The Hardeman County Sheriff's Department should put out an A.P.B. for EVERYBODY.

A detailed description of EVERYBODY is hard to get, mostly because they have never been photographed or recorded. Sure, they say a lot of stuff, but no one knows who EVERYBODY actually is, especially not those who claim to have talked to EVERYBODY.

However, a description what some people say about EV-ERYBODY is below.

- 1. "Everybody thinks": Yes, and boy howdy, does EVERY-BODY think. They sit around seemingly 24 hours a day, thinking about things and usually, it's whatever the person telling you about it thinks too.
- 2. "Everybody wants": Usually, it's the opposite of what the person being told by EV-ERYBODY is doing, but right in line with what the person telling you about what EV-ERYBODY wants.
- 3. "Everybody is saying": Again, whatever the person telling you about it wants you to believe EVERYBODY is saying.

As far as actions go, EV-ERYBODY rarely does anything. You hear about what they are going to do, but almost never about what EVERY-BODY actually did. Sure, EV-ERYBODY threatens to do lots of stuff, horrible things even, but EVERYBODY mostly only stirs up trouble for those who believe EVERYBODY exists.

EVERYBODY isn't alone out there though. Their friends, "NOBODY" and "PEOPLE" often attempt to speak for large groups as well and almost always without any proof to back it up.

If we find EVERYBODY, I'll introduce you. But don't hold your breath. The problem with EVERYBODY, is that EVERYBODY doesn't exist. Darrell Teubner, Editor

IPROVE Act to Replace Six County Bridges Improving public roads and bridges are on the horizon for Hardeman

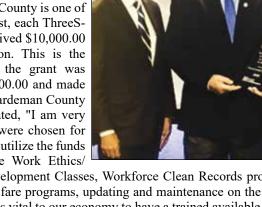

County, according to Superintendent of Highways David Sipes. "This fiscal year, we will receive $438,000 in recurring funds that will be available each year. Next year they will add $148,000 to this," he stated, "and at the end of three years, we will be collecting on the new money on the fuel tax of $738,820 and this will go a long way as far as helping the county pave roads and fix bridges."

The recently signed IMPROVE Act, also known as the "2017 Tax Cut Act" by Tennessee Governor Bill Haslam, enhances existing revenue for the highway fund by increasing fuel taxes and identifies over 900 transportation projects to be paid with the increase across the state. This legislation, the (HPBRP) High Priority Bridge Replacement Program, includes six Hardeman County bridges to be addressed based on data regarding their structural condition from the National Bridge Inspection Program. The bridges to be replaced in Hardeman County are: the Howell Road over Wade Creek, Kennedy Road over Branch, Old Highway 64 over Branch, Sain Road over Spring Creek, Newstead Drive over Branch, and Powell Chapel Road over Big Hatchie River.

Some of these bridges are locally owned and the Hardeman County Highway Department will work with the county and bridge owners to make sure they are engaged in moving forward, and then will take action for replacement through a contract with the bridge owners or county. The FY 2018 3-Year Plan of bridge replacement with a BRZ (Bridge Replacement and Rehabilitate Program) Contract, using a combination of Bridge Grant and HPBRP includes Powell Chapel Road (pictured right) over Big Hatchie River at LM 7.92, and Kennedy Road over Branch at LM 2.59, which are both owned by Hardeman County.

Sipes is gearing up for these pieces of transportation infrastructure County Receives ThreeStar Award

The State of Tennessee Department of Economic and Community Development has announced the ThreeStar Competitive Grant Awards for Fiscal Year 2017/18. Thirty-one counties will receive $25,000.00 and Hardeman County is one of them. In the past, each ThreeStar County received $10,000.00 upon application. This is the first year that the grant was raised to $25,000.00 and made competitive. Hardeman County Mayor Sain stated, "I am very proud that we were chosen for the grant. I will utilize the funds to continue the Work Ethics/Workforce Development Classes, Workforce Clean Records program, Health and Welfare programs, updating and maintenance on the county's website. It is vital to our economy to have a trained available workforce ready to go to work. I would like to thank Governor Haslam, Commissioner Rolfe, Senator Gresham, Representative Shaw and Representative Gant for supporting Hardeman County and our efforts to prepare it for competitiveness and economic development."

and is pleased about the additional funding created by raising fuel taxes in Fiscal Years 2017/18. The Powell Chapel Road bridge alone would cost 4 million, with the department's portion being 1 million in matching funds, but according to Sipes, "TDOT will replace it at 100% of the cost."

The second bridge, the Kennedy Road bridge, is projected to cost around $700,000. After these two bridges are replaced, then Sipes says, "the remaining four bridges will be available to replace after the state inspects them, then they will be deemed replaceable."

Beware: The Great American Solar Eclipse by Calley Overton

A once-in-a-lifetime event in the heavens is coming to Tennessee. A total solar eclipse is crossing the continental United States and Tennessee is directly in its path. Although we are not in the narrow path of totality for the Great American Total Solar Eclipse, the sun will be approximately 95% obscured at 1:24 p.m. on August 21, 2017, in Hardeman County.

