From the Other Side of the Desk

The movie "50 First Dates" was on TV the other day. I didn't watch it, but as I understand, the guy in the movie goes on a date with a girl in the movie and they hit it off, but the next day, she can't remember anything about it.

The guy gets an explanation from her father who says she wakes up every morning with no memory of the day before. She has some long-term memories, but no short term ones.

Anyway, the usual problems that come along with this occur, but in the end he has her watch a video each morning to let her know where they are in their relationship, with kids and everything. They live happily ever after. Supposedly, it's based on a true story. Um, ok...

Men, there's a lesson to be learned here.

Played right, the video each morning could be a highlight reel of all the great things (even some made up stuff) that you had ever done, including cleaning the bathroom yesterday and today is her turn.

No, you didn't buy her a toaster for her anniversary last year, nor did you get tickets to WWF/Monster Jam/Point Break II for your evening out together. "Let's just talk about this tomorrow," would be your get out of jail free card for ANYTHING, including buying new living room furniture and/or landscaping the backyard.

Now, I'm not suggesting you lie about anything, but you could start every day with a clean slate, instead of taking most of the morning each day trying to explain why you were such an insensitive jerk the day before.

You'd need to make a deal with the person with the video camera to only record your better moments. On the other hand, she might decide to get a videographer of her own, which could really complicate things.

On the other hand, forget it.

Darrell Teubner, Editor

Early Voting Begins in Tennessee

The polls opened for the second time this year as early voting began in Tennessee, with primaries for state government and local government electing leaders in the General Election. Early voting in Hardeman County will be July 15-30 from 9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. weekdays and from 9:00 a.m. to Noon on Saturdays. Election Day is August 4.

County-wide, voters will choose between incumbent Josh Pulse and challenger John Vickers for Assessor of Property. Other county spots on the ballot are two commission seats, three school board spots, and a road supervisor position.

Voters in Whiteville will have to choose three aldermen from a list of five and a mayor from three candidates. Running for mayor are incumbent James R. Bellar, challenged by Leon Crisp and Aubrey Phillips.

Voters will also select candidates for the November elections in primaries for state representatives and for state senator.

Employment Efforts Paying Off

A dozen Hardeman Countians have been hired by local industry in the last two weeks, due in part to an employment agency partnering with the Hardeman County Chamber of Commerce.

According to Hamilton Ryker Staffing Coordinator Mary Beth Anderson, the two Tuesdays that they have set up to take applications at the Hardeman County Chamber Office have averaged more than 60 job-seekers.

Hamilton Ryker will be housed by the Hardeman County Chamber of Commerce and has received a grant from the county of $5,000 to help with utility costs.

"It saves our people from driving to Corinth to be vetted. It's a great opportunity for the county," said Sain. "We are tickled to death to have them."

Hamilton Ryker hopes to hire an employee to staff the Bolivar office, which would allow it to be open three days a week. Headquartered in Tennessee, Hamilton-Ryker, established in 1971, is located in thirty-five locations across the United States, according to their website.

Tigner Retires After 30 Years

Bolivar Hardeman County Library Director Janette Tigner checked out of her life at the library and checked in to retirement on June 30, after 30 years of library service. Tigner worked with many programs over the years including summer reading programs, assisting school curriculums, and assisting in introducing technology to the library. "Our first computer for the library was purchased through a literacy grant and it took up almost an entire table – just for one computer. Advances in wi-fi allow patrons at the library today to use a variety of tools – phones, tablets, laptops – in addition to the number of computers available for public use.

Saulsbury Baptist Church Celebrates 150 years

By Bill Stone

From Turner Robinson, age 4, to Cleo Smellings, age 100, a large crowd packed the pews in celebration of Saulsbury Baptist Church's 150 year anniversary. They came from near and far, Saulsbury, to Memphis, to Covington, to Winchester, and even as far away as Huntsville, Alabama. Former pastors Rhesa Davis, who served the church from 1965 to 1967 and Wayne Max who served from 1985 to 1987 along with widows of past pastors Johnny Johnson, 1987 to 1992 and Larry Corder, 1993 to 2003 attended. "My husband was the longest serving pastor in the church's history," said Evie Corder.

Rex Brotherton introduced the guest speaker, Mack Lowrey, great-great grandson of General M.P. Lowrey, founder of the church.

In his introduction, Brotherton brought guests up to date on the later history of Saulsbury Baptist. "I actually attended this church before I was born and have attended here the 56 years since," said Brotherton. "I was baptized here as a youngster and 33 years ago, I married Tonya at this altar." He related several memories he had about his life growing up in the church. A long time Deacon, he picked up the church history beginning with the opening of the cornerstone at the 100 year anniversary. Unfortunately, the original documents were destroyed by moisture. Several coins were intact. The cornerstone was restored to its place and these coins, along with several documents, were placed inside. The new documents were placed in glass jars and paraffin sealed. "This is the oldest active church building in Hardeman County," said Brotherton.

