From the Other Side of the Desk

Something to sing while traveling north on 18 for the next few several months...

(to the tune of Jackson)

Cue music...

They started this year in April. Fixing that 18 route.

Now we can't go to Jackson, cause of that old TDOT.

I ain't going to Jackson, I'll just forget that town.

No, I'm not goin' to Jackson Cause 18s all torn up and down.

Well, you can't go up to Jackson, Unless you got all day.

Good luck finding a detour, there aint one there...only one north road, it just aint fair. We can't get there.

Hey I can't get to Jackson Aint no other road there If I go to Jackson, I'll need all day now.

'Cos I can't go to Jackson There just ain't no way...

Guitar solo here...

But if you try to go to Jackson, and only if you must They'll road block you down and you'll be found, Sitting idle in the dust.

Don't go to Jackson, you'll never get there soon...Don't go to Jackson...it'll drive you looney toon.

Weellll, we thought about going to Jackson, but that ideas all out.

We've been talkin' 'bout Jackson, but there aint no longer a route.

I'm aint goin' to Jackson, and that's a fact.

And if you do go to Jackson, it's twice as bad comin' back.

Mmmmmmm.....

They started this year in April. Fixing that 18 route.

Now we can't go to Jackson, cause of that old TDOT.

So maybe we'll all shop local and just help each other out...

Fade music...

The Paveman Cometh

Preliminary work began on April 15 in preparations to "scrub seal" and "shadow pave" Highway 18 North from Market Street in Bolivar to the Hardeman County line near Medon.

"They started putting out signs this week," said Hardeman County Superintendent of Highways Casey Swift. "But won't actually start any physical work until April 22."

According to Swift, it will start with concrete walkways near the courthouse down to Maxwell's. There are three handicapped walkways that were not up to par and they will re-do those."

Swift, who attended a meeting with the Tennessee Department of Transportation (TDOT) a few weeks back, said the plan was to re-route traffic around the areas.

Swift added this is not a project of the Hardeman County Highway Department.

"This is all TDOT, but I have been in on meetings so that I am aware of what they are doing."

TDOT estimates the job will be complete August 31.

Ross Waits on County Budget

With the Hardeman County Budget unveiling a couple of months away, the county's plan for the schools is one of the unknowns.

Hardeman County Mayor Jimmy Sain's budget idea to cut the rate but donate to the schools to avoid the "trap" of maintenance of effort has Hardeman County Superintendent of School Warner Ross curious.

"I understand the concept. We'll see how it works out. The mayor and I have spoken and we understand their concerns. I hope they understand ours. We want to do the best thing for our students," he said.

"The Governor's budget could take some pressure off us, in areas such as nurses, safety, and the GIVE Act. We will have some reduction due to the loss of students, but could have some help with other things. I am looking forward to seeing both the state and county budget," said Ross.

Two years ago, the Hardeman County Commission cut four cents from the contribution made to the schools, citing a drop in enrollment as the reason.

Toone Honors Blankenship

Longtime Toone resident and Alderman Sandra L. Blankenship was honored posthumously for her service to the town.

The resolution, read on April 9 and adopted by Mayor Joe Jones and the Board of Alderman listed Blankenship's accomplishment as a "true patriot, public servant, and outstanding citizen."

Blankenship passed away March 6, 2019 at the age of 71.

Bolivar Going to Polls on May 1

Voters in Bolivar will select four councilmen for the next four years beginning May 1 when early voting begins with four contested races.

The most contested race in the election is for District B, Position 1, as incumbent Todd Lowe had challengers in Daisy M. Harvey and Jimmy W. Howell.

Lowe, (pictured right) a 25-year teacher at Bolivar Middle School, has been a two-term councilman.

"It has been an honor to serve as a city councilman," he said, adding taxes have not been raised in the city during his tenure.

Lowe is married to Jennifer Johnson Lowe and has a son, Jon.

Harvey is a first time candidate, while Howell most recently ran in 2017, losing to Suzanne Rhea by four votes.

Also running as an incumbent is Larry McKinnie, Sr. for District A, Position 2. McKinnie has Donell Polk, Jr. as an opponent.

