Hey County! Can You Spare $415,000?

With depositions and the summoning of more than sixty people in the salary dispute case involving Hardeman County Sheriff John Doolen and Hardeman County Mayor Jimmy Sain, it appears the real winner may turn out to be an attorney from Dresden.

While it is not certain Attorney Roy Herron will ask the same from Hardeman County as he did from Decatur County, the similarity in the cases could be putting fear in the county checkbook.

With one day before trial in Decatur County, Herron reached a settlement with the Decatur County government and then presented them with a bill for legal fees of $415,961.81.

Herron's request for more than $175,000 in October of 2019, with many hours since worked on the case, was to be set aside by Judge J. Weber McCraw and then was ac-

In Case There is a Test, Let's Review

In July of 2019, following the passing of the 2019-2020 budget, Hardeman County Sheriff John Doolen sued for more support.

The issue was seemingly settled in October 2019 after then Hardeman County Attorney Chip Cary and Attorney Roy Herron came to an agreement. Cary presented it to the county commission in a special called meeting as the sheriff's department, who originally sought and sued for approximately $1.4 million dollars, settled for $102,000.

At the October 8 meeting, the vote went 13-1 in favor of ending the lawsuit with the settlement. While both sides claimed lack of adherence to the settlement terms, Attorney Amber Griffin Shaw filed a Motion to Set Aside the Consent Order on behalf of Sain on February 10, citing numerous problems with the consent order.

Two days in the courtroom in February and July resulted in Herron withdrawing opposition to the motion to set the settlement aside, instead appearing to focus on the trial itself.

tually carried out by Judge Tony Childress after Herron's request to change the judge was granted prior to McCraw being able to file the order.

The trial to settle the matter of the salary dispute is scheduled to begin September 3, with two days set aside for the matter to be considered.

Depositions of both Mayor Sain and Sheriff Doolen were taken a week ago and the interviews of county commissioners, former county commissioners, county elected officials, county employees, and law enforcement officials from outside the county is expected to be completed August 31 and September 1.

In the August meeting of the county commission, the commission voted 14-2 (with commissioners Justin Howell and Bobby Wright against) to spend county funds on an outside attorney for those connected to the county government. County Attorney Justin Reynolds is prohibited by the State Board of Professional Responsibility to represent one county official versus another.

Law Enforcement Gets $$$

Tennessee State Senator Dolores Gresham announced that Hardeman County will receive five of the twenty-seven Highway Safety Grants awarded in Senate District 26 to promote public safety and curb drunk driving. The combined grants total $327,872, with Hardeman County agencies getting $46,800 of the total.

"These grants are important to the safety of our community, funding a number of necessary positions and programs that keep our roadways safe," said Senator Gresham. "We are grateful that the Highway Safety Office has recognized a need for these programs in our community and is assisting us in ensuring our citizens are better protected on our roads."

- Bolivar Police Department Alcohol and Impaired Driving Enforcement $20,000.00
- Grand Junction Police Department High Visibility Enforcement $4,300.00
- Hardeman County Ambulance Service Emergency Medical Services $12,500.00
- Hardeman County Sheriff's Department High Visibility Enforcement $5,000.00
- Whiteville Police Department High Visibility Enforcement $5,000.00

Toone Gets Lighting Grant

The park in Toone will have better lighting thanks to a grant from the Tennessee ThreeStar program and Hardeman County.

"While attending a Toone City Council meeting last fall," said Hardeman County Mayor Jimmy Sain. "I remembered listening to a discussion on funding security lights for the Toone park. We applied for a portion of the ThreeStar grant to assist with funding the lights. Mayor Jones has served on the Joint Economic and Community Board and I appreciate his service to his community. He keeps my office well-informed on the Toone community, which gives us a 'heads up' on assisting them."

The amount of $8,949 came from Hardeman County maintaining the requirements to be a ThreeStar, which in turn makes them eligible for grant funds.

According to TN.Gov, ThreeStar is a strategic community development program developed to assist communities in preparing for a better future. The ThreeStar program now incorporates asset-based planning initiatives and a two-year timeline to accomplish goals. The asset-based planning component helps communities develop goals to maximize their local assets to drive economic development. Starting in 2019, biennial grants were made available to counties to align with one of the community's identified goals.

