From the Other Side of the Desk

I need to be on a list somewhere.

The list I'm speaking of is the one that doesn't let us have a dog in the family until I complete some 12-step program or the equivalent.

The problem is I can't seem to train a dog. Everyone else's dog (like their life on Facebook) looks perfect. Comes when it is called and goes where it is supposed to go.

Not me.

Now, we know there is a breed out there that would work for us, but we haven't found it yet.

But until then, I have an idea or two for a dog that we would be proud of.

Underdog: Fights crime, shines shoes. You really don't need a whole lot more.

Mr. Peabody: College degree, Really cool Way-Back Machine, history expert. Kind of condescending, but if he takes himself out and stays off the furniture, he can say anything he wants, as far as I'm concerned.

Scooby-Doo: Speaks english, helps solve crimes.

Snoopy: Lives outside most of the time, has pilot's license, friend of small birds.

Goofy and Pluto: I list them in the same category because I don't know which is which. But they both seemed pretty cool. One talked, the other didn't. Seems kind of unfair when you think about it.

Hong Kong Phooey: Save money on karate lessons for the kids.

Huckleberry Hound: Sings. But only one song. Never mind.

Deputy Dog: Law enforcement connections could come in handy when driving through Oakland.

Wish me luck.

The Future of Whiteville

Land that has been in private hands since the 1940's will go up for absolute public auction on February 15 in Whiteville.

"There is over 7,500 feet of land on Highway 64 alone," explained Lynn Jackson of Lynn Jackson Auctions and Real Estate. "If Whiteville is going to expand, this is the land that could be used. This could change the future of Whiteville."

Owned by Tommy Bass and family for years, the properties are being sold by his heir, John L. Bass.

"I can't remember a sale with as much potential as this property has. Anyone can buy it and farm on it tomorrow. But with all the land on Highway 64, it could be used for a lot of other things."

Farm land, timber land and potential commercial property is included in the sale that will be held February 15 at Noon at the Whiteville Community Center in Whiteville.

The land will be sold in separate tracts (see ad on A16) or as a whole.

Co. to Benefit from Broadband $$

Tennessee Governor Bill Haslam and Economic and Community Development Commissioner Bob Rolfe announced Hardeman County will receive the benefit of a $190,000 grant in broadband accessibility money that will help build new broadband infrastructure through Aeneas Internet and Telephone Company.

"In communities across Tennessee, broadband is an essential service that will increase economic investment and growth to help businesses, families and individuals thrive," Haslam said. "With the assistance of these grants, underserved communities will now have access to broadband that will benefit not only the communities themselves, but the state as a whole. These grants are a step in the right direction for our state and will help Tennessee reach its full potential."

"Hardeman County was chosen due to the fact it has enormous community pride and tremendous growth potential." Aeneas is based right here in West Tennessee," says Aeneas CEO, Jonathan Harlan. "It's important to us that the people of our community have the same types of choices and options for high-speed Internet and telephone that other areas of the country have access to. We believe broadband should be available to everyone at a cost they can afford. Aeneas is investing in

Stevens to Vie for County Office

With only one week left in the filing deadline all of the 28 spots up for grabs in county elections have candidates, and some with multiple interested parties, and a former Bolivar mayor will also run.

Bolivar Mayor Barrett Stevens, who was defeated in the 2017 election by Mayor Julian McTizic, picked up a petition this past week to run as an independent against democratic candidate Mike Madden, making District 1 Postion 3 a two-way race.

The biggest draw for a position in the county got one more as Susan Ross picked up a petition to run for Circuit Court Clerk as an independent, joining independent Lynn Price and five others who picked up petitions to run in the Democratic Primary: Hardeman County Chief Deputy Sheriff Billy Davis, Tonya L. Perry, Nena K. Moss, Jasmine N. Perry, and Charles Butch Gatlin, Jr.

The seven candidates are hoping to replace the retiring Linda Fulghum, who has been the Circuit Court Clerk since 1968.

The race for Hardeman County Mayor is still a three way affair with one week left in the filing deadline as incumbent Jimmy Sain will face Hardeman County Chamber of Commerce Director Kandy Shackelford in the August General Election. Calvin Howell will run as a republican candidate.

Four candidates have made at least initial contact with the intention of running for sheriff of Hardeman County: democratic incumbent John Doolen, democrat Larry McKinnie, and independent candidates Jerry Siler and Pat Baker.

Another contested county office is for Superintendent of Roads, which has democrats Dale Dixon and Casey Swift facing off. The winner will run against independent Eddie Vandiver.