Two open seats were created when Tommy Woods and Tracy Byrum elected not to run.

Vying for the District A, Position 1 spot held by Woods will be Lajuana Polk and Carol B. Spinks while Byrum's District B, Position 3 spot will have Larry Crawford running against Barbara Jean Fitzhugh.

Early voting begins May 1 and continues through May 16. Election Day is May 21.

The City of Bolivar remains the only municipality in Hardeman County to not follow the Federal Election schedule of elections in even numbered years. A change could save the city as much as $10,000 per year, according to figures obtained from the Hardeman County Election Commission.

Portion of story paid for by candidate Todd Lowe.

And...Action! Movie Crew Comes to The Luez

Extras packed the first few rows of the Luez Theater on April 13 as Studio 143 out of Memphis used the Luez Theater for scenes from their next short film.

Director Josh Cannon and his crew of seven, including Mica Jordan of Bolivar, used approximately 40 volunteers to stage a concert that is a part of the film.

"It's incredible," said Cannon. "We are thrilled to be here. You don't walk into theatres anymore and get the feeling that you get at the Luez. It is truly an experience. There wasn't a place in Memphis that we could have shot that could touch this."

The short, Now the Sun Asks to Rise, is expected to be finished in July.

HARDEMAN COUNTY SCHOOLS

The St. James Scholarship

St. James Church in Bolivar awarded their annual $1,000 scholarship to Bolivar Central senior Nakia Robinson. With hopes of attending Jackson State Community College, Robinson will attend Bolivar Assisted Living, Bolivar Senior Center, the Carl Perkins Center, Bolivar Senior Center, and Pine Meade Hardeman County Regional Library, and Pine Meade and Rehabilitation Center. With a cumulative GPA of 3.5 and participation in band, history club, Future Teachers of America, and theater, Robinson is the daughter of Nakita Dennis-Davis. St. James Church awards a $1,000 scholarship each school year to a Bolivar Central senior based on grades and need.

Whiteville Completes Read Across America week

Whiteville Elementary School celebrated Reading with gusto February 7- March 4. Students celebrated our theme, "Readers Make Leaders," by dressing professionally and taking pictures as 'future presidents' in their very own "Oval Office." Guest readers from across the area visited the library classes to read to students and encourage students to keep reading.

Some of the guests included the Zeta Phi Beta Sorority, Officer Strickland from Whiteville Police Department, Glenda Doyle Whiteville Public Library, and children's authors Pat Winston and Natalie Wade. In addition, the P.L.U.G. organization (People Linked Under God) cooked and served green eggs and ham to the K-3 students.

Students participated in poetry contests, bookmark contests, costume contests, book report contests and jingle contests. Students donated over $900 for the school's Read Across America fund raiser: Penny Wars. Right photo: Raymond Robertson as "POTUS". Bottom photo: Children's Author Pat Winston with Mrs. Estes class.

Schools Award Volunteers

The Hardeman County Board of Education honored Greg Vaughan and Lynn Sterling as their volunteers of the quarter at their regular meeting on January 10.

Both Vaughan and Sterling were given puzzle pieces signifying they are "essential pieces" to the success of the Hardeman County schools.

The awards program allows school administrators to nominate worthy volunteers to contribute above and beyond to school success.

The volunteers and their stories will be submitted to the Tennessee State Board of Education for consideration for the state award given each year.

OUR Kids are Smarter than THEIRS

It may not rise to the level of "veni, vidi, vici," but Hardeman County students did conquer the ACT (American College Test) at the highest level in years.

The 19.2 average among all public school students is not the highest in the state, but it is better than four of the five counties that surround Hardeman County.

"We are excited and proud to see the ongoing improvement in our students' ACT scores," said Superintendent of Schools Warner Ross. "It's rewarding to see that our students are not only competing academically with peers, but outperforming others in surrounding districts." Of the 130 school districts listed in the report released by the State of Tennessee, Hardeman County's graduating class of 2018 was 91st, but better than McNairy County (93rd), Madison County (116th), Haywood County (118th), and Fayette County (126th).