According to NASA, the partial eclipse will start in Bolivar at 11:54 a.m., reach its peak at 1:24 p.m., and end at 2:51 p.m. Nashville is the largest city in the United States that is in the path of the total solar eclipse and will be experiencing a total solar eclipse for the first time since July 9, 1478, with Music City's next one being on August 16, 2566. Other areas that the total solar eclipse can be seen are Murfreesboro, Clarksville, Springfield, Hendersonville, Springfield, Smyrna, McMinnville, Cleveland, and Cookeville. Anywhere in Tennessee directly north of Nashville is in range of the total solar eclipse. For exact times and locations, please see NASA's interactive map at eclipse2017.nasa.gov.

A total solar eclipse occurs when the disk of the moon appears to completely cover the disk of the sun in the sky and the sun's corona, or atmosphere, can be seen. A partial eclipse covers part of the sun's disk. They both occur when the moon moves between the earth and sun. During a total eclipse, the brighter stars and planets come out, animals change their behavior, birds and squirrels nest, and there is a drop in both light level and air temperature.

It is going to be tempting to stare into the sky wideeyed in wonderment. Don't. At least, do not stare at the eclipse without protecting your vision. To view the eclipse by staring at the sun, you will need solar viewing glasses. Rainbow Symphony, American Paper Optics, and Thousand Oaks Optical meet the international standards recommended by NASA. Sunglasses are NOT a substitute for solar viewing glasses. Nothing that can be found around the house is good for direct viewing of the sun. The only time it is safe to stare at the sun is while it is totally covered by the moon, which will only last for around two minutes in the path of totality. The remaining crescent sun is still intense enough to cause a retinal burn even when 99% of the sun's surface is obscured. Even with solar viewing glasses, it is best to look away from the sun frequently to cool the eye as heat from the sun can also harm the eye. Go to https://eclipse2017.nasa.gov/safety for more information on how to view the eclipse safely.

Photographers and amateur astronomers will want professional grade solar filters to cover binoculars, telescopes, and cameras. Without a solar filter, the sun's light will destroy a camera. If you only take a photo at the moment of totality, you do not need the solar filter and will capture the image of the faint corona. The corona is not able to be captured with a solar filter. To prepare for photographing the eclipse, try photographing the full moon at night. Please note that smart-phone cameras also need a solar filter to take pictures of a partial eclipse.

The last time a total solar eclipse crossed most of the United States was on July 7, 1972, and the next time a total solar eclipse will be visible from the U.S. will be in 2024.

The September 2024 solar eclipse path of totality will be just above Northwest Tennessee.

Toone Glenn Yarbrough 731-609-0939 gnyarb@bellsouth.net

Greetings from the friendly Town of Toone, where students and teachers are completing their first week of the new school year. Yes, summer vacation 2017 is but a fond memory! Join me in wishing them all a good year!

When I was a kid growing up in Toone, the first day of the new school year was always bittersweet. On one hand was the sadness of the summer vacation ending, but on the other hand, I looked forward to seeing all of my friends again and catch-up on how we spent our summer. There were a few of my buddies here in town that I hung out with the summer. It was a fun time in my life! The August meeting of the mayor and board of aldermen, was held, Tuesday evening, August 8. At this meeting, the board voted and approved the new town budget on the second reading. Other business discussed was state-mandated improvements to the site of the Toone water system and storage during the summer, but if someone lived further than a bike-ride from Toone, I probably didn't see them during tank. The town will be required to erect a security fence around the facility and install a new overflow downspout pipe on the main water tower. Some of the work has already begun. On the last state inspection, Toone received a rating of 98 points out of a possible 100. This is an exceptional rating for a small town this size.

Kilgore Corp. recently announced that their factory here in Toone has been awarded a new $28,000,000 military contract. This will greatly benefit Toone by keeping hundreds of jobs here.

Bags of goodies for Toone Elementary School teachers and staff were distributed at the school, Wednesday, August 2, by volunteers from the Toone Baptist Church during their "prayer walk" through the school to show support and appreciation for all the teachers and staff do for our children. The first TES- PTO meeting of the new school year will be Monday, August 14th, at 5:45 p.m., in the school cafeteria. All PTO parents are urged to be at this important meeting.

As most of you know, we here in the Toone area recently lost our friend and neighbor, Bill Warren, of 'Warren's Small Engines" on Hwy. 18. I know many of you were customers of his. Bill's wife, Carolyn, wants everyone to know that the shop and parts counter will still be open weekdays from 8:00 a.m. - 1:00 p.m.

Carolyn would also like to express her gratitude and appreciation for the love and kindness that was shown to she and her family since Bill's passing.

