ONE DOLLAR

One For the Money...One More to Go?

Chancellor Tony Childress offered criticism and money in his ruling on the salary lawsuit brought by Hardeman County Sheriff John Doolen, but Doolen's response might lead one to think he is not done bringing his needs to a court of law.

"It appears that the judge's order will collectively increase deputies and correctional officers' pay by about $242,000 per year," began Doolen. "That is over $140,000 more per year than what was agreed to in the Consent Order that the mayor had set aside. While our office still needs more to be competitive, the judge's ruling proves the mayor's opposition to the initial $102,000 was wrong."

Doolen's assertion of $242,000 includes raises given to his employees since the lawsuit was filed in July of 2019. An amount between $130,000 and $145,000 is expected to be added to current salary levels beginning January 1, 2021. Doolen said it's a good start.

"We are grateful that the judge has ruled in favor of the men and women who put their lives on the line for Har-deman County," he continued. "The judge's ruling should mean that deputies get pay increases that are 22% more than they were making before we had to file the suit. Correctional officers (guards) should make between 14% and 27% more than they were making before we had to file suit. Other law enforcement and correctional officers also will benefit significantly."

Doolen's gratitude though, stopped short of satisfaction with where it puts him now.

"Still, the men and women of the sheriff's office will be paid far less than other law enforcement officers in our area. We still will be way understaffed. And we believe Hardeman County's citizens deserve better. The mayor and his lawyer refused to wrap every thing up in one lawsuit. So now we will have to go forward with the other case and try to get enough deputies and enough pay for deputies and jailers for the county."

Chancellor Childress began his report by saying Hardeman County Mayor Jimmy Sain was open to an increase for the sheriff's department.

"The mayor acknowledged at the beginning of the trial and during various other hearings in this matter that the sheriff's department was in need of additional funding," wrote Childress. "The sum of $102,000 was the amount of additional funding typically mentioned by the mayor."

Childress did not make his ruling without criticism of the application process by the sheriff and Doolen's attorney, Roy Herron of Dresden.

"The application did not contain all the specific information required, but was instead very general in nature, which left the court to wonder what it was specifically the sheriff was requesting."

Childress made observations about the Hardeman County Sheriff's Department losing employees over the past few years.

False Report Leads to Bolivar PD Crash

A Bolivar man is in jail following his arrest for filing a false report that contributed to a two-car crash of Bolivar Police Department vehicles.

According to the report obtained from the Bolivar Police Department, officers responded to 310 Sydney Circle for a burglary in progress after the caller stated his brother and his brother's girlfriend were stealing his car.

Upon arrival at the residence, Mr. George Bonner of Bolivar stated that Mario Bonner and Robinette Anderson had stolen his white Chevrolet Camaro.

As the officers tried to recover the thought-to-be-stolen vehicle, officers spotted the car at the intersection of Stevens Road and Market Street.

A subsequent attempt to turn around to conduct a traffic stop of the vehicle resulted in

New City Council Member to Be Chosen

The Bolivar City Council is expected to choose a new member of the council on December 14 to replace the departed Page Walley, who was elected to the Tennessee Senate in November.

The deadline for resumes to be submitted to the City of Bolivar was noon on December 9 and putting in for the West Bolivar spot were Barbara Fitzhugh, Dylan Hill, Brad Grantham, and Joyce McKinnie Woods. The replacement councilperson will serve until the May 2021 election.

The first business the new councilperson will have is to vote on the second reading of the proposed pay raise for council members.

In November, the Bolivar City Council passed a raise to $6,000 per year for each member on the first reading by a 4-2-1 vote. Walley did not vote on the issue.

The second vote, scheduled for the December 14 meeting, will have a public hearing prior to the vote on the change. In November, Melvin Golden, Suzanne Rhea, Carol Spinks, and Todd Lowe voted for the raise while Larry Crawford and Jonathan Joy voted no. Councilman Larry McKinnie abstained from the vote.