The only surrounding school district that scored higher than Hardeman was Chester County (51st) at 20.2.

Ross was quick to give credit where credit is due.

"The effort that our staff, students and parents have done in this area is to be congratulated. The work is a result of a deliberate plan and effort and by the entire team. This opens additional doors of opportunity for our students to take full advantage of the Tennessee Promise and other scholarship monies available to students."

The report used students' best ACT scores meaning that if a student took the ACT multiple times, the score included in the results was his or her highest score. This data is different than the results reported nationally by ACT which are based on the last score a student received, regardless of whether the student retest, and also included scores from Germantown, which is the highest district for the third grade.

"Preparing for the Future, One Child at a Time"

YOU'VE SEEN THE RESULTS:

Hardeman County is proud of the help teachers, administrators and community stakeholders have given that have put us in the headlines for the best reasons. Why are we in the headlines? It's simple. It's our people and the support we get. But we need everyone and we need resources to succeed.

Hardeman County Schools Give Attendance Awards

Attendance is a major factor in student achievement. Excessive absenteeism is a key indicator that a child will drop out of school prior to graduating. In a recent study, twelve-year-old students who missed 17 more days of school dropped out before graduation at a rate of 85 percent. Failing to get a diploma can have devastating consequences. On average, a person with a high school diploma will earn almost twice as much as a high school dropout. In today's rapidly changing times, and education is vital for economic stability.

Chronic absenteeism is a problem that affects the whole community, not just students who are chronically absent and their families and youth. For these reasons, we encourage you to ensure your child attends school every day that school is in session unless there is a valid reason for missing. Tardies to school and checkouts should be avoided if at all possible.

A child is considered chronically absent if he/she misses two or more days a month. That includes unexcused and excused absences.

Attendance matters as early as kindergarten. Studies show that children who miss too many days in kindergarten and first grade have trouble mastering reading.

By grade 6, chronic absence is a proven warning

By grade 9, good attendance can predict graduation rates even better than eighth-grade test scores.

Because attendance is so important for each student and Hardeman County as a whole, Hardeman County Schools hosted its first "Why Attendance Matters" video and bulletin board contest September 3, 2018. Schools were invited to submit a 3-5 minute video that conveys the contest theme "Why Attendance Matters." The winning entries came from First place, Grand Junction Elementary, Principal Linda Buggs; Second place, Bolivar Middle School, Principal Mary Ann Polk; Third Place, Middleton High School, Principal Darlene Cardwell.

Also, Parent Teacher Conference in the fall and spring semesters help bring awareness to parents and students, emphasizing the connection between attendance and achievement promoting a culture of attendance all day every day.

Hardeman County Schools has joined a nationwide effort to celebrate Attendance Awareness Month, September 2019. During Attendance Awareness month, we are asking school leaders, community advocates, parents and students to help promote the value of good attendance because attendance matter to us all.

Want some Good Things? Sermon on the Mount: Part 13

by Jeff Capshaw

In this week's lesson, Jesus teaches believers persistently to ask God for things. Easy enough, right? So, does this mean Christians can say things like, "hey Lord, could you please let me win the big lottery this week"? Or how about, "Lord, that shiny new car which I have been wanting so badly: it sure would be nice to have."

After all, Jesus begins by saying, "ask, and it will be given to you; seek, and you will find; knock, and it will be opened to you. For everyone who asks receives, and the one who seeks finds, and to the one who knocks it will be opened" (Matthew 7:7-8).

Ask, Seek, Knock . . . Bam! Here you go; it's yours. Well, not quite so fast. As a matter of fact, James reminds us that ". . . you do not have because you do not ask God. When you ask, you do not receive, because you ask with wrong motives, that you may spend what you get on your pleasures (James 4:2b-3, NIV).

To begin, it isn't so much on the "what" to ask for, but rather the "how" to ask. The "what" comes later. It is more about persistence in prayer. In other words, keep on asking; keep on seeking and keep on knocking.

