Wreck Claims Nine-Year-Old

A one-car accident on Pine Top Road tragically claimed the life of nine-year-old Braxton Lane Wilson Adkisson on January 31.

According to the police report, Adkisson and his mother, Nicole Page Hill Adkisson, hit a tree on Pine Top Road between Highway 18 North and Ebenezer Road at a location designated as 275 Pine Top Road in Toone sometime just after 3:00 p.m.

A call came to Hardeman County dispatch at 3:23 p.m. and although the ambulance traveled eleven miles in fourteen minutes to the scene, it was too late to save the life of the young man as he was reported trapped in the automobile and unconscious at 3:37 by the first responders.

The mother was reached and transported beginning at 4:09 p.m. by an ambulance from the MED Center EMS in Jackson, as two of the three available ambulances from Hardeman County were on other calls. According to reports, while her injuries were extensive, they were not life threatening. According to Sheriff John Doolen, the Tennessee Highway Patrol is still investigating the incident.

Lain and Avery to be Honored in Nashville

Bo Lain of Bolivar and Anna Avery of Middleton will be honored on the state level this weekend in Nashville as the Twelfth Annual Governor's Volunteer Stars Awards ceremony will honor volunteers from 69 counties in Franklin on February 9. The awards will celebrate the efforts of 115 volunteers statewide who have strived to improve their communities through service.

One youth and one adult volunteer were selected from participating counties to receive this prestigious award. Nominees were judged based on the community's need of the volunteer service performed, initiative taken to perform the service, creativity used to solve a community problem and impact of the volunteer service on the community. The individual awards are sponsored by Community Care of Rutherford County and Tennessee 4-H.

Bo Lain, is an active member of Bolivar First Baptist Church. He is a disabled Veteran, member of the local VFW lodge, and Shriner Andrew Jackson Lodge. He served as a volunteer chaplain at the Whiteville Correction Facility for three and a half years. He has been an active member of the National Disaster Relief Team for ten years as a cook and chaplain. In 2015, Lain started working with the Red Cross in Hardeman County assisting victims of disaster. Bo also established a medical fund with assistance of many bankers and citizens, to assist in the aid of medical prescriptions for those unable to afford essential medication. Since 2005, Lain has been serving as a volunteer assistant director and director with Loaves and Fishes, a non-profit organization that serves those in need in Hardeman County. They serve 3,000 children, adults, and seniors in the county.

The Governor's Volunteer Stars Awards also includes business and non-profit categories. One business and one non-profit were selected from each of Tennessee's three Grand Regions for their outstanding community involvement and service. The business honorees include: Blue Cross Blue Shield of Tennessee, East Tennessee Business Honoree; Southeast Venture, Middle Tennessee Business Honoree; and Medtronic, West Tennessee Business Honoree. The business awards are sponsored by Advance Financial. The non-profit honorees include: Centro Hispano de East Tennessee, East Tennessee Non-Profit Honoree; Nashville Conflict Resolution Center, Middle Tennessee Non-Profit Honoree; and Beautiful Spirited Women, West Tennessee Non-Profit Honoree. The non-profit awards are sponsored by Friends of Volunteer Tennessee.

Anna Avery is actively involved at her local church and community helping whenever and wherever she can. She is a very active 4-H member in Hardeman County. She is her 4-H club President and serves as the 4-H Healthy Living Ambassador for the county. Anna is a 4-H Honor Club member and a 4-H All-Star. She has assisted in several service projects throughout her 4-H career including local club activities and All-Star service projects. Anna works hard to achieve her goals and always looks for ways to get involved in her local community.

"Each year, 1.6 million Tennessee volunteers give more than 137 million hours of service, contributing the equivalent of $3.3 billion to Tennessee's economy. They are the backbone of our great state, and by giving of their time and talents to fulfill needs that would otherwise go unmet, they truly embody the spirit of giving," said Volunteer Tennessee Executive Director, Jim Snell.

Volunteer Tennessee coordinates the Governor's Volunteer Stars Awards at the state level. Volunteer Tennessee is the 25 member, bipartisan citizen board appointed by the Governor to oversee AmeriCorps and service-learning programs and to advance volunteerism and citizen service to solve community problems in the Volunteer State.

History Month Banquet Speaker Announced

The Hardeman County Commission for Black History will hold their annual banquet will be Saturday, February 8, at 6:00 p.m. in the Hardeman County Board of Education Building on 208 Hope Street in Bolivar. Adult tickets are $30.00 and students (grades first through college) are $20.00. Also, a table of ten can be purchased and reserved for $300.00. The keynote speaker will be Dr. Marlon King (see photo above), Superintendent of Fayette County Public Schools.

