Divided Council Passes Budget

The Bolivar City Council passed the first reading of the city budget, but not without heated discussion among the members of the city council.

At issue for the dissenting members were raises for the Bolivar Police Department, but no raises for any other city employees.

"We expect the Streets and Sanitation Department to be the beautification committee for the city, but they are the lowest paid employees," said Councilman Randy Hill. "You want to clean the city up, but we aren't helping them with money for life."

Mayor Barrett Stevens responded that the employees are "well remunerated" and have excellent benefits. "I'd love to give raises to everyone, but we can't afford it," he added.

"If everyone can't get a raise, I don't think anyone should," said councilman Larry McKinnie. "We are opening up a can of worms."

Mayor Stevens defended giving raises to police officers, saying other communities pay more and the city is losing officers to these opportunities.

Bolivar Police Chief Pat Baker said the raises for officers are needed and are paid for within his budget.

"I'm asking for the same money that I got last year," he said. "And with all due respect to the Sanitation Department, they don't get shot at. We are operating with the same number of police officers that we had in the 70s."

Baker later noted that his department has made more drug related arrests in the last five years than the three previous chiefs have made in approximately 35 years. Drug money has funded equipment and vehicles without taxpayer assistance to the tune of more than $500,000.

Mayor Stevens said not giving raises to other employees was not a fair comparison.

"If five firemen quit, I have 10 people wanting their jobs," he began. "But we don't have enough people in the police department. And we are losing them to other cities. The $3,000 raise doesn't even get them up to standard. We are not making them rich people."

"And it's the only department that puts money back into the city," he added.

Councilman Julian McTizic, who is the son of a Bolivar police officer, argued that extra funds should come back to a fund balance that has been dipped into at the end of each year in each year of his tenure.

"It's the city's money, not the police departments," he said. "We have not put any money in the fund balance in three years. If we keep taking money out instead of putting Mayor Stevens Breaks Deadlock back in, we will run out."

Councilman Willie McKinnie said he sided with the mayor and Chief Baker.

"If they have extra money in the department, they should be able to use it for whatever they want," he concluded.

After the question was called, Tracy Byrum, Todd Lowe, Willie McKinnie, and Suzanne Rhea voted yes, while Randy Hill, Quantessia Hamer, Julian McTizic, and Larry McKinnie voted no. With a deadlock among the eight council members, Mayor Barrett Stevens voted yes to move the budget to the next phase.

The budget will be read again with a public hearing to follow on June 21 at 6:30 p.m. at the Bolivar Municipal Building Courtroom. If passed, the rate will remain at $1.1542 for the 2016-2017 fiscal year.

A summary of the budget is on A7.

F.L. Crane Breaks Ground in Toone

F.L. Crane and Sons, who employ 47 people at their facility in Middleton, broke ground on June 7 in Toone, across from Chemring.

When completed, the facility plans to open with four employees and expand from there, acting as a second tier supplier to Chemring and other industries in the immediate area.

City Announces Grant Successes

Bolivar Mayor Barrett Stevens announced during the council meeting on June 7, that the City of Bolivar was awarded a Tennessee Housing Development Agency (THDA) grant of $321,000. The money will be used to help homeowners who qualify fix property in Bolivar. Details will be released after the June 21 meeting of THDA and Bolivar officials.

"This is a great thing to happen to the City of Bolivar," said Stevens. "This will give people who can't repair their houses the resources to do it."

Stevens also announced that the Bolivar Fire Department received a $151,277 grant from FEMA, which will be used for equipment for firefighters.

"I'm very proud of our department receiving this after six years of applying," said Stevens.

From the Other Side of the Desk

It's THAT time of year again. It's time for our baseball players and teams to go out and try to win one for Bolivar.

Well, let's hope it's for Bolivar.

Note: Normally, this column is a feel-good thing, or if it's not a feel-good thing, the feel-bad is reserved for things like the Oakland Police Department.

But I've noticed something and I need to get it off my mind. Lucky you.

It's about baseball. It's summer, or almost. Summertime is baseball time.

So our kids start out in local leagues. Our leagues provide a great experience for everyone.

Some stay until they age out, some go and seek greener pastures. That's fine. Some see travel ball as a better alternative. For some, it is. I'm all for players finding the best competition they can find.

