From the Other Side of the Desk

A letter they wish they (England) had sent...

From his majesty King George I of England, Windsor Castle, England SR4 to his majesty Louis XV of France, The Palace at Versailles,

Dear King Louis:

I have big news. Sophie and I were talking the other night and we've decided to move the English Monarchy to the New World. We've got all this land over in America and I think it's time we built something over there before we get too old to enjoy it.

So next week we are loading up and sailing for Myrtle Beach, South Carolina. No more rotten weather 10½ months a year, no more fish and chips for every meal. We'll send our new address after we get settled.

It doesn't make any sense to us to hold on to this pathetic rock in the middle of the North Atlantic when we've got all this land over there.

Also, it's possible the people over there may decide to try to revolt and make their own country if we aren't there to repress them. Where would we be then?

We'll make some changes when we get there, like "New England" and "New York" will go back to just "England" and "York."

I'm sure it will be tough on the kids, but they'll make new friends.

As far as the land here goes, you can have it. We've been fighting over it for years. C'est la vie. It's yours. Maybe you can go there during the summer when it is nice (early July to mid July would be our recommendation) or just keep it for when you need refuge during a Revolution. Believe me, living here beats being beheaded. Not by much, but it's worth consideration.

Anyway, good luck with everything.

Your friend, King George

P.S....I heard you recently moved out to the Palace at Versailles from the place in town. Did you give any more consideration to that Museum idea? You could display a bunch of worthless junk there for people to look at, like armless statues and painting by that Leonardo DiVinci guy. You might even be able to sell tickets, if you marketed the whole thing properly...

Voting Begins in Two Weeks

Hardeman County will have two candidates to place into county positions when early voting begins on July 15.

County-wide, voters will choose from incumbent Josh Pulse and challenger John Vickers for Assessor of Property. Four years ago, Pulse was elected to his first term, beating Vickers and Tracy Byrum in the August election.

The county will choose a candidate to assume the unexpired term of Donald McTizic, who resigned in January. Gary Barber (see B4 for more on Barber), who is currently serving in McTizic's stead, is a candidate for the position and will compete with fellow independent candidate Winfred Ray against Democratic nominee Johnny Weems for the District 2, Position 2 spot.

The other county commission spot up for grabs is already in the hands of Connie Young, who is running unopposed for the District 4, Position 1 slot.

In addition, voters in the third district will vote in a new road supervisor, choosing between Matt Knight and Jared King to replace Tony Ross.

The Hardeman County School Board will re-elect three incumbents, as Beverly A. Bodiford, District 2, Position 2) Jerry Crisp, District 3, Position 1, and Terry King, District 3, Position 3, are running unopposed.

Voters in Whiteville will have to choose three aldermen from a list of five and a mayor from three candidates. Running for mayor are incumbent James R. Bellar, challenged by Leon Crisp and Aubrey Phillips.

Aldermen seeking office are Dorinda Keeling, Susan G.

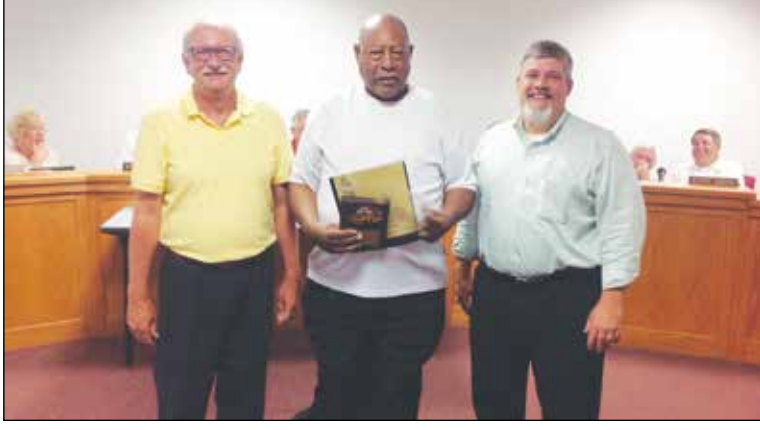

Melton-Piper, William Charles Phillips, Emily Moore Rosson and Tommy L. Turner.

For Tennessee Congress, both Senator Dolores Gresham and Johnny Shaw face primary challenges, while five candidates are running for the seat vacated by Leigh Wilburn in the 94th District.

State Senator Dolores Gresham faces off with Bob Shutt in the

What Would Jesus Say? by Jimmy Sadler

What would Jesus say about the news lately? How would he frame the mass shooting and make sense of it? How would He go about helping us understand the girls who were kept for a sadistic man's whims? Would He show us what real indignation looks like? Would he give us simple truths so elegant that we would be settled in our hearts and minds? Would Jesus lay out truth only to be followed up by a human rebuttal?

