ONE DOLLAR

From the Other Side of the Desk

Stories of Christmases past have been heard this week.

My favorite Christmas story so far this year is the story of a man and a wife who got a bicycle for their young child.

Not wanting to have the youngster discover the present before the big day, they hid it in the attic.

So on Christmas Eve, when many toys are put together (and then played with by the adults to make sure they run right - like the race car track I got) it seems our hero was up in the attic putting together the bike.

Now this guy knew what he was doing with tools, and it was a quick job.

Well, that is, until he decided to bring it downstairs to place next to the tree for the big surprise in the morning. This was when he discovered the bike would not fit through the attic door.

What ensued afterward, according to my friend, is not going to be in a Hallmark Christmas movie, but the kid got the bike and the special knowledge that Santa's vocabulary had expanded beyond, "Ho, Ho, Ho, Merry Christmas!"

The other story that comes to mind was when I needed the entire family, the Army Corps of Engineers, a lawsuit, and a pack of Wrigley's Spearmint Gum to build the Barbie Dream House.

Anyway, we hope you enjoy our annual Christmas issue, with essays, drawings, and the traditional letters to Santa.

Merry Christmas from the Bolivar Bulletin Times.

Luez Says Welcome Back

The Luez Theatre reopened to the public on December 14, with an opening night capacity crowd in the renovated circa 1948 theatre.

The 216 tickets for the event sold out in a pre-sale on December 13 in an hour and twenty one minutes.

The theatre is planning, for the time being, to screen movies Thursday through Sunday each week.

Purchased by the Bolivar Downtown Development Corporation (DEVCO) in 2013, the project was funded by DEVCO and through grants obtained by the City of Bolivar and the Bolivar Main Street organization.

County Re-Ups with Hospital Wing

Hardeman County Mayor Jimmy Sain announced that the county has signed another contract with Hospital Wing of Memphis for Hardeman County air medical transportation.

The Hospital Wing Membership program covers every citizen of Hardeman County guaranteeing that the members do not incur "out of pocket" expenses when being transported by Hospital Wing. Members will not be billed any additional charges over the amount that has been paid by insurance or other medical benefits when transported.

"This will be the fifth year with Hospital Wing. All emergency medical calls for air transport by emergency crews in Hardeman County will be Hospital Wing unless another carrier is specifically requested by the patient or family," Mayor Sain stated. "There is no doubt that having air medical transport as part of our EMS team has assisted in saving lives."

Hospital Wing is a non-profit air medical transport which provides inter-hospital transfers as well as emergency scene calls within 250 mile radius of Memphis. This area includes West Tennessee, Arkansas, Mississippi, Missouri, Alabama, and Kentucky.

Hospital Wing owns seven helicopters equipped to transport critically ill and injured patients. Six helicopters are staffed 24 hours a day, seven days a week and one helicopter is available for PediFlite.

They transport an average of 250 patients per month with 60% of these being trauma related. Scene flights account for approximately 35% of these transports.

Heinzen to Retire from HCCHC

After more than 23 years of service to the Hardeman County Community Health Center and affiliates in West Tennessee, CEO Mary Heinzen will retire.

"I'm sad to stop doing what I'm doing," she said, noting the facilities have grown from one to four, with employees going from seven on her first day to more than 60 today. And the potential is for more for the area.

"It's limitless," she said. "We continue to expand services and benefit our communities."

Heinzen came to Hardeman County from Nashville, where she had worked for the State of Tennessee as a Director in Youth Development for the previous 18 years.

The Hardeman County Community Health Center's reach includes clinics in Bolivar, Stanton, and Henderson. Also, this year the Hardeman County Community Health Center partnered with the Hardeman County Schools to offer a clinic for students, faculty, and staff at Bolivar Elementary School.

Heinzen's replacement is expected to begin work on January 14. Heinzen will stay on for four months to assist with the transition.

OUR COUNTY

Charity Gives Bikes for Christmas

The Brad Deming Memorial Bicycle Fund distributed bikes on December 17 in Hardeman County for their 4th Annual Holiday Bicycle giveaway, giving away 156 bikes at the six schools that have elementary school children.

“We appreciate the opportunity to partner with the foundation in providing bicycles to our students. We look forward to continuing this partnership in the years to come and are most appreciative of all the efforts to make this a special Christmas for our young students and helping to uphold Brad's vision,” said Warner A. Ross II, Hardeman County Director of Schools.

The charity also gave away bicycles in Carroll and Gibson Counties as well as to Centerstone of Tennessee's Southwest region.

The Brad Deming Memorial Bicycle Fund, based in Bolivar, is a non-profit 501(c)(3) based charity that was started by Brad Deming in the fall of 2015. Brad's vision for “Hunting to Help” was to provide bicycles to less fortunate children in Hardeman County at Christmas. Following Brad's death on April 8, 2018, the charity's name changed to “The Brad Deming Memorial Bicycle Fund” and continues to grow in his memory.

Woodrun Treats MHDS to Christmas Party

Almost 80 Madison Haywood Developmental Services (MHDS) clients were treated to a Christmas luncheon at the Woodrun Community Club House. They enjoyed the traditional Christmas feast of turkey, dressing, ham and all the trimmings plus a huge assortment of desserts. Many took advantage of the Club House activity room, playing air hockey, ping pong, and shooting pool.

In addition to the lunch, each guest was presented a “goody bag” and a gift card. The Middleton Civitan club donated a number of the cards and many residents of the community donated money to purchase the rest.