God doesn't need us to grovel or to fawn over Him to get whatever we want. It isn't about manufacturing attitudes which work like magic or like wearing a rabbit's foot as an amulet for good luck. It is more about demonstrating an attitude of confident faith and supreme trust in God for all our needs. We persistently ought to demonstrate our ultimate reliance on Him as a good Heavenly Father.

Jesus' prior instructions in the context of the "Lord's Prayer" is instructive. For example, in Matthew 6:5, he warned against insincere prayers prayed in public just for show. In Matthew 6:7, he warned against using a bunch of empty or repetitive phrases, thinking that they somehow schmooze God to act on our behalf.

Returning to this week's text, Jesus uses a comparison to drive home the main point, and it requires little explanation. He says, "which one of you, if his son asks him for bread, will give him a stone? Or if he asks for a fish, will give him a serpent? If you then, who are evil [sinful], know how to give good gifts to your children, how much more will your Father who is in heaven give good things to those who ask him (brackets added, 7:9-10)!"

Here is the key. Pray for "good" things, for eternal things: not so much for material things. Again, remembering the "Lord's Prayer," pray for God's Kingdom to come, for heaven to come to earth.

Sunrise: Terrifying

by David Coy

I was speaking with an individual who identified with what a I knew about serving children and adults professionally with chronic mental illness. As I shared behavior patterns of individuals with challenging symptoms he commented how many similarities between his child and the behaviors I described. The individual described the sleepless nights, the agony of worry, stress and grief that was experienced he and his wife endured for years before during and after diagnosis with their child. As I shared my experience in the caretaker of those with mental illness from a professional capacity, he said "So you understand what I have been going through." I responded, "No I do not because it is one aspect and perception to say a person has served the mental health community and quite another to say I am a parent of a child who struggles to learn why they are behaving the way they are and then to learn to cope and manage one's illness."

Another real world example is the author of a new book, The Collected Schizophrenias by Esme Weijun Wang. She described being in bed and "this giant swarm of flies came in and started crawling on the bed. I was terrified. I was like, 'Did we leave a window open? What happened?' I jumped up and flipped on the light. They were everywhere. Then they disappeared." She describes her disorder, Schizoaffective Disorder, as "the offspring of manic depression and schizophrenia." This illness involves mood swings, hallucinations and delusions. Now if this is 'terrifying' for an adult to deal with, we can try to imagine what it would be for children and their parents, what grief! This is Sunrise Aftercare, sunrise@sfdcares.com

- Cooking spray

Filling:

- 2/3 cup (about 5 ounces) 1/3-less-fat cream cheese
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon vanilla extract
- 1/4 teaspoon almond extract

Topping:

- 6 cups small fresh strawberries, hulled and divided
- 2/3 cup sugar
- 1 tablespoon cornstarch
- 1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice
- 2 tablespoons sliced almonds, toasted

Preparation

1. Preheat oven to 350°. 2. To prepare crust, place crackers in a food processor; process until crumbly. Add 2 tablespoons sugar, butter, and 4 teaspoons water; pulse just until moist. Place cracker mixture in a 9-inch round removable-bottom tart pan lightly coated with cooking spray, pressing into bottom and up sides of pan to 3/4 inch. Bake at 350° for 10 minutes or until lightly browned. Cool completely on a wire rack. 3. To prepare filling, combine cream cheese, 1/4 cup sugar, and extracts in a medium bowl; stir until smooth. Spread cream cheese mixture evenly over bottom of tart shell. 4. To prepare topping, place 2 cups strawberries in food processor, and process until smooth. Combine strawberry puree, 2/3 cup sugar, and cornstarch in a small saucepan over medium heat; stir with a whisk. Bring to a boil, stirring constantly. Reduce heat to low; cook 1 minute. Remove glaze from heat. Cool to room temperature, stirring occasionally. 5. Combine the remaining 4 cups strawberries and juice; toss to coat. Arrange berries, bottoms up, in a circular pattern over filling. Spoon half of glaze evenly over berries (reserve remaining glaze for another use). Sprinkle nuts around edge. Cover and chill 3 hours.