But I'm seeing more and more that when one or two decide to make the jump to travel ball, they try to get a half-dozen or more to go with them. I suppose that's ok. I guess. It's kind of insulting, but at least everyone gets to decide.

But sometimes, coaches advise or in some cases, require their players to NOT play in their local league.

Well, I've got a problem with that.

If you were out at the field last Thursday or Saturday, you saw a collection of kids and uniforms that made up the Bolivar Dizzy Dean Baseball and Softball Leagues. Kids with their friends from school. Parents who have shared the same community for years.

It was pretty cool. May it always be so.

New Faces in Familiar Places at Hardeman County Live

Music on the Square will welcome new faces to the Bolivar Downtown Amphitheatre on June 10, as Johnny Collier and Misbehaviorers will be the headlining act.

Collier, who played with the Hank Williams, Jr. Band, plays a blend of country music's past and present to create a passionate, soulful music adventure.

"I'm a country boy. There's nothin' about me that ain't. I've entertained crowds of 80,000 people working stadiums, festivals, fairs and beer joints. I've worked with my hands, built a family, ran three bars and sang in way too many so yes, I know somethin' about making my audience happy. And yes, I talk to God..."

Collier is currently touring all over the South averaging 140 concerts a year from Key West, Florida to Missouri. His latest singles, "I Got This...", "Flower on My Grave" and "Never Really Famous" are being touted as some of his best work. Those familiar with his work will remember "Hole In My Heart" and "Honey For Hire" released previously in his career.

Collier, who plays lead guitar, has Mitch Rigel on drums and Alaina Sims on bass.

Johnny Collier has songs published with Melody Round Up Music and Molie Music Publishing.

Opening for Collier and Company will be Dale and Darrell from the Showtime Band, known as The Wise Guys. They are scheduled to take the stage at 7:00 p.m.

Bolivar Library Kicks-Off Summer Reading Program by Anna-Alicia Sails

Ready, Set, Read! That's the theme of this summer's reading program at the Bolivar-Hardeman County Library. The June 3rd kick-off was a success as children and their parents and grandparents gathered around the floor, anxiously excited for the presenter.

With the theme, the focus this summer is on learning about wildlife in the South American rainforest. Speaking of wildlife, the presenter for the kick-off was Bob Tarter of the Natural History Educational Company of the Mid-South. As he told the kids to sit on their bottoms and "crisscross apple sauce" around the mat, he had a few surprises for them. He brought out real-live animals!

The first animal he brought out was a green Iguana named Larry. Tarter told the kids about how

Larry is considered a herbivore and can grow between 8-10 feet in length. The second animal Tarter brought was a Red-Tail Boa Constrictor named Scarlet. She had skin that was cold to the touch and an intricate skin pattern that wrapped all around her body. While it's natural that some kids might be afraid of the snake, some kids embraced Scarlet with open arms and even shoulders. One of the last animals that he brought out was a small, miniature adult deer named Frances. She was as cute as she was well-behaved. The kids were surprised to learn that Frances will one day grow fangs!

The kick-off was not only fun, but also educational. Mr. Tarter brought out a few more animals for the kids to see and learn about. The library is always a place of learning and going on an adventure into another world with books. Today, and the rest of the summer, your kids will get to experience another world through books. Saturday, June 11, will feature Mr. Bond, The Science Guy at 1:30 p.m.

COUNTY COMMISSIONER
District 2 Position 2

Election Day August 4th

Do you want someone who knows how to run a business? Do you want a man who knows education is important? Do you want a County Commissioner who will be there for you, the taxpayer, at all times? Do you want to bring industry back to Hardeman County? We have several empty buildings in our area. If you answer yes to these questions, then vote WINFRED RAY August 4th.

We need to help our unemployed workers and prepare them for jobs. Industry is looking for skilled workers. We need to push education, and we have resources available here in our county to do that. Secondly, we need to support small business, not just larger ones as some of these smaller ones are really struggling. We need to support all of them. Thirdly, our county is home to the largest natural resources anywhere, such as the Bill Dance Spring Creek Lake. Let's open it up and promote it, and that will also bring in more tourism. Finally, we need to be good stewards of the taxpayers' money. We at home have to live within our budgets and the County should have to do the same.