I have a lot of questions lately. I think we all tend to ride a pendulum between deep searching and callous indifference. We are so easily handed the "news", stockpiled with tragedy, that we can't stand to care too much. We will find ourselves mired in the weight of the fallen world. I've done it too often. I take in so much sadness from the far reaches of the world that I lose my bearings to manage the little part of the world God has called me to. It's hard to hear so much more need than we are anywhere near capable of handling on our own.

Even Jesus, in his earthly body, was frustrated with the limitations versus the incessant needs of human beings. In Matthew 17:17, He seemed overburdened by the endless line of people in need of healing. I find it interesting that you can show some frustration and emotion but still keep it from going over the edge into sinfulness.

So, in view of the streaming flood of bad news, what would Jesus say in response to tragedy? Would he condemn the terrorist and call on His people to fight for those around the world who are victimized by terror? Would He instead encourage us to love our enemy, to give him the shirt off our backs, or lift him to his feet and bandage his wounds? Would Jesus tell the families of people caught in tragic circumstances to turn the other cheek?

From many years of searching, scratching my head over how susceptible we are to the sins of others, there still remains but one passage that I feel addresses the randomness of these situations. You may not like it, it is not necessarily comforting. If you dig into what He says in the context of who He is, however, I think you might just be moved to deeper understanding.

The Romans had cornered the news this one particular day. Pilate made a statement of some who were still following the God of the Hebrews. He had them killed and mixed their blood in with the blood of the sacrifices they were making. You would think Jesus would fly off the handle on this sacrilegious crime. Instead, he pulled in another recent tragedy where a tower had fallen and killed 18 people. In that day, that was an incredible number killed at once. His answer to both was to remind people that those who were killed by evil or by accident that it wasn't because of their sins or their parents' transgressions that they died in such a way. Instead, he reminds them the same fate of death awaits us all unless we repent and turn to God.

So, though it may not be comforting initially, it is nice to know that we don't have to have all the answers. It is incumbent upon us to do soul searching within ourselves at times like this. We are all sinners in need of Grace, and God would have us spend time introspectively challenging ourselves to stepping up to the life God has called us to.

Sunrise: Hurtful Words by David Coy

Some who will read this have been on the receiving end of words that I am sure were not intended to hurt, but did because they were not thought out before they left one's lips. Such phrases as; "I know how you feel", "You'll be stronger because of this", "It is God's will", or "It could be worse you still have..." are just some examples. There is a song whose first line reads, "Angry Words! O let them never, From the tongue unbridled slip, May the heart's best impulse ever, Check them ere they soil the lip." (Horatius R. Palmer) This clearly illustrates even unintentionally, words can do other than heal, if we are not careful.

Sometimes words can hurt intentionally or are delivered indifferently and with callous intent. Inspired writers remind us of the power of words, "...the tongue is a small member, yet it boasts of great things. How great a forest is set ablaze by such a small fire!" and "Death and life are in the power of the tongue." (James 3:5; Proverbs 18:21). Words not carefully chosen or intentionally aimed to inflict damage can kill a spirit and a person's self-worth. This is the destructive power of verbal abuse. Another line of ancient wisdom says, "Reckless words pierce like a sword." (Proverbs 12:18) The old children's rhyme, stick and stones may break my bones, but words can never hurt me, has never been true nor accurate.

It is never proper to unleash cruel words to prop our self-esteem or ensure our domination over the life of another. Is there ever a time that carefully prepared words might inflict a sting and be justified? Yes, faithful are the wounds of a friend (a caring person may smite me in kindness and reproof, because they care for me and my wellbeing, Proverbs 27:6; Psalm 141:5). Sorrow is born when a spirit has died because of cruel hurtful words that are not spoken in love (Ephesians 4:15) nor for the purpose of loving gentle correction. When a loved one physically dies, we experience the pain of grief. What happens when a person is alive yet is experiencing verbal abuse? Do they experience grief? How should we respond when we come to know and understand what they are enduring? We support and seek solutions in their journey with grief in every way possible. It's difficult to believe but the 4th of July holiday is coming up very soon! In fact, it's the first Monday in July. I have listed some fun facts about this fun filled holiday below:

The Declaration of Independence did not become official until August 2, 1776, when most delegates signed it.

The estimated population of the colonies was 2.5 million on July 4, 1776 compared to the USA present population of 316.2 million.

The Congress first declared 4th of July as a federal holiday on June 28, 1870.