The Town of Toone has changed their Fall Festival to Oct. to accommodate Toone School's Harvest festival on, September 23rd. This years' TES festival hours are, 11:00 a.m.-3:00 p.m., with the big auction At 3:15 p.m. As always there will be lots of fun with games, inflatable jumpers, door prizes and delicious food. This is the TES PTO main fund-raiser for the year, so don't you dare miss it!

IT'S FOOTBALL TIME!!!! HCSA will have youth football sign-up, Saturday, August 12th, & Tuesday, August 15th, from 5-7 p.m. at BCHS Stadium. FLAG: Ages 6-8 $55, TACKLE: Ages 9-11 $62. It is mandatory to bring a copy of your child's birth certificate!

Until next time. . . talk to your neighbors!

Continue to remember the sick and shut ins in your Prayers. Those I know of are: Sharon Azotea, Johnny Lowrance, Benny Luker, Jackie Kennemore, David Burcham, Jason Dixon, Linsey Parmley, Mary Long, David Kennedy, J W McMillin, Diane Taylor, Stephen Robinson, Doug Henderson, Nick Scott, Betty Matthews, Clara Jones, Donna Braddock, Nick Scott, Seth Austin, Bradley Porterfield, Ronny Clift and Dorris Medlin.

Condolences and prayers for the Richard McCoy family, Jackie Howell family, and the Larry Adkins family. Middleton Civitan met August 7th at 6 p.m. at Middleton Methodist Church fellowship hall. There were 11 members and 7 guest present. A $500 Scholarship was awarded to Taylor Hudson. She will be attending Jackson State and plans to be a Registered Nurse. A fun game night is planned for August 26th at Middleton Community Center at 6:30 p.m. Everyone is welcome. Middleton Civitan will be giving away freeze pops at the Fur, Fin and Feather Festival on Saturday evening. The next Civitan meeting will be September 11th due to the holiday. Anyone and everyone is invited.

Middleton Methodist Church will have their next senior luncheon next August 11th at 10 a.m. Everyone is welcome and encouraged to attend.

Jesus Name Community Church will have their young at heart luncheon August 22nd at 11:30 a.m. Watch for sign on highway 72.

Thanks to those who are saving the Best Choice labels for the Middleton Woman's Club. The money received from this helps with the improvements to the city park. School will be starting Monday so lets watch out for our children and keep them in our prayers.

I know there is much news in the Middleton area and would appreciate a call, text or email. Thanks to those calling and giving me people that are sick and/or news. Call 731-376-8202 or email at bonnieshealthyliving@ comcast.net with any news.

Thomas and Jonathan, handsome twin sons of Bryan and Nicole Banks were delightful children to talk with about their summer break, vacations and their goals for life. They are now eleven years of age and will be in 6th grade at Toone Elementary School. Nicole stated that they are very proud of their sons. They are both very good students and are in the Beta Club. Thomas stated that a vacation to Pigeon Forge when he was six years of age was his best vacation. He saw so many attractions. The Titanic museum, Wonderworks, and the Dixie Stampede were his favorites. This summer they vacationed in Gatlinburg and once again visited Wonderworks. He enjoyed it more this year because he was older and could participate in more activities. He also enjoyed wading in the river which flowed behind their motel. They saw a mother and baby bear while driving in the mountains. He loves summer because school is out and the family spends a lot of time at the river. He enjoys swimming with his grandparents. Two of Jonathan's favorite things about his vacation was eating at the Bubba Gump Restaurant and riding the sky lift. When asked about the fire damage at Gatlinburg, Jonathan said he could smell the char smell. Jonathan's love for sleeping in and going to the river are the reasons he likes summer. Jonathan states, "I am all about climate change and I want to help". He thinks solar panels would help. Jonathan wants to be an astronaut and Thomas wants to work for the Lego Company and go to Mars. They both agreed that they love each other, get along very good and an argument is very uncommon. When they were learning to talk they started calling each other "Boa" and they still use that name.

Mark your calendar for August 26, Saturday, at 6:00 p.m. for the bean supper at the Fire Department. This is an annual fundraising event.

Bolivar Mayor Honored by Peers at Inaugural Ball

by Jessica Simmons

A formal inaugural ball honoring newly elected City of Bolivar Mayor Julian McTizic was held at the Hardeman County Municipal Center by members of the Zion Temple Church along with his mayoral committee on Saturday, August 5. In attendance on his behalf were Councilman Vice-Mayor Page Walley, State Representative Johnny Shaw, Hardeman County Mayor Jimmy Sain, Senator Dolores Gresham, and Mayor William Rawls, Mayor of Brownsville, who was the guest speaker of the evening. Rogue Waves by Jimmy Sadler

Yesterday, I stood in the Atlantic ocean for the first time in a few years. My daughters were enjoying the waves as I stood closer to the shore taking pictures. I was facing the shore when a large wave crashed right behind me, pulling my eye-glasses into the surf. I am squinting now to write these words because those glasses never surfaced. My phone took the tiniest spritz of saltwater and, as of this morning, no longer works. For whatever reason, this seems to be a typical start to my vacations. The lesson of this experience to me is not a pretty one, but it does speak to me plainly about some very foundational

I could plead my case for sympathy, but in the end, it was my own negligence that led to the mishap. Although the wave surprised me, it shouldn't have shocked me. If I want my phone to be safe and my eyeglasses to be secure, standing knee-deep in the ocean is not the place to be. I took some things of value in a place that is unpredictable, where they are far more likely to sustain damage.