Lowrey presented a history of Saulsbury Baptist Church beginning July 14, 1866 when his great-great grandfather along with John M. Chambers and A.G. Parrott organized a meeting held at the old Woodland Academy. General Lowrey was elected to be the first pastor. The meeting lasted twelve days and resulted in thirteen conversions and nine baptisms. Additionally, several people presented their letters from other churches. The new church body realized a building was needed. This was accomplished with the first service held in the newly completed building on the third Sunday of August 1867.

In 1888 Pastor C.C. McDaniel suggested a new building was needed. His suggestion became a reality when the current church building was dedicated on December 15, 1889. As the town of Saulsbury grew and prospered, so did the church. Over the years several updates and additions were completed. Lanterns were replaced by electric lighting. A new heating system replaced the potbelly stoves. Additional Sunday School rooms were built. The final addition was completed in 2005. This included an updated kitchen, fellowship hall, a new Sunday School room and new restrooms.

Lowrey related a brief biography of the life of "The Preacher General" as his Grandfather Mark was known. Born in McNairy County on December 30, 1828, Mark grew up in Farmington, Mississippi. He became a bricklayer and worked in that trade until he entered the Baptist ministry at age 24. He rose rapidly as a preacher and pastor and within a few years was pastor of several churches in Tishomingo and Tipah Counties.

In 1861, Lowrey was recruited, as a Captain, into an emergency force by created by Gov. Pettus for service in Tennessee and Kentucky. He was wounded in the Battle of Perryville, Kentucky. After recovering from his wounds, he returned to duty. He was promoted to Brigadier General on the battlefield of Chickamauga. He resigned his commission in March, 1865 and returned to his work as a preacher.

Among his most notable accomplishments, General Lowrey founded the Blue Mountain Female College. First discussed in 1868, his dream became a reality in September, 1873. He died suddenly in February, 1865 at the age of 57.

The celebration's message was delivered by Dr. Matthew Emerson. Born and raised in Saulsbury, he is the son of Rich and Sheila Emerson. He is currently the pastor of the Hornsby Baptist Church. While using Galatians, chapter six, as his sermon's scripture, Dr. Emerson related several memories of his boyhood in the Saulsbury Baptist Church. "We talk about the good old days but when we look back, some things were perhaps not all that great. As Christians, we don't dwell in the past. We look forward to the future," he said. He placed emphasis on verse nine where Paul encourages Christians to never become discouraged or give up doing what is right because in the future they will reap a harvest of blessings.

Following Dr. Emerson's message, the congregation had the opportunity to fellowship while enjoying a luncheon prepared by the ladies of the church.

The Saulsbury Baptist Church celebrated its 150 year anniversary on July 10, 2016. The structure, shown above, is the oldest active church building in Hardeman County. Photo by Bill Stone

Over the last 4 years I have had the privilege to serve as your Assessor of Property. During the past four years I have received clear audits from the Comptroller's office, cross trained employees, upgraded office equipment, and managed to run the Assessor's office under budget, saving taxpayer dollars. My staff is friendly, courteous, knowledgeable, and gives exceptional customer service to all the citizens of Hardeman County.

I have received several awards from the TN Assessors Association including the Leadership Award as well as being elected to serve as President of the State Association of Assessing officers.

I truly love my job and it's an honor to be your Assessor of Property. I enjoy getting to serve this county at a job that I'm passionate about. I have tried my best to get around the county and ask each person for their vote so that I can continue doing the job that I was elected to do. If I have not gotten to your door to personally ask you then I am asking you now for your vote.

I have committed to run a clean, positive campaign and I will continue to do so. My opponent is a nice man with a good family and this is in no way personal. I just feel with my background in real estate and the fact that for the last 4 years I have been doing the job that I am better suited and more qualified for the position. And here's why!

I am the only candidate who:

- Has actually gone out to the property to measure, walk boundary lines, and determine which characteristics affect the property and by how much
- Has real estate and appraisal skills to do the job
- Has training and experience that is specific to the Assessor of Property

I am the only candidate who has experience and training in:

- TN Assessment Law
- Site Analysis & Evaluation
- Assessment Function
- Real property Appraisals
- Mass Appraisal process
- Economic Principals of land evaluation
- Cost/Sales approach to value
- Income approach to value

No other candidate can bring over 10 years of experience in evaluating property throughout Hardeman County!