The Philippines gained full independence from the USA on July 4, 1946.

The three Presidents who died on July 4th are John Adams, Thomas Jefferson, and James Monroe. Presidents Adams and Jefferson both died on the same day in 1826.

The United States flag consist of three colors: red, white, and blue. Red stands for hardiness and valor. White symbolizes purity and innocence. Blue represents vigilance, perseverance and justice. Let's remember to fly our flag proudly on the 4th of July to recognize our freedom that we have in the USA!

Due to the 4th of July holiday falling on the first Monday, The Grand Junction City Council will meet on Monday, July 11th. The meeting will be held at the City Hall. Everyone is encouraged to attend.

Mrs. Miranda Clark was the 1st winner of the Dollar General Store gift card for the Summer Reading and Lunch Program. Congratulations Miranda!

Parents please remember to put your name in the contest box each day that you bring your child to the program. A name will be drawn each Friday of the program for the gift card.

I will include July 1-7 Birthdays in next week's column.

Scripture verse for the week; We are therefore Christ's Ambassadors, as though God were making His appeal through us. We implore you on Christ behalf; be reconciled to God. 2 Corinthians 5:20

Debbie Dillard closes out the month of June honoring her father, James Dillard by sharing some comments. Micah 6:8 says "He has told you, O man, what is good; and what does the Lord require of you but to do justice, to love kindness, and to walk humbly with your God". Debbie said, "This verse epitomizes my dad in my eyes. I am very fortunate to have had 35 years of great memories of him. Growing up, there are some not so-good, but they were well deserved because it usually involved my brother and me pushing our boundaries a little too far! My dad was a good man. I did not realize that when I was younger, of course. I look back now and remember how he was always helping someone farm or build something or fix something. He was an amateur plumber, electrician, carpenter, mechanic, and farmer. He was dedicated to his job at Harmon Automotive in die cast until it closed. I was amazed at how easily he transitioned to another job after so many years at Harmon. He loved my mother. He loved kids and helped raise a whole bunch of them. He loved to watch sports on TV especially pro football. We all had to watch it too but I love pro football to this day and always think of him when I watch it. I mostly remember how he dealt with his cancer and, when he knew it was time, how he dealt with the end of his life with such dignity. My dad has been gone since 2005 but he is thought of every day. Happy Father's Day to my dad, James Dillard."

Barbara and Joseph Lambert spent the week in Indiana spending time with her siblings and their families.

Oliver and Wanda Young enjoyed a trip to Gatlinburg with four of their grandchildren. Leah Grantham, age 23, Taylor Young, age 6, Ryan Hoskinson, 16, and Rush Young, youngest grandson who will be nine years old on July 6. They stayed in Gatlinburg but traveled over to Cherokee to tour the Cherokee Indian Village. They made the uphill climb to the top of Clingmans' Dome. They enjoyed a night of good food and entertainment at Dixie Stampede. They made a lot of memories, enjoyed the beauty of God's creation and were blessed with a safe trip home.

Anita and Larry Lambert traveled with the Chester County Senior Citizens to Michigan and the Upper Peninsula. They enjoyed St Ignace, Mackinac Island, Holland and Sault Ste. Marie. Larry would recommend traveling with this group. He described it as a great trip.

Remember the fireworks display on July 4th.

Hello from Toone, where Mother Nature still has the heat cranked-up. My central unit is nearly 12 years old now, and each time I walk by it I can hear it moaning and groaning and huffing and puffing. I know it's life is limited, but hopefully it will make it a few more summers. The weatherman says the heat will continue next week, but I guess it just wouldn't be the 4th of July with the hot temps and high humidity.

Construction will begin very soon on a new "Medi-vac" helicopter landing pad in Toone. The pad will be located right next to the trash convenience center on Hwy. 138, and will provide local residents 24-hour access to a designated area for the medi-vac helicopters to land and take-off during medical emergencies.

Several members of Toone Baptist Church joined other area church members on, June 26, at the Hardeman County Court Square, for a special evening of worship and music to kick-off "Y.E.P." (Youth Evangelism Project). "Y.E.P." Is a praise and worship event that runs from June 27-30.

Miss Tennessee contestant, Laura Ann Higgs, addressed the Bolivar Rotary Club at their meeting last week. She shared her experiences of competing in such a high level of pageant competition and gave interesting insight into the "behind the scenes" activities that the public never sees. Laura Ann placed in the top 16 overall and was selected to receive the "People's Choice Award". We are all very proud of our hometown girl!

Frank and Patsy Tobias are back home in Toone after spending a couple of weeks with their son, Phil, and his family in Texas.