Hello from Toone, where more and more of you are making your homes "Merry and Bright" with festive Christmas decorations and lights! Seeing such beautiful holiday decorations certainly helps uplift our spirits after what we all have been through during this crazy year 2020, that has been much less than festive. Thank to all of you who decorated your homes for everyone to enjoy.

More blue benches have been installed at Toone City Park. Natalie Sowder and Jackie Kelley have been quite busy in helping to get exercise and motivational signs placed and installed in key areas throughout the park. When installation of the signs is completed at each station within the park you will find these signs with diagrams and instructions for low-impact exercises. The new lights, benches and exercise signs are all part of a grant that the town of Toone received to improve the park and help promote better health within our community. If you have not already done so, I urge you to visit our city park and utilize this nice facility.

Christmas break for all Hardeman County Schools begins, December 19, and students return to school, January 5. Students will go for only a half-day on December 18. I hope all of you kids and school faculty and staff enjoy this special time-off with your families during the holidays.

If you have not already noticed, we have a brand new business in Toone. Please join me in welcoming, "Rick's Lunch Box" food truck, located in the parking lot of Grantham's 100 Grocery at the intersection of Highway 100 and Highway 138. Ricky Grantham (who just happens to be Troy Grantham's nephew) is serving up a full menu of delicious sandwiches of all types, including burgers, hotdogs, Philly cheesesteak, BLT's, fried bologna and many, many more at very reasonable prices. I have already had a few of his sandwich creations, and they were quite tasty! So come on out to say hello and welcome Ricky to Toone, and while you are there, try one of his great sandwiches.

Attention all singers and musicians in Hardeman County. . . Auditions for "Hee-Haw" 2021 will be held at the Hardeman County Arts Council Theater, Thursday, December 17, 2020, beginning at 6:30 p.m. If you have always wanted to perform in the most successful Hee-Haw show in Tennessee, now is your chance to shine. The show's music director, Jeff Shackelford says they need singers and musicians for a limited number of spots. If you are interested or have any questions, please send an email to: hardemanheehaw@gmail.com.

Guidelines for Auditions are as follows: 1. Bring your sound track, instruments or sing acapella; 2. Temperatures will be taken at the door. 3. Masks will be required, except during audition performance. 4. Social distancing will be in effect. 5. Sign up sheets will be available upon arrival. 6. Doors open at 5:30 p.m.

Happy Birthday go out to our Teague Community neighbor, Amy McCarver Eubanks, who celebrated her big day, December 5. From what I understand, Amy's husband, Brandon, her daughter, Amy, and her parents, Larry and Amelia McCarver all made sure her birthday was a very special time!

Our good friend and neighbor, Jerry Siler, celebrated his birthday, December 7. Jerry has served as Toone's Police Chief for many years, and is also the one responsible for obtaining many of the funding grants that the town receives. He is also responsible for the many pieces of military equipment that the Town of Toone has received through a special government program. These pieces of equipment are eventually sold and help fund the Toone Police and Fire Departments. If you see Jerry out and about, wish him a very happy birthday.

Happy Birthday to our good neighbor and town administrator, Sheila Meredith Lucius, who celebrated her big day, December 8. If you have a chance, stop by Toone City Hall and wish Sheila a Happy Birthday!

Happy Birthday wishes also go out for our Cloverport Road neighbor, Jane Wright, who will celebrate her special day, December 12. Jane's husband, Bobby Wright, serves as our county commissioner from the Toone area. If you see Jane out and about around town, wish her a happy day.

I want to see more and more Christmas lights and decorations go up around town. Enjoy your holiday activities, but please be safe and follow all COVID-19 safety regulations. Until next time. . . talk to your neighbors!

It's beginning to look a lot like Christmas in Silerton! A big thank you goes to Jean Morris for letting us utilize her electricity to light up the park for Christmas. The playground fence is scheduled for installation next week.