OUR COUNTY

Moments with the Mayor: I Respectfully Disagree

As children, we were taught to be respectful. Respect for our parents, teachers, elders, and authority figures was not an option, it was required. Addressing anyone who was our senior meant addressing them as ma'am or sir.

Respect is not the same as disagreement. It is okay to disagree with someone, but it is NOT okay to disrespect someone for what they believe or how they feel. Robert Estabrook said, "He who has learned to disagree without being disagreeable has discovered the most valuable secret of a diplomat." I think that the word "diplomat" should be replaced with the word, "person" because it applies equally to all of us.

This pandemic, election, and world events have brought out the very worst in our society. Many disagree with how these events have been handled, but just as many agree as disagree. Who am I to say who is right and who is wrong? I believe what I believe, and you believe what you believe. That is freedom, and we are a country built on freedom. Our ancestors fought and died for those freedoms.

What is wrong, however, is how we, as a society, are treating each other.

There is so much negativity, foul language, and hateful remarks in the news and on social media these days that it is sickening. We are not born with negativity, hate, or disrespectful attitudes. Those attributes are learned.

Every day, our children are exposed to a flood of negativity. It is time to put a stop to it and get back to a place and time where respect is not only taught in every household, but it is modeled and deep-rooted in who we are. Anything less is a disservice to our children and grandchildren. It starts and ends with US. Please feel free to state your opinion on a subject, then move on; but please stop engaging in bitter, angry arguments on social media forums. Emerson said, "For every minute you remain angry, you give up sixty seconds of peace of mind."

Instead, spread kindness, compassion, respect, and love for your fellow man. One of my favorite scriptures is John 15:12 which says, "My command is this: love each other as I have loved you." Nothing else really matters.

Whatever your views on the subject at hand, I do not have to agree with you. Likewise, you do not have to agree with me. We can agree to disagree. What I am commanded to do is to love you. I WILL love you and WILL show you all of the respect that you so richly deserve in the process. #StartsWithMeEndsWithMe

Cooper Releases Latest Book

Available for the first time this month, a new book by Tom Cooper about some of the toughest life-and-death ethical decisions ever made. Readers discover not only how ethics exemplars navigated hair-pulling moral choices but also how we ourselves can make vexing ethical decisions. Chapters profile Mandela, Malala, Gandhi, Truman, Queen Esther, Edward R. Murrow, Marie Curie, Socrates, William Wilberforce, Rachel Carson, and others.

The son of longtime Bolivar icon David Cooper of Bolivar, Professor Tom Cooper teaches ethics and media studies at Emerson College. He was a guest scholar at Stanford, Berkeley, the East-West Center and the University of Hawaii during his last sabbatical and at Harvard, Yale, Princeton, Oxford, and Cambridge during the preceding sabbatical. The Association for Responsible Communication, which he founded, was nominated for the Nobel Peace Prize. Cooper taught at Harvard, where he graduated Magna Cum Laude, and recently served as an "ethics expert" at a United Nations project in Vienna and Athens. A former assistant to Marshall McLuhan, he was a consultant to the Elders Project, which involved Nelson Mandela, Kofi Anan and Jimmy Carter. Cooper is a playwright with a Ph.D. in theater and media, a union musician who trained at the Royal Conservatory, poet, black belt, blogger and author of eight books and more than two hundred academic and professional articles and reviews. His musical HIGHER! HIGHER! is in development at a professional theater.

County Featured in The Haunted South

Due to be published in early September, The Haunted South, the latest book by Dr. Alan Brown, courtesy of Arcadia Press, explores purported haunted sites throughout the south, including five pages devoted to Magnolia Manor in Bolivar.

The book tells the tales of sites from Virginia through the south, including Florida.

It was published by Arcadia Publishing, which also published Hardeman County by Lisa Coleman of Bolivar.

About the Author: Dr. Alan Brown is a professor of English at the University of West Alabama. Alan has written over a dozen books on ghosts and hauntings. He is an avid history buff and deeply involved in paranormal research and investigation. He is also affiliated with the American Folklore Society, the American Ghost Society and Birmingham Paranormal Society. He has published dozens of books, most of which are on the subject of the haunted.

Storybook Trail Added to Pleasant Run Creek Park

Hardeman Healthy Outreach is pleased to announce installation of Bolivar's storybook trail. In recent years, the storybook trail has become a popular concept across the country as an opportunity for families with children to engage with nature, walk and read – all at the same time.