Earth Day Offers Valuable
Lessons to Investors

On April 22, millions of people will observe Earth Day by participating in events that support environmental protection. As a citizen, you may want to take part in a local celebration. And as an investor, you can learn a few lessons from the themes of Earth Day.

Here are a few of them:

Avoid a toxic investment environment. A recurring topic of Earth Day is the necessity of reducing toxins from our air, water and land. And, while you might not think of it in those terms, your portfolio can also contain some "toxic" elements in the form of investments that may be hindering your progress, or, at the very least, not contributing to it. For instance, you might own some investments that, for one reason or another, have consistently underperformed, or are now too aggressive for your risk tolerance, which can change over the years. In these cases, you might be better off selling the investments and using the proceeds for other, more appropriate ones.

Look for sources of renewable energy. Efforts to protect our environment include a push for more renewable energy sources, such as solar and wind. As an investor, you, too, can look for "renewables" in the form of investments that keep paying you back in one way or another. Of course, the most basic example would be a bond, which pays you regular interest until the bond matures and you get your principal back, provided the issuer doesn't default, which is generally unlikely with an investment-grade bond. However, you also may want to consider another type of renewable - dividend-paying stocks. By reinvesting these dividends, you can increase the number of shares you own - and share ownership is a good way to help build your portfolio. Some companies have paid, and even increased, their dividends many years in a row, but keep in mind they're not obligated to do so.

Plant seeds of opportunity. Some Earth Day events involve planting trees - many of which won't be fully grown for decades. When you invest, you are planting seeds in the form of investments you hope will grow over the years. Of course, you will likely see some volatility along the way, but over the long term, investments with strong fundamentals may reward you for your patience.

Apart from these ideas, you also can connect the idea of helping protect the environment with investing for your goals. Through socially responsible investing, you can screen out investments in companies whose products you find objectionable, while supporting businesses whose work you believe helps contribute to a better world. And you can find investments, such as mutual funds that emphasize social responsibility, whose returns are competitive, so you don't have to sacrifice growth potential for your principles.

In the nearly 50 years since Earth Day celebrations began, we have taken steps to improve many aspects of our physical world, although the work continues. And by following some of the same techniques, you can improve your investment environment, too.

Silerton

Mary Lynn Lambert

Hughlan and Ann (Lambert) Wade have moved to an assisted living facility in Peoria, IL. They and their family would appreciate your prayers as they make this transition. Hughlan was reared in the Phillip School area and Ann was reared in Silerton.

A big shout out to Melea Beshires for sharing her thoughts on parenthood. She writes, "everyone tries to prepare you to be new parents and no one really can. Describing parenthood is like someone trying to convey the experience of seeing the Grand Canyon for the first time. You understand that it is vast and breath-taking, but you cannot fully grasp all the intricacies, the details and the subtle majesty of the colors that flood your vision in the very visceral real experience. On January 31, Kevin and I became first time parents to Otto James Beshires. He was two weeks and two days early, making him a little fellow of five pounds and three ounces; however, he had a clean bill of health and tiny limbs ready to explore his new world immediately. Each day with Otto has been a beautiful new adventure. I have a fresh appreciation for my parents and all parents. You hear about the sleep deprivation and the miniscule hours of sleep that are supposed to feel like a full night and the stories sound unbelievable. After experiencing the infant clock for myself, I am even more stunned that this is not an anomalous experience or an exaggeration, but rather a rite of passage for all parents. There are a million fears that accompany thinking about having a child and a billion more once you conceive; but I am here to tell you, that if you are ready for your family to grow, becoming a parent is worth overcoming every single reservation. Nothing can compare to hearing your child's voice for the first time or seeing him or her smile at you. If you ever wanted to experience the closest semblance to super powers, become a mother or a father. Your child will make you laugh, cry, and repeat again and again, but you will be amazed at what you can achieve. I have never felt more fulfilled or proud of myself in any role."