So I ask you to join me on August 4th and work together to make this county great again. I am here to represent everyone. Your vote for WINFRED RAY, County Commissioner District 2, Position 2 is greatly appreciated.

It's Time for a Change!

PAID FOR BY CANDIDATE WINFRED RAY, TREASURER TAMMY McDONALD.

The days are getting warmer and summer will soon be upon us. Your air conditioners will be running a lot to keep the house cool and comfortable. To help cut your electric bill, I have listed some summer time energy saving tips.

Turn up the thermostat to 78 degrees when you are home and 85 degrees when you are on a trip. Use ceiling or room fans to keep air moving to cool rooms.

Replace air conditioner filters monthly to increase airflow.

Weather strip, seal, and caulk leaky doors and windows to keep cool air from escaping.

Install patio covers, awnings, and solar window screens to shade your home from the sun. Also, use trees, shrubs, and vines as shade to keep your home cooler.

Do your laundry efficiently by using the warm or cold water setting for washing clothes. Always use the cold rinse cycle. Line dry clothes whenever possible. Run full loads when you use the dryer. Clean the clothes dryer lint trap after each use.

Conserve energy by running your dishwasher only when it is fully loaded. Turn off the dry cycle and air dry dishes. Your dishwasher uses less water than washing dishes by hand.

Having lots of food in your fridge keeps it from warming up too fast when the door is open. So your fridge doesn't have to work as hard to stay cool.

Turn off appliances, lights, and equipment when not in use. Unplug electronic devices and chargers when they are not in use. Turn computers and printers off at the power strip. Enjoy your summer savings on your electric bill!

Parents, please bring your child/children to the free lunch program at the Grand Junction Library. The program will run through Aug. 5th. Lunches will be provided for children ages 1-18 on Tuesday-Friday from 11-12 Noon. We're looking forward to seeing you at the library!

Birthdays for June 3-16: Forrest Griffen, Reta Sutton-3, Cathy Edwards-4, Ronnie Wyatt-7, Robbie Bell-9 Brook Cairncross-12, Sandra Donathan-15, Richard Kee-16.

Scripture Verse for the week; Jesus looked at them and said, "With man this is impossible, but not with God; all things are possible with God." Mark 10:27

Father's Day is celebrated the 3rd Sunday in the month of June. For the next few weeks, we will be spotlighting some of our fathers. This week David and Glenn Stack shared a few of their thoughts about their father, Grady Stack. David writes, "I consider my Dad to be the greatest Dad and for that matter the greatest man I'll ever know. He is a man of integrity, honesty, and high morals whom I respect and love very much." Glenn writes, "I feel that Dad taught me well and tried to instill many good characteristics in me. He has always been helpful and hard-working. Also, he is always there when needed and very good at solving any crisis that comes along."

Frankie and I traveled to Nashville for a few days to visit new tourist sites and revisit a few sites we had not visited in decades. Considering that for the next forty-six weeks we will be going to the Kirkland Cancer Center in Jackson for chemotherapy, we decided to have a short pleasure trip. It was a very relaxing and enjoyable trip.

Silerton Baptist Church enjoyed their 5th Sunday potluck meal after worship Sunday, May 29. The fellowship and food always provide a time of refreshment.

The Aldermen for Silerton had a budget meeting June 1 and the town budget was approved.

Bro. Charlie Crauthers and Jenny enjoyed a few days of camping recently.

Carolyn and Danny Vales are certainly proud of their granddaughter, Zoe Vales. She finished the fifth grade at St Francis of Assisi in Cordova, TN. She received the Principal's List Award for receiving all A's. She also received the Accelerated Reading Award. Lastly, she was chosen to receive the Christian Witness Award for this term. A student is chosen for this award because he/she is a shining example of how Jesus treated others and he/she has a helpful and willing heart.

Willard Beshires is home after an extended time in rehabilitation in Jackson. Carolyn Stack would appreciate your prayers as she will be having knee replacement. Continue to pray Roxanne Staggs.

Condolences to the family of Buna Vales. She passed away June 1, 2016.

Hello to all! Hornsby Baptist Church will be having lots of activities this summer on Sunday nights. There was lots of fun as the kids and some adults played kickball and then had kool-aid to cool down.