The more I thought of this ridiculous moment, the more I realized how we often place contemplation, prayer and nourishment.

ourselves in far more dangerous places. We loosen our standards around others, allowing our once sacred sensitivities to wane. We court fringe relationships that can lead us into temptations. Then, we wake up one day to find our families splintered by the wave that crashed through our vows. Others of us frequent places that, if we were honest with ourselves, chip away at our moral convictions. We barely notice the single brick falling from the wall of our addiction until we are swept away as it crumbles. We are shocked that we or someone we love were blindsided by a

We shouldn't be so surprised. Falling off a cliff may be accidental and shocking, but it is a place people tend to fall. If we were to find ourselves falling from a cliff we never got close to, then it would be appropriate to be perplexed. We need to be less shocked and more insightful when it comes to failure.

Some of the most frequent causes of spiritual failure are unhealthy friendships, lack of spiritual disciplines and pride. These are seedbeds for harvests of destruction. God's Word reminds us of the simple law of the harvest.

Our language provides two words that describes aloneness from both ends of the spectrum. As Paul Tillich has aptly stated, Loneliness, which describes the pain of being alone, as we have discussed in a previous article. Then there is solitude, that expresses the need for quiet meditative time alone away from noise or distraction. Mr. Tillich describes it as the 'glory of being alone.' We all benefit from time alone occasionally for all sorts of reasons. Solitude is described as a state of seclusion or isolation. The need may result from a variety of causes; bad relationships, loss of a loved one, deliberate choice, illness, etc. (en.wikipedia.org) A person may deliberately choose to withdraw from crowds or public socialization because of any one of the reasons mentioned above. There may exist multiple reasons in someone's life at the same time with a need for isolation. One may withdraw to mourn privately to oneself or to meditate and pray. There are a number of examples of Jesus withdrawing himself and his disciples to 'a desert place.' This usually was a place of quiet isolation, in a grassy plain not a barren desert as we use the term today. One such occasion was when he heard of the beheading of John the Immerser in Matthew chapter 14, Mark 6, Luke 9, and John 6.

An examination of the harmony of the four passages reveals the reasons for their departure to a quiet place,

Jesus and John were cousins, this along with the death of Lazarus (Luke 16) must have given him much cause for sorrow. For when he (Jesus) heard, he withdrew (Matthew 14:13). Solitude can be very thera-

I will get a new phone at some point and hope to be getting a new pair of glasses in the morning. These are replaceable. Our souls are not. If you live your life for yourself, if you attempt to live your life for God but constantly play with fire to fill some emotional void or if you simply think yourself too strong to be tempted beyond your will, then you will find yourself in the midst of a wave that will tear away anything of value from your life. This may be surprising to each of us, but in many cases it comes as no surprise to those who can see our situation more objectively. Stay close to God, gather supportive Christian friends and realize you are not beyond the lure of evil.

ARRY CARL ADKINS AUGUST 16, 1932-AUGUST 2, 2017

Larry Carl Adkins, 84, of Middleton, Tennessee, beloved husband and father peacefully passed from this world to his eternal home on August

Funeral services were held Saturday, August 5, 2017 at the First Baptist Church in Middleton with Sam Cox officiating. Interment followed in Middleton City Cemetery. Shackelford Funeral Directors of Bolivar were in charge of the services.

Larry was born in Walton, Kentucky on August 16, 1932. He was the son of Henry and Flora Drees Adkins. He is preceded in death by his parents and brother, Edward (Bud). Larry and Bud were raised by his parents in a home full of love, especially his mother after his father died at a young age. His mother, one of the strongest women we have ever known, raised our father to be the finest husband and a compassionate and loving father. Larry worked for Dover Corporation for 40 years, lived in Kentucky, Madison, IN, and Memphis, TN before spending his last 50 years in Middleton, TN. He enjoyed all sports, especially Kentucky and Memphis basketball, but those were secondary to his love of the Little League he coached and Middleton basketball games he attended. He was raised Methodist and attended Middleton First Baptist Church, where he loved listening to his wife Betty play the organ and piano for the past 50 years.

Larry loved his family and they were his pride and joy. Surviving Larry is his loving wife of 63 years, Betty Sue (Stewart); three children Becky, Larry (Sherry) and Eddie (Becky); four granddaughters, Lauren (Becky), Paige and Marina (Larry), and Emma (Eddie); and five great grandchildren, Jared, Sally and Rylee (Paige) and Chandler and Mattie (Marina). His children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren are blessed to have him as an example of fatherhood and he will be missed by all. The family sincerely appreciates all the love, support and prayers.