“We have them out to our house three times a year for boating, fishing and cookouts. Usually there are about 30 in attendance. This time there were about 80. It was a great success so we are going to make this our fourth annual activity,” said Bob Wheeler, who along with his wife, Brenda, spearheaded the event.

Woodrun residents David and Laura Adkins, Lynn and Misty Crowley, and Gary Barrowclough helped the Wheelers with cooking and serving. They were also assisted by managers and employees of MHDS. Hardeman County Sheriff's Department Lt. Tommy Woods and two deputies handed out the gifts. “Our guests were impressed law enforcement were passing out the gifts. I want to thank Sheriff Doolen for sending them out” said Wheeler.

MHDS provides care for developmentally disabled adults. The Bolivar location serves clients in the Hardeman County area. The organization provides a day center and also residential services.

Pastors Host Joint Advent Service

Grand Junction United Methodist Church recently hosted the first Annual Community Advent Service. Congregations from all across the area were invited to attend. Four pastors, (left to right) Rev. Troy Styers, Grand Junction Baptist, Rev. Michael Rhyan, Jones Chapel MB, Rev. David Harstin, host pastor, and Rev. Dr. Barney Gordon, St. James Episcopal along with several members of the congregation conducted the service.

Approximately 60 people celebrated together. Following the worship service guests were invited to a reception in the church fellowship hall.

The Final Sacrifice by Jeff Capshaw

Hebrews 10:5-10 is the final Epistle reading for this Advent season. Hebrews is rich in Old Testament allusions and imagery as well as numerous, explicit citations of the Old Testament. The writer masterfully shows readers how Jesus fulfills or completes the Old Covenant. Simply put, Hebrews teaches us how properly to read the Old Testament.

Even Jesus himself explained this to some Old Testament scholars of his day. He said, you search the Scriptures because you think that in them you have eternal life; and it is they that bear witness about me . . . (John 5:39). Moreover, Luke recounts Jesus' instructing two of his disciples on the road to Emmaus regarding the Old Testament; and beginning with Moses and all the Prophets, he explained to them what was said in all the Scriptures concerning himself (Luke 24:27).

Likewise, the writer of Hebrews reminds us also that all the Old Testament points to Jesus. God accommodated Himself to Ancient Israel by using the language, conventions and specified religious practices to communicate His revelation to them. By extension, the New Testament writers accommodate us by showing how all Scripture coheres in Jesus.

Thus, the writer of Hebrews interprets those "shadows" and "figures" of the Old Testament as types pointing to their ultimate anti-type: Jesus. Consider the following texts. The law is only a shadow of the good things that are coming . . . (Hebrews 10:1), and the Old Testament tabernacle . . . was only a copy of the true one . . . (Hebrews 9:24).

Hebrews begins long ago, at many times and in many ways, God spoke to our fathers by the prophets, but in these last days he has spoken to us by his Son . . . (1:1-2). Thus, Jesus is both the ultimate and last revelation from God; He is the final Word. But that isn't all.

Jesus is also the only, ultimate and final sacrifice for sin; . . . we have been sanctified through the offering of the body of Jesus Christ once for all (Hebrews 10:10). The Old Testament sacrificial system merely served as object lessons for Jesus' sacrifice to make sense. For it is impossible for the blood of bulls and goats to take away sins (10:4). Those sacrifices were like pictures of spiritual realities, not the reality itself.

Advent celebrates the coming of the ultimate, the real, the truly efficacious sacrifice. It is God Himself taking on a human body. As this Sunday's Epistle reading says, consequently, when Christ came into the world, he said, "Sacrifices and offerings you have not desired, but a body have you prepared for me" (10:5).

"Hail, th' incarnate Deity: Pleased, as man, with men to dwell, Jesus, our Emmanuel!"

Sunrise: Holiday Blues 2 by David Coy

Holidays are associated with the gathering of family together. While there may involve the giving and exchanging of gifts, the festive attitude is usually very positive. There also is planning that is involved and the degree of this depends upon the number of people that will participate and how elaborate the get together. Involved in these gatherings may be years of traditions of how to prepare and what exactly is to consist during the gathering. The food that is cooked, the decorations that are hung, the place of the gathering, who is to do the cooking, and those who are invited. My youthful memories of Thanksgiving and the December holiday, which involved decorating the inside of the house, the setting up of a real fir tree with tinsel, lights, and decorative bulbs, a skirt draped over and around the tree stand with wrapped presents also surrounding and on top of the skirt drapery.

For some, the approach of holiday traditions is one of dread. Nothing of the prior traditions is something they look forward to participating in any way. Nothing in the festive spirit, not the planning, not the decorating, not the attendance, and not the place are part of a desired event. Some people are perplexed as to what to do, while others want to change the traditions, but what and how? In my judgment nothing exists that cannot be changed for the individual. A person may not be able to change tradition for a group, but certainly can for themselves. One may choose to go to a different place and totally change the environment and circumstances, or one could choose to discontinue any tradition at all. Of course, it depends how strong individually a person is whether they can do this alone or with support. There are no set rules, you develop them. Make your own tradition. Sometimes Magic Happens:::

With floodwater, we always expect to see ducks. Last Sunday, we had just that, plus, full blown sunshine. The stars came together and BAM, there were the ducks!! Although there wasn't any wind to help, we managed to scratch down some. Just seeing ducks in the air was bittersweet eye candy. When we see ducks in the air, it won't be long before the shooting starts, and "it" did.