Remember this Sunday night will be what everyone will enjoy. We will have our devotion time and then will taste test all the varieties of homemade ice cream. Matt Moore preached Sunday morning and we are very blessed that he is going to be our new youth minister.

The "Loved Thy Neighbor Ministry" will be collecting cans of peas and "Operation Christmas Child" will be collecting bars of soap for the month of June. Be sure to mark your calendar for the Sunday night activities through the summer as we study God's word and fellowship together.

As a lot of you know I work for the election commission of our county and I am frequently asked questions concerning county government. I would like to encourage people to attend your city hall, county commission and your board of education meetings. You will be glad you got involved. If you have any news you would like to share please call or email me I would love to hear from you. If you would like for me to wish someone a happy birthday or anniversary on their special day please let me know. If you know of someone who has some history about our community that they would like to share I would be happy to print that also.

Please remember to pray for the following: Sydney Aylor, Patricia Baker, Terry Baker, Hughloene Barnes, Ricky Chandler, Kay Cooper, Amanda Cornelius, Crawford Cossar, Kenneth Crawford, Marlene DeBerry, Elynor DeBerry, Bobbie Dorris, Jacob Dowty, Matt Emerson, Lee Gainey, Joe Hindman, Sue Hodge, Carolyn Howell, Jo Edna Howell, Ann Kelly, Aubrey King, Debbie Laster, Bobbie McBride, Maggie Morris, Evan Nield, Terry Parchman, Gay Pierce, Gail Pope, Paula Prince, Sandy Sanders, Stacy Spence, Eddie Webb, the men and women who serve our country, Clark and Morgan Davidson serving missionaries, the families of the ones who are fighting cancer.

This word for the week: Psalm 25: 4-5 "Make Your ways know to me, Lord; teach me Your paths. Guide me in Your truth and teach me, for You are the God of my salvation." Praise God!

Hello from the Town of Toone! According to the pictures I am seeing on Facebook and the bragging I am hearing around town, it appears that gardening season is in full swing! I used to think having a vegetable garden was just about raising food to eat, but more and more I am realizing that with many folks, it's more about just having a hobby and watching their garden grow. Of course, there is also the benefit of getting to sit around with other gardeners and boast about the biggest and juiciest tomatoes, the sweetest cantaloupes, the biggest watermelons, the hottest peppers, or even that special squash that grew crooked and now looks like the state of Florida! You can also brag about how many tomatoes you picked off of a single vine and how many bushels of peas came from one short row on the back-side of the garden, plus my favorite- how many jars of salsa you canned and the huge number of packs of cream corn you "put-up"! Yes, gardeners love their gardens, and I enjoy the bragging and the stories each year, but most of all, I enjoy that occasional sack-full of "over-produced" veggies or those two or three spare watermelons that someone wants to give away. Maybe I will put in a garden next year, or maybe I'll just keep listening to others talk about theirs!

The "Summer Enrichment Program" (SEP) at Toone Elementary School is now underway through June 24. This a voluntary program offering special classes during the summer break for kids who want to take art lessons, create special science projects or simply brush-up on other school subjects. One highlight of the program will be a field-trip on, June 16, to the "Discovery Park of America" in Union City, TN. For more information, call or go by TES.

I would like to send out a special Happy Birthday wish to a man I'm sure many of you remember, Bro. James Humphreys. Brother Humphreys and his family lived in Toone for several years back in the 1960's when he served as the pastor at Toone Baptist Church. He turns 93 this year, and we wish him many more happy returns of the day!

Happy Birthday wishes to, Jackie Kelly, who celebrates her big day on, June 14. In addition to their regular jobs, Jackie and her husband, Billy, serve Toone and Harde-man County as members of the Emergency Services "First Response" program.

Happy Birthday to my Son-In-Law, Jason Wells, on June 19. Jason, Caroline and my two perfect grandchildren, left Jackson last summer for a new life in Lexington, Kentucky, so now Grand Bubbie has a new place to visit!

I hope everyone enjoyed a fun and safe Memorial Day weekend. Now it's time to look ahead to the 4th of July and the big Toone fireworks extravaganza! Be sure to come early and enjoy some delicious food and lots of great music! This is always an awesome event!

Until next time. . . . talk to your neighbors!