Mary Lynn Lambert shares "Brenda Cooper was admitted to West Tennessee Transitional Care in Jackson for 21 days. Prayers are appreciated. Joie (Cupples) Freeman is suffering from a broken bone. She would appreciate prayers as well.

Steve and Linda (Hatch) Russell traveled to Gatlinburg with their son, Greg, and family on November 19-24. Linda reported they enjoyed driving through the mountains and going out to eat. She said the Christmas lights were beautiful and Gatlinburg was packed with tourists. The highlight of the trip was driving through Maggie Valley and seeing elk and the most bears they had ever seen.

Sarah Chandler, Silerton's oldest citizen, will celebrate her 98th birthday on December 19th. Let's help her celebrate by sending her birthday cards." Sarah Chandler, 22195 Highway 125 North, Bolivar, TN 38008.

Here are a few holiday recipes to get everyone in the holiday spirit:

The first recipe is from Linda Beshires. Linda shares the anecdote behind this family favorite. She writes, "when I worked at the Hardeman County Board of Education, ladies from St. James Episcopal Church in Bolivar were selling cook books. I worked with one of the members, Eleanor Sollmann and bought the cookbook from her. The pages are well worn from use after many years."

Chocolate Chess Pie: ½ Stick Butter, 1 ½ cups of sugar, 3 tablespoons cocoa, 2 beaten eggs, 1 small can pet milk, 1 tsp vanilla, 1 pinch of salt. Directions: Melt butter and set aside. Mix sugar and cocoa. Add eggs, milk, vanilla and salt. Mix well and stir in melted butter. Pour into unbaked pie crust and bake at 350 degrees until thick, 35 to 45 minutes.

This next recipe comes from Mary Lynn Lambert. The story behind the recipe is Frankie and Mary Lynn enjoyed this as a late night snack as they watched Hallmark Christmas movies with the lights blinking as they decorated their Christmas tree. Micro-Wane Cheese Dip: ½ lb lean ground beef, ½ lb sausage, 1 lb velveeta cheese, ½ onion, ½ c picante relish (mild), ½ c cream of mushroom soup, ½ t garlic powder.

I would love to print some more Silerton holiday recipes. If you have a special one to share please call or email!

Hello to all! Hoping everyone is doing well! I was glad I got to watch a couple of games with the Hornsby basketball teams. I have several special children who play or cheer who hold a special place in my heart. I am so very proud of each one of them. Would love to hear from people in the community of any news that they would like to share. Please reach out to me and I will be happy to place it in the paper.

The children are practicing for their Christmas program, I pray all goes well and they get to perform. This past Sunday night after practice, the youth and children delivered fruit baskets to people in the community. We will be doing the food boxes this coming Sunday night. We are happy the children take part in these missions, we pray they will always have serving hearts. The adults practice specials after bible study on Sunday nights, we would love to have more people come join. Remember to check the church app for any community news they might share.

Prayer is a powerful thing and I know there are a lot of wonderful folks who are happy to pray for you or someone you know. If you have a prayer request please let us know. Please continue to lift the following people up in your prayers: Lynn Allen, Mimi Anderson, Hugholene Barnes, Ricky Bass, Sue Day, Matthew Dorris, Norma Emerson, Rich Emerson, Nancy Foote, Robert Gibson, Beckett Gray, Thomas Green, Sue Hall, James Hanna, Marilyn Hanna, Richard Hazelwood, Justin Hodge, Sue Hodge, Willis Hornsby, Jo Edna Howell, Charley Johnson, Aubrey King, Lucy King, Wanda King, Debbie Laster, Bobbie McBride, Betty McMahan, Orville McMahan, Evan Nield, Ruth Parchman, Gay Pierce, Gail Pope, Melanie Ross, Stacy Spence, Ronna Spoon, Martyn Venuti, Tommy Warner, Eddie Webb, Joe West, Jennifer Wheeler, Piper Williams, the men and women who serve our country, the families of the ones who are fighting cancer, all the health care workers, those with COVID-19, the leaders of our country and especially the ones who are lost. His Word for the week, John 1: 9-14 "The true light, which gives light to everyone, was coming into the world. He was in the world, and the world was made through Him, yet the world did not know Him. He came to His own, and His own people did not receive Him. But to all who did receive Him, who believed in His name, He gave the right to become children of God, who were born, not of blood nor of the will of man, but of God. And the Word became flesh and dwelled among us, and we have seen His glory, glory as of the only Son from the Father, full of grace and truth." Praise God!!!