Got fingers and toes crossed for this morning. Whatever it is, I'll be there!! Duck hunters will understand this: we were lucky enough to get a Drake Widgeon (a prize) in our part of the world.

As Always::: SAFETY FIRST::: HOOT

Hello, and Merry Christmas from the festive Town of Toone, where the Christmas Spirit is in full swing! Lights are up, yards are decorated and most of us are busy attending various Christmas parties and programs at our churches and schools. Back at home there are pies, cakes and cookies being baked, turkeys are being thawed, hams glazed, tables set with the finest linens and china, and many of us are making a final quick trip to the store to pick-up that last-minute gift. For the most part, my shopping is complete, but there are a few stocking stuffers I still need to pick-up. As many of you with grandchildren are aware, it's difficult to know when to stop buying extra little gifts for them. Thank goodness for our local businesses where I can shop without having to fight the traffic and crowded stores in Jackson or Memphis. I hope we would all consider shopping with our local merchants here in our county before we make the trip out of town. This is money that stays here in and helps provide resources and jobs for us and our neighbors.

This Sunday, December 23, is causal Come As You Are Sunday at Toone Baptist Church. Brother Anthony and the congregation invites everyone to get comfortable and come worship with them. On Sunday, December 30, Toone Baptist Church welcomes, Ryan Zawacki, as their guest speaker. Ryan will deliver the sermon aimed at promoting Volunteer Awareness. The church is asking for a special love offering to aid Ryan on his upcoming missionary trip to Ecuador.

Each holiday season, the residents on Neely Street in Toone go all-out to show their Christmas Spirit by lighting-up their houses and yards for their neighbors to enjoy. This year is no exception, so load up the family and drive through town and enjoy the holiday decorations! I would like to take this time to wish you all a very Merry Christmas! During this time of year we sometimes become so involved in the hustle and bustle of the holidays that we tend to lose sight of what is really important. This is a time to remember the reason for the season and to gather close with family and friends to celebrate together, so slow down and enjoy this special time together. Merry Christmas to you all. Until next time. . . . talk to your neighbors!

Hello to all! Well Sunday was a wonderful day! The children did an awesome job as they put on their Christmas program "The Little Drummer Boy". The church was packed with people standing and the kids were excited! Thank you for everyone who came out to show to your love and support to these kids, it meant a lot. That afternoon was another blessing when the church delivered food boxes to some families in the community.

Thank you to everyone who helped contribute to the Love Thy Neighbor ministry. Wednesday night the adult choir got together for some food, fellowship, and a Christmas ornament party. Sunday night will be the candle light service, this is my favorite every year. We would love to see a packed crowd that night, it is one of the most special services you will ever attend.

The community is looking very festive as some long awaited lights have been put up on the electric poles in the city. It is a very pretty site to see this for the first time ever in Hornsby. I personally am very thankful to be a part of this sweet community. Please remember to be careful as you are out during this very busy time since the children are dismissed from school until after the first of the year. If there is any church in the community that would like for me to share their news please let me know. I know our prayer list is long but please lift these people up I know there are more out there. Please remember to pray for the following: Kathy Anthony, Sydni Aylor, Laura Baker, Terry Baker, Ricky Baker, Max Beck, Scott Bishop, Greg Breeden, Melanie Bowers, Eddie Bryant, Lavonia Clay, Amanda Cornelius, Kenneth Crawford, Sue Day, Elynor DeBerry, Ed Emerson, Rachilda Emerson, Rich Emerson, Shirley Emerson, Sherry Doles, Esther Galigher, Carl Gibson, Robert Gibson, Sue Hall, James Hanna, Kristian Harris, Richard Hazelwood, Joy Herriman, Janya Hertweck, Sue Hodge, Jo Edna Howell, Margaret Howell, Wade Howell, Kathleen Hindman, Charley Johnson, Ann Kelly, Aubrey King, Jaxon King, Debbie Laster, Shirley Lindsey, Nell Maddox, Sandy Malone, Bobbie McBride, Betty McMahan, Orville McMahan, Evan Niell, Lockie Newman, Joyce Overton, Gay Pierce, Grace Plunk, Eloise Poole, Gail Pope, Paula Prince, Keith Raines, Stacy Spence, Ronna Spoon, Susan Thompson, Marshall Tucker, Bertha Vaughn, Martyn Venuti, Josh Walton, Eddie Webb, Jennifer Wheeler, Piper Williams, Carolyn Worley, Monica Yopp, the men and women who serve our country, the families of the ones who are fighting cancer, and especially the lost.

The Editor's Inbox...Letters to the Editor

I have a story that I would like to share in hopes that no one else has to experience the pain, hurt and embarrassment my children and I experienced on Sunday afternoon 12/2/18 at Walmart in Bolivar, TN.