If you happen to bump into Butch Wilson be sure to wish him a happy birthday! Butch will turn another year older later this month.

With the weather warming rapidly, boating on the lake is beginning to boom. Operation of water vessels was covered last week. This week is a review of rules pertaining to boats when not in operation. First of all, your boat must have a current Grand Valley Lakes sticker on it in order to bring it through the gate or to operate it on the lake. Boats left on the lake overnight must be secured to a personal dock or a marina slip. The slips may be rented at the POA office. The boat ramp is for launching and retrieving watercraft only. The new dock adjacent to the ramp may not be used for overnight mooring. Do not leave an unattended vehicle on the ramp. No swimming or fishing from the ramp.

We have rules for boating, tubing, water skiing and jet skiing. We also have a few for fishing. No fishing with nets, trotlines, yoyos, electrical shocking devices, chemicals, fish baskets, or any explosives. Jug fishing is allowed from sunset until sunrise. Jugs must be labelled with the owner's name and lot number. Fishing is allowed from the marina. Neither fishing nor boating is allowed in the roped off area around the beach.

These rules are necessary for the safety of all residents and visitors using the lake.

Friday night, 6 p m, will see the revival of the Valley's pot luck supper! The ladies club is providing paper/plastic goods, coffee, and tea. Bring a dish and join in the fun and fellowship. This particular Friday was chosen for a reason. Note that's board meeting night. The board wants you to attend the meeting. There's good things going on and they want you to be a part of them.

Hoot: MYTH/LEGEND

My quest for slick is well noted. He/she is no myth, I'll be the one taking credit for making him a legend. That fateful day I had my hand in his mouth and almost boated, the evil look in his eye's told me, this is no ordinary fish. I've been face slapped so many times by him, it's almost routine! Understand this: I'll never give up!! My brain housing has been "BIG TIME" tampered with. There's many that are skeptical about my quest. Most believe I'll never catch you. I will be on your trail RELENTLESSLY!!!! It's typical that my first outing in the pursuit resulted in my water pump going out. I expect drawbacks. Although 'TIME' is on your side----- I have plan's! YOU WILL BE MINE!!! Your sense of humor is never ending!

We'll see who gets the last laugh! You and I have a very special bond. When I do catch you (and I will) , all my fellow fishermen/women will know my VICTORY!!

HOOT

Note: A BIG HOOT HIGH 5 TO MY GRANDSON JAMES. Graduating high school opens a very large door to the World!! Very proud of you buddy!!

Don't Keep Family in the Dark About Your Plans

You might work diligently at building a financial roadmap for your retirement years and a comprehensive estate plan. But you can't just create these strategies – you also have to communicate them. Specifically, you need to inform your spouse and your grown children what you have in mind for the future – because the more they know, the fewer the surprises that await them down the road.

Let's start with your spouse. Ideally, of course, you and your spouse should have already communicated about your respective ideas for retirement and have come to an agreement on the big issues, such as when you both plan to retire, where you'll live during retirement, and what you want to do as retirees (volunteer, travel, work part time and so on).

But what you both might have let slip through the cracks are the important specifics related to financing your retirement. You'll need to answer several questions, including these:

When will you each start taking Social Security? Are there strategies for maximizing both of your Social Security payments?

When will you need to start tapping into your respective retirement accounts, such as your IRA and 401(k)? And, once you do start withdrawing from these accounts, how much should you take out each year?

You may want to work with a financial professional to address these issues, but however you proceed, you and your spouse need to be "on the same page" regarding the key financial components of your retirement.

Now, consider your grown children. You need to clearly communicate your estate plans to them, not only for the sake of openness and honesty, but also because they may well play active roles within those plans. So when talking to your children, make sure you cover these areas:

Durable power of attorney – You may well decide to give one of your grown children the durable power of attorney to pay bills and make financial choices on your behalf if you are unable to do so.

Estate executor – An executor is the person or entity you name in your will to carry out your wishes. An executor has a variety of responsibilities, so you'll want to choose someone who is honest and capable of dealing with legal and financial matters. Again, you could ask a grown child to serve as your executor, but, to avoid potential conflict of interests among your children, you might want to go outside the family. Talk with an attorney about how best to name your executor.