This office is a very complex office. There are many factors that can change the value of real & personal property. Appraisal skills and knowledge of how the tax laws apply is essential and should not be taken lightly. Approximately 9 million dollars in tax revenue is generated by the efforts of the Assessor's office. This is the single largest source of revenue for our county. Experience and Knowledge matters. I humbly ask for your vote so that I can continue to put my experience and knowledge to work for you.

FAITH

What is Love? by Jimmy Sadler

No subject has garnered more song themes or titles than love. They fill the airwaves every single day pledging allegiance to someone. Of course there is a wealth of music written in each generation that explores the complexities or decry the pain "love" brings. Everyone seems to be at a point where love is great, has slowed to a bland crawl or has betrayed them. If you are not thinking about it much, then you have probably been in a relationship long enough for love to be good. What I mean is, you are living life in light of the affections others are giving. It may not be aflame and it certainly isn't hurtful. For someone in the early phases of a relationship, the emotions can run rampant. Everything in the world seems to take on more color and meaning.

There are times we understand that "love is a battlefield" and that love does occasionally stink. Tina Turner dismisses the concept all together in one song, suggesting it isn't necessary to enjoy a physical relationship. It's easy to grow weary of the search for the "right one", and easier still to try to fill the void of a loveless life.

No concept is more discussed, written about, or inspiring. Still, we cannot fully explain love. Is it physical, mental, spiritual even? Yes. Does it require mutual affection? No. This is where things get really dicey.

There has been great violence and extortion done in the name of love. Obsession, for instance, feels like love for the one obsessed. Most of us are familiar with the recent shooting death of a young woman by a fan. He thought he "loved" her, though he was a complete stranger. He changed everything in his life, thinking only of her, even to the point of medical procedures to improve his looks. In his twisted mind, that was "love". Devotion from one can be a really scary concept for another. In terms of the Hippocratic oath, love could be underpinned by a desire to do no harm to the other. Stalking or harassing someone in the name of love negates any nobility in the pursuit.

Where we have gutted and maimed love is not so much in the wrong definition and more in reading the wrong dictionary. When you remove God's Word from the guiding principles of love, you have mugged it of eternal value. When you dismiss the image of God inside of each person and rely only on self to navigate life, you have molested the love that God wove into the fabric of life. You are rudderless on a large ocean of unrealized potential.

I will be exploring the concept of love. I will not define the word from the Greek root words, as fascinating as that is. Instead, I will encourage us all to revisit the practical illustrations of true love laid out in God's Word. I do not want our mission to be to embrace a concept, but to instead embrace God.

"But this I call to mind, and therefore I have hope: The steadfast love of the Lord never ceases; his mercies never come to an end; they are new every morning; great is your faithfulness. "The Lord is my portion," says my soul, "therefore I will hope in him. (Lamentations 3:21-24, NIV)."

Sunrise: Fear by David Coy

Visualize, you and your family have just been given news that emotionally brings them to their knees. Perhaps it is that you have just been told you have a sibling only to also learn that they have a serious illness. If you also have experienced other traumatic events in your life, maybe lost a primary member of your immediate family and this news grips you like none previous. Many thoughts run through your mind, but none greater than the fear of being alone. Our mind magnifies our worst fear. The, my most dreaded nightmare has come to light.

Even though we cannot foretell the future, we think that because something horrific has happened before, it will happen again. Fear has a way of gripping us, restricting our movements and influencing our thoughts. C.S. Lewis said, "No one ever told me that grief felt so like fear..." If we give in to fear, then it will freeze us to indecision and inactivity. This usually occurs when we are in the throes of complicated grief. As evidenced by willfully isolating and cutting ourselves off from all social contact. Another is we live in the past, denying our new reality. Why this happens is we placed the whole of our existence in this other finite human being and when they were separated from us our world came crashing down.

We must place our hope for tomorrow and all the future tomorrow's in someone who is infinite. Faith is the subject of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen. We love our family and friends, but we know they will not be with us long. If we have hope in the future, then we have something in which to look forward. Noted skeptic Robert Owen once remarked, "There is one advantage I have over the Christian - I am not afraid to die." It is said that Alexander Campbell said to him in reply, "Have you any hope in death? Hope is a powerful motivator to press on even amidst crushing news or circumstances of life. We feel fear when we think or feel that we are or will be alone. Which is also why, we would benefit from surrounding us with positive people who will elevate our mood. COMMUNITY

Recently I listened to a doctor who spoke about 7 Basic Good Health Habits. He said that if people would follow these everyday they would have more energy and have a longer lifespan. His suggestions are listed below.