We had just gotten out of church and decided to go to our local Walmart to get a Christmas tree and some other items. As we were shopping my boys ages 15-17 were playing around and were talking about a lady employee following us. They said Momma that woman keep following us, and one of my boys said she must think we gonna steal this tree jokingly. I turned around and seen her, but I said maybe she looking for something or someone. We went over to the section were the milk was and I turned to get something and when I turned around the lady and the assistant manager had two of my boys talking to them. I walked over and asked was there a problem. My son said she is accusing us of stealing cell phones a week ago. I turned to the lady and stated what's going on, and she looked at me with this disgusted look, and said it's handled. I said no! I'm their mother and you accusing them of stealing a week ago. I wanna know what you're talking about. She stood there and said "I don't want to talk to you, you probably were the one that was helping them steal" out loud in the open in front of customers. I became very upset and went off and told her we don't steal amongst other few words and she stood there and said I got proof it's on video. I said ok let's call the police and settle this cause I for a fact am not on a video stealing anything and I don't raise my children to steal. The assistant manager that was with her said it's not a big deal ma'am. My response was oh yes it is a big deal when we're being followed around Walmart like we're some criminals and you come and accuse my children of stealing and lying in front of customers and I'm standing right here. You don't address my kids like that you come to me. I then said, but we can settle this cause I know how I raise my kids and if their doing something they're not suppose to I wanna know. The lady responded fine I'll be in my office pulling the tape. I then called the police and waited for their arrival. Afterwards, I called my sister Denicia Marcell to come because I was so upset and I needed someone their to make sure I stayed out of jail. It was just killing me inside looking at my son face as he was upset at what was happening. My kids are my world and I raise them to do right. I am a nurse I help people, it's not what I do it's who I am. I am an active member of the OES (Order of Eastern Star) where we serve our community by volunteering and giving back. I also include my children in our volunteer work when possible teaching them the importance of giving back not stealing. I am a foster parent and I help children and most of all I am a child of God. I was hurt at how she just went off and accused me of being there and helping them steal as I was trying to talk to her calmly about what was going on.

As Police Officer Futrell greets us at the service desk and we explained the situation he leads us to the back to the office. When we got to their office he knocks on the door, and the lady opens it and says... Officer only please.. Thank you.. With an attitude. We went live on FB so no one can say it didn't happen. So we're waiting in the hallway and finally he comes out with pictures and says..... Apparently they came in the store A MONTH AGO (not a week as the lady had stated to us) with some other kids and we're looking at video games and left the store like I'm sure hundreds of others did that same day. No criminal act was committed so their was nothing for him to do... But this lady stated to my 2 boys that she had them on camera stealing and she knew they were some juveniles but they were not gonna do nothing this time but don't let it happen again... But actually she just got them on camera standing there and leaving the store without purchasing anything...But I'm not even their that day and I was accused of helping them steal cell phones that same day.

The day that this occurred two of my boys went out to eat with my nephew, their cousin which is a girl and her friend who were all under 17 except my nephew who is 18, and they asked if they could just go walk around Walmart before coming home and we said yes. Who knew that something so innocent could cause so much hurt a month later by being falsely accused of stealing cell phones in front of many customers at Walmart by management employees with no proof. This is false accusations and cause my kids great embarrassment including me. Just to think what if my kids would of went back without me and this happened to them. My kids barely go anywhere and to think that they can't even walk in Walmart without being accused of stealing without proof and there's a video proving they didn't touch anything really bothers me. These two employees approached my kids and not only falsely accused them of stealing cell phones but lied about having proof of them doing so. She in fact did have proof that they walked in Walmart on that day and walked out just like hundreds of others did. Please help us share my story with hopes no one else goes through this just because they wanted to harass some kids they seen in Walmart before.

Today 12/5/18 I was finally able to speak with the District Manager who informed me that he was aware of the incident but was told she just asked my children if they had any information which was a lie. We went live on Facebook just because I knew it was going to be said that this did not occur. Please help me get my story out so no one else will have to go through what we did.

A very concerned Parent, Kimberly Parham

Movie Review: Bumblebee

Do-it-yourselfing has a new hero. And her name is Charlie.

The movie Bumblebee, a prequel backstory kind of thing in the Transformers movie franchise, shows what kind of way-cool adventure can be had if you can grab some tools and fix stuff.

Purchased by our hero Charlie (Hailee Steinfeld) from a junkyard in 1987, the peace loving B-127 Autobot Transformer who was hiding as a '70ish Yellow Volkswagen Beetle, must battle the Decepticons (evil, power hungry, jerks) and their plan to take over the earth, all while doing incredible amounts of property damage to most of the California's San Francisco Bay Area.

Directed by Travis Knight, viewers can expect more humor than in previous Transformers movies, but with the same machine-on-machine violence former Director Michael Bay dispensed into movies 1-5 in the franchise.

Spoiler alert: It is not based on a true story. But against the backdrop of 80's music, the suit-wearing, never-smiling, bureaucrats siding with the Decepticons reminded this reviewer of my girlfriend's shotgun-toting father who had a metal plate in his head. Except he had less personality and warmth.

Bumblebee plays at the Luez Theatre in Bolivar December 21, 22, 23 and 27. Showtimes Friday, Saturday, and Thursday at 7:00 p.m., with a matinee at 2:00 on Sunday.

Tickets are $6 for kids (12 and under) and seniors (65 and older), $8 for adults, and upstairs seating is available for those over 21 for $15 (no senior discount for upstairs seating).