COMMUNITY NEWS

Silerton

Mary Lynn Lambert
609-6455

Bobby and Wanda Fry are happy to announce the birth of their great grandson, Matthew Mathis. Matthew was born January 26 and weighed 9 lbs. 4 oz. He is the grandson of Bob and Sherry Fry and the son of Michael and Whitney (Fry) Mathis.

Larry Lambert is home and showing improvement after his discharge from JMCGRH on Monday, January 29.

Several people from the Piney Grove area traveled to Hebron Baptist Church to help Mike Moore celebrate his 70th birthday. It was a surprise event. Mike and Diana certainly appreciate all friends and family for coming and helping to make the day a very memorable day.

In spite of the rainy weather, a host of friends and family braved the rain to attend the wedding of Sloan and Wanda Buford on Saturday, January 27 at the Silerton Baptist Church.

This week several people shared memories of Phyllis (Hopper) Naylor. Everyone agreed Phyllis deserves a big shout out for her life and all her contributions to the community. Phyllis has spent her entire life in Silerton. She and her husband, Bobby, have built two homes here. As a young wife, she was Bobby's right-hand lady helping him on the farm. Everyone took note of what a hard worker she has always been. Along with all the responsibilities of being a mother of two and living on a farm, she worked a few years at the Toone School in the cafeteria. Yet she always found time to be active in the Silerton Baptist Church as a member and a teacher. She has been a huge help at the Fire Department, helping with fund raising and always driving a fire truck when needed. She served the town as an alderman for many years and then served as Mayor. Phyllis shared with me how she would go to some of the older ladies in our area and cut their hair and give them a permanent. Most people mentioned that she is a great conversationalist who never meets a stranger. Truly she is an asset to our area. Her talents and good works are certainly missed as she now deals with Parkinson's Disease. I know she and Bobby would appreciate prayers in their behalf.

My granddaughter, Merry Ashlyn Gatewood, will appear on Knowledge Bowl, Saturday, February 10 on Channel 3 at 9:00 am. If you get a chance to watch, I know you will agree with this proud grandmother that she is an attractive, intelligent young lady. Merry Ashlyn tells me there are no study sheets to help prepare for the questions.

Gravice Rouse from Jackson, TN called and expressed how much he enjoyed a recent article in the paper where Bill Mayfield had shared memories of his childhood barber, Earl Fitts. Mr. Rouse, who is proud of his 92 years, remembers when he paid a dime for a haircut and he says that was before clippers. He also shared that he traveled to Silerton to date Imogene (Knipper) Hearn when he was a young man living in Chester County. He explained how he was related to the Mayfields. He had several interesting stories to tell about his long life.

I encourage readers to call and share stories and special memories of people who are associated with Silerton. Let's stay connected.

Hello from Toone! Well, the 2018 Super Bowl is now in the history books, and that marks the end of football in America until August when the college season will begin again. I always look forward to the new college football season, but I must admit, I look more forward to it ending and everyone's lives getting back to normal. From mid-August until after New Years, football fans undergo a really weird metamorphosis, where seemingly normal, mild-mannered people become loud, intense and obnoxious fans who yell and scream and curse at their TV sets on Saturdays. I've even witnessed friends turn against friends simply because they wear different school colors. And you can forget trying to plan a weekend event or a party, because no one would dare miss the big game to attend! Yes, it's a strange and stressful time for football fans, especially when their team has a bad season. Let's all now take a deep breath and enjoy Spring and Summer!

Tuesday, February 13, is the regular monthly meeting of the Toone Board of Aldermen, at Toone City Hall. These meetings are always open to the public, and everyone is urged to attend.

Toone Baptist Church's, Team Kids will present a play titled, "Parable of the Sower", at the church, Sunday morning, March 11. Go ahead and mark your calendars for this special performance by this talented group!

The Hardeman County Arts Council will present their Murder Mystery Dinner Theater production, "PolterHeist", February 16 & 17, show at 7:00 pm, dinner at 6:00 pm. This is an exciting story of ghostly fun and mystery. As an added treat, our Toone neighbor, Bonnie Leathers, will be part of the show's cast! Call the Arts Council Box Office at, 731-658-2787, for ticket information.

OK, guys, in case it has slipped your mind (or in case you haven't even thought about it yet), Valentine's Day is next week! This gives you several more days to buy that perfect gift, pick-out just the right card, or to order that big bouquet of beautiful flowers for your special lady. Now Hear This- this is not the time to be frugal and cheap! This is the one day of the year that she expects something expensive from you to let her know how much you care, but more importantly, this is the day she is in direct competition with her friends and co-workers to see who gets the most expensive stuff from her hubby or significant other, so trust me, you need to do it right! So get on out there and get her something special before the good stuff is gone!