Sara Skinner, Bolivar General Hospital administrative assistant, saw the idea at Tennessee's Rural Health Conference last fall and knew it would be an educational addition to a local park. "Story stations are located along the path with pages from the book placed in wooden stands. To enjoy the full story, families walk the entire trail," Skinner said. "Books will be changed out about each season so families can enjoy the walk again and again."

The City of Bolivar Parks & Recreation Department installed the posts and their assistance made the project possible. "We are excited for the addition of this attraction at Pleasant Run Creek Park. We encourage our citizens to take advantage of this opportunity to enjoy our parks while engaging in a fun and educational activity with their children," said Mayor Julian McTizic.

This project is funded by the CDC's High Obesity Program (HOP) through The University of Tennessee Extension to improve access to food and physical activity opportunities throughout Hardeman County. For more information, go to @BeMoreHardeman on Facebook or send an email to aelizer@utk.edu.

FAITH

Two Kinds of Wisdom by Jeff Capshaw

Last week's column was about asking for wisdom during trials, and it was based on the book of James. Again, the book is similar to the OT wisdom writings such as Proverbs. The key verse from last week's passage (1:1-1:8) is verse 5. It says, "if any of you lacks wisdom, let him ask God, who gives generously to all without reproach, and it will be given him." Remember, the broader context is the need for wisdom during the life's difficulties.

This week's column continues with the theme of wisdom from James. As noted last week, the book offers believers much advice for developing the godly skill to live life. What else does James say about wisdom, this skill to live a good life?

In the first part of the passage, he writes as follows: "who is wise and understanding among you? By his good conduct let him show his works in the meekness of wisdom. But if you have bitter jealousy and selfish ambition in your hearts, do not boast and be false to the truth. This is not the wisdom that comes down from above, but is earthly, unspiritual, demonic. For where jealousy and selfish ambition exist, there will be disorder and every vile practice" (3:13-16, ESV).

James uses a comparison of opposites. On the positive side, a genuinely wise person demonstrates wisdom (the skill for living a good life) by doing deeds in humility. That is another way of saying that genuine believers practice doing good works. Therefore, humble deeds are not done for self, but to benefit others. They are not even done to earn favor with God.

According to Paul, believers are saved by grace and have been given the gift of faith to believe the Gospel. They are not saved by their good deeds. Conversely, they are saved to do good works. "For we are his workmanship, created in Christ Jesus for good works, which God prepared beforehand, that we should walk in them" (Ephesians 2:10).

Next, James moves to the negative side of the binary comparison. He says acting out of bitterness, jealousy and selfish ambition for the benefit of self is not truthful, not genuine, not spiritual behavior. Thus, it is false, and it is the opposite of true wisdom. He provides a rather harsh critique of that behavior; it doesn't come from God, "but is earthly, unspiritual, demonic." How so? "For where jealousy and selfish ambition exist, there will be disorder and every vile practice" (v. 16).

The passage concludes by returning to the positive side of the comparison. He writes, "but the wisdom from above [from God] is first pure, then peaceable, gentle, open to reason, full of mercy and good fruits, impartial and sincere." Want to live by Godly wisdom? Then, do good deeds to others with purity, impartiality, gentleness, genuineness, mercifulness, and reasonableness. That is bearing good fruit and living by godly wisdom. That kind of skillful living looks just like Jesus.

Value Of One by David Coy

During these difficult time of unrest, financial insecurity, and fear for ones's health there in a consequence that was unforeseen at this onset that has not been publicly addressed to my knowledge. It was reported whether true or not that the shut down of businesses was for the purpose of mitigating the virus. That was a colossal failure, but in its wake we are seeing a dramatic rise in mental health concerns among the human race. The evidence is abundant and it is occurring all across the U.S. According to John Hopkins Bloomberg School of Health as reported in JAMA says that the number of Americans who are struggling with mental disorders such as anxiety and depression has tripled. Researchers suggest it will get worse. Meanwhile, according to news18.com four entertainment workers committed suicide in the last four to five months all due to rising debt and financial issues. Further, because of shutdowns of businesses clients have not had access to counseling and therapeutic sessions. These are not isolated circumstances as we are seeing an uptake across the globe.