REQUEST FOR STATEMENT OF QUALIFICATIONS FOR CONDUCTING ENVIRONMENTAL ASSESSMENTS AND REUSE PLANNING

The City of Bolivar, Tennessee (www.cityofbolivar.com) hereby solicits written Statements of Qualifications (SOQ) from professional environmental consulting firms interested in contracting with the City of Bolivar to assist in application for grant funds, perform grant management activities, environmental assessments, site re-use planning, and related activities associated with brownfield assessment and redevelopment. The firm selected will be eligible to negotiate a contract with the City of Bolivar. Since no federal brownfield funding has been awarded to the City of Bolivar at this time, no minimum order or work is guaranteed. If the selected firm is unsuccessful in negotiating a contract or does not maintain the minimum requirements, the City of Bolivar, at its discretion, may select the next ranked firm for contract negotiation. All work will be ordered on an "as-needed" basis. Though federal brownfield grant funding would be for a three-year period, the selected firm will be eligible for contract negotiation for five (5) years, with optional years at the City of Bolivar's discretion.

The minimum requirements, which must be satisfied on or before January 3, 2019 and maintained for the duration of a contract with the City of Bolivar for an applicant to be considered, are:

- (1) The applicant must be a "Brownfield Consulting Firm" that has been approved by the State of Tennessee, Department of Environment and Conservation, Division of Remediation
(2) The applicant must submit three (3) copies, signed by an authorized representative of the applicant, of the SOQ on or before the time and date specified below; and
(3) The applicant must not submit a SOQ that exceeds twenty (20) pages (includes every printed page except front and back cover and transmittal letter); and
a. One (1) successful Assessment Grant Application co-authored with applicant within the last three (3) years.
b. One (1) Phase I Environmental Site Assessment (ASTM E1527-13) that meets EPA's "All Appropriate Inquiry" Standard and has been completed by the firm within the last three (3) years; and
c. One (1) Quality Assurance Project Plan (QAPP) that has been approved by the EPA for a brownfield site and has been completed by the firm within the last five (5) years.

Applicants that do not comply with these minimum requirements and/or do not satisfactorily document in the SOQ that they meet the minimum requirements will not be considered. Selection of the firm, in addition to the minimum requirements, will be based on the following rating criteria:

- (1) Successful grant application history;
(2) Environmental Assessment and site re-use planning experience of key personnel that involved hazardous/toxic substances, pollutant, or contaminant;
(3) EPA Brownfield Grant management experience.

Information for Preparation of Statement of Qualifications may be obtained by contacting Cathy Mayfield at The City of Bolivar, 211 N. Washington St. via email at cathy.mayfield.cityofbolivar@gmail.com or by telephone at 731-658-2020. Applicants are responsible for ensuring that the SOQs are received by Cathy Mayfield, Grant Administrator, 211 N. Washington St., Bolivar, TN 38008 731-658-2020 by the required date and time and assume all risks of delivery. The City of Bolivar must receive three (3) copies of the SOQ on or before 9:00 AM on or before Thursday, January 3, 2018.

What's Smarter – Paying Off Debts or Investing?

It probably doesn't happen as much as you'd like, but you may occasionally have some extra disposable income. For example, perhaps you have recently received, or will soon receive, a year-end bonus. Or maybe you will get a sizable tax refund in just a few months. Wherever this money comes from, you will want to put it to good use. Should you use the cash to pay down debts or should you invest it instead?

There's no simple answer, and everyone's situation is different, but here are a few suggestions for helping you make a good choice:

Evaluate your cash flow. If you already have enough cash to meet your daily living expenses, you might lean toward investing the money, but if you are just getting by, possibly due to heavy debt payments, then you might be better off using your newfound funds to reduce your debt load. Another way of possibly reducing your debt load is to build an emergency fund containing three to six months' worth of living expenses, with the money kept in a liquid, low-risk account. Once you have such a fund, you could use it, instead of going into debt, to pay for unexpected costs, such as a new furnace or a major car repair.

Evaluate your debts. Some of your debts are actually more "expensive" to you than others. This expense level doesn't necessarily refer to the size of the debt, however. You might have a large mortgage, for instance, but because your interest payments are typically tax deductible, your "after-tax" interest rate may be relatively modest. Therefore, you might consider using your excess cash for investments, rather than paying down your mortgage. But if you have consumer loans or credit cards that carry a high interest rate and whose interest payments are not deductible, you might be better off paying down this debt.

Evaluate your investment opportunities. You may have heard that one season or another is a "better" time to invest – but there's really no strong evidence to support this claim. However, now that we are nearing the end of the calendar year, and only a few months away from the tax-filing deadline on April 15, you may want to take advantage of at least one time-related investment opportunity.

Specifically, you could use whatever extra money you have to fully fund your IRA, if you haven't done so already. For the 2018 tax year, you can contribute $5,500 to a traditional or Roth IRA, or $6,500 if you are 50 or older. (Depending on your income, you may not be able to contribute the full amount to a Roth IRA.) You've got until the April 15 deadline to fully fund your IRA, but if you have the money sooner, why wait? The quicker it's in your account, the faster it can go to work for you.

One final suggestion: If you have a company match as part of your 401(k) or similar retirement plan at work, consider contributing enough to get your employer's full matching contribution before you pay down debts – don't leave this "free money" on the table.

Your year-end bonus, tax refund or other source of beyond-the-paycheck money can help you make progress toward your financial goals – so evaluate your situation and options carefully before making any moves. It will be time well spent.

Overtime Gets the Tigers... Twice

For the second game in a row, Bolivar Central managed a comeback to force overtime, but in each instance, faltered in the final stanza.

"At this point, I'm tired of us just playing hard," said Head Coach Rick Rudesill. "It seems like we are always playing catch-up and reacting. We need to execute."

On December 17 versus Jackson South Side, Bolivar twice tied the game late, in both regulation and overtime, but couldn't hold off the Hawks in the 87-78 loss that came in double overtime.