The Yarbrough Family Reunion was held last weekend here at the Yarbrough Lake. Everyone enjoyed lots of wonderful food and outdoor activities such as swimming, kayaking, fishing and the paddle boats. Approximately 75 people attended this year's reunion.

On June 27, yours truly celebrated his 64th birthday. When I was a kid, 64 seemed quite old, but now that it's actually here, it's greatly appreciated. I never really expected to make it this far, but I'm surely glad I did.

Please keep, Mr. J.W. Leathers, in your thoughts and prayers. He was hospitalized for several days last week, but is now back at home and feeling better.

Sandi Blankenship, is back home now recovering from a recent stay in the hospital. Sandi serves on the Toone Board of Aldermen and heads-up the Toone Parks Department.

Happy Birthday on, June 28, to the special lady in my life, Janet Stallings. Janet moved to Kentucky after graduating from college, but moved back to Hardeman County a few years ago and now lives here in Toone.

Linda Young, will celebrate a Happy Birthday in, July 5. When Linda and Tom are not busy working around their farm, they are spending time with their girls and their grandchildren.

Happy Birthday to, Carolyn Warren, on July 6. Next time you are out near "Warren's Small Engines, stop in and wish Carolyn a happy day!

Next Monday evening, July 4, is the Toone Fireworks Extravaganza in downtown Toone, so pack-up the entire family, and come join your neighbors for an evening of food, music and an amazing fireworks display.

Until next time. . . talk to your neighbors!

Hello to all! I hope that everyone is having a wonderful summer. The Hornsby Elementary School BETA club members were in New Orleans last week for the National BETA Convention. Everyone enjoyed the trip and they appreciate all the hard work of those who helped raise money and to those who so willing gave for these kids to be able to go on this trip. The Hornsby community has always been a great community to support their school. Hornsby Baptist Church youth participated in the YEP program this week with other churches in the area as they went out doing community service, praying, and telling about Jesus. So very thankful that so many are willing to tell about Christ but this world needs so many more. The "Loved Thy Neighbor" and "Operation Christmas Child" ministries will be collecting for the month of July, cans of mixed vegetable and wash cloths. Hornsby Baptist Church wants to invite everyone in the community to the annual big 4th of July celebration. On Sunday the 3rd starting at 5:30 there will be hamburgers, hotdogs, games, popcorn, snow cones, and fireworks. On July 4th starting at 11:00 will be barbeque, and the slip-n-slide. VBS will start on July 10th with a great theme "Submerged: Finding Truth Below The Surface" If you would like more information please give me a call. The Hornsby Ruritan Club met in June and wants to remind members to bring their can goods for "Loaves and Fish" to the July 28th meeting. Our community was sadden again by the loss of two very sweet ladies. Mrs. Marlene DeBerry and Mrs. Eileen Rogers, both ladies had worked at the school and were loved by all. The Grand Valley Ladies Club recently presented Welcome Baskets to Bob and Jennifer Gick, Bill and Teresa Ide, and LeeAnn High. These folks just recently moved into our community.

Yard of the Month is up and running for 2016. Gelene Keithly, Chairman of the Yard of the Month Selection Committee reports the award went to Helen Maloy in May and was presented to Gary and Mindy Mahandro for June.

The Annual Ice Cream supper is set for July 1 at 7 p.m. at the home of Myra Peace. Everybody is invited. Just show up bearing ice cream, brownies, or cookies. The event is always well attended and some of the flavors of homemade ice cream might stagger your imagination. Oh, sure. There's always peach, strawberry, chocolate, and vanilla but have you ever tried "peanut butter"? Don't laugh. It's very good. If it happens to rain, July 8 is the alternate date. Same time, same place.

The Ladies Club is going to publish a cook book as a fundraising project. If you have a favorite recipe you would like to share with your neighbors, e-mail them to ij2001@bellsouth.net. No deadline is set at this time but don't delay. No e-mail? Write it up and give it to a Ladies Club member or take it by the POA office.

Helen Nixon reported Patsy Warren had recently passed away. Her family requested in lieu of doing anything for the family, the Ladies Club make a donation in her memory to the Grand Valley Fire Department. This was approved.

By the way, Ernie Kelly is now recovering nicely after receiving a pacemaker. Thank you for the thoughts and prayers on her behalf.

Hoot: MY RIFLE

There are many like it but this one is mine. My rifle is my best friend. It is my life. I must master it as I master my life.