- Exercise More-Participate in whatever sport or exercise you enjoy (basketball, tennis, walking, running, swimming, dancing, etc...)
- Read Everyday-This keeps your brain active (newspaper, magazine, books, etc...)
- Brush and Floss Your Teeth-This good habit preserves your teeth and gums.
- Sleep More-Many people do not get enough sleep (adults need 6-8 hrs.) Sleep gives your body a time to relax and repair itself.
- Eat a Healthy Breakfast-Proper nutrition helps your body function better and have more energy.
- Drink plenty of Water-every system in your body depends on water. That's why it's important to drink at least (8) eight ounces of water a day.
- Eat More Fruits and Vegetables-These foods contain vitamins and minerals to help us maintain good health.

Prayer list: Donna Scobey received an excellent report at her recent oncologist consult. Her tumor is shrinking considerably.

Carolyn Vales so aptly expressed most people's sentiments who knew Winona Knipper. Carolyn said, "My dear friend, Winona, passed away June 30 after a long illness. She was a wonderful person and loved by so many people. Everyone who was fortunate enough to know her came away a better person for knowing her. She was a beautiful person inside and out. Throughout her life and especially during her long illness, she was a great inspiration to others. It is impossible to put into words how much she meant to me and countless others. Her memory will live in all of our hearts as long as we live. We will miss her, but Heaven is a lot brighter today."

This week Bobby and Wanda Fry share some thoughts about their children, Wendy and Bob. Wanda said, "We are very proud of our children and their accomplishments but we are extremely proud that they love and serve God. Bob served our country four years in the Army. He completed college in Cleveland, TN and went on to obtain a Bishop Degree through the Church of God. He pastored a church in Brownsville and is currently serving as an assistant pastor in Bethel Springs, TN. Wendy graduated from West Tennessee Business College and works for Stanley and Morgan in Jackson, TN. and is working on obtaining her Broker's license. Wendy has maintained a strong faith and dedication to God through the loss of two children through cancer. Her husband battled colon cancer and is currently battling lung cancer. She has proven herself to be a strong person."

Remember through the month of July we are sharing stories of children and grandchildren.

Howdy, from a very dry and dusty Toone! As I write this on Monday, we still haven't seen any rain to speak of. Nearly every day we have seen lightning and heard thunder all around us, but somehow the rain keeps missing us. Last weekend when I mowed my yard, I was covered in a cloud of dust. I believe I will hold-off mowing anymore till we get at least enough rain to settle the dust. That will leave more time to water my flowers and bushes!

Music Director, Joe Sills, would like to invite you to Toone Baptist Church, Sunday, July 17, at 11:00 am, for a very special gospel music program presented by, Sandy Walker Bishop. Sandy, is a BCHS Class of 1965 graduate and has been involved in gospel music for many years. Please bring the entire family to attend this special worship service.

Bonnie Leathers would like to recognize and say "Thank You" to her sweet neighbors, Kathy Burkhead King, Sandi Blakenship & Sandi's granddaughter, Anna, who showed-up to mow Bonnie and Larry Joe's yard, along with his Parents' yard. Bonnie and Larry have been very busy lately traveling back and forth to the hospital in Jackson to visit Larry's Father, J.W. Leathers, and also helping Larry's Mother, Miss Clara Leathers, back here at home. These ladies are what being good neighbors is all about!

Another of our Toone neighbors, Billy Kelly, has been hospitalized in Jackson after suffering a head injury during an accidental fall at his home. His wife, Jackie, reports that Billy is showing improvement and has now been moved to the rehab floor for therapy. Hopefully he will be coming home real soon! Please keep he and Jackie in your thoughts.

Happy Birthday to, Miss Lily Reid, who officially became a teenager on her 13th birthday, July 10. Lily celebrated this special day with her Mom, Amy Reid, and grandparents, Larry and Amelia McCarver.

Nearly three months after suffering a devastating fire that destroyed two of their four mills, Tony Hooper Sawmills is once again running at full-capacity. Work on the new buildings that house the new high-speed mills was completed over the weekend and normal production resumed Monday.

Hello to all! Well this summer seems to be flying by. Parents will soon be getting their children back in the routine of school.

Hornsby Baptist Church has been having a lot of fun this week with VBS. This year's theme is "Submerged: Finding Truth Below The Surface". I feel adults have learned as much as the children; everyone is learning to dive deeper into God's Word.

The youth will meet Sunday July 17th, to finalize the plans for the Orange Beach mission trip. Adults serving on the trip will need to meet at 3:00 p.m. and students and parents will need to meet at 4:00 p.m. Please lift these children up in prayer as they go out to help those in need.

Also this Sunday night there will be a watermelon feast and the slip and slide. The "Loved Thy Neighbor" and "Operation Christmas Child" ministries will be collecting for the month of July, cans of mixed vegetables and wash cloths.