On December 13, D.J. Smith made a late three to tie the game at 66, but the Tigers fell 79-74 to Sacred Heart.

MERRY CHRISTMAS

FROM THE FRIENDS AND NEIGHBORS OF THE BOLIVAR BULLETIN TIMES

DECEMBER 20, 2018

A15

THE COUNTY JOURNAL Christmas Essay Contest

The County Journal, Inc., Christmas Essay Contest was open to all 6th, 7th and 8th graders and distributed to Bolivar, Grand Junction, Hornsby, Middleton, Toone and Whiteville schools. A total of nine winners were selected from the entries, with each winner receiving a bit of Christmas money. The essay contest winners and their entries are on A15 and A16.

The 8th graders had 3 "Story Starter" sentences to choose from:

1. Issac struggled to keep his eyes open as he sat under the night sky watching his father's sheep. Suddenly, a bright light split the night sky...
2. I woke with a start. Something red shone through the window. Oh my, it looked like a reindeer nose! ...
3. Grandpa Joe sat all alone in his living room.

For the first time in 70 years, he hadn't bothered with a Christmas tree ...

Eighth Grade Winner:

Janiya Woody

Bolivar Middle School

I woke with a start. Something red shone through my window. Oh my, it looked like a reindeer nose! I jumped out of bed, put my boots on, and grabbed my coat. I ran outside to see what was going on, but then I ran right into a reindeer. I was terrified, they were humongous. I never pictured them as being this big, I was shocked. When I turned around, I was even more shocked than before. Santa was even bigger than the reindeer. I started to tell him to slack up on the cookies some. I didn't tell him though because, I didn't want him to shift me to the naughty list real quick. I wonder if he could even do that.

Anyway, I asked what the problem was, he said that his sleigh had quit on him. I told him I probably could fix it, I consider myself as a good handyman. I do this type of stuff on the daily. I put a twist to it though. Since I am fixing the sleigh and I'm practically saving everybody's Christmas, I decided that he should let me ride along. I thought to myself, "That's what you call a fair share." Then he actually agreed with it so we cranked up the... well not cranked, but got the reindeer ready, and we took off.

When we got in the air, I got kind of nervous. I thought about if Mom and Dad woke up in the middle of their sleep to check on me and saw that I was gone. I guess Santa ready my mind because out of nowhere he said, "Don't worry, I put a sleeping spell on your parents, so they won't be getting up till morning." I was so glad, he literally just saved my life. They wouldn't have believed me if I would've told them I was gone with Santa. They say Santa isn't real. I'm glad he told me that. Now I can finally relax and enjoy the night view. The first house we stopped at was my best friend's house, Joseph Matthews.

I think Santa missed all the bad things he did. He's my best friend but, he does some pretty ridiculous stuff. One time he put thick bubble gum in the teacher's chair. I didn't say anything to Santa because I'm always going right along with him. So, I just sit back and enjoy the ride. Hopefully, he's not reading my mind again

Eighth Grade Second Place:

Reign Davis

Toone Elementary School

Grandpa Joe was all alone in his living room. For the first time in seventy years, he hadn't bothered with a Christmas tree because his wife had died recently, and he just didn't feel like celebrating anything anymore. He didn't really want to do much of anything at all.

One day, Joe's family came to spend the night at his house on Christmas Eve. Annabelle, his daughter, was taking special care of him because Joe had been so depressed. Her mother's death had taken a toll on the family, but she wanted to see him happy again. Annabelle's daughter Anna was ready for Christmas, so and so was Anna's dad, Bob who came in the living room and began putting up the Christmas tree that he had found in Grandpa Joe's attic. They were hoping this would make Grandpa Joe feel better if his house was decorated. The next morning, Grandpa Joe was apparently still sleeping while his family was waiting patiently to open up their presents. Anna was hoping for a new teddy bear, and Annabelle wanted a new ring. When Annabelle went to his room to wake him up, he was lying on the floor. She kept on calling his name, but he wouldn't answer. She feared the worst and called 911. He was taken to the hospital by ambulance, and they said that he had a concussion and was not responding to anyone. The family was so worried, and they stayed by his side, praying.

Finally, Grandpa Joe began to stir and came to. He recognized everyone and began talking. The nurse was surprised by this unexpected turn and phoned the doctor to come at once. The doctor checked him out thoroughly and could find no reason to keep him. They went back home, baked Christmas cookies, and opened their Christmas presents. After his near-death scare, Grandpa Joe decided that life was worth living, and he'd better get to doing just that. The family celebrated like they used to, feeling that Grandma Sue was watching over them all the while. They enjoyed Christmas.

Eighth Grade Third Place:

Holly Pattat

Hornsby Elementary School

Grandpa Joe sat all alone in his living room. For the first time in 70 years, he hadn't bothered with a Christmas tree, because of the sad phone call he had just received. This would be one lonely Christmas, with no family.

As Grandpa Joe sat in his recliner, he listened to the voicemail of his granddaughter Kyli. Kyli had been diagnosed with stage-two lung cancer at the age of eight years old. Now at the age of twelve, the cancer had won. Kyli stayed with her Grandpa Joe as much as possible, because her mother and father died in a car crash when she was six. Grandpa Joe just couldn't do Christmas without Kyli.