Dr. Marlon King, a transformational leader in the state of Tennessee, became superintendent of Fayette County Public Schools in August of 2015. Born and raised in rural West Tennessee where he attended public schools, he has given back two decades of uninterrupted service and commitment to improving public schools. His career trajectory is unique amongst educators in Tennessee because of his wide-range of experiences that encompass being a teacher (Shelby County Schools - legacy), principal (Fayette County Schools), superintendent (Haywood and Fayette Counties), and an executive director (Tennessee Department of Education - CORE), all in Tennessee.

Dr. King has a proven record in improving many of Tennessee's toughest schools and districts. He has built a reputation of turning schools around by promoting strong literacy programs with fidelity, recruiting and training school leaders, setting and expecting high standards for all, garnering community support and deep engagement, and managing fiscal services through a business-leader lens.

Under his leadership in both Haywood and Fayette school districts, graduation rates surpassed the state's benchmark, ACT scores increased steadily, and based on the state's accountability system, both districts moved from a Level 1 overall composite to achieving a Level 5 overall composite; these are just a few of his many achievements.

Dr. King serves on several boards and councils throughout the state including TOSS (Tennessee Organization of School Superintendents), LIFT ( Leading Innovation for Tennessee), and the Tennessee AdvancEd Council. A graduate of the University of Mississippi, Dr. King and his wife, a middle school teacher, and their son, a student in FCPS, reside in Fayette County (Eads), Tennessee.

Silerton

Mary Lynn Lambert
609-6455

Praise for the good result Roger Hatch received during his recent visit to his oncologist. He reported that the test results showed no visible sign of cancer.

Love is usually associated with the month of February because of Valentine's Day. Our minds usually think of sweetheart relationships. During the month of February our news will be focusing on people who have shown true godly love to others. Judy Dillard is the first to share about the love she experienced. Several men from the Silerton Baptist Church went beyond the warm fuzzy feelings of love and put on boots and gloves and built a new porch, handicap ramp and concrete walk for Sarah Chandler and Judy Dillard. They truly experienced the kind of love mentioned in the Bible. Even though the men worked hard, they enjoyed the comradery amongst themselves. At the end of the day Judy said, "I love my new ramp and porch. I thank God every day for Silerton Baptist Church. They are one of the greatest blessings one could have." She extended a big thank you to Bro. Charlie Crouthers, Joe Stack, Grady Stack, Ricky Wilson, Matt Harris, Bobby Naylor, Frankie Lambert, Larry Lambert, Joe Seavers and Bill Mayfield for their love and hard work. Carolyn Vales helped with a delicious meal. Trudy Stack was an immense help playing with Ramsey Kate.

The Vales family experienced an outpouring of love during the recent death of Mike Vales. The family expressed their thanks for all the prayers and acts of compassion shown to them during this difficult time.

Silerton welcomes to our town Alfred and Jonna Ewing. Jonna is the daughter of Frankie Lambert. They will be residing at 170 Lambert Lane. They are relocating from Portage, OH. Alfred and Jonna also experienced Southern hospitality and Christian love from Grady Stack, Ricky Wilson, Matt Harris, Larry and Anita Lambert in helping to unload the U-Haul.

Sloan and Wanda Buford attended worship at Silerton Baptist Church last Sunday. They had traveled to Silerton in celebration of their second wedding anniversary.

To close our month of words of wisdom from some of our senior citizens, Lee Stack offers his words, "Do not save what is left after spending; spend what is left after saving."

As the month progresses, please contact me if you have someone you would like to recognize for sharing their love.

Toone

Glenn Yarbrough

gnyarb@bellsouth.net

Howdy from Toone, where this year's flu has attacked with a vengeance! So many of our Toone neighbors have been stricken this year with many being seriously ill. The flu has also spread throughout Toone School and other county schools, affecting so many students that the decision was made to close the schools for two days to allow cleaning crews to disinfect the buildings and equipment. The schools are asking for your help during the epidemic. If your child has flu symptoms, please keep them at home so they won't infect other children. Working together we can at least slow the spread of this terrible virus. Students and faculty of TES, as well as the entire community, are saddened over the loss of TES student, Braxton Wilson- Adkisson, age 9, who passed away January 30 at Bolivar General Hospital. Toone Baptist Church opened its doors to offer a place for students, faculty, parents and friends to mourn Braxton and pray for him and his family.

Tickets are still available for the HCAC Dinner Theater production of, Murder at the Big Horn Ranch, murder mystery. Show dates are February 13, 14, 15, with dinner being served at 6:00 p.m., and the show beginning at 7:00 p.m. For more information, call the HCAC at, 731-658-2787.