The Ruritan club in Hornsby is still looking for more members. The club meets every fourth Thursday of the month 6 p.m. at Jacobs Grocery and Cafe. They will meet on July 28th this month and the members will need to bring their can goods for the Loaves and Fish ministry. If you would like to know more please give me a call and I will be happy to help you.

If you have any news you would like to share please give me a call or email me. Please remember to pray for the following: Sydni Aylor, Patricia Baker, Terry Baker, Hughloene Barnes, Ricky Chandler, Kay Cooper, Amanda Cornelius, Crawford Cossar, Kenneth Crawford, Elynor DeBerry, Bobbie Dorris, Jacob Dowty, Matt Emerson, Lee Gainey, Billy Hammons, Joe Hindman, Sue Hodge, Carolyn Howell, Jo Edna Howell, Ann Kelly, Aubrey King, Debbie Laster, Bobbie McBride, Evan Nield, Terry Parchman, Gay Pierce, Gail Pope, Paula Prince, Sandy Sanders Stacy Spence, Ronna Spoon, Eddie Webb, the men and women who serve our country, and Clark and Morgan Davidson serving missionaries, the families of the ones who are fighting cancer.

Grand Valley Lakes
Bill Stone

Wow! July is packed with birthdays of residents. Ernie Kelly and Christine Buccitti share July 17. Nancy Burke's is on the twenty-second, Myra Cox's on the twenty-seventh, And Helen Nixon's on the twenty-ninth. Happy Birthday!

Congratulations to Don and Nancy Burke. They were awarded the Yard of the Month for July.

The Ladies Club is busy working on their cook book. While, at this time, there is no deadline, residents are urged to send in their favorite recipes as soon as possible. They may be e-mailed to ij2001@bellsouth.net. No computer? Drop them by the POA office. No limit on how many you submit. Several possible cover illustrations have been reviewed and are under consideration.

Speaking of the POA, completion of the front remodel is almost complete. Biggest part unfinished is just one window. The manufacturer cut it wrong. The new one should be in this week. Looks great! Drive by and check it out.

Nancy Burke reports the first quarterly potluck was a success as was the ice cream social. Both events were well attended and enjoyed by all present.

The club is looking into a luncheon and tour of Lone Oaks following their August meeting. All members present at the July meeting were interested in attending.

Several residents have expressed interest in joining the Ladies Club but are unable to attend the regular monthly meeting which is held on Tuesday. In lieu of their regular meeting, the club is going to experiment with a Saturday meeting on October 8 at 10:30. If this is successful, a quarterly Saturday meeting will be considered.

A good number of residents came to the regular monthly meeting of the Grand Valley Lakes Board of Directors. I think they were probably surprised when, during a discussion of the recently completed lake report, President Myra Cox asked for attendees to volunteer to serve on the Lake Committee. Several did. This was not be the last time residents will be asked to serve the community along with board members. The board wants and needs property owners to get involved in making Grand Valley a great place to live. And, yes, that means you!

Elect County Commissioner Gary Barber

My name is Gary Barber and I am seeking election to the position of County Commissioner, District 2 Position 2. I was appointed to this position in March 2016 to fill the vacancy left by Donald McTizic. I am now asking for your vote on August 4, 2016 to continue to serve this county.

I moved to Hardeman County in 1996, and have made Bolivar my home since then. I am currently Assistant Manager of Bolivar Walmart Supercenter. I am married to the former Diane Taylor Webster, a lifelong resident of Hardeman County. Our children were raised in Bolivar and attended Hardeman County public schools.

I served in the United States Marine Corp from 1974-1979. I received my BBA from the University of Mississippi in 1980. I am an active member of the Bolivar Rotary Club, and am President Elect for the upcoming year. I have been a volunteer for Carl Perkins Center for the Prevention of Child Abuse, serving as Vice President, a member of the Developmental Center Board, the Hardeman County Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors, a former organizer for the Hatchie Hollow Hog Fest, and attend Bolivar First United Methodist Church.

As you see, I am extremely vested in this community and have a strong desire to help guide and direct the decisions that will be made to shape the future of our county. I believe the initiatives that are currently in place will move our county forward as a destination that will better the lives of all our residents.

My experience working with people and managing multi-million dollar budgets gives me an edge to handling the business of this county. I feel that my job provides me with wide contact with all county residents. Being in tune to the voice of the community will allow me to make decisions to represent my constituents for a better Hardeman County.

I would appreciate your vote on August 4th.