Let's keep our children, teachers and all those that work at the schools in prayers.

Joan Henderson submitted funny for the week: Sunday after Church, a mom asked her very young daughter what the lesson was about. The daughter answered, "Don't be scared, you'll get your quilt." Needless to say, the mom was perplexed. Later in the day, the preacher stopped by for tea and the mom asked him what that morning's Sunday school lesson was about. He said, "Be not afraid, thy comforter is coming."

FAITH

Advent Week 3 by Jeff Capshaw

Last week's column started this Advent series with week two. Advent pertains to Christ's birth, but there is also a sense of Advent related to Messiah's Second Coming.

As noted, the Scriptures in the series are taken from the Revised Common Lectionary: a three-year cycle of weekly lections used to varying degrees by mainline Protestant churches in Canada and the United States.

Last week's reading was Mark 1:1-8, a passage introducing John the Baptist as the messenger of Yahweh. He burst on the scene as an enigmatic, prophetic figure saying, "prepare the way of the Lord, make his paths straight." Moreover, he claimed, "after me comes he who is mightier than I, the strap of whose sandals I am not worthy to stoop down and untie. I have baptized you with water, but he will baptize you with the Holy Spirit" (Mark 1:1-8, ESV).

This week's suggested reading (John 1:6-8, 19-28) continues with the Apostle John's presentation of the Baptist and his message. The Apostle summarizes the Baptist's ministry. "There was a man sent from God, whose name was John. He came as a witness, to bear witness about the light, that all might believe through him. He was not the light, but came to bear witness about the light" (1:6-8, ESV).

Both Evangelists make clear, in their narratives about and the words on the lips of John the Baptist himself, that he isn't the focus. Instead, the Baptizer is a testifier to the prominent one Jesus. This fact is more vivid in the second part of this week's Gospel reading.

It says, "and this is the testimony of John, when the Jews sent priests and Levites from Jerusalem to ask him, "Who are you?" He confessed, and did not deny, but confessed, "I am not the Christ." And they asked him, "What then? Are you Elijah?" He said, "I am not." "Are you the Prophet?" And he answered, "No." So they said to him, "Who are you? We need to give an answer to those who sent us. What do you say about yourself?" He said, "I am the voice of one crying out in the wilderness, 'Make straight the way of the Lord,' as the prophet Isaiah said"

(John 1:19-23).

The Baptist denies that he is the Christ. Further, just as Mark did in last week's reading, the Old Testament Prophet Isaiah is cited as proof that the forerunner must appear before the Messiah. The Jewish leaders, who should have known their Scriptures, continue to press the Baptist for answers. To paraphrase, they asked how was he qualified to baptize, if not the Messiah, if not Elijah, and if not the Prophet?

The Baptist answered, "I baptize with water, but among you stands one you do not know, even he who comes after me, the strap of whose sandal I am not worthy to untie" (1:27). In other words, if Jesus is missed, the light is missed, and the whole point is missed. Don't fall into that Christmas trap.

Isolation Effects by David Coy

No one would deny that we are living through extraordinary life circumstances and experiences. This has been a life changing year to say the least. Though there truly has been dangerous risks involved for many people especially the very aged and individuals with co-morbidity issues, there is one change to a particular demographic that has been largely overlooked: effects of forced isolation or quarantine. As an example let us look at a study conducted by the University of Oregon that sent a digital questionnaire, at first weekly, and then, beginning in August, biweekly to a representative group of a thousand American families with young children. They were curious about how they and their kids were doing. They learned some alarming and troubling information.