How should we as a public and how can we as human beings address this crisis in a caring, compassionate, manner? Realize that we too could have been born with any physical or mental uniqueness that would require challenges from us and our family members. Thus, we should treat others the way we ourselves would like to be treated. May I suggest one proper choice is to support one another in every way we are able. We as a community of people if we will unite together we can with perseverance accomplish much. Even one person at a time. Believe in yourself and every person is of value and worth, then reach out to someone and help them if you can. This is Sunrise Aftercare, sunrise@sfdcares.com

This past week, the Beshires and I had a wonderful visit with my brother Jordan Smith and friends. We picnicked in the city park. Our menu consisted of barbecue, baked beans, coleslaw, potato chips, watermelon, and brownies. Otto enjoyed showing off his toy car and running along the fence where he could admire the soybeans.

On the following night, Otto and I continued the festivities with the group at my sister Sarah Smith's home in Deanburg. Hiram Ireton grilled steaks and vegetables and Jordan Smith showed Otto how to swing in a hammock by the lake.

Linda baked an apple pie from the apples from our orchard and it was delicious. Otto has always been an avid apple lover and this was his first apple pie. It must have been a hit because all he could say was, "mmm, mmm, mmm!"

Mary Lynn Lambert shares some other noteworthy visits and upcoming Lambert family social events. Lambert writes, "Hubert and Joy (Lambert) Jeter were happy to have their son, Hubie, and his two sons home for a few days. Herbie lives in Bremerton, Washington. They flew home to celebrate birthdays. Hubie's birthday is August 2nd and Hubert's birthday is July 31st."

Larry and Anita Lambert enjoyed a day with their grandson, Harrison in Murfreesboro, TN, before he leaves for Cookeville to attend Tennessee Tech where he will be studying for an Engineer degree. After a big lunch at Red Lobster, they shopped and filled a big basket full of snacks for him to enjoy at the dorm.

Attention to all Lamberts. There will be a hamburger cookout on Saturday night at the home of Frankie Lambert. At the Sunday noon meal, a potluck will be held again at Frankie's home. Bring your favorites dishes and your lawn chairs."

Gail Mayfield shares with us a tie for August's yard of the month. She writes, "This month recognition for attractive yards goes jointly to Alfred and Jonna Ewing, our newest neighbors, and Frankie and Mary Lynn Lambert for their work at the end of Lambert Lane. The two adjoining yards are complimentary; one has colorful flowers and the other has a robust lawn. Thanks for a job well done in making our town pretty."

I look forward to autumn in Silerton. I enjoy watching the leaves change and all the beautiful fall decorations. If you have fall traditions you would like to share I would love to hear about them.

Hello from the fair town of Toone! I hope everyone is staying cool during these hot and humid "dog days" of August. I suppose most of you are like me and do most of your yard work either early in the morning or late in the afternoon. Thanks to the recent rain storms, I was able to mow my yard without being encircled in a cloud of dust. It was still hot, but the absence of the dust did make the job a bit more tolerable. If the weathermen are accurate in their forecast of the tracking of the two hurricanes which have made landfall, we could see quite a bit of the wind and rain even up here in our area. I don't think the farmers would mind at all, and I believe most everyone else's yards would welcome a good drink of water.

Just a reminder to save those box tops from the products you buy and donate them to Toone Elementary School. These boxtops can be redeemed for money that goes toward buying supplies for the classrooms. The small allowances which the teachers receive from the school system are not near enough to last through the school year. The next turn-in time will be in September, so make sure to save your box tops and either give them to a TES student, or you can drop them off at the school office. Any amount you can save will be greatly appreciated!

The Toone Baptist Church would like to remind everyone that their Sunday worship services and Wednesday night prayer meetings are still being streamed online for your convenience. This is a great way to worship with Brother Anthony Vaughn and the Toone Baptist congregation without leaving your home.

Just a reminder to those of you who are looking for an outdoor event to enjoy on Friday evenings, take a ride to Downtown Bolivar for Music on the Square. A different musical group performs each Friday night. The event is held outside at the amphitheater behind the courthouse. When rain is predicted, they move the event around the corner to the Bolivar Farmers' Market pavilion on Lafayette St. Load up the family, and come on out for some great music each Friday evening.

We are saddened over the loss of our long-time good friend and neighbor, Gerald Hooper, who passed away last week after a lengthy illness. Gerald was a life-long resident of the Toone Community. He and his family owned and operated several logging and lumber businesses in the Toone area for many decades and were major employers in Hardeman County. Please keep Gerald's wife, Sarah, and his daughters, Angie and Debbie, and the entire Hooper Family in your thoughts and prayers. Gerald will be missed by everyone who knew him.