The Reaching for the Stars Basketball camp was held at Bolivar Central High School July 11-15, with former Bolivar Central players Nick Beauregard (pictured), Cameron Crisp, and Brian Lake as instructors. Crisp, the assistant basketball coach at Bolivar Central and Beauregard, the head basketball coach at Sacred Heart in Jackson, led the camp with assisted players each morning from 8:00 a.m. until noon.

The TWRA recently agreed to contribute toward the future of Lone Oaks when its 13-member governing commission approved the agency's request to distribute $2.6 million out of its federally allotted Hunter Education dollars to help pay for the first phase of a shooting range.

"Lone Oaks Farms offers unlimited possibilities for what it can become," said Bobby Wilson, an assistant director for the Tennessee Wildlife Resources Agency. "Right now plans are to start building a shooting range fairly soon, but there are many small lakes on the property with great potential."

"The shooting range, like all of Lone Oaks, will be open for a fee to anyone who wants to practice or just have a good time shooting," said Barry Summers, also an assistant director for TWRA. "We have been told that phase I of construction will create a shotgun range."

After watching a video about the farm last May, the Tennessee Fish & Wildlife Commission unanimously voted to expand the agency's budget and help pay for the public range on Lone Oaks

Summers noted, however, that several compliance permits are pending and construction will not begin until they have been approved. The U.S. Fish & Wildlife Service is one of the agency's that must approve construction in order for the federal government to allow the $2.6 million expenditure.

Chickasaw State Park Goes on the Road by Anna-Alicia Sails

Two representatives from Chickasaw State Park came to the Lee Ola Roberts Library on Friday. After the kids had lunch, Park Ranger Scott Easley and Seasonal Interpreter Sharon Royder gave introductions and brought two special guests with them. With an audience of 10 adults and 10 kids around the picnic tables, the first guest was Chester the Owl.

Chester the Owl weighed about three pounds. Easley gave a few facts about Chester like how he doesn't really go to sleep at night. Easley talked to the kids about Chester's favorite foods (preferably mice). As Easley finished and put Chester back in the cage, the second guest made her appearance. The second guest was Cleo the snake. While she was wrapped around Royder's hand, Royder gave a few facts about Cleo, like how she is a King Snake. Royder then went into a lot of safety tips to the kids for when they are around snakes and the different types of snakes they might encounter.

Towards the end, they took questions from the audience and all the kids wanted to pet Cleo. Later on, the kids had a snack of CapriSun Apple Juice and Animal Crackers. If you want your child to participate in the Lee Ola Roberts Library Program, it's not too late! Your child can have a nutritious lunch from 12 noon to 1:00 p.m. and there are programs at 1:00 on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Master Gardener Class Offered

The Tennessee Extension Master Gardeners program in Hardeman County is offering a unique opportunity for gardeners –young and old, new or experienced – to engage in both classroom and practical learning of a wide variety of gardening and home horticulture topics.

The Hardeman County Extension Office is now accepting applications for the fall Master Gardener Course. All classes will be held at the Hardeman County Extension office 200 East Market Street in Bolivar on Thursday evenings 6:00 – 9:00 p. m. beginning August 18, and ending November 10th.

The Master Gardener program is a volunteer service program for the University of Tennessee Extension. Extension professionals train local members of the community as volunteers to help provide sound practical researched-based information to educate the public about home horticulture. You will be required to complete 40 hours of volunteer service within the first year after the class sessions to receive your official Master Gardener certification. The volunteer hours and responsibilities will be reviewed on orientation night to clarify any questions. Topics covered during the course include: botany, soils, water, vegetables, fruits, turf grass, safe use of pesticides, insect and disease control, composting, herbs, equipment, herbaceous plants, woody ornamentals and landscaping.

Applications are available at the Hardeman County Extension office and local libraries in each community or you can download from the Hardeman County Extension web page <https://extension.tennessee.edu/hardeman>. Completed applications and payment must be received by August 10, 2016. The fee for the class is $125.00 or $150 for a couple. Checks are payable to Hardeman County Extension. Please remit payment with your signed application to Lee Sammons Extension Agent Hardeman County Extension 200 E Market Street, P. O. Box 186 Bolivar, Tennessee 38008. If you have any questions about the program contact Lee Sammons at 731-658-2421 or email at lsammons@utk.edu. The Cooperative Extension Program offers its programs to all persons regardless to race, color, national origin, sex, age or disability and is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