My rifle, without me is useless. I must fire my rifle true. I must shoot straighter than my enemy who is trying to kill me. I must shoot him before he shoots me. I will. My rifle and myself I know that what counts in this war is not the rounds we fire, the noise of our burst, nor the smoke we make. We know that it is the hits that count. We will hit. My rifle is human, even as I, because it is my life. Thus, I will learn it like a brother. I will learn its weakness, its strength, its parts, its accessories, its sights, and its barrel. I will keep my rifle clean and ready, even as I am clean and ready. We will become part of each other. We will...before God I swear this creed. My rifle and myself are the defenders of my country. We are the masters of our enemy. We are the saviors of my life. So be it, until victory is America's and there is no enemy, but Peace! UNITED STATES MARINE CORPS RIFLE CREED

EQUAL OPPORTUNITY EMPLOYER

Declare Your Financial Independence

Next week, we observe the 4th of July with sparklers, picnics and parades. And living in a country that offers so much freedom, we have a lot to celebrate. But on a more personal level, you may still be working toward another type of independence – financial independence. What can you do to speed your progress toward this goal?

Here are some ideas to think about:

Free yourself from excessive fear. As an investor, it's not hard to find something to fear. Oil prices, interest rates, political squabbles, even natural disasters – at any given time, each of these factors (and many more) might be blamed for volatility in the financial markets. In response, many people take a "time out" from investing. Don't let fear hold you back. It takes discipline and some mental toughness to stay invested in all economic environments, but if you're constantly jumping in and out of the market, you're almost guaranteed to miss out on the kind of continuity and opportunities you need to move toward your financial freedom.

Liberate your investments' growth potential. Many investors avoid investing too aggressively, wishing to lower their risk level. And that's certainly not a bad idea. On the other hand, you can easily slip into investing too "safely" by keeping the bulk of your portfolio in investments that protect your principal but offer so little in the way of return that they may not even keep up with inflation. So, try to always maintain a reasonable percentage of growth-oriented vehicles in your portfolio. The exact amount may depend on your age and tolerance for risk, but at virtually every stage of your life, you need some growth potential.

Avoid the tyranny of debt. It's not easy to stay out of debt. But carrying a heavy debt load is truly a burden – you're not only concerned about making the payments, but you're also depriving yourself of dollars that could be used to invest for your future. Try to do everything you can to live within your means and avoid racking up more debt than is necessary. And when you do whittle down your debts, put that "found" money to work. The more you put in your investment portfolio, the more opportunities you have to reach your objectives.

Free your thinking about the future. Here's another roadblock on your journey toward financial independence: short-term thinking. Instead of seeking quick gains (which are notoriously hard to achieve), strive for steady growth. Instead of reacting to the news of the day by making impulsive moves, chart a long-term strategy that's appropriate for your needs, and stick to it. Instead of focusing on the losses you might see on one month's investment statement, look back over the progress you've made over the last five or 10 years. In short, worry less about today – and plan for tomorrow.

It will take a lot of time, effort and patience to ultimately achieve your own Financial Independence Day. But once you do, you'll have reason to rejoice – and you won't even need the fireworks.

Gresham Earns NFIB Guardian of Small Business Award

The Tennessee office of the National Federation of Independent Business, the state's leading small-business association, has presented its coveted Guardian of Small Business Award to state Senator Dolores Gresham. NFIB made the presentation this morning at Feel Good Floors, an NFIB member in Lexington.

The Guardian of Small Business award is the most prestigious honor that NFIB bestows on legislators in recognition of their efforts to support small business issues. The NFIB Tennessee Leadership Council, an advisory board comprised of NFIB members, voted to present the award to the legislator for supporting small-business issues in the 109th Tennessee General Assembly (2015-2016).

Jim Brown, state director of NFIB, said, "Dolores Gresham scored another perfect 100 percent voting record with NFIB. She continues to be a very strong voice for small business, supporting less regulation and a stable business environment for free enterprise."

"Tennesseans are fortunate to have leaders like Dolores Gresham representing them in our legislature," Brown said. "On behalf of all small businesses in Tennessee, NFIB wants to thank Senator Gresham for everything she's done for our state's entrepreneurs."

Gresham, who serves on the Senate Commerce & Labor Committee, is an NFIB member from Somerville.

Hope House Raises Money for Women

The Hope House held their annual charity banquet June 17. It was held at the Hardeman Baptist Association building in Bolivar. The tables decorated with colorful napkins, elegant silverware, and pre-prepared salads. The floral centerpieces were made by some of the ladies of First United Methodist Church. The atmosphere was one of hoping to spread awareness, while also coming together for fellowship.