Larry Joe and Bonnie Leathers, celebrated their 43rd Anniversary this week on, August 26. Bonnie reminded me that they were married within a few days after Elvis died 43 years ago. She says she told Larry Joe, "OK Elvis is gone, so I guess I'll marry you now", to which he reminded her that she caused him to miss opening day of squirrel season that year. I suppose after 43 years they both agree it was well worth the sacrifice!

Join me in wishing a very Happy Birthday to our Toone neighbor, Reggie Ellison, August 29. If you see Reggie out and about, take the time to wish him a happy day!

Let's all keep in mind that the COVID-19 threat is still alive and well in our county and towns. Please continue to follow all health recommendations as you go about your day-to-day lives, and PLEASE stay safe!!

Until next time. . . . talk to your neighbors!

Hello to all! Well school is back in session and I know that a lot of kids were excited to get back to seeing their friends and most of all just to get out of the house. It is of course different more so than anyone could imagine but we will keep lifting up prayers that things will get back to normal. Hornsby Baptist as so many other churches are social distancing as they try to hold worship services. One of the good things that has come out of this pandemic and yes I said good things is that so many of the churches especially the small ones have made the effort of having their services on social media. I not only get to sit in my church and hear the word but I am now able to hear so many services throughout the county. I praise the Lord for that and for the many people it takes to see that this gets done. So if you don't attend anywhere just look up any of the local churches and listen to a wonderful service. Please remember to download the church app if you want to read some wonderful devotions. There are a lot of great folks from the church who are writing them and I am very thankful for their time. There are so many of them that have touched my heart.

Please mark your calendar for October 17 to come to Hornsby to celebrate its 100 year anniversary. Our theme is "A Place to Call Home". If you would like to help or know more about it please contact Becky Stanton. It will be a great time for food, entertainment, games and fellowship. We will soon have a Facebook page to inform you of some of the activities that you can share also. We want this to be a great event and hope that lots of folks who grew up here will come back home to enjoy a day of celebrating the town. We will be selling t-shirts and you may contact Becky Stanton, Lily Barnes, or Amber Moore to make your purchase.

Prayer is a powerful thing and I know there are a lot of wonderful folks who are happy to pray for you or someone you know. If you have a prayer request please let us know. Please continue to lift the following people up in your prayers: Lynn Allen, Joe Anderson, Mimi Anderson, Hugholene Barnes, Ricky Bass, Diane Cross, Sue Day, Norma Emerson, Rich Emerson, Robert Gibson, Crystal Grantham, Beckett Gray, Thomas Green, Sue Hall, James Hanna, Marilyn Hanna, Willie Lou Hannis, Richard Hazelwood, Justin Hodge, Sue Hodge, Willis Hornsby, Jo Edna Howell, Charley Johnson, Ann Kelly, Aubrey King, Lucy King, Debbie Laster, Bobbie McBride, Betty McMahan, Orville McMahan, Margie Moore, Carolyn Morgan, Evan Nield, Joyce Overton, Gay Pierce, Gail Pope, Lloyd Sipes, Stacy Spence, Ronna Spoon, Susan Thompson, Martyn Venuti, Tommy Warner, Chasity Watkins, Eddie Webb, Joe West, Jennifer Wheeler, Piper Williams, the men and women who serve our country, the families of the ones who are fighting cancer, all the health care workers, the leaders of our country and especially the ones who are lost. His Word for the week: John 15:4 "Remain in Me, and I in you. Just as a branch is unable to produce fruit by itself unless it remain on the vine, neither can you unless you remain in Me" Praise God!!

Stages::::::

If you put some thought into "Stages" you might agree with me. I believe there's three stages in life, especially in the outdoors. Beginnings, Happenings and Memories.

In the Beginning stage, it's a time of learning and retaining. For the most part the Happening stage is constant. Both combined results in endless Memories that last your entire life. This was Emma's first squirrel hunt, no we didn't limit out, but was lucky enough for her to get her first squirrel. The adrenaline was pumping very fast till the shot, the squirrel was hit, but didn't fall from the tree as expected. We circled around the tree hoping to see him but, as it happens sometimes, we couldn't locate him. I told Emma, a lot of times that (squirrel) will cling flat on a limb and there's really nothing more you can do. I could see it was starting to bother her when all of a sudden he came crashing down right in front of us. After putting him in her vest, I told her "that" rarely happens, but luck was on our side. A huge grin came across her face and I'll admit emotions were following as we knuckle bumped on her "first!!!"