Happy Birthday to Vicky Weaver, February 6. When Vicky is not working, she stays busy spoiling grandson, Hunter.

Happy Birthday to our Teague Community neighbor, Larry McCarver, who celebrates his big day February 9. Larry and Amelia are enjoying their retirement traveling and fishing!

OK, you men out there, just in case you may have forgotten, Valentine's Day is quickly approaching. As always, there will be those of you who choose to wait until the last minute to buy a card or gift for your special lady. I should not even have to say this, but I feel compelled to remind each and everyone of you that Valentine's Day is one of the best opportunities you will have all year to build up a large reserve of brownie points! Now, I'm sure many of you probably see this day as just another senseless holiday promoted by the greeting card and floral companies to force you into spending your hard-earned dollars with them. Although it may not seem important to you, trust me, your special lady sees it as a time for her to be showered with attention, and to receive beautiful flowers, big boxes of expensive candy, that perfectly-worded card and other special gifts. Whatever you do, don't be fooled when she tells you that she doesn't really want anything special for Valentines. . . . trust me, gentlemen, this is a trap!! What she is really saying is, "you had better buy something really nice for me!" Here's another important tip, if your special lady works, it's always best to send the flowers, candy, cards or whatever gift you choose, to her workplace. It's always good when she can make the other wives jealous. Now, it's very important here to make sure whatever you send to her at work is bigger and better than what her female co-workers might receive, because they see this as a competition. Believe me, if you score big with a really awesome work-place delivery, you will earn more brownie points than you can carry away in a sack! So do the right thing, guys, and go all-out for your special lady. It will be money well-spent! Happy Valentine's Day to all of you!

Until next time. . . . talk to your neighbors!

The church had a great time Sunday night with the Super Bowl Party. Lots of good food and plenty of great fellowship. This Sunday night at 5:00 p.m. we will have the movie "Overcomer". Everyone is invited to come join us as we watch this inspirational movie. On February 16 the youth will have their Valentine dinner. If you would like to attend please let Cybil Pulse, Tara Barnes, or Jennifer Aylor know. The youth will be accepting donations for their summer ministry programs. Project 4:13 is on Wednesday nights at 6:00 p.m. We have a great time with these kids as we study the bible. Please remember the new ministry that has started at Hornsby Baptist for the seniors, if you would like to know more about the senior group ministry please contact Steve Byrd at 731-361-9050. The City of Hornsby has a group of folks who are planning a big celebration for the town this year. October 16, 2020 will make it 100 years since the city's charter was started. There will be lots of things going on for the next eight months leading up to the date. If you have any ideas or suggestions you can reach out to Becky Stanton. More information will follow as we meet but if you were ever a part of the Hornsby community, we hope you will want to be a part of this celebration.

Be Aware of Social Security Myths

Social Security can be one source of retirement income for you and your spouse. To maximize your benefits, you'll need to make some key decisions and be aware of some common myths.

- Myth 1: Always take Social Security early. You can file for Social Security benefits as early as 62, but you could get 25% to 30% more if you wait until your "full" retirement age (likely between 66 and 67). You can receive even more if you wait until 70, at which point your benefits will "max out." However, there's no right time to file for everyone – it depends on your situation, including factors such as your life expectancy, employment, financial need and spousal considerations.

- Myth 2: When you claim Social Security won't affect your spouse's benefits. This is not true. How much you receive in Social Security can affect your spouse's benefits while you are alive (spousal benefits) and after you've passed away (survivor's benefits). Your spouse could receive up to half of your retirement benefit, offset by his or her own benefit, so the longer you work before collecting Social Security, the greater the potential spousal benefits. For survivor benefits, your spouse would receive 100% of your benefit or his or her own, whichever is larger, so when you file affects how much your spouse would receive if you pass away early. In any case, you'll want to consult with the Social Security Administration about how much your spouse can receive, as his or her own benefits can also affect your decision-making.

- Myth 3: You can't work during retirement and collect Social Security. Yes, you can. But if you start receiving Social Security before your full retirement age (likely between 66 and 67), you can only earn up to $18,240 in 2020 and still get your full benefits. Once you earn more than this, Social Security deducts $1 from your benefits for every $2 you earn. But during the year you reach full retirement age, you can earn up to $48,600 without your benefits being withheld. If you exceed this amount, $1 will be deducted for every $3 you earn during the months before you attain your full retirement age. Social Security will increase your benefits when you do reach full retirement age to adjust for the previous work-related withholdings. So, if you plan on working and receiving Social Security, it may not make sense to file if most of your benefits will be withheld. Once you reach full retirement age, you can earn any amount without losing your monthly benefits, although your benefits could still be taxed.