In lieu of flowers, the family asks donations to be made to First Baptist Church of Middleton, TN where the Larry and Betty Adkins Music Scholarship Fund will be established.

Early Notice and Public Review of a Proposed Activity in a 100-Year Floodplain To: All interested Agencies - Federal, State, and Local - Groups and Individuals

This is to give notice that The Town of Hornsby under CFR 24 Part 58 has conducted an evaluation as required by Executive Order 11988 and/or 11990, in accordance with HUD regulations at 24 CFR 55.20 Subpart C Procedures for Making Determinations on Floodplain Management, to determine the potential affect that its activity in the floodplain and wetland will have on the human environment for a Community Development Block Grant under 11137. The Town of Hornsby plans to replace up to 5,500 LF of existing water main with CDBG awarded funds of $249,760.00 to address reoccurring water loss issues. A floodplain designated area of less than 0.5 of an acre has been identified in one section of Hornsby Loop Road that may be identified as requiring line replacement. The proposed project(s) is located in the areas of Hornsby Loop Road, Forrest Hill Road, and Walnut Grove Road outside Hornsby in Hardeman County.

There are three primary purposes for this notice. First, people who may be affected by activities in floodplains and those who have an interest in the protection of the natural environment should be given an opportunity to express their concerns and provide information about these areas.

Second, an adequate public notice program can be an important public educational tool. The dissemination of information about floodplains can facilitate and enhance Federal efforts to reduce the risks associated with the occupancy and modification of these special areas. Third, as a matter of fairness, when the Federal government determines it will participate in actions taking place in floodplains, it must inform those who may be put at greater or continued risk.

Written comments must be received by the Town of Hornsby at the following address on or before August 25, 2017: Town of Hornsby, 450 Main Street, Hornsby, TN 38044, 731-658-6188, Attention Mack Carter, Jr., Mayor. Comments may also be submitted or further information can be requested via email at mackcarterjr@aol.com. A full description of the project may also be reviewed at the Hornsby Town Hall by setting an appointment with the Mayor by calling 731-658-6188. A copy of the full description can also be reviewed at the Hardeman County Mayor's office at 100 E. Main Street, Bolivar, Tennessee between the hours of 8:30a.m. and 4:00 p.m.

How Can You Leave the Legacy You Desire?

You may not see it in the greeting card section of your local drugstore, but August is "What Will Be Your Legacy Month." So it's a good time to think about the type of legacy you'd like to leave.

Of course, "legacy" can mean many things. In the broadest sense, your legacy is how you will be remembered by your loved ones, friends and the communities to which you belong. On a practical level, establishing your legacy means providing your family and the charitable organizations you support with the resources you'd

And that means you may need to take the following actions: create your plans, communicate your wishes and review and update your documents.

Let's take a quick look at all these steps:

Create your plans. You will want to work with your legal professional, and possibly your tax and financial professionals, too, to draft the plans needed to fulfill your legacy wishes. These plans may include drafting a will, living trust, health care directive, power of attorney and other documents. Ideally, you want these plans to do more than just convey where you want your money to go – you want to impart, to the next generation, a sense of the effort that went into building the wealth they receive. Without such an appreciation, your heirs may be less than rigorous in retaining the tangible legacies you've left them.

Communicate your wishes. It's important to communicate your legacy-related wishes to your family members as early as possible. By doing so, you can hopefully avoid unpleasant surprises and hurt feelings when it's time for your estate to be settled – and you'll also let people know what tasks, if any, they need to perform. For example, if you're choosing a family member to be the executor of your estate, or if you're giving someone power of attorney over your financial or health-related matters, they should be prepared.

Update your documents. During your life, you may well experience any number of changes – new marriage, new children, opening a family business, and so on. You need to make sure your legal documents and financial accounts reflect these changes. For example, if you've remarried, you may want to change the beneficiary designations on your IRA, 401(k) and other retirement accounts – if left untouched, these designations may even supersede the instructions left in your will. And the directions in life chosen by your grown children may also dictate changes in your will or living trust. In any case, it's a good idea to review all your legacyrelated documents periodically, and update them as needed.

In addition to taking the above steps, you also need to protect the financial resources that go into your legacy. So, when you retire and begin taking funds from your IRA, 401(k) and other retirement accounts, make sure your withdrawal rate is sufficient for your living expenses, but not so high that it eventually jeopardizes the amounts you planned to leave to your family or to your preferred charities. A financial professional can help you determine the withdrawal rate appropriate for your situation.

With careful planning, and by making the right moves, you can create the type of legacy you desire – one that can benefit your loved ones far into the future.