Bill and Gail Mayfield joined friends from Alabama for a river and canal cruise in the Netherlands and Belgium. They saw art museums in Amsterdam, the country's oldest town, Nijmegen, the diamond center of the world, Antwerp, the historic Flanders port of Ghent, the 30-year long Delta Works project to build a series of land dikes to keep the North Sea out of Holland, and finally the Keukenhof Gardens in color with tulips. The ship carrying 104 persons sailed each night. Having all meals on board made their trip easier as did the use of only one currency, the Euro.

Toone

Glenn Yarbrough
731-609-0939
gnyarb@bellsouth.net

Hello from Toone! As I write this today on Monday, it is a beautiful, warm sunny day on Cloverport Rd. Whenever I can catch one of these few pretty days between rainstorms, I try to take it advantage of it and pack as much yard-work into the day as possible. Because my yard is so rough with several steep hills and steep ditch banks, I learned my lesson the hard way regarding zero-turn lawnmowers. Not only will they slide down a steep bank into a ditch (yep, did that twice), but they will also lock up and slide down a hill if you're going too fast (did this several times), so on the days the yard is wet, I pick up limbs and rake, and then mow on the dry days. Last fall I bought one of those leaf vacuums that you pull behind your mower, but again, if the yard is wet, they wind up pushing your mower down the hills, especially when they're fully loaded with leaves and grass clippings. If I ever have the opportunity to build another house, it will be out in a flat field with no trees and no ditches!

A fun time was had by all at the TES 7th & 8th Grade Dance, Saturday, April 13, at The Robin's Nest event barn on Tyson Road. From the photos I saw, it looked as if everyone was decked-out in their best prom apparel with big smiles on their faces! We are very fortunate to have such a wonderful special events venue in our community.

Toone School will hold Pre-Kindergarten Registration, Monday, April 22, at the school. For more information, call the TES office at: 731-658-5606.

At the April meeting of the Toone Board of Aldermen, the Board presented a proclamation to commemorate the many years of dedicated community service of former member, Sandi Blankenship, who recently passed away. The proclamation was read then presented to Sandi's family members who were in attendance. I believe everyone will agree that Sandi always went over and above her duties to serve the Town of Toone. She will be missed.

I would like to wish all of you a very Happy Easter. As always, I'm sure there will be lots of Easter egg hunts and other festive activities going on this weekend. If I don't see you before then, go ahead and hide my eggs!

Until next time . . . talk to your neighbors!

Rainy Day Gobbler ::::

Jim (New York) is the hunter. The first day we had no luck. The weather was going to change that night, rain was in the forecast for the next morning. I have a pop-up blind on one of the tracks of land, but, 30 minutes before we were going to leave, a plan developed. I would get one of Blackwater's pop ups. With the help from Jim, we left early, set the tent up where I had seen a Turkey while scouting weeks before. Tent was up in no time flat! I drove the truck out of the area. After getting in the tent for only a couple of minutes, we both heard the Gobble! Jim ask: where's he at? I replied, letting the air out of my truck tires (he was very close to my truck. I called 2x softly. He Gobbled. In a few short minutes, Jim said:: BIRD HOOT. Stepping into the field was a hen. Right behind her was "Old Gabriel ". He came to the decoys, now he's back in New York, very nice Double bearded Turkey!:::: as always SAFETY FIRST!:::: HOOT

Coach Lowe Takes Job at Lausanne

Bolivar Central Head Football Coach Woodrow Lowe told his team on April 15 that he accepted the job as the Defensive Coordinator at Lausanne Collegiate School at Memphis for the 2019 season.

Lowe said his experience at Bolivar Central High School will always be special to him and his family.

"It has been an honor to serve as the Head Football Coach at Bolivar Central High School over the past five seasons. Hardeman County was one of the first places we visited when our family moved to the MidSouth more than seven years ago, and it's always felt like home. The Bolivar community welcomed us with open arms, and we are forever grateful. All three of our boys grew up around the school and my oldest is a proud BCHS graduate. I'm excited about the direction the football program is headed and that wouldn't be possible without the hard work of the players (current/past) and coaches, as well as the support of the teachers, staff, parents and community. I am truly thankful for all the support, and I look forward to what the future holds for the Tigers. We will always consider ourselves part of the Bolivar family," he said.