Parents observed regressive behavior in their children, behavior that they had learned previously in their life had now been unlearned. The University learned that children were wetting their bed, other kids who previously slept soundly were difficult to become restful the whole night through. They also discovered a very sudden increase in separation anxiety, while others took a long time to go to sleep. Children were becoming fussy and defiant, more fearful or anxious, more frequent tantrums and incessant, escalating sibling fighting, etc. One young mother worried over extended isolation was devastating to her child's mental health.

Is this a relevant danger or risk that we as a global society should be worried about with our children and grandchildren? News reports abound from all over the world with the rise in mental health issues among adults. Yet, adults are not the only group affected. Let us show concern for all of us. Stay Safe

Wear a Mask

First of all, no one is going to force you to wear a mask. But wearing a mask when around others is one of the most important things people can do, not only to protect themselves, but to protect others.

A lot of people who have coronavirus don't know it. By wearing a mask, you are reducing the probability of transmitting infected particles — that you may not know you are carrying — to other people and surfaces. Everyone is protecting someone by wearing a mask.

COVID Threatens Bolivar Basketball

The Bolivar Central Lady Tigers Basketball team had two players test positive for COVID-19 and will not be able to play until at least December 16.

And with the girls not being able to play, three games for the boys suffered the same fate, as Jackson North Side, Jackson South Side, and Sacred Heart refused to come to Bolivar Central.

Only one team kept their date with Bolivar without a girls game as Arlington visited Bolivar on December 8, beating the Tigers 88-80. Toris Woods led Bolivar with 28 points and 7 rebounds.

The girls had come off their second win of the season, a 52-47 win over McNairy Central on December 1. Carly Daniel led Bolivar with 21 points and 7 rebounds, while Brionna Brooks had 15 points and 7 boards. The celebration, though, was short-lived as the news came to the team a day later that they would sit out 14 days.

The Lady Tigers are scheduled to begin playing again on December 18, beginning the district season against Millington.

"We won't be able to practice until two days before," said Bolivar Head Coach Rick Rudesill. "And our first game is a district game."

Rudesill said he hoped he could schedule a game between now and their scheduled games against Millington.

Team Bo (Mike Nuckolls, Jim Nuckolls, Bub Stevens, and Thomas Stevens) increased their lead from thirteen to fifteen over Loaded with Laniers and the Four Horse People.

Any games not played in the week they are listed on the schedule will be tabulated in the week they are made up. Results are on A8.

Monday night's game in the Hardeman County Middle School Basketball championships saw Whiteville beat Hornsby 54-15 to advance to the final against Toone, who defeated Middleton 38-35. Thursday night's championship game is believed to be the first time Toone has played for the championship on the boys side.

The girls final will pit Whiteville, who beat Hornsby 37-19 against Middleton, who defeated Toone 45-17.

The tournament is being played without Bolivar, who are in a larger schools district and will play their tournament at a later date.

The entire tournament is being broadcast by WMOD (96.7 FM) Radio.

This program is a collaborative partnership between Governor's Early Literacy Foundation, Dolly Parton's Imagination Library and the Hardeman County Imagination Library. The ultimate goal of this program is to improve the educational outcome of our children. This is one of the best available resources that we have to offer in order to prepare the next generation for success in school, and in life. On behalf of Hardeman County children and the Hardeman County steering committee we extend our greatest appreciation to Simmons Bank for their continued community support for the children of Hardeman County.

Christmas Came Early!

Remington Gage Collins, 15, the son of Craig and Candace Collins of Saulsberry, harvested his first deer recently.

He loves hunting, fishing, and well just about anything else outside. While hunting at his Uncle Leroy's, he missed this buck a few weeks ago. He told his Mom all about it, and that he was going to get it. On Sunday, December 6, 2020 he did just that!

He shot his first deer and to make Christmas even better it was a 9 point!