Sunshine, Seeds and a few Surprises by Jessica Simmons

Lewis Vincent of East Bolivar grows a labor of love sunflower patch each summer. This year, he had two huge surprises to grow over 16 feet tall and weigh over 20 pounds each. Every August he begins the cycle of pulling all the flowers down before the birds start to eat the seeds. He then lets the flowers dry out completely, and "shucks" the seeds almost like the way you get corn from cobs. The following spring, he replants the previous year's flower seeds for the next years flowers. All this time and energy is spent for a month of sun shining beauty, and maybe a few surprises, in an empty field.

Farmers Market Spotlight: For the Fun of It by Ginger Tester

National Farmers Market Week is an annual celebration sponsored by the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA) that highlights the important role farmers markets play in the nation's food system. Always held during the first full week of August, this year's celebration runs from August 6-12.

You don't have to have a big farm or a lot of equipment to reap the benefits of being a grower at the Bolivar Farmers Market. It's a place where people from all walks of life and abilities can bring their home-grown or home-made items, visit with fellow enthusiasts, and just have some good old-fashioned fun. Some folks turn out just to see their friends and neighbors.

Richard Sain, age 66 of Bolivar says, "I do it because I enjoy it." Sain sells sweet potatoes, green beans, tomatoes, squash, and other seasonal varieties.

If you would like additional information or would like to participate, contact Gerald Sykes, Market Manager, 110 Lafayette Street, Bolivar, TN 38008 or call 731-609-2345. The Bolivar Farmers Market is part of PickTnProducts and exists due to the efforts of the Bolivar Downtown Development Corporation.

Helping Blended Families Succeed by Carolyn Tomlin

Susan* met Ted*, a wonderful Christian man; one she wanted to spend the rest of her life with. Before their first date, he said, "There is something about me you need to know. I have two small girls I'm raising after my wife died in an automobile accident." Susan never thought she would fall in love and marry a man with a ready-made family, but God had plans for her. He knew she was capable of being a "mother" to these little girls.

At first, her parents wondered if this was a good decision, but soon they were talking about their wonderful grandchildren. And the term "step-grandchildren" was never spoken -just our daughter's wonderful kids.

An anonymous writer said, "Life is like arithmetic, and love is the only thing you multiply by dividing." When you see Susan and Ted and their two youngsters, you know this was part of God's plan for their lives. In our society, approximately 33 percent of weddings form blended families. http://www.focusonthefamily.com/marriage/marriage_challenges...6/30/2012

Do you realize that many Bible families of the Old Testament were blended families? In II Kings 5:1-19 we're introduced to a little slave girl whose master was Naaman, the commander of the army of the king of Aram. We are not told her name, but she served Naaman's wife. Naaman was highly respected and had great wealth, but there was a problem. He had leprosy—a dreaded disease of that era. She said to her mistress, "If only my master would see the prophet who is in Samaria! He would cure him of his leprosy" (II Kings 5:3). And the rest of the story – Naaman talked with Elisha, the prophet, dipped seven times in the Jordan River and his fresh was restored. Evidently, the child was loved and treated well. Although she might never see her family again, she saw this new home as one where she could be a witness to God.

Susan and Ted are modeling principles of how God wants parents and grandparents to work together in making blended families strong. It's no longer, "yours" or "mine" - it's "ours." Could these suggestions help you in being part of a blended family?

- 1. Treat all children and grandchildren alike.
- 2. Keep a record of birthdays.
 - Grandparents can create small handmade gifts for special events.
- 3. Be willing to share with other relatives.
- Adjusting plans, being flexible goes a long way to creating harmony. 4. Schedule individual time with each child.
- 5. Grandparents should volunteer to baby-sit on occasion. Don't wait to be asked.
- 6. Look for positive way to reinforce learning.
- 7. Show a sense of stability in your home.
- 8. Create a sense of belonging.
- 9. Practice patience and understanding.
- 10. Pray for guidance as we accept the gift a blended family can provide.

Never think of a blended family as a burden. Instead, see step-children as a blessing to parents and grandparents. You have an opportunity to teach little ones about the love of God and how they can serve others through Him. There is no greater love, than this.

PUBLIC NOTICE

The Hardeman County Board of Commissioners will meet in Regular Session Tuesday, August 15, 2017, 7:00 p.m. in The Hardeman County Courthouse Courtroom. We encourage and extend a cordial invitation to the public to attend this meeting.

STEM Leader Named at Lone Oaks Farm

"Grab. Grab. Got her?" Ron Blair asks 4-Her Blessing Thompson, a middle school student from Decatur County. "Uh, yeah," Blessing says, gingerly gripping a three-pound bass by the mouth. Blessing later added, "The teeth hurt. They will poke you and make you bleed." Actually Blessing lost no blood that day, but she was among a group of campers who got a lesson in science and nature from the new director of the STEM program at Lone Oaks Farm.