One snowy night, as Grandpa Joe was walking home, he saw an all-girls orphanage. It was a very dull building, no Christmas tree or lights hung anywhere near it. While Grandpa Joes was looking at the building, he saw four tiny little heads pop out around the curtain. They were dressed in an ugly gown that looked as old as he was. Grandpa Joe walked home thinking about those sad little girls at the orphanage.

The next day Grandpa Joe walked by the orphanage and saw a sign. The sign said that the orphanage was shutting down due to no money. That meant that those poor little girls would have nowhere to go for Christmas. Grandpa Joe then got an idea.

One hundred thousand dollars is what Grandpa Joe's will had been for his granddaughter Kyli. Of course, she has passed away so not one was going to use it now. Not only did help those poor little girls, they had helped him learn that Christmas was about giving. The next day, not only did the orphanage have a Christmas tree, so did Grandpa Joe.

ESSAY CONTEST

The 7th graders had 3 "Story Starter" sentences to choose from:

1. "Please," the young man pleaded. "My wife is about to have a child. We must have a room -- a closet, anything." "Well," the innkeeper slowly replied, "there is a stable out back ..."
2. All the elves were hard at work in Santa's workshop ... all but one, that is ...
3. Johnny shook the last coin from his piggy bank. $5.67 -- that was all the money he had to buy Christmas gifts for his mother, father, sister, and grandmother ...

Seventh Grade Winner:

Seth Hunter

Toone Elementary School

All the elves were hard at work in Santa's workshop...all but one, that is...his name was Alfred. Alfred was a lazy elf who tried to do as little as possible. In fact, he really enjoyed hiding and sneaking in a nap or two whenever possible.

However, one day something strange happened. Alfred woke up after an especially long nap to find that the elves had stopped working and that nobody was wandering the halls. There were no presents, no elves, no reindeer, and worst of all, no Santa. Alfred kept looking and looking He had searched all of Santa's workshop, but he didn't find anyone.

He went outside to continue searching, but there was still nobody to be seen. He even went to Santa's house. He had almost searched the entire North Pole. There had been only one place he hadn't searched...the garage where Santa left his sled. Elves were not allowed to enter the garage, but Alfred felt this situation was urgent enough, so he decided to go in anyway. When he entered, he was shocked to see that there was no sleigh in its special spot. Had he missed Christmas? Alfred was now desperate and didn't know what to do. He was about to cry, when all of a sudden, there was a magical swirling of snow and all of the elves and Santa appeared right in front of his eyes. They told him that they were tired of him napping all the time and not doing his job. They had decided to teach him a lesson, and boy, did it work. Alfred knew that being lazy didn't pay, and he never wanted to feel alone or be left behind again. After that day, Alfred always did his very best work. As a matter of fact, he became one of Santa's best elves and worked so hard that he ended up getting a promotion to head elf. Now days, he is a motivational speaker for other elves who are not a motivated as they should be.

Seventh Grade Second Place:

Doaa Salah

Toone Elementary School

All of the elves were hard at work in Santa's Workshop...all but one, that is. His name was Jingle Everhope, and he was the grumpiest and laziest elf in town.

He always wanted other people to do his work and never thanked anyone. He also had a large collection of Santa Claus riding My Little Pony character figurines. The biggest surprise was that he was from the Everhope family, the most cheerful and hard-working family in town.

Everyone wondered why Jingle was grumpy. Trinket was the most inventive elf in town. He created many gadgets and gizmos (even though none of them actually worked). One little elf, Trinket Candy Cane, was especially curious, so curious, in fact, that one night he decided to visit Jingle's home. Little Trinket went by himself over to the edge of town where Jingle lived. The closer he got, the more uncertain he felt. When the first knock sounded, it had such a loud echo and the door opened with a loud creak.

"What to you want?" croaked Jingle.

"Excuse me sir, I...I just wanted to know why y-you are so grumpy and mean?" replied Trinket.

"Child, I have many reasons to be grumpy. The one you're looking for is a long story, so I hope you have time," said Jingle.

"It all started ten years ago when I was the happiest elf and the hardest worker. Everything was perfect - my family and friends, my job, and my life-size Santa Claus riding a life-size My Little Pony figurine. I had spent months trying to find it. I had brought it to a party to show my buddy. But while we were dancing, some elf bumped into it and it shattered. That made me grumpy and very sad, so I guess I've bottled up my emotions and taken it out on everyone."

Trinket left without a word because tomorrow was Christmas, and he knew he had a present to find and give. Let's just say, that tomorrow for Christmas, Jingle was going to be his old self again...the happiest elf in town.

Johnny shook the last coin from his piggy bank. $ 5.67, that was all the money he had to buy Christmas gifts for his mother, father, sister and grandmother. He wanted to buy Christmas gifts for everyone but just couldn't. Not this year at least. He thought really hard about what he was going to do but couldn't think of anything. He was really upset. One week before Christmas Eve, and old woman named Ethel saw how sad he was and gave him money for buying Christmas presents. His mom took him shopping the next day and he bought everyone on his list a gift. After that, he worked at his uncle's farm and by the next week, he had enough to pay Mrs. Ethel back. She told Johnny to keep the money.