All three stages were taking place in a matter of minutes. As with me, she'll never forget her first squirrel in the vest episode. I can only hope the experience and knowledge she's learning in the outdoors, at some point in her life, she'll have the opportunity to::: Pass It On! As Always SAFETY FIRST::: HOOT

Sain Takes Trevecca Job from Trevecca Sports Information

The Trevecca Nazarene University baseball program is changing leadership for the first time since the university moved to the NCAA Division II era. The new top Trojan is a familiar face, Chase Sain.

Sain was named as the new head coach on August 17 after being with the program as an assistant for the last three seasons.

Trevecca athletic director Mark Elliott commented on his most recent hire, "Chase Sain assisted in shaping this program's identity and the ensuing culture of 'family' for the past three years. He unquestionably has the backing of the players, parents, and administration."

"He will carry on our commitment to 'Christian-Scholar-Athlete'. Eight years ago, we gave Ryan Schmalz his first head coaching position at age 32. Chase Sain reminds me a lot of Ryan Schmalz ... and that's an excellent thing."

Sain, 33, is the tenth head coach of the Trevecca baseball program. In his first season he will lead the Trojans into their 51st season of baseball on the Hill.

Chase Sain opened with giving thanks to the key people in his life, "First, I'd like to begin by thanking my Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ. He made this possible, and it's my purpose to serve Him and others every day because of what He did for me."

"To my bride, Shelby, you've been with me this entire journey, and I want to thank you for always believing in me. Without you, my dreams of being a head coach would've just been dreams."

"Thank you to my parents and the love they've invested in my siblings and in me. I am who I am today because of the support of my family."

The new Trojan head coach thanked his new direct report for handing the reigns over to him, "To Mark Elliot, I appreciate you taking a chance on me. The confidence you have in me has been overwhelming, and I wouldn't want it to come from any other place."

Sain takes the reigns from his former boss, Ryan Schmalz, who led the program for the last eight seasons. Schmalz recently resigned as head coach to move to a new career direction outside of baseball that will allow him to spend more time with his family.

Sain added thanks to the man he is replacing on the Hill, "Coach Schmalz, thank you for seeing something in me. I am grateful for your leadership and, most of all, for your fellowship. And to Becky, thank you for nurturing this team, and most of all, thank you for loving Shelby the way you do."

Schmalz, who hired Sain before the 2017-2018 season, commented on Sain being the next man to lead the program, "Chase is going to do a terrific job of leading the Trojan Baseball Program. He has the respect of the players, parents, alums, and those surrounding the program."

"He has done a great job recruiting and developing players and will do a terrific job of taking the Trevecca Baseball program to the next level," Schmalz said. "The current and future Trojans are lucky to have Chase as their leader."

Coach Sain knows a coach is never alone and the support goes far deeper than just his new coaching staff, but throughout the campus and also the people who invested him along the way, "And to the other assistant coaches and our players, thank you guys for the support and prayers. I love what I do, and a big part of that is because of you all."

"I'd like to recognize the TNU coaches and our Athletic Department, thank you for welcoming Shelby and me the way that you have while I fulfill this position. We are humbled by it all."

"Lastly, to all the coaches I've played for and coached under, you've all made an indefinite impact on my life, and I won't ever forget it."

Before joining the Trojan coaching staff, Sain was an assistant at the University of Tennessee in Knoxville for the 2017 season. The Vols catching coach also served as the director of camps. He helped head coach Dave Serrano lead the Big Orange to a record of 27-25.

For two seasons (2016, 2015), Sain served on the staff at Middle Tennessee State University, where he served as an assistant under Blue Raider head coach Jim McGuire. Sain in the area of hitting, catcher coach, and coordinator of camps.

In the summer of 2014, Sain added to his resume coaching in the Cape Cod League as the hitting coach for the Hyannis Harbor Hawks.

For the 2013-2014 season, his coaching journey took him to nearby Victory University, where he served as the hitting coach and recruiter for the Eagles of head coach John Jarnagin. Victory finished 31-24 and placed fourth in the Small College World Series.