Congratulations to you Gage! We are so proud of you and we LOVE you BIG!

*Special thanks to you Cookie, for keeping this kid fed and letting him live at your house on the weekends so he can hunt!!

Kelly Named Top Firefighter for 2020

Bolivar Fire Chief Lynn Price announced that William R. (Russ) Kelly of Bolivar has been named the 2020 Firefighter of the Year for the Bolivar Fire Department.

Russ joined the department on January 4, 2019, as a volunteer firefighter, and achieved certification through the Tennessee Fire and Codes Academy (TFACA) in February 2019. He was hired as a career firefighter with the department on May 2, 2019, and completed the Engineer course requirements in November 2019.

"During Russ' tenure with the department, he has excelled in all of his fire service operations courses and training. He has provided countless hours of service in fire suppression and operational support roles, and has demonstrated his commitment to our community by providing quality public fire safety education programs to the public. His willingness to serve in every facet of the department's operations has earned him this most prestigious honor," said Fire Chief Lynn Price.

The award was presented to Russ during a small, informal gathering on Friday, December 4, 2020, with his family and fellow firefighters present.

Kelley Sworn-In as Mayor of Toone

Jackie Kelley of Toone was sworn-in as the first female Mayor of Toone in the town's history on December 8, by Judge Charles Cary.

Kelley will begin her term as mayor under a cloud of uncertainty, as her 51-50 victory has been contested by runner-up David Wayne Williamson.

Williamson sued on November 24, after the results were certified by the Hardeman County Election Commission, asking for the race to be declared a tie as his wife was unable to vote for him on election day due to what he has said was an error at the polls.

The narrative in the lawsuit says while Williamson and his daughter received the proper ballot on election day, his wife, Darla J. Williamson, voting at a separate time, did not. Instead, she received a ballot that did not have the Toone Municipal Election included. According to the lawsuit, she asked an election official why she was unable to cast her vote in the Toone Election but did not get an answer or a resolution of her issue before leaving the polling place.

The suit concludes that since Mrs. Williamson would have cast her vote for her husband, but was not able to, the result of the election should have been a tie between Williamson and Kelley.

Election night ended with Kelley leading 51-50, but with a possible provisional ballot still unverified and uncounted and a certain recount to be done. After the provisional vote was not verified and a recount was done, the Hardeman County Election Commission certified the 51-50 win for Kelley on November 17.

If Williamson were to prevail, the Toone Board of Aldermen could call for a run-off election or have the Toone Board of Aldermen vote to decide the issue.

The remaining aldermen were sworn-in on December 8.

Are You Still Planning to Retire Early?

Have your retirement plans changed because of COVID-19? If so, you have plenty of company. Nearly 40 percent of those planning to retire say the pandemic has disrupted their intentions, according to the Edward Jones/Age Wave Four Pillars of the New Retirement study. You might have been thinking about retiring early – can you still do so?

Even without a crisis, it's not a bad idea to review your important life goals from time to time. So, in thinking about the possibility of early retirement, consider these factors:

Your retirement lifestyle – Your ability to retire early depends somewhat on what sort of lifestyle you're anticipating during your retirement years. If you think you'll be traveling extensively or pursuing expensive activities, you might not be able to afford to retire as early as someone with more modest ambitions. Of course, there's no "right" or "wrong" way of living in retirement – we all have our own dreams and preferences. But be aware that different lifestyles do carry different price tags – and have different effects on when you can retire securely.

Sources of retirement income – Obviously, a key factor in knowing whether you can retire early is the amount of retirement income you can rely on. So, you'll have to assess all your sources: Social Security, any other pensions you might receive, and your investment portfolio, including your 401(k) and IRA. The amounts you receive from these sources will depend on a variety of factors.