- Myth #4: Social Security will provide for all my needs in retirement. Social Security will provide about a third of pre-retirement income, on average, according to the Social Security Administration. Consequently, you'll probably still need other sources of retirement income because Social Security alone most likely won't be enough to meet your needs. So, throughout your working years, contribute as much as you can to your IRA and your 401(k) or other employer-sponsored retirement plan. Combining these income sources with Social Security can help improve your chances of enjoying the retirement lifestyle you've envisioned.

The Gospel: Part 1 by Jeff Capshaw

With the holidays behind and the New Year well underway, it seems appropriate to begin a new series of related articles. Therefore, for this and the coming weeks' columns, the focus will be upon the quintessential theme for Christianity-The Gospel.

Often, religious vocabulary gets tossed around without much thought. This is especially so with commonly used rosters of words, phrases, concepts and ideas used to create both spoken and written discourses. Therefore, it is helpful to take a step back, reflect and ask ourselves, "what do we mean by the word X, the phrase Y or the concept Z?"

Someone once said, "the way to refine the understanding of some notion, some concept or idea is to define it." In this week's installment, therefore, I will simply answer the question, "What is the Gospel?" Below is a brief description of the origin of the English word, "Gospel."

The contemporary, English word "Gospel" comes from the Old English word gōdspel which is derived from gōd 'good' + spel 'news or a story.' That Old English word was translated from the Ecclesiastical Latin phrases, bona annuntiatio or bonus nuntius. Moreover, those Latin phrases came from a gloss of the Ecclesiastical Latin word evangelium, and it was a transliteration from the Greek word, euangelion, the word also used in the New Testament.

So, apart from its usage in Ancient Greek texts or the New Testament, that is a brief history of how the English word, "Gospel," came into contemporary usage. Therefore, the evangelium (Latin) the euangelion (Greek) and the Gospel (English) is «good news»!

Perhaps an illustration of the word's ancient usage in Greek will equip readers better to understand how the term, euangelion, was picked-up by the New Testament authors and applied to the story of Jesus' birth, life, death, burial and resurrection.

According to R.C. Sproul, "soldiers would go out to battle, while people waited for a report from the battlefield about the outcome. Once the outcome was known, marathon runners dashed back to give the report. The watchman

Grief Struggle by David Coy

Courage is defined as not the absence of fear, but persevering in the midst of it. There is a real challenge for many people in the beginning of their journey with grief. One writer is correct in their assessment. We teach and prepare our children for life and all the pitfalls and difficulties. What of the facts and struggles about death? What do we teach our children to prepare them to deal with what all of us will eventually face? Some believe that working through one's grief prevents disintegration of mind, body, and spirit from many illnesses that which a person can be overcome. Madame de Stael believes, "We understand death for the first time when he puts his hand upon one whom we love." Many people with whom I have spoken with have shared agreement with this philosophy.

They that struggle the most with grief are those who do not understand the facts about death and loss and those who struggle with accepting the reality of loss in its various forms. We need to educate our children and grandchildren hopefully before they actually experience a major loss. They need to understand that loss at any age and for any reason is possible. There are no guarantees in life. Not for a long life, not that our children will outlive us, not that something totally unfair and horrible from our standards will never happen to us. Anything is possible, and to be forewarned is to be forearmed. Ancient writers have said, that when we encounter adversity, we have the opportunity to develop endurance. This is true because rarely do we experience tribulation only once in life, but numerous times. Also, we are not alone in our struggle. If we look around there are others who are struggling in their journey with grief, and you can help them cope. This is Sunrise Aftercare, sunrise@sfdcures.com

Here's How . . .

It's our people and our resources. It's the hundreds of teachers and support personnel that keep our kids educated and safe.

This page is full of stories about the community supporting our kids and about the achievements of our students and teachers.

Clearly, we've got good people. But to keep good people, we need support. We've gotten support from our local government. But we need it to continue. In short, we need everyone working together.

How can you help?

FAFSA Frenzy in Middleton

Middleton High School recently received recognition from the Tennessee Higher Education Commission for its high percentage of seniors who have already filed the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) for the 2020-2021 academic year. Before Thanksgiving, more than 85% of Middleton seniors had filed the FAFSA (at the time the 7th highest completion rate in the state). That rate has now increased to more than 95%.

Both Bolivar Central and Middleton make a strong push to have every senior take advantage of financial aid available from state, federal, and institutional sources. The key to accessing these funds for college is the FAFSA, which is a form that provides the federal aid such as the Pell Grant as well as state-based aid such as the Hope Lottery Scholarship. Most colleges and universities also have their own institutional scholarships and grants on the FAFSA.