Sain served as a student-assistant coach for Head Coach Daron Schoenrock at the University of Memphis for two seasons. While at his alma mater, he coached catchers and assisted with coaching hitters. He created offensive and defensive drills while prepping pitchers inside the bullpen during games.

Sain graduated from Memphis with a bachelor's in interdisciplinary studies in August 2013.

Sain was a three-year letter winner on the University of Memphis baseball team. He started his coaching career as a student assistant for two seasons. As a catcher, Sain worked closely with pitching coach Fred Corral and the Tiger catchers throughout the season.

Sain was a four-year letter winner at Bolivar (TN) Central High School. The three-year starting catcher earned All-District, All-Region and All-West Tennessee honors in the 2005 season. Sain hit .440 with five home runs and 30 RBI in his senior campaign. His hitting acumen is manifest by his record 29-game hit streak at Bolivar.

Can You Afford the Years Beyond Your Healthspan?

We're all interested in the topic of lifespan. What's the average lifespan of men and women? What factors influence lifespan? What can I expect for my own lifespan? Yet, you may also want to think about your healthspan – that is, how long you will live in generally good health. How should you factor in your potential healthspan when creating your financial strategies?

To begin with, you'll want to be aware of the gap between lifespan and healthspan. Consider this: The average healthy life expectancy in the U.S. is only 68.5 years, according to World Bank data cited in the 2020 Edward Jones/Age Wave Four Pillars of the New Retirement study. This means that, on average, Americans can expect to spend about 10 years in poor health, which, unfortunately, is more than in most other developed countries.

Of course, everyone's situation is unique, and many variables are involved in the lifespan/healthspan comparison: differences in projected longevity between women and men, family health histories, environmental factors, and so on. And there are certainly plenty of people whose healthspans essentially match their lifespans – that is, they enjoy healthy, busy lives right up until the end. Yet, even the possibility that you could face a decade or more of less-than-ideal health in your retirement years should be cause for concern. The health issue, by itself, is already worrisome, but the accompanying threat to financial independence is also on people's minds. In fact, 72% of retirees say one of their biggest fears is becoming a burden on their families, according to the Four Pillars study.

So, given these concerns, here are a few moves to consider, possibly with the help of a financial professional:

Investigate long-term care protection. The costs of an extended nursing home stay can be exorbitant, and the services of a home health care aide are far from inexpensive, too. And retirees know it: Their greatest financial worry is paying for health care costs, including the cost of long-term care, again according to the Four Pillars study. Consequently, you may want to explore some type of long-term care protection – and the younger you are when you purchase this protection, the more affordable it tends to be.

Evaluate your investment mix. Even with Medicare and Medicare supplement plans, you will likely face significant out-of-pocket health care costs during your retirement years. To help pay these bills, you will need sufficient liquidity in your financial accounts. So, you may need to evaluate, and possibly adjust, your investment mix to make sure you've got adequate funds in liquid, low-risk vehicles. These types of securities won't offer much in terms of growth potential, but they do provide more stability of principal. You won't want to abandon all growth-oriented vehicles, though – even in retirement, you need to stay ahead of inflation.

Create a sustainable withdrawal rate. To help address your healthspan funding concerns, you'll also need to ensure you're not taking out too much money from your investment portfolio each year, especially during your first few years of retirement.

If you could see into the future, you'd know exactly where your lifespan intersected with your healthspan. But since this certainty is unattainable, you'll want to be prepared for whatever comes your way.

Tiger Teams Fall on Opening Night

Both Hardeman County teams fell on a night where offense was hard to come by for the home teams.

The only score of the night for either team came when an inside kick in the second half with Collinwood leading Middleton 24-0. The ball came to Middleton freshman Ashton Robbins, who returned it 54 yards for a touchdown. Middleton could do nothing else, falling 40-6, after trailing 16-0 at the half.

On the north side of the county, Bolivar struggled on offense as well, falling 44-0 to 5A opponent Brighton. Bolivar managed 54 yards in offense on the night and only 12 carries on the ground. The Tiger defense gave up 32 second quarter points in the loss.

Battle of Hardeman County Goes to Middleton

Middleton continued their dominance over Bolivar with a 3-0 (25-22, 25-19, 25-15) win on August 20, although the final score was the closest in the history of the series, which began when Bolivar started volleyball six years ago. The two teams are scheduled to meet again, in Middleton, on September 21.