Lowe leaves Bolivar with a 25-28 record, including taking Bolivar to the playoff for three consecutive seasons, a first for the Tigers since the 1990's. Bolivar's best season under his watch was 2016, when the Tigers went 8-3, the most wins the program had posted since 2008.

Lausanne was undefeated in the regular season in 2018 and finished 11-1 after losing to Christ Presbyterian School in the State Division II-AA Playoff semifinals.

Middleton High School HOSA students, ranging from seventh to twelfth grade, attended the TN HOSA State Leadership Conference in Chattanooga March 24. HOSA stands for Health Occupations Students of America and is an international student organization recognized by the U.S. Department of Education and Health Science Education. Its mission is to promote career opportunities in the health care industry and enhance the delivery of quality health care to all people.

Tennessee competed at state conference. Before attending the state level of competition, most competitions require students to attend the regional HOSA competition and place in the top five of their region in order to compete at the state level. Attending HOSA State Conference helps students gain confidence and leadership skills while networking with other students with the same future career interests. Students also put a significant amount of time into studying and preparing for the tests and skills in their competitive events.

Ten MHS HOSA students placed in the top five of the state in their competitive events: Cheyenne Burnette, Middle School Medical Reading; Kayleigh Maxwell & Halle Flake, Middle School Career Health Display; Madeline Coupe, Middle School Health Career Exploration; Katie Harris, Clinical Specialty; Maddie Willis, Middle School Nutrition; Caitley Mott & Lance Roberts, Middle School Health Education; Ella Willis, Human Growth & Development; and Jacob Lumpkins, Biomedical Laboratory Science. Students who place first through third place in their competition are eligible to compete at the national level. Jacob Lumpkins placed first in his competition and Maddie Willis second in her competition. The 2019 National HOSA Conference will be held in Disney World in Orlando, Florida this June.

HOSA gave special thanks goes to the following parents for traveling and assisting with competition this year: Craig Harris, Heather Harris, Tanya Willis, Lisa Dixon, April Atkins, Lena McAlpin, Rachel Roberts, and Sarah Coupe. Tanya Willis and Lisa Dixon have also served on the MHS HOSA Advisory Committee for several years now and been active participants in HOSA competition for many years.

HAA Volunteers of the Week by Sara Vonderheide

HAA would like to say a special thank you to Girl Scout Troop 43226! These wonderful young ladies came out to the shelter to volunteer on Saturday, April 13 and plan to continue volunteering until the school year is over. Pictured are: Majesta Lawson, Lilliana Moses, Elena Mills, Beth Dolan, and Kaliyah Mckinnie. These girls are setting a wonderful example for the rest of Hardeman County.

HAA has been very busy getting dogs ready for transports to rescue groups up north as well as working on the new shelter. The Administration Building is ready to have the new HVAC system installed (Thank you to Bobby Henderson and crew!), and we are currently waiting on an estimate for the concrete work to be done. This will include the drainage system work as well. Thank you again, to Mr. Ken Hadley, long-time HAA supporter. Mr. Hadley has been keeping the lawn cut down at the new shelter site. We could not do all of this work without the support of people like Mr. Hadley and the Girl Scouts!

HAA will be having a fundraising dinner at the Robin's Nest in Toone on Friday, June 14. If you are interested in tickets, please contact a volunteer. There will be live music and a silent auction. It is sure to be a great night!

Get in touch with us by contacting (Preferably by text message): Charla Cooper at 731-234-4421 or Jennifer Smallwood at 731-609-0408. You can also check out our Facebook page, Hardeman Adoptable Animals, Inc. You can also come to the shelter. We are located inside the county landfill on Walton Road, and volunteers are there between 9-1 each day. HAA, Inc. is a 501©3 not-for-profit organization. Adoption fees are $125, and this includes all vaccines, spay/neuter, and care while at the shelter. If you are calling to report a loose dog, please call Animal Control at 731-658-9032. To call the shelter looking for a lost dog or to speak to a volunteer, please call 731/659-3040 and leave a message. Need to have your dog OR cat spayed or neutered? Need to have it done for free? Contact us to find out how you can do that!