Since the woman wouldn't let Johnny give her the money, he decided to get her a Christmas present she would love. He talked to his mom and she told him that Mrs. Ethel was older and couldn't travel for Christmas, so he told his mom he wanted to help her be with her family. She found out that Mrs. Ethel had a daughter named Sarah who lived far away. He got her phone number from his mom and called Sarah. When Johnny explained his plan, she was so excited. Sarah told Johnny that her mother always told her children not to come for Christmas, because she didn't want them to have to travel so far. Sarah promised to get the whole family together and go to Mrs. Ethel's house. The next night, Sarah called Johnny's house again and told him that the whole family was going to Mrs. Ethel's in two days. He asked his mom and she gave him permission to go. When the day finally arrived, Johnny went over to Mrs. Ethel's house. She was so happy to see her family. The house was full of laughter and fun. He really had given her a present she would love.

"Ho-ho-help me!" came the voice from the chimney. Sally woke up to the sound of bricks falling down and someone saying, "Help me!" Sally walked downstairs noticing there were no presents from Santa and the cookies and milk hadn't been touched.

She glanced around sadly and stuttered, "Wh—who's there?"

Then she heard a voice from the chimney, "Is someone there?" Sally gasped and replied, "Yes, it's Sally!" She heard a relieving "whew" from the chimney. "Oh goodness, is someone in there?"

"Yes, I am stuck", said a voice that sounded like a man. Sally thought about what she could do to get him out of there. Then it came to her.

She crawled under the chimney and looked up and saw the man's boots and pulled as hard as she could. He said, "One more tug". She pulled one last time. The man fell down. Sally looked up and realized who the man was. "Santa Claus?" Sally asked.

"Yes, thank you for saving me young girl", Santa concluded.

"You're welcome." Sally said.

Santa looked down at his watch, "Oh no, I'm not gonna make it!" Santa said worriedly.

"Oh my, you have to make it, all of the little kids depend on you." Sally said.

"Yes, yes I know." Santa replied. Santa was thinking what he could do.

"You could repay me for saving you." Sally suggested. "I could help you." Sally said.

Santa thought for a minute about the idea. "Actually, that's a wonderful idea!" Santa cried.

"Yay!" Sally said excitedly.

"Alright, let's get a move-on then." Santa said. Santa snapped his fingers and they transported to the sleigh on top of the roof. After a while "Only five houses to go and we will be done." Santa said with relief.

They were finally done, and Santa took Sally back home. "Now go back to sleep." Santa said. Sally went upstairs and went to sleep. She woke up the next morning and raced downstairs to find she had tons of gifts. "Best Christmas ever!" Sally shouted.

Ho-ho-help me! Came from the chimney. Its was Christmas Eve. I had just got up to go get a drink of water. Then I heard that from the chimney. I was very scared but somehow, I guess I got the confidence to say Santa is that you. I stuttered a little bit A few seconds later I got a reply. "Yes!" he said very scared. "Could you help me? I have got stuck in our chimney. "Yes, I will." I replied.

"Your chimney is very small." Santa said.

"Are you sure it isn't from eating..." I stopped myself right there because of two things, I would either be on the naughty list forever of he would be very mad. "From eating what?"

"Oh, nothing." I said very scared. I was thinking how I was going to get Santa out of my very small chimney, not very small, but anyways.

"So, have you come up with anything?"

"Well, kinda. What if you hold on to a rope while I pull on it?" "We could try it."

"Okay, here" I handed him the rope. "Okay, ready? One... two...three!" BANG. It shook the whole house. Then I hear, "Karelinn? Sweetie, is that you?"

"Hide, hide!" I said to Santa. My mom came in running, "um...yeah. Sorry I tripped."

"Okay, hurry back to bed."

"Yes Mother", I said scared. After she went to bed I crept out of my room and into the living room. "Okay, you're good. You can come out now."

"Did she see me?"

"No." I said.

"Okay, good, thank you so much for helping me Karalinn."

"You're welcome," I said.

"Ho-ho-ho Merry Christmas!" he shot up the chimney. I stayed up all night because I was thinking about how I had just saved Santa!

"Ho-ho-help me!" came a voice from the chimney.

"Who's there?" asked a little girl named Katie.

"Please, please help me. I'm stuck in the chimney," said a man's voice.

"First, tell me who you are," said Katie.

"It's me, Santa Claus." said the voice.

"Really? Is it really you, Santa?"

"Yes, it is. Please, can you help me?"

"How do I know that you aren't lying to me? What if you are a burglar trying to sneak in the by the chimney and got stuck?" asked the child.

"Look outside at the reindeer." Said the voice.

Katie thought this has to be a dream, so she decided to pinch herself to see if she was awake. It hurt, so she looked in the chimney and saw a Christmas miracle. It was really Santa! "How did you get stuck in there?" asked Katie.

"I was trying to deliver your presents, but I guess I didn't make myself small enough and got stuck."

"Hold on, Santa. I will be right back," said Katie. She ran outside and grabbed a ladder. She put the ladder on the side of the house, climbed up on top of the roof, and looked down the chimney. Sure enough, there was Santa stuck in her chimney.

"Katie, run over to my sleigh and get some of my magic dust out of my bag and sprinkle it on me to make me small, so I can get out of here."

Katie hurried to the sleigh, found the dust, and Santa finally make it out.

"Thanks so much Katie, now you need to get to bed so I can finish delivering all of these presents." Then Santa told Katie to blink three times. One... two...three! Katie was magically asleep in her bed, and Santa was gone. When Katie woke up the next morning, she ran downstairs where she found a beautifully wrapped present and a note thanking her for her help. Katie heard a noise and ran to the window. She saw Santa and his reindeer in the sky waving at her. "HO-HO-HO Merry Christmas!"