Until next time. . . talk to your neighbors

Hello to all! Well I have already heard excitement as the kids are starting to shop for their outfits to wear to the school dance. The dance will be March 17th and this is always exciting for the older children of the school. I hope to have more details on it soon. Those that are celebrating their birthday the 1st through the 15th are Brooklyn Murphy, Rodney Scott, Maria Johnson, Campbell Emerson, Weston Fisher, Hunter Taylor, and Makeyona Jones. We wish you a very "Happy Birthday" on your special day. Baseball and volleyball schedules are on the school website at <http://www.hardemancountyschools.org/hes/Index.html> and I will be also putting game times and place in the paper also. The youth will be having their Valentines Dinner on Sunday, February 11th at 5:00 p.m. they will be raising funds to help with their mission trips. The big "Super Bowl Party" was a lot of fun with lots of great food and fellowship.

The adults will start their choir practice on February 18th at 5:00, if you would like to know more, please contact Lynn Gibson. We appreciate Lynn and the work he is doing with music at our church. The "Love Thy Neighbor" and "Operation Christmas Child" will start collecting again in February, we ask for contributions of cans of soup or chili and small notebooks. We appreciate everyone who gives to help Hornsby Baptist with these ministries; it is always a blessing when you can help so many in your community. If you have any stories you would like to share about the history of the community please contact me, I would love to share them. Please remember to pray for the following: Sydni Aylor, Patricia Baker, Terry Baker, Max Beck, Patsy Bell, Melanie Bowers, Jon Boyette, Rick Brown, Eddie Bryant, Helen Coffman, Amanda Cornelius, Kenneth Crawford, Sue Day, Elynor DeBerry, Jason Dixon, Bobbie Dorris, Shirley Emerson, Esther Galigher, Leah Gentry, Paula Gibson, Sue Hall, James Hanna, Kristian Harris, Richard Hazelwood, Bobby Hodge, Sue Hodge, Dewey Hopkins, Jo Edna Howell, Wade Howell, Charley Johnson, Ann Kelly, Aubrey King, Roger King, Debbie Laster, Shirley Lindsey, Nell Maddox, Bobbie McBride, David Harris McKinnie, Betty McMahan, Orville McMahan, Evan Nield, Lockie Newman, Timmy Parchman, Gay Pierce, Eloise Poole, Gail Pope, Paula Prince, Lisa Pulse, Keith Raines, Stacy Spence, Ronna Spoon, Susan Thompson, Gary Valter, Bertha Vaughn, Martyn Venuti, Lawanda Vickers, Josh Walton, Eddie Webb, Piper Williams, Monica Yopp, the family of Bobby Sipes, the men and women who serve our country, and the families of the ones who are fighting cancer. Be Financially Prepared for Natural Disasters

Just this past year, we've seen natural disasters in Texas, California, Florida and Puerto Rico – and looking back even further, it's not hard to spot other traumas in virtually every part of the country. Whether it's a tornado, hurricane, flood or wildfire, you may be at least potentially susceptible to a weather-related event that could threaten your physical – and financial – well-being. How can you protect yourself?

As far as your physical safety is concerned, you're probably already aware of the steps you need to take to shield yourself and your family. And now that many alerts can be sent directly to your smartphone, you've got an even better chance to prepare for an approaching threat. But when it comes to safeguarding your financial situation, you'll need to be ready well in advance – and the following moves can help:

Strengthen your home. Your home is probably your biggest asset, so you'll want to do everything you can to keep it safe. In the face of a truly calamitous event, such as hundred-mile-per-hour winds or the advance of uncontrollable fire, there may not be much you can do, but in less dire circumstances, your actions can help. Your insurance professional can offer tips on protecting your residence.

Maintain sufficient insurance. It's a good idea to review your existing homeowners or renters insurance periodically to make sure you are sufficiently covered for all possible hazards. Keep in mind that homeowners insurance does not typically cover flooding, so you may need to purchase flood insurance from the National Flood Insurance Program. (Depending on where you live, this coverage may be required when you get your mortgage.) Also, in conjunction with maintaining your insurance, you should document your possessions, so you may want to make a video inventory as well as a written list containing descriptions and values.