To maintain eligibility for the TN Promise Scholarship (which allows any graduating senior who chooses to attend an eligible Tennessee postsecondary institution including the state's 13 community colleges and 27 TCATs), students must file the FAFSA no later than midnight, February 1, a deadline that is fast approaching.

MHS Hosa Competes in Regional Competition

Middleton High School HOSA students traveled to Jackson State in Jackson, on January 8, to compete in the 2020 Tennessee Regional HOSA Competition. 16 MHS students placed in the top 5 in their competition, which will make them eligible to compete at the state level in April in Nashville, TN. Students placing in the top three of their competition at the state level will then be eligible to compete at the National HOSA Competition in Houston, Texas this June.

Due to the increasing number of HOSA students throughout the state, students were required to take tests online this year prior to competing at the regional level. Students had to score high enough to go to the second round in order to compete at the regional level. Not only has Tennessee HOSA grown over the past several years, but HOSA now has over 10,000 members nationwide.

Each year, Tennessee HOSA students attend the Regional HOSA Conference and compete in various health related events which help prepare them for futures in healthcare. They also attend various meetings/sessions and are given the opportunity to network with healthcare professionals and other healthcare students with similar interests throughout lower West Tennessee. Prior to this event, students are required to study, practice healthcare skills, prepare presentations, and various leadership tasks in order to compete at the state level. In order to prepare these students, community stakeholders, parents, and other healthcare professionals, such as John Weaver, Jerry Arent, and Hardeman County EMS, assist in working with these students and play a large part in their success.

Middleton High School was very successful at this year's Regional HOSA Competition. All year represented Middleton High School and Hardeman County Schools well. The following students placed first in their competitions: MaKenzie Eady - Dental Terminology, Shariyah Buggs - Medical Terminology, Ethan Doyle - Veterinary Science, and Aubry Hayden - Extemporaneous Writing. The following students placed second in their competitions: Connor Dixon - Medical Law & Ethics, Yasmine Burns - Pathophysiology, Amanda Burns - First Aid. The following students placed third in their competitions: Kayley Bizzell - Physical Therapy, Ella Willis - Behavioral

Lee Outlines Commitment to Education

Tennessee Governor Bill Lee delivered his State of the State address, showcasing Tennessee's progress over the past year and outlining his legislative and budget priorities for the coming year.

The governor's address focused on one of his core priorities, supporting public education. The proposed budget includes the largest investment in K-12 teacher salaries in Tennessee history, and a series of initiatives designed to ensure that Tennessee is recruiting, retaining and training the best teachers in America. The governor also announced legislative and budgetary priorities to build a comprehensive approach to advancing literacy across the state which includes additional teacher training and development. In the coming fiscal year, the proposed budget includes more than $600 million new dollars for public education.

"Make no mistake: we will do whatever it takes to make Tennessee the best state in America to be a student, and that means making Tennessee the best state in America to be a teacher. That means better pay, as we've said, but it also means better training and professional support, so that our teachers can perform at the top of their trade," said Lee.

Additional education initiatives include:

Investing an additional $117 million in teacher salaries, an amount equal to a 4% increase in the state's contribution.

Recommending moving the minimum teacher salary schedule from $36,000 to $40,000 over the next two years.

Creating the K-12 Mental Health Trust Fund through $250 million in one-time funds to support the growth and placement of mental health services for students through a systemwide, evidence-based, whole child approach.

Growing school-based behavioral health liaison program from 36 counties to all 95 counties

Setting new standards for public elementary literacy training and instruction and providing improved literacy supports and interventions for K-2 students.

Launching the Governor's Teaching Fellowship to support the education of over 1,000 future teachers per year.

Supporting district-led "Grow Your Own" programs with new curriculum and grants.

Investing $4 million into professional development and career advancement opportunities for teachers and school leaders.

Applying for a new AP education teaching course.

Establishing the Tennessee Teacher and Leader Institute which will solicit proposals from across the country to help launch a new initiative to build the best educator preparation program in the nation.

Governor Lee emphasized that these education initiatives are designed to produce economic and workforce development.

"The true measure of a successful education system is a cohort of high school graduates who are well-prepared to be productive citizens, whether they choose a career or college. To me, education isn't just about a test score," said Lee.

To operate your space heater and fireplace efficiently and help keep down your heating bill, here's some advice:

Turn down the thermostat and use space heaters to warm only the rooms being used. If it is below 40 degrees outside, don't use your fireplace. When a fire is burning, lower the thermostat a few degrees. And always keep the damper closed when the fireplace isn't being used.