Status of will and living trust – Assuming you have already drawn up a will, share it with your grown children. The same is true with a living trust, a popular estate-planning tool that may allow your survivors to avoid going through the time-consuming, public and expensive process of probate. A will and a living trust will obviously contain a great deal of information your children should know about – so take the time to explain your thinking when you created these documents.

You want to enjoy a comfortable retirement, and you want to leave a meaningful legacy through your estate plans. To help accomplish both these goals, you need to include your loved ones in your arrangements – so open those lines of communication.

Leverage and Weight

by Jimmy Sadler

Recently I built a large headboard, 7 feet by 7 feet. It required pulling old pallets apart and building a frame to reposition the finished pieces. Pulling the things apart, as some of you may know, is not that easy. It takes some time, patience and sweat. IN the end, the thing that made the most difference was to get a heavier hammer with a longer handle. The distance gave it more force and made the job much faster. The even more laborious job of pulling nails followed. The key the that, I found, was to find a crow bar of decent length. The extra distance created more leverage for a much easier and faster pull. Once again, when nailing them back down to the new frame, I found a hammer with a longer handle made each swing more productive. It seems that, although distance created greater force with weight, it is quite useful at times like these. In our walk as Christians, our heaviest problems sometimes lie in our past. We can allow the weight to make everything we lift harder or we can ask God to help us use it to leverage our new-found strength under our daily struggles.

I started thinking about some of the tragedies in my life. I was reminded of God's promise to use them to reach out to others. The deaths of family members and early depression in life created open doors for me to empathize with others in hard situations. Now that the sting of those times has subsided, I can leverage the weight of those hardships and others to lift others and help them though their journey.

I remembered a family I mentioned in earlier writing. This couple, a minister and wife, were traveling to Wisconsin to celebrate the birthdays of two of their children. Scott Willis ran over a brace for a tractor trailer mud flap. The piece of metal jammed into the gas tank and caused a massive fire that engulfed the inside of the van. The couple made it out, as well as their thirteen year old son. The parents were burned but alive. Tragically, the van held five more of their children who did not escape. The thirteen year old son died that evening in the hospital. As I relay this event, tears are streaming down my face. I cannot begin to get an inkling of an idea how I would cope with this event. The dad beat at the van windows to no avail, realizing there was zero chance anyone could have survived the inferno. Still in shock but also in faithful trust, Scott told his wife "God has prepared us for this."

God had led both of these two to His Son, Jesus Christ. The kids trusted and followed as well. The parents knew their fate was wrapped up in Christ. Still, I wondered how the distance of time might have affected the minister's faith. It was no doubt shaken. More than a decade later, he still will not drive with children in the car. He is back to ministry now, and has shared the story of Christ with so many along the way. It seems that God allowed their trials to be a catalyst, a leverage for God's Word to penetrate some hardened souls. Indeed, their faith has challenged me. If they can make it, then certainly I can.

Don't let tragedies, failures or offenses toward you cast an overpowering shadow over your life. Don't resign yourself to allowing time and distance to harden your heart, but use it to leverage and use the weight in a way that will bring about good in an already heavy laden world.

A Message from Bolivar Energy Authority:

To operate your space heater and fireplace efficiently and help keep down your heating bill, here's some advice:

Turn down the thermostat and use space heaters to warm only the rooms being used. If it is below 40 degrees outside, don't use your fireplace. When a fire is burning, lower the thermostat a few degrees. And always keep the damper closed when the fireplace is being used.

For more information on energy saving steps you can take, call Bolivar Energy Authority at 731-658-5257.

Incorporated in 1936, Bolivar Energy Authority serves Hardeman County and parts of Fayette, Chester, Madison, and Benton (MS) counties. The Bolivar Energy Authority covers 1,350 miles of line with an average of 8 customers per mile.

Sunrise: Multi-level

by David Coy

No matter our gender, cultural upbringing education or financial means, we all share the common experience of loss. We will if we have not already, share the sorrow of something or someone we have been separated from in a traumatic manner. When separation comes whether anticipated or not, we will most likely be deluged with a multitude of emotional, physical, social and spiritual symptoms as we begin our journey with grief. Traumatic loss occurs when we have developed a strong bond with something or someone that we have placed high value upon. Where our treasure is there will be our heart also. These attachments are not seen with acquaintances. We may not know where they live or any details of their family life.