At the front, before you enter ed for dinner, there were a few items on the auction tables from big to small, like a birdhouse to a bracelet. As the guests came in and received their programs, introductions and conversations started. At the beginning, there was a welcome and opening prayer and blessing of the food by Brother Ricky Watkins, the vice president of the board of directors and Pastor of Middleburg Baptist Church. The guests eagerly lined up according to each table to experience a buffet of rolls, baked potatoes, their choice of steak or chicken, and other foods.

The president and director of Hope House, Tony Hall, spoke to the audience about how the Hope House makes a difference in the lives of women and their children. He talked about how they have helped women from all over the world and how they have bible study, goal setting, and other sessions with the women. He also expressed the need of volunteers. More specifically, he expressed the need for volunteers who have a heart for helping the women.

Hall also expressed the purpose of the banquet:

"The purpose of this banquet is to raise funds for awareness and the need for volunteers", he said.

After the break for the last bidding at the auction, Hall introduced the keynote speaker, Pat Culp with the Christian Women's Job Corp. She is also the executive director of Women Empowered to become Self-Sufficient, which helps women find jobs and gives them job skills. She talked about how their program helps give women a "hands-up" and not a hand-out. She lastly talked about how their main goal is to reconcile families with their loved ones.

Culp expressed why she thought the banquet was so important:

"It is not only an opportunity to spread the Word of God, but to see people helping one another, to see women helping other women", she said.

The Hope House Shelter is a private non-profit shelter that has served homeless and battered women of Hardeman County since October of 2007. They provide services to women in crisis who are referred to them by churches, social agencies, law enforcement, families, and self-referrals.

The Hope House is always in need of volunteers and donations.

Any woman can go to the sheriff's department and tell them that they are homeless. The Sheriff's department will contact the Hope House (if she qualifies) and they will meet her at the department and take her to Hope House.

If you or someone you know is being abused or show the signs of being abused, contact the Hope House at 731-658-9438.

Barber Running for County Commission

My name is Gary Barber and I am seeking election to the position of County Commissioner, District 2 Position 2. I was appointed to this position in March 2016 to fill the vacancy left by Donald McTizic. I am now asking for your vote on August 4, 2016 to continue to serve this county.

I moved to Hardeman County in 1996, and have made Bolivar my home since then. I am currently Assistant Manager of Bolivar Walmart Supercenter. I am married to the former Diane Taylor Webster, a lifelong resident of Hardeman County. Our children were raised in Bolivar and attended Hardeman County public schools.

I served in the United States Marine Corp from 1974-1979. I received my BBA from the University of Mississippi in 1980. I am an active member of the Bolivar Rotary Club, and am President Elect for the upcoming year. I have been a volunteer for Carl Perkins Center for the Prevention of Child Abuse, serving as Vice President, a member of the Developmental Center Board, the Hardeman County Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors, a former organizer for the Hatchie Hollow Hog Fest, and attend Bolivar First United Methodist Church.

As you see, I am extremely vested in this community and have a strong desire to help guide and direct the decisions that will be made to shape the future of our county. I believe the initiatives that are currently in place will move our county forward as a destination that will better the lives of all our residents.

My experience working with people and managing multi-million dollar budgets gives me an edge to handling the business of this county. I feel that my job provides me with wide contact with all county residents. Being in tune to the voice of the community will allow me to make decisions to represent my constituents for a better Hardeman County.

I would appreciate your vote on August 4th.

Hamer Earns Promotion with USDA

Hubert Hamer, Jr., who has ties to Hardeman County, became the 8th Administrator of the United States Department of Agriculture's National Agricultural Statistics Service (NASS) in June. He brings to this position more than 35 years of leadership experience in statistics and service to agriculture. Hubert Hamer is passionate and a strong advocate for the mission of NASS – producing timely, reliable and useful statistics in service to U.S. agriculture.

Prior to becoming Administrator, he served as Director of the Statistics Division at USDA's NASS. In that role, he oversaw the publication of over 400 national statistical reports each year which cover the Nation's crop, livestock, economic, and environmental statistics as well as the Census of Agriculture. Along with those responsibilities, he served concurrently as Executive Director of the NASS Agricultural Statistics Board and Executive Director of the Advisory Committee on Agriculture Statistics.

Every month, as chair of the Board, he led the preparation and dissemination of market sensitive statistical reports which are compiled in and issued from special security conditions known as "Lockup". Part of his responsibility as Chair of the NASS Agricultural Statistics Board and Executive Director of the Advisory Committee on Agriculture Statistics included promotion and outreach activities of the Agency mission to internal and external partners.

Early in his career, Hamer worked as a statistician in the Louisiana and Illinois NASS Field Offices and quickly advanced to the role of Director of the Missouri Field Office. From 2000 to 2010, he served as Associate Deputy Administrator for Field Operations at NASS. In this role, he was responsible for the administration and operations of 24 State Field Offices and led the Agency's Training and Career Development Office.