Ron Blair, UT Extension Director for Henderson County, was named to the position by the University of Tennessee Extension administration. He takes over programming in STEM – science, technology, engineering and math at Lone Oaks Farm, the new campus in West Tennessee that will welcome K-12 students from across the nation. Blair has worked for UT Extension as a county director, agricultural agent and 4-H leader, now in his 38th year with the organization. He started in Henry County, and has been director in Henderson County nearly 30 years. The great outdoors is a particular interest for Blair. He's served as one of UT Extension's statewide pond specialists, and led O.W.L.S. Camp for kids, which stands for "Outdoor, Wildlife, Leadership and Service."

At Lone Oaks Farm, Blair will develop activities with an emphasis on educational opportunities involving the area's lakes, forests and fields. Lone Oaks Farm is a stunning tract of 1,200 acres in Hardeman County. It's also a working farm with 90 head of cattle, a few chickens and gardens." One of the big opportunities kids have is they get to come to a working farm, a safe environment with beautiful natural resources," Blair says. "We want every young person who comes here to leave a mark at Lone Oaks." The STEM program at Lone Oaks Farm is a partnership with the Hardeman County schools. Educators want kids to have fun learning here, but on a more serious note, they are preparing them for the future. The STEM-related jobs of tomorrow should pay well." This opportunity to use this facility provides a super-fast on-ramp to get kids engaged in hands-on activities that extend the classroom from the textbook out to what real careers are," says Warner Ross, Superintendent of Schools in Hardeman County.

"These middle school children we're running through these camps will be our next generation going to work in these STEM activities and STEM careers, and we hope to give them a good base for that, to look forward to something in their future," says Gary Rodgers, UT Extension Director for Hardeman County. This hot day, Blair took campers out on the Lone Oaks' lake in UT Extension's "Shock Boat." The boat sends out a harmless electric current into the water, momentarily stunning the fish so they can be scooped up by net or by hand. (See Blessing's adventure above). Later campers measure the fish, and then release them back into the lake.

"We're doing a math lesson on the 'Shock Boat' where we take unbiased samples, assimilate that into data, and these young people can make recommendations based on it," Blair says. "What we're trying to do at Lone Oaks is connect people to agriculture, where their food comes from, and that science is pretty cool."

'We are so excited about the potential of this program to increase the pipeline of students entering STEM careers," says Dr. Ben West, with UT Extension and Director of Lone Oaks Farm. "By working with public, private and home-school teachers from across the mid-south, we think that over 30,000 students will visit Lone Oaks Farm each year, and be exposed to how STEM works in the real world. It will be a transformational program for the Plans are underway at Lone Oaks to utilize existing buildings for STEM programs, and to build new cabins and other facilities to host more students in the future. Already the site includes a livestock and equestrian area, a museum and a lodge. The timetable to build the cabins is roughly three years away, but already Lone Oaks is hosting students. The Tennessee General Assembly approved funding for Lone Oaks in 2015, and according to a study by the UT Center for Sustainable Business and Development, the facility could have an economic impact of nearly $50 million for the region. Already more than $4 million has been gifted or pledged for the project. Lone Oaks Farm will also be used as a conference center for organizational retreats and meetings by non-profits and governmental organizations, Through its mission of research, teaching and extension, the University of Tennessee Institute of Agriculture touches lives and provides

Hardeman County Remembered by Lisa Coleman

Did you know that this week (August 6-12) is National Farmers Market Week? I think that is a great thing and it's a good thing to honor such a wonderful group of folks. It is no secret that I love going to farmers markets and I love going to the one we have right here in Bolivar (open Tuesday and Saturdays).

A study done by the University of Tennessee Extension Center for Profitable Agriculture says that farmers markets have increased nationwide and Tennessee was number one in the nation in 2014 for growth in farmers markets. There are more than 150 farmers markets across the state that are registered through the state's Pick Tennessee Products website (www.PickTnProducts.org) and I'm sure there are many more that have been too busy growing, harvesting, and selling to get officially registered.

I love the farmers markets for lots of different reasons. You simply cannot beat fresh fruits and vegetables that were grown right here in the good dirt of Hardeman County and West Tennessee. I have written before of how much I love those good Tennessee tomatoes and it is a happy, happy day when those show up at the farmers markets. This year, so far, at farmers markets I have bought tomatoes, onions, strawberries, bell peppers, new potatoes, watermelons, and blueberries. Lots of it is eaten now and some is prepared and frozen to enjoy during the months when summer seems far away.

I think the best thing is the folks you meet at the farmers markets. You get to meet and talk with the person who decided to grow the produce and we all get to (literally) enjoy the fruits of their labors. They are friendly folks, glad to see you, and they'll sometimes want to know what you're cooking up with what you've bought that day. You get samples sometimes and stories, sometimes a joke or two, and always a smile and a sincere "thank you" for buying from them. Several weeks ago I was buying some bell peppers and the gentleman selling them threw in a couple of extra ones, "since some of those are small; just want you to have what you need." Another day I was getting new potatoes and the lady selling them asked me how I cooked them. We shared a recipe or two, and when I told her those were to go along with a roast in the crock pot, she added a few extras and said, "you can't beat potatoes and roast; throw in these few extras too." That's what happens when you buy from the fine folks at the farmers markets.