A Dog's Best Friends by Anna-Alicia Sails

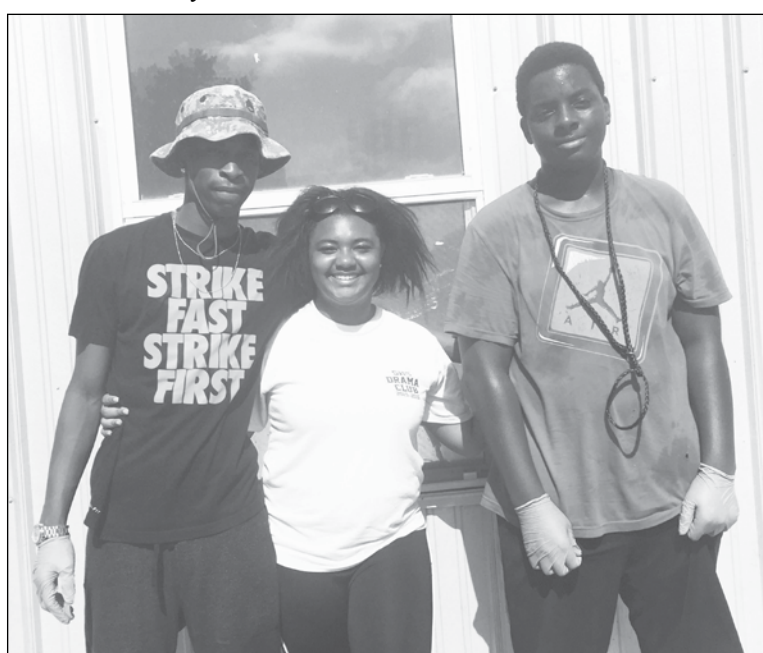

The Hardeman Adoptable Animals shelter has a lot of cute puppies and dogs. While the current volunteers are helping to take care of the animals, there is always a need for more volunteers. Mike Madden, a volunteer for about five years, explains why he volunteers:

"I love animals and we saw that the county wasn't able to take care of the place the way they should, so our group decided to run the daily working of the shelter."

While the 20 volunteers are very dedicated, Madden expressed that there is always a need for more volunteers.

"We can always use more volunteers and anyone can volunteer", he said.

Volunteers can choose their own days, as the shelter is open every day. If you do not have time to volunteer, but still want to contribute, you can donate money and even supplies for the shelter.

"Even if someone only comes one or two days a month, that would still be a big help," Madden said.

You can find the Hardeman

Adoptable Animals, Inc. on Facebook. You can also search on www.PetFinder.com and www.MarchOfDogs.com for more information.

HEALTH

Bearing One Another's Burdens by Anna-Alicia Sails

An Alzheimer's support group has begun in Bolivar and it had its first meeting on Tuesday evening. In a small cafeteria room, survivors all gathered around the table for introductions and to tell their stories. Each survivor told personal stories about their loved ones who had Alzheimer's.

Led by the leaders/facilitators Sara Skinner and Mary Yates, the group talked through how their loved ones have impacted their life. They bonded over similar stories and what it meant to be a caregiver. They touched on why Skinner and Yates wanted to start the support group.

"When you are at home caring for someone, you can't go to Jackson or Memphis, so if we have a support group in Hardeman County, that's better," Yates said.

A few survivors got very personal as they talked about the process of moving on with life was very hard.

Others expressed how certain places just feel very different now.

"The Dollar Tree was our place, my grandmother and I, so now when I walk into Dollar Tree, it's not the same," said attendee Paige Nine.

Through it all, the survivors are still carrying on in the journey of life. Attendee Rosie Wooden explained why the group is so important.

"The group would be a great thing for those that are going through it right now and even though we don't know everything, we can be supportive; we can laugh and cry together and be a shoulder to lean on."

The group will meet the second Tuesday of every month at 5:30 in the Bolivar General Hospital cafeteria.

My Journey: Healthier Eating by Deborah Brasfield

If you missed the first article last week, you can look it up on the website for the paper. My name is Deborah, I am 60 years old and I am trying to eat healthier, lose weight, and lower sugar.

Right now my favorite thing about summer is all the great fresh local fruits and vegetables that are available at our Farmers Markets, local farms, and our local grocery stores. Here is one of my best summer dips.

Fresh Salsa: 2 Large Fresh Tomatoes, diced small, 1 Medium Vidalia Onion, diced small, I love to dice also bell peppers and add to salsa: red, yellow, green. 1/2 of each. Dash of salt, pepper, and I like a bit of garlic to taste. 1 Tablespoon of lime Juice, Add a bit of chopped jalapeno, or a can of Rotel tomatoes or a couple of dashes of Tabasco, depending on your taste for hot!

Now for me, I am trying to go low carbohydrates, so I just slice up zucchini, celery and other vegetables to dip into salsa. This is very low calorie, low carb, and only has a bit of sodium. If you love chips, just read the label to find out what a serving actually is, usually 13-16 chips. I also love this on top of grilled chicken, a hamburger patty, and on a veggie omelet.