Mr. Hamer was born on a small livestock and row crop farm in Benton County, Mississippi, and spent a good part of his youth in Grand Junction, Tennessee. He holds a B.S. degree from Tennessee State University.

Dunavant Elected VP at Conference

District Attorney General D. Mike Dunavant, of Tipton County, was elected Vice-President of the Tennessee District Attorneys General Conference at its annual meeting. As District Attorney for the 25th Judicial District, General Dunavant serves Fayette, Hardeman, Lauderdale, McNairy, and Tipton Counties.

As Vice-President, General Dunavant will lead oversight of the Conference administration, which includes budgeting, accounting, payroll, personnel and property management for all District Attorneys' offices throughout the state. In addition, the Conference is responsible for training new and experienced Assistant District Attorneys General, criminal investigators and victim witness coordinators and for advising the Tennessee General Assembly on legislative issues related to improving the criminal justice system.

"General Dunavant's experience and common-sense approach are invaluable to all of the efforts of the District Attorneys General to combat criminal activity in the state," said Executive Director Jerry Estes. "We are fortunate to have General Dunavant in this role as we look for solutions to some of the state's most difficult problems. We are especially appreciative of General Dunavant's work with the Justice and Professionalism Committee, which he chairs."

"Prosecutors have a unique role and a high duty to seek justice. Throughout our nation and here in Tennessee we continually face new challenges in that work. We are committed to meeting those challenges, whether it is seeking appropriate punishment for violent criminals or standing up for innocent victims," said General Dunavant.

Summer Fun on the Hatchie River by Calley Overton

Summer. It's finally here, bringing ninety degree temperatures with it. When it gets up to ninety, its time to go down to the water to cool off, whether it be all the way down to the ocean, to a lake, or to a river. Some of my best summer memories are from being on the Hatchie River, just sitting on the riverbank with my family having a picnic underneath the hardwoods with nothing in view or earshot but nature. Every once in awhile there would be a boater or two floating down, but even that was rare. Sometimes the sound of a pileated woodpecker, those giant ones, would ring out. I would never see it, but it sounded like a person was hammering a tree. When it grew too hot, the creek that runs into the river was the place to be. Poking around was a phenomenal way to cool off, albeit carefully.

In my short lifetime, the Hatchie River has seen much change. The creeks that run into it flood out and change course due to the shifting sand. The river itself eats away at the surrounding land, constantly carving a new course, especially after the floods that we are used to seeing. It is the only remaining unchannelized and undammed tributary of the lower Mississippi River Valley. We have a real gem in the Hatchie River here in Hardeman County. Our very own Hatchie River is on the Nature Conservancy's list of "One of the 75 Last Great Places on Earth to Save." It is special because of how little manmade change has affected it along with its staggeringly diverse ecosystem. There are around 50 species of mammals, 250 species of birds, and over 100 species of fish in the Hatchie River ecosystem. The Hatchie has been relatively unchanged by man throughout the years.

Whether you drive over the Hatchie, enjoy a picnic alongside it, or even float down it this summer, remember that the river you see is the river the Native Americans first called hatchee. The river you see is the same river that ran by Old Hatchie Town and Hardeman County's early settlers. It is the same river that boats and barges traveled to bring goods to the relocated and newly renamed Bolivar. It is the same river that our parents, grandparents, and great-grandparents may have grown up with. The past meets the present in the Hatchie's muddy waters and, if we take care of it, it will flow right into the future as a glimpse of days gone by and a promise of memories to be made.

Health Dept. Visits Lee Ola Roberts Library by Anna-Alicia Sails

The Hardeman County Health Department came to the Lee Ola Roberts Library in Whiteville to talk to the kids about everyday health and living well. The presenters started off talking about eating well, putting an emphasis on MyPlate. MyPlate is a nutrition tool that splits a plate into the four sections of what any person should have on their plate with a meal. The plate sections are: Vegetables, Fruit, Grains, and Protein. Those are the sections you should have on your plate with every meal.

Next, the presenters put an emphasis on being healthy and exercising. They asked the kids about what exercises they know how to do and the answers were pretty good. The kids had fun while doing jumping jacks, doing some dance moves, and stretching to touch their toes. They also talked about daily hygiene practices like brushing your teeth and annual practices like going to the doctor and the dentist. The kids had fun while getting in a line to see how tall they are with a measuring tape.