This week stop by your local farmers market, wherever you may be, and pick up some good home grown tomatoes and other fine, farm fresh veggies and fruits. Say hello to neighbors and friends you see there, share a recipe with someone, and most of all be sure to tell all those good folks growing the good food that you sure do appreciate them. See y'all at the farmers market.

Like Manna from Heaven by Ginger Tester

Three days. That's all the time Reverend Barbara Fitzhugh needed to spend raising money to fund a mission trip to Cuba, departing August 13. Raising funds to pay tuition for the mission trip that she had previously lost, Fitzhugh listened to the Lord for instruction.

Three days. It reminded Fitzhugh of Exodus, where the Lord told the Israelites to gather only the manna they needed for the day. When they tried to use extra manna that they had gathered, it was full of worms. Fitzhugh said, "I may have lost my funding, but I didn't lose my faith. Because I kept my faith, I got my funding", believing that had she stayed longer than three days it may have been ruined.

Reverend Fitzhugh drew names from those who had contributed to her trip and Charlene Hudson and Desmond Williams were the recipients of a $50 gift card each. Fitzhugh exclaimed, "I really do appreciate everyone's support, prayers and donations." Photo by Hannah Pattat

Changes for the Tennessee River Run

County Music entertainer Darryl Worley is still helping children who are ill and Hardin Countians through his Darryl Worley Foundation with the Tennessee River Run events this year. There is a change this year, with no downtown Savannah concert in the fall.

Friday and Saturday, August 18 and 19 at Pickwick Landing State Park will feature a boat poker run and concert on the water. A bass tournament will take place on September 9. Worley, who began the foundation in 2002 said, "We're continuing to hold a variety of event for people all around my home town. We have worked to refine the Tennessee River Run in ways that bring in even more for the charity, which is the bottom line." For more details, visit pickwickpokerrun.com or darrylworleyfoundation.org.

The Only Thing to Fear is Fear Itself and...

by Calley Overton

Tennessee is home to two poisonous spiders too many: the black widow and the brown recluse. Their reputation precedes with the black widow being 15 times more venomous than a rattlesnake and with some brown recluse bites killing skin tissue. Fortunately, they are rather shy spiders who will only bite when they need to. Shy or not, it is better to be safe than sorry when it comes to identifying them and discouraging them from living in or around where you live or work.

Black widow females are shiny and black, with a bright red hourglass on the underside of their abdomen. They are the ones to watch out for since the males are usually harmless. The most distinguishing features of the brown recluse is a violin-shaped marking on its back and a semicircular arrangement of the three pairs of eyes.

Both spiders like closed, dark places, with little human activity like darkened storage areas, woodpiles, under furniture, or in outbuildings. The brown recluse has more of a reputation than a black widow to have hiding spots in the home.

To control your spider population, de-clutter inside and out. Also, frequently dust and vacuum around windows, corners of rooms, and under furniture. To prevent the creepy crawlies from getting inside in the first place, seal openings, install screens and door sweeps. If they are already inside, use a vacuum cleaner to remove webs, spiders, and their egg sacs. While de-cluttering in outbuildings, doing yard work, or cleaning anywhere that seems like it may be a spider habitat, wear gloves. The spiders bite when threatened, aka when you stick your hand into their space or squash them.

The effects of a brown recluse bite can range from mild skin irritation to skin lesions. Most bites heal themselves and don't result in lasting tissue damage. The bite may not be painful at first and symptoms do not usually manifest until a few hours later. Symptoms of a brown recluse bite may include: reddening, swelling, blistering, fever, convulsions, itching, nausea, and muscle pains. In extreme cases, the bitten person may experience necrosis, or death of living cells. If untreated, the necrosis can expand to both superficial and deep tissues, leading to deep scarring.

Like a brown recluse bite, you may not even feel a black widow's bite. The first sign is small local swelling with two small red spots in the center of the swelling. After three hours or so, the bite will be more painful. Common symptoms include: overall ache of the body (especially legs), alternating salivation and dry-mouth, paralysis of diaphragm, profuse sweating, and swollen eyelids. In most cases the symptoms disappear in two or three days. In severe cases, symptoms include headaches, elevated blood pressure, nausea, and perspiration. Other symptoms include abdominal pain and pain to muscles or soles of the feet.

If bitten, especially if the bitten person is showing the severe symptoms or if they are young or elderly, go to the doctor. In the meantime of getting to the doctor, clean the site of the bite well with soap and water, apply a cool compress to the site of the bite, and keep the affected limb elevated to heart level. Aspirin or Tylenol may be used to relieve minor symptoms. Also, once you get to the doctor, you may need a tetanus booster because tetanus spores sometimes collect inside spider bites.