Treat yourself, don't think of all the things you think you cannot have, but of all the wonderful foods you can have! Just remember, we will not be perfect in this journey. By the way helpful friends; there is nothing worse than to have someone say, "Aren't you on a diet? Are you supposed to eat that?" The friendly food police is not encouraging! On many weight loss programs you can eat everything, it is about portion control and being accountable to myself in those decisions that I make.

I can find good choices everywhere. I try to review a menu before eating out. Maybe I really want a burger, but get a side salad instead French fries. Or maybe I split both with a friend, or take 1/2 home. Maybe today is the day I decided to have bread for breakfast and not have any carbohydrates for dinner. It is what is best for you to eat healthier for the long term. Start your exercise program and be consistent, even if you have to do 10 minutes at a time 2-3 times per day. This is how I am in getting into the habit of planned exercise. Any regular exercise is better than none! The journey continues.... *I make this disclaimer again, I am not a doctor, nor nurse, nor nutritionist. Please consult your own health professional and have regular checkups.

use each day," Tigner said.

The history and genealogy section always held a special place for Tigner. "I have to admit the history and genealogy room has always been my favorite place in the library." Tigner has assisted hundreds, if not thousands, of individuals over the years and enjoyed their search as much as searching for her own ancestors. "In helping people with their genealogical research I was in a unique position to introduce them to their family, to their past. Meeting an ancestor for the first time, maybe the first time they had ever known of that person, was often moving for people and I looked at every search as an adventure and a privilege."

Tigner has met and made friends all over the world while working in the history and genealogy room at the library, and enjoyed the opportunity to learn from them as well. "I met people from London, Germany, South Africa, and Sweden, as well as probably just about every state in the U.S. at one time or another. They become friends and I am still in contact with many of them, all still searching for those elusive family members." Tigner said her wish for the history and genealogy room would be that "the collection continues to grow and so many people continue to use it that it will require its own building one day!"

Bolivar Mayor Barrett Stevens said Tigner's legacy can be seen all over the library, but most especially in the history and genealogy room. "Our city has a public library I believe can be put up against any other in the area and much of the credit for that is the years of dedication and hard work Janette has put into making it a priceless treasure for Bolivar and Hardeman County. She may be stepping into her days of retirement, which she has richly earned, but her footprints will be forever left on each child and adult that has walked through our library because she has always worked to make it better, and, in turn, she has made our city better."

Tigner says one of her favorite quotes by Charles William Elliott sums up how she feels about books and the library, "Books are the quietest and most constant of friends. They are the most accessible and wisest of counselors, and they are the most patient teachers."

OUR COUNTY

Hardeman County Remembered by Lisa Coleman

I remember that my Granny Kiestler had a wringer washing machine for much of the early part of my life. It was in the back of her house and she would always tell us "don't y'all touch that washer, you will mash your fingers flat." That was good enough for me.

But on her wash day, almost always Monday, if I was around she would let me help her out. I thought that old wringer washer was pretty amazing. My first job, I seem to remember, was just handing her the clothes or towels or sheets and she did the rest. I knew I had graduated to serious washing skills when I was allowed, after much instruction and many admonishes of "Missy, now, you watch your fingers", to put the clothes through the wringer all by myself. I am happy to report that my fingers remained unscathed and for someone who has been clumsy all of her life that was quite a feat in itself.

My Granny's soap of choice for many years was Biz laundry detergent and she would show me how to measure it for the wash. I thought Biz detergent was pretty cool because for a long time, they gave you a free dishtowel in every box of Biz. I still have one of the last dishtowels that Granny got out of a box. One Saturday night at Granny's while watching television, Biz detergent gained newfound respect with me. We were watching the Porter Waggoner Show and I loved, loved, loved, as Porter would say, "pretty little Miss Dolly Parton", the show's girl singer. I thought she had a pretty voice and when she would talk she sounded just like us and I was always proud to know Miss Dolly was a Tennessee girl just like me and like Granny.

One of the show's sponsors for a while just happened to be none other than Biz laundry detergent. On this one particular night, Miss Dolly Parton her very own self held up the box of Biz and talked about how it was a good detergent and how it would get your clothes clean and how they were offering a free dish towel in every box. In my childish reasoning, I thought if Miss Dolly was talking about Biz then that surely must be what she, her very own self, used to wash her clothes, maybe even the very outfit she was wearing that night. Granny thought it was sound reasoning as well (well, she agreed with my line of thinking at the time), and so I thought my Granny was so cool because she and Miss Dolly Parton used the very same type of detergent.

Y'all excuse me now; I may need to go put in a load of clothes as I hum a verse of "My Tennessee Mountain Home" while I think about Granny, Miss Dolly, and Biz detergent.