Towards the end, one presenter read a kids health book to the kids around the picnic table. They gave out pens, pamphlets, and bags filled with health information for kids and cool water bottles. Later on, the kids went back inside the library to watch a kids health film.

It was a fun time, not only for the kids, but for the adults as well. They might have learned something they never knew before. If you want your child to participate in the Lee Ola Roberts Library Summer Program, it's not too late! They serve lunch every day at 12 noon and have different programs on Tuesday's and Thursday's. It's a time not only to learn new things but to also have your child discover the joy that comes with reading.

My Journey: Healthier Eating by Deborah Brasfield

I am starting a new journey. I want to share this journey. It will help me to share it, and maybe, it will help you.

First a little bit about me and why I am needing to make a change. I am 60 years old. Right now I do not take medication/drugs for any reason. I do take my vitamins and minerals every day and a probiotic. I have been healthy. I have pretty much always been somewhat overweight. I hate the other words: the "F" word - Fat, the "O" word - Obese. I have always been physically active, in high school I was a cheerleader and on the gymnastic team. Later in life; I snow ski, ride four wheelers, I love to dance. I am not lazy.

Recently I had a checkup. I do every year. My blood pressure is good, my cholesterol within normal limits, but my fasting sugar was a bit high, and my triglycerides were a bit high. Now this is where the journey begins. It has been proven that even losing just 10% of your body weight can help lower sugar levels amongst other benefits like lower blood pressure.

Most of us need to eat healthier. Here is the generally recommended list: 1. More fruit and vegetables, preferably fresh, then frozen, then canned. 2. More chicken and fish, less pork and beef, organic if you can find it and afford it. 3. Whole grain breads and pasta, avoid as much "white bread, pasta, potatoes. 4. Less processed foods and less processed sugars. 5. Learn to read labels: what is a serving? Is there 2 in a package? 4? Etc.

The big secret to weight loss? Shhhh - don't tell anyone...eat a little less and exercise a little more! I have been the same weight for over five years, so it only makes sense to follow this simple secret - eat just a bit less (portion control) and exercise a bit more (planned exercise!) But sometimes it is not as simple as it seems.

There are many reasons why you may need to lose weight or you have a problem losing weight. Maybe you have a sugar problem, a thyroid problem, a physical problem that keeps you from doing certain types of exercise. See your doctor, talk to a nutritionist. Find an eating and exercise program to fit your needs. Maybe you do not need to lose weight, but you do need to eat differently, healthier. Some of the tips and recipes here in this article may give you an idea. Maybe my journey will inspire you. More to come...

*I am not a doctor, nurse, or nutritionist. Before starting any new eating/exercise plan, check with your healthcare specialist! Have a regular checkup!

OUR COUNTY

Hardeman County Remembered by Lisa Coleman

This is a photo of me as Uncle Sam in the patriotic pageant at Hardeman Academy (in Hickory Valley) in the fourth grade, so about 1972. I was chosen to be Uncle Sam because I was the tallest person in the fourth grade at the time. My Mom made my marvelous costume (I still have it) and she and I made my very tall hat out of poster board and construction paper. It was a big event.

Thinking about our country's upcoming birthday on July 4 always makes me think about the days leading up to July 4, 1776 and the writers of the document that continues to govern us today – our Declaration of Independence. Over the past couple of years, thinking about that document makes me think about this silly debate on whether or not to continue teaching cursive writing to students. How is that even a debate? You need to be able to read cursive writing and signing your name comes in pretty handy. I learned cursive writing from my third and fourth grade teacher, Mrs. Nancy Leitschuh, and let me tell you, it is a skill that comes in handy each and every day of my life. She had a device that would draw multiple lines on the chalkboard and she would then teach us how to write our cursive letters (the chalkboard is another outdated mode of communication, apparently; although chalkboard paint for the home became popular when chalkboards were taken out of school – coincidence? But I digress.)

The Declaration of Independence was written by the Committee of Five which consisted of Benjamin Franklin, John Adams, Thomas Jefferson, Roger Sherman, and Robert R. Livingston, which, if you are going to have a committee that sounds like a pretty good one to me. Jefferson, who was considered the most eloquent writer by his peers in the Continental Congress, penned the majority of the document. There were 56 men who signed the document, and in doing so, they committed acts of treason against the King of England. Just like the new country they created, the signers came from all walks of life. And, they all signed the document in cursive handwriting. Not printing, but cursive handwriting; July 4, 1776 was a big day in cursive handwriting history too.

Celebrate our country's birthday, spend time with family and friends, remember those patriots who made the declaration for the freedom and truths we have today, and keep practicing your cursive handwriting; you never know when it may come in handy.

Let freedom right throughout the land, y'all.