For Social Security, the longer you wait until collecting, the larger your monthly payments (although they will "top out" when you reach 70, excluding cost-of-living adjustments). In regard to your investments and retirement accounts, you'll need to establish a withdrawal rate that's appropriate for the length of time you expect to be retired. So, by adjusting these variables – taking Social Security earlier or later, taking more or less money from your retirement accounts – you can help determine if the retirement date you had in mind is viable.

Your feelings about work – Your goals are not static – they can change in response to any number of reasons, both external and personal. When you first decided you wanted to retire early, you might have been motivated by, among other things, a weariness of your current job. But has that changed over time? Have you found new challenges that interest you at work? Or, if you were forced by the pandemic to work remotely, did you actually enjoy the arrangement and want to continue it?

After all, many employers have found that their workers can be just as productive working at home, so, even when we've gotten past COVID-19, we might see a sizable shift in the geography of the workplace. In any case, if your feelings about work have changed in some way, leading you to think you could work longer than originally planned, you'd likely gain some financial advantages. You'd make more money, for starters, but you'd also keep building your 401(k) and IRA, and you could even possibly delay taking Social Security.

The pandemic may lead to a reevaluation of many financial goals – and taking early retirement might be one of them. By thinking carefully about your situation and your options, you can come up with a course of action that's right for you.

OUR COUNTY

The Editor's Inbox...Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,

Our families moved to Bolivar about one year ago from California. As new citizens of Tennessee, we would like to say that this has been a wonderful experience. The people we have met have been very friendly, outgoing, and helpful.

We have not been able to enjoy too much sightseeing yet due to the COVID-19 virus as well as other personal things we needed to address first. However, the places we have had time to visit are very remarkable and lovely. Save one thing that we mostly noticed wherever we have gone - is the appalling amount of litter and trash we noticed along many of the highways and roadways and as such, a distraction to what otherwise is a beautifully green and lovely state.

When we arrived here last year, it was at nighttime and we did not notice the litter and trash along the roadways. Upon awakening and going to our newly acquired residence we were shocked to see the amounts of litter along the roads etc.

Apparently, perhaps the citizens of this fine State of Tennessee need to advocate the young to volunteer to help clean up the local town and county roadways. We have also been helping to clean up litter along some roadways. How much better it would be if folks would just stop randomly tossing litter and some trash from their car windows and making not only the roads and parks look bad but also the properties of home and landowners. Not only is it disgusting to see the litter and trash, but this problem is also detrimental to the environment as well as to the wildlife that depend on clean water and uncontaminated food sources. We notice signs regarding fines for littering but perhaps that is not being enforced.

Many towns and cities depend on tourism and new industries to improve their economies. How sad it is to think of all the business that might be lost here because of the littering eyesore prevalent throughout many areas of the state.

We hope this letter will serve to draw more attention to this problematic issue and instill some pride in people's minds and hearts, so Tennessee once again stays green and beautiful.

Sincerely Yours, Nancy Korling

Mood Swing:::::

Emma's holding the total tally of the weekend hunt. Although the sloughs seemed to be stacked deep with woodies, very few flew by us. As for "Big Ducks," we saw a handful Saturday and the same Sunday. It's obvious acorns are not the preferred food their menu when they (ducks) enter our airways. With fingers crossed I can only hope my screams are being heard. Emma is the next generation of duck hunting. She hears constant stories of duck hunts from the past. We all know, "things" change, when I was her age the skies were full of migrating ducks. They were crammed packed full of acorns. Ducks Unlimited during my hay day spread the word "Ducks for the Future." I'm still waiting on my dividend of that investment. You can believe this, "if" ducks come through our area:::: I'll Be There!! As Always, SAFETY FIRST:::: HOOT enforcement is competitive, and law enforcement agencies compete with one another for experienced and competent personnel. While it is not the only factor, salaries and benefits are a significant factor in being competitive in this marketplace. Roughly 130 to 140 employees left the employment of the sheriff's department during the time period that spanned 2014 through 2018. Salaries and work conditions are the two primary factors that affect retention of employees. Some pay scales of the employers in the area with whom this sheriff's department competes for human resources are higher and some of them are lower than the pay scales of this department."