With friends we develop more of a foundation. We share more about us and they with us more of themselves. We let them in to know more intimate details about ourselves. Then there are those with whom we love whom we let in to even a greater depth any other. Thus loss may be experienced (felt) at different levels. Many caring family and friends will seek to offer condolence. While it is very helpful to possess a strong support system, it can be challenging to know what to say and how and when to say it without offense.

I have frequently exhorted people who do not seek to comfort others in their time of need, because they do not know what to say, that it is perfectly alright to say nothing. It is wise to be swift to hear and slow to speak. We should be active listeners more than we should be plentiful talkers. When people are hurting, they need someone who is willing to listen. They no doubt are in shock immediately after the time of their loss and will need a comforting ear. In this position in their journey they may be confused with their mind in a whirlwind. They may also be experiencing disorientation periodically and may desire to talk about their loss. This will be the beginning of healing. They will need someone who is willing to be close often and willing to listen even if they repeat themselves frequently. There should be no time limit places upon their need for support. # Bolivar Baseball and Softball End Regular Season

Bolivar Dizzy Dean Softball and Baseball named all-star teams and handed out awards in ceremonies signifying the end of the season on Thursday and Saturday.

The only league in doubt was settled on Saturday, with Star Physical Therapy beating Joe's Restaurant by the tie. The two teams tied at 10-3 for the year, but Star won two out of three meetings between the two. Star, coached by Josh Trantum, Justin McMahan, and Ryan Zawacki, began the year 0-2, but won 10 of their last 11.

The Dizzy Dean Baseball World Series is scheduled for Southaven beginning July 20 for the 8U team and on July 22 for the 6U, 10U and 12U teams. The 9U team will play a tournament schedule and finish with a three-game series against the Germantown Dizzy Dean 9-year old all-stars July 8-9.

The Dizzy Dean Softball World Series for all age divisions is scheduled for Greenbrook Park in Southaven, MS the week of July 13-18, according to dizzydeanbbinc.org.

OUR COUNTY

Hardeman County Remembered by Lisa Coleman

In researching and learning about the history of our county, I've learned that schools and churches were two of the first things that the early settlers made a point to have in their new communities. I suppose we could take a lesson or two from their examples and say that Jesus and learning – taking care of mind and soul – are important in life. (I would guess that the hard work of living day-to-day back then in a new town in a new place took care of your body.)

The church and church/campground were vital parts of life on the American frontier – remember, we're talking about 1827 or so when West Tennessee was the western frontier of our country. Summer and fall were the most popular seasons for camp meetings. Traveling preachers would come through an area and hold services for days, sometimes even weeks. These camp meetings were a part of the Second Great Awakening in the 1800s. Small frontier towns often could not afford a full-time preacher and so these meetings were a chance to hear preaching on a somewhat regular basis. Families would travel to church campgrounds and would spend time there visiting with family and friends and enjoying singing, prayers, sermons, communions, and, being that we are in the South after all, they enjoyed many a meal together.

Mr. Barnett helped to establish an early campground in the county around 1827. As an ordained Cumberland Presbyterian minister he was noted for delivering sermons that caused his audience to tremble under the power of his message. About a year later, Mr. Barnett died while preaching a service; now, folks, that was some powerful preaching he was doing. Another popular minister was Dr. Robert A. Moorman, who was also a local physician. Dr. Moorman was noted to become so involved in his message that he would fall to his knees, finishing his sermons with prayer.

The Bush Campground was a popular meeting spot for many years. This photo shows a group there in 1891 when a Dallas evangelist, Rev. W. H. "Wild Bill" Evans, delivered the messages. He earned his title at a meeting, when he literally walked along the backs of pews to talk to someone; someone in the crowd encouraged him by shouting, "Watch Wild Bill go!", and the name stuck. He was known as a "vigorous and picturesque evangelist".

Our early county pioneers were people of great faith – faith in God, faith in each other, and faith that they could make a new home in the wilderness of a still-new country. Many of us living here today owe a great debt of gratitude to those faith-filled ancestors of ours. Let's remember their faithfulness, y'all, and meet up real soon for a singing and dinner on the grounds.