Create an emergency fund. A natural disaster can lead to a wide array of unanticipated costs: appliance repair or replacement, hotel and restaurant bills, insurance deductibles – the list could go on and on. Consequently, you'll help protect yourself and your family by building an emergency fund. Some of this money should go into a liquid, low-risk account, but you may also want to keep a small amount of cash at home in a safe place, as ATMs and credit cards may not work during or following a disaster, when you must purchase needed supplies.

Protect your documents. As you go through life, you'll accumulate a lot of documents – mortgage papers, insurance policies, financial accounts, tax statements and so on. If disaster strikes, you may need these documents. You'll want to store paper copies in a fireproof and waterproof box or safe at home, in a bank safety deposit box, or with a relative or close friend. Of course, we're now living in a digital age, so you can store electronic copies of important documents in a password-protected format on a removable flash or external hard drive. Better yet, you might want to use a secure cloud-based service.

With luck, you can avoid being victimized by a natural disaster. But, as the old saying goes: "Hope for the best and prepare for the worst." From a financial perspective, that's good advice.

The Maxwell's Stay-at-Home Gourmet

Dark Chocolate Fondue with Fruit Kabobs

- Ingredients
- 18-ounce container frozen light whipped dessert topping, thawed
 - 110- or 12-ounce package dark chocolate pieces
 - 1/4 cup hot strong coffee
 - Strawberry halves; pineapple, apple, or kiwifruit chunks; and/or raspberries and other desired fruits.
 - Hot strong coffee (optional)

Directions

In a 1-1/2- or 2-quart slow cooker combine whipped topping and chocolate pieces. Cover and cook on low-heat setting for 30 to 45 minutes or until chocolate is melted, stirring once or twice during cooking (whipped topping will deflate). Whisk in 1/4 cup coffee, 1 tablespoon at a time, to reach desired consistency (fondue should be thick but pourable).

Meanwhile, for fruit kabobs, thread assorted fruit onto 16-6-inch wooden skewers. To serve, keep fondue warm on warm- or low-heat setting. Serve with fruit kabobs. If fondue becomes too thick, stir in a little additional coffee.

You can buy all the ingredients in this recipe at Maxwell's Big Star, 200 North Main Street, Bolivar

Pain and Purpose

by Jimmy Sadler

Julius Caesar said "It is easier to find men who will volunteer to die, than to find those who are willing to endure pain with patience." I too have found that life long before or at the point of death is bearable. One is tolerable because most of us live in general comfort in our younger days and the moment of death is possible because it is fleeting. The in between times are difficult. Making a living is hard work, enduring family problems is grueling, experiencing personal failure is disheartening. There are also those illnesses that defy measurement. The levels of excruciating pain involved with some physical conditions are beyond my comprehension. How do we endure that, the harsh in between time of youthful exuberance and our stepping into the life after?

There are certainly poor ways to deal with it. We must remember that life has a purpose that is defined by God. If we pursue pleasure or joy apart from that, we will end up in a horrible place. If we seek an ultimate escape from pain, we die. If we seek a manageable distraction from pain or are addicted to pleasure, we usually end our lives in ruin. Certainly, if it is all we have sought, our end will be tragic.

In the sense of dealing with pain and trauma, let's avoid being like Michael Jackson's physician to others. When we help someone avoid pain, we forget that we are risking their destruction. They (or we) become dependent to the point of ignoring the reality of the situation. Escaping pain is not the purpose of life. Happiness, or even the pursuit of it, is not the purpose of life.

We live in a world that rejects pain as an evil. We make sure that we have access to pain medication at the end of our lives or during illness or injury. I'm not suggesting that, in and of itself is bad. I certainly have wanted pain medications after operations or during dental work. I just think we have forgotten there is a purpose to the pain in our lives. In a physical sense, pain tells us there is some-

The Nature of God's Silence #2

Brought to you by the MIDWAY CHURCH OF CHRIST

For a free Bible study appointment, contact Dwain Barnes at (731) 267-7979

Or write to: P.O. Box 153 Middleton, TN, 38052

As we continue our study, let us learn the principal of silence's exclusive nature from the book of Hebrews, "For when the priesthood is changed, of necessity there takes place a change of law also. For the one concerning whom these things are spoken belongs to another tribe, from which no one has officiated at the altar. For it is evident that our Lord was descended from Judah, a tribe with reference to which Moses spoke nothing concerning priests." (Hebrews 7:12-14)

