardener, perhaps your thoughts turn to creative ways to add a creative touch to your garden. Look for ways to copy ideas and apply them to your own backyards.

A simple How-To feature is making concrete molds for stepping stones or miniature gardens. This easy and inexpensive craft idea will make an interesting addition to your backyard.

Materials:

- Stepping-stone concrete mix (from a garden or craft store)
- Plastic bucket (throw-away)
- Garden, hand-tool spade
- Plastic or foil-pie pan mold
- Rubber gloves, safety glasses, dust mask
- Small decorative stones, marbles, or seashells
- Old knife
- Old measuring cup
- Vegetable oil spray
- Concrete sealant

If you assemble your materials in one place, this garden project can be completed in less than an hour. However, it takes at least 12 hours or more for the mold to dry.

Step-by-Step Instructions:

Follow these easy steps for a successful garden project.

1. Use a throw-away bucket and follow the package direction for mixing the water and concrete.
2. Spray the mold with vegetable oil for easy removing.
3. Use rubber gloves, safety glasses and a dust mask. Use an old spoon to mix the concrete to the right consistency...about the consistency of pancake batter. Mix until all lumps are removed. Not too hard—not too soft.
4. Place the mold on a flat level surface where it will remain until dry. Scoop the mixture into the mold. Lightly tap the mold to settle the mixture into all crevices. Insert a wooden pencil to remove any air bubbles. Smooth the top with an old kitchen knife.
5. Allow the concrete mold to set for about an hour before adding decorations. In warmer weather, concrete becomes firm quicker. Marbles, seashells (that remind you of a vacation), buttons, or small colored stones add your personal touch. A child's handprint, a name, and date can be a special gift for a family member. Use a wooden toothpick to inscribe words and letters. Concrete is very forgiving—smooth over the top with a flat-blade knife (before it hardens) and start over.
6. In hot weather, the mold may harden in about 12 hours.
7. When completely dry, loosen the concrete from the mold by slipping a knife around the edge. Allow to cure for about several days before placing the mold outdoors.
8. Spraying with a concrete sealant will prevent cracking and chipping from weather.

Tips for Using Concrete Mix

Follow package directions. Always work outdoors when using concrete. Do not inhale the concrete dust. Wear safety glasses, dust mask, and rubber gloves. Avoid letting the concrete mix touch your skin. If this happens, wash immediately with water. If a rash develops, contact a poison control center in your area or state. Adult supervision is required for children.

Types of Molds for Concrete Projects

Search garage and yard sales for inexpensive molds. These can be re-used or discarded. Or, you may have unusual objects in your own home. Inexpensive glass bowls can be successfully used for projects, also.

This concrete craft can be part of your yard or garden for many years. And if you move to another location, just pack the stone, also.

Carolyn Tomlin writes and supplies photos for numerous magazines and newspapers.