Tales from the Yellow House by Lee McAlpin

I have been asked if the Tales From The Yellow House are truth or fiction. They are definitely the truth. I am proud of my country heritage and not ashamed in the least of my country upbringing. It has made me thankful for the little things in life. Now to January at the Yellow house.

It seems like every winter all of us kids would come down with a bad case of the croup, crud, or bad cold as we called it. I don't know exactly what it was, but it made us feel terrible. I always felt as though I had been run over by a team of mules pulling a wagon load of Bo-Doc logs, or the fancy name Bois d'arc. My nose would run like Niagara Falls, and be as red as Rudolph's. One minute I would be so hot that I had to change my hippens every so often, and the next minute so cold that I had to put on all of my wardrobe to keep warm. I didn't comb my hair for days and it looked like a stump full of sick grand-daddies. I tried eating everything from raw sauerkraut to dried apples, and nothing tasted no better than if I had been chewing on an old truck tire.

Mom had a lot of remedies that she forced down our throats during these times of sickness. One of the remedies was that awful smelling, dreadful tasting Castor Oil. She would tell us to hold our noses with our fingers while we were swallowing it. Usually as soon as it reached my stomach, and most times before, it would come back up. I still can't see how it helped our illness, unless there was some remedy in our repeated marathon races to the outhouse down in the cotton patch. At night, Mom would put a few drops of turpentine, and sometimes coal oil in a spoon of sugar and give it to us. She would get a wool cloth, rub hog lard on it, heat it and place it on our chests at night. We never went to the doctor when we were sick. We depended entirely on home remedies for anything that might beset us. For our coughs, Mom would go into the fields and pull the leaves from a plant that we called rabbit tobacco. She would make a tea from it and we would drink the potion for our coughs. We would also hide and roll us a cigarette with the leaves and smoke it. I do not know the botanical name of the weed. I believe that the Indians called it Life Everlasting. I do know that it helped our coughing. I still go into the fields in the fall and gather a bag or two.

One of the chores, or I should say necessity, that I recall in the winter was the daily treks to the outhouse, or outdoor toilet. We were blessed with a rather sturdy one, even though it leaned somewhat to the north, about on the angle of the leaning Tower Of Pisa, or catty wampus as the old folks use to say. Some people called them outhouses, johns, privies, necessary houses, etc. Some were one holer's, some were two holer's, and the fancy ones had two holes on a split level to accommodate both adults and children. Ours at the Yellow House was very simple and was a one holer. I have never been in one of the things in the summer when there wasn't at least one spider, a red throated lizard, or a sand-streaker. Our little building didn't have any of the squeezable soft, double quilted tissue, but we did have a well-worn issue of the Sears and Roebuck catalog. There was no half-moon cutout in the door, but there was cracks in the wall that you could throw a grown cat through, and the cold winters wind coming through those cracks would turn your backside into a bright hue of scarlet in a New York minute. Until next week.

Can you believe IT'S BEEN 50 YEARS?

WES Opens Doors for Summer Program by Anna-Alicia Sails

As every child can't wait for those summer months of water-parks, games, plenty of rest, and a break from school, Whiteville Elementary School is proving that the learning never stops. While combining creative learning and fun activities, WES had its summer program kick-off this Monday and the kids were more excited than ever.

WES is putting their 21st Century Schools Grant to good use as they started their three-week program on Monday, June 6th. With Kindergarten-2nd grade focusing mainly on reading and grammar skills while 3rd-7th grade do a bit of everything, the program is beneficial for all kids, at any age.

WES Principal, Cedric Crisp, says it's different from your traditional August-May school year. "It's not all paper, pencil, books, presentations, and things like that; it's more about constructive learning, being hands-on, and building on information."

The classrooms were filled with enthusiastic young students as they learned how to write poems with specific vowels and played interactive learning games on the computer. For the older kids, they learned how to sew and how to tell the difference between various minerals. There was even a classroom that learned more about writing by playing a fun round of musical chairs.

While each school might be beating to the sound of their own drum, the WES summer program is specifically for WES students. The program will end on June 24 from 8:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m., with breakfast and lunch being provided. If you want to make sure your child has fun this summer, while also adding building blocks of learning to that foundation, the WES summer program is here and ready.