We clearly see God's principal of prohibitive silence when Jesus could not have been a priest under the Law of Moses, thus God had to change the law for Jesus to be priest for us today. Moses spoke nothing about other tribes having men who served as priests, thus excluding all other tribes. This principal comes into play when men want to "go beyond what is written" (1 Corinthians 4:6 ESV) and the Apostle John warns us that doing so has serious consequences, when he says, "Everyone who goes on ahead and does not abide in the teaching of Christ, does not have God." (2 John 9 ESV). When men take small steps away from what the Bible authorizes, they are NOT respecting the silence of God! That attitude of permissiveness opens the floodgate for more and more departures from "What is written." Notice this quotation from one who formerly took a proper view on God's silence, when he had earlier said, "If it were the case that anything not expressly forbidden in the New Testament is permissible in the Christian religion, then we could not only use pianos to accompany our singing but beads to aid our prayers, crucifixes to focus our devotion, and hashish to enhance our sensitivity. We could also initiate an organizational network similar to that which has been protested so strongly in Catholicism or begin financing church projects with bingo games (where legal) on Tuesday evenings. Not one of these things is explicitly forbidden in the New Testament, and no one who denies the legitimacy of the authority principle as outlined above can consistently argue against any of them." (Shelly, Rubel. 1987. Sing His Praise—A Case for A Capella Music as Worship Today. Nashville, TN: 20th Century Christian. Sadly, Rubel Shelly has since changed his view and consequently embraced error, rather than reproofing it. Our attitude concerning God's silence must be consistent with God's will for us, and leave alone all additions of men.

Sunrise: Encourage or Console

by David Coy

The original Greek term paraklasis, rendered consolation in scripture, is a verbal noun used to express both the act of the verb parakalein and the effect produced by it. We have no one word in English to represent it in these two senses; but exhortation expresses the act, and consolation the effect. It is the case, consolation is always directed at the recipient. Thus, as a comforter is comforting by way of exhortation is expressing the act of consoling, and produces the effect in the receiver as being consoled. As the English language is fluid compared to the Greek of old, we commonly use one word to express both the act and the effect.

One who is truly a consoler will comfort out of love, a genuine concern for the person or persons being consoled. An illustration of this is seen in the life and work of Jesus. He told his disciples, "And I will ask the Father, and he will give you another advocate (or Comforter, Encourager, or Counselor) who will never leave you." The implication in this text is that Jesus is also a Comforter, but he was going away. In what areas do others comfort us? In times of hunger, calamity, persecution, when we are destitute, or in danger, or threatened with death. This is Sunrise Aftercare, sunrise@sfdcares.com the economic future of Hardeman County," says Harlan. "There's economic growth potential in Hardeman County and all of WTN and we want to see it realized. We believe a greater access to broadband and other Aeneas technologies can have a real economic impact."

"One of our top priorities is creating an environment in Tennessee that promotes job growth and success in rural communities. With the leadership of Governor Haslam and support of the Tennessee General Assembly, those rural communities will now have access to reliable internet and will be better equipped for success," Rolfe said.

Studies by Connected Nation have shown that the availability of broadband Internet has a measurable positive impact on the economic growth and performance of a community. Rural areas of Ten-

News and Notes from the Hardeman County Schools

Bolivar Mayor Julian McTizic and Hardeman County Mayor Jimmy Sain (see photo far right) presented the proclamation making Saturday, February 24 Pancake Day in Hardeman County to Principal James Rutherford, honoring the more than 40 year tradition of Bolivar Elementary School raising money for the school by serving a pancake breakfast to approximately 4,000 patrons.

Jacob Lumpkins (see photo below), a junior at Middleton High School, was selected to attend The Governor's School for the Science and Engineering at the University of Tennessee at Knoxville. This summer, he will participate in lectures, open houses, lab tours, educational field trips, college and career programs, and social and recreational activities. Jacob was nominated by his school counselor, Heather Harris. According to Harris, the application process is rigorous, and only a limited number of students are selected across the state.

Nine students from Bolivar Middle School (see bottom right photo) traveled to the University of Memphis on January 26, to compete in the West Tennessee regional competitive events of the Technology Student Association. These events challenged the student's critical thinking abilities as well as their creativeness. The student's efforts and hard work paid off as they came away with six awards; three first place and three second place. They represent Bolivar Middle School well, both intellectually and professionally as their polite mannerism was openly appreciated and recognized. The awards earned are as follows:

Dragster: 1st place – Will Baker, 2nd place – Cole Vickers.

Structural Engineering: 1st place – Noah Cody, Keelon Hammons.

Problem Solving: 1st place – Clay Pardue, Keelon Hammons. 2nd place – Danny Baker, Carly Blaylock.

Tech Bowl: 2nd place – Abdul Alashmali, Keshon Hardaway, Cole Vickers.