Childress gave credit to the county for an attempt to raise salaries, but said pay was a big reason for turnover.

"Over the past several years the leadership of Hardeman County has made great efforts and significant progress increasing the compensation it offers to its employees, and a sizable number of people who left their employment during this span of years left for reasons other than pay. However, during that span of years, pay/benefits were the primary reason the majority of people left their employment sheriff's department and sought employment elsewhere."

Childress wrote the turnover has hurt the department's ability to do all they need to do.

"The sheriff's department has had an unacceptable number of legal papers, roughly 3,000, of various types that have not been served. The sheriff also has some difficulties covering court proceedings and transporting inmates and juveniles. There are several reasons why these papers have not been served and for the other and for the other difficulties the sheriff department has experienced, but lack of staffing is not one of those reasons. Instead, the principal reason behind these issues is employee turnover. Employee turnover results in a lack of experienced staff and frequent vacancies, and inexperienced personnel and frequent vacancies are hindering the sheriff's ability to carry out his statutorily mandated duties such as serving legal papers, providing court security, and transporting and housing inmates."

But Childress went back to his assertion more money is needed.

"The primary reason behind the employee turnover in this department is pay, and an adjustment upward in salaries is needed to remove these difficulties."

But it has a limit, according to Childress.

"A pay increase or pay schedule on the scale recommended by the parties' consultant in his testimony or requested by the sheriff in his testimony is not needed at this time."

Childress concluded with a few points.

"The issue the sheriff currently faces is not the number of staff he has in his employment, but is instead retaining employees," and "the sheriff did not establish that a pay increase or pay schedule on such a grand scale is needed at this time," and "the sheriff is prohibited from receiving more from this court than he requested be appropriated by Hardeman County's legislative body in the budget he presented to that body."

Childress then presented his finding that deputies be given from $1,750-$2,500 and those working as jailers be increased from $.75 to $1.47 an hour, depending on their current rate of pay.

Childress set the timing of the increase as well.

"While a salary adjustment to July 2019 could be made, these adjustments are to take place beginning January 1, 2021."

Childress' findings of fact and conclusions of law and order said he will rule on the attorney's requests for compensation at a later date.

"With the exception of the claims for attorneys fees, costs and expenses, which will be addressed in separate findings and conclusions, the sheriff did not establish by the required standard proof that he is entitled to any further relief on any other claim he may have brought."

Hardeman County Mayor Jimmy Sain commented on the ruling.

"After reviewing the court's finding of fact, conclusions of law and order, it is apparent that the Chancellor put much time and consideration into the order. As I have said before and during the proceedings, the county employees deserved additional funding, but the amount had to be sustainable by the County. The salary adjustments awarded are sustainable, and I am grateful that the financial condition of the County will allow the raises. It is my belief that, if the Sheriff would have presented these increases to the Budget Committee and Commission for the 2019 budget, they would have been approved without litigation. I sincerely hope, for the sake of our constituents, that we have learned that litigation is not the answer."

No information on a possible appeal of the ruling by either side was obtained.

Following the passing of the 2019-2020 budget, Hardeman County Sheriff John Doolen sued for more support in July of 2019. The issue was seemingly settled in October 2019 after then Hardeman County Attorney Chip Cary and Attorney Roy Herron came to an agreement. Cary presented it to the county commission in a special called meeting as the sheriff's department, who originally sought and sued for approximately $1.4 million dollars, settled for $102,000.

At the October 8, 2019 meeting, the vote went 13-1 in favor of ending the lawsuit with the settlement. While both sides claimed lack of adherence to the settlement terms, Attorney Amber Griffin Shaw filed a Motion to Set Aside the Consent Order on behalf of Sain on February 10, citing numerous problems with the consent order. Herron eventually gave up on the settlement, setting up trial dates over the next seven months, with some delays due to the COVID-19 pandemic.
