From the Other Side of the Desk

Math is hard. And if you're from Idaho, I'm guessing it's really tough.

People working at the M&M factory have it easy. Same for the Skittles company man or the guy at the Klennex place.

The NASA Rocket Scientist can even count his or her blessings, they've got a walk down easy street.

The guy from Idaho, however, has the toughest math job out there. Potatoes, you see, are all different shapes and sizes and it's not just open the bag and pour if you want to get the five pound or the ten pound bag just right.

You have to select your potatoes that will add up to the five or the ten pounder and you can't NOT keep an eye (that is, watch closely) on the spuds as you go. This ain't Lavern and Shirley.

You have to pair the small with the large or choose two medium size ones. You gotta pay attention.

I'm guessing you need a degree from MIT (Massachusetts Institute of Tubers, in case you were wondering) to be able to get the right amount of potatoes in the bag and not hold up the assembly line. It's pressure, I can tell you.

But you can work your way up. After college, you intern with the Washington Apple people or the Florida Orange folks, but when it comes down to being in the big time, your career goal is either Idaho, or for the really talented, and ONLY the talented, Ireland.

Everyone eats potatoes. It's a huge responsibility. If these guys make a mistake, someone is going to have too much gravy at thanksgiving or not enough fries at the BBQ.

Math is hard. And it ain't small potatoes.

There's a New Chief in Town

Long-time Bolivar Police Officer Michael Jones has been selected to fill the position of Chief of Police for the City of Bolivar. Chief Jones officially assumed the leadership post at the Bolivar Police Department on January 1, after being appointed by Mayor Julian McTizic.

Chief Jones is no stranger to the police department or to the citizens of Bolivar. He has been an active member of the Bolivar Police Department for 28 years. Chief Jones has served the citizens of Bolivar in several positions for the department including canine officer, drug investigator, patrolman, sergeant, lieutenant, and has served the last 10 years as a captain. He has worked corroboratively on investigations with the Tennessee Bureau of Investigation, the Drug Task Force, and the Drug Enforcement Agency.

Chief Jones is a second-generation police officer following in the footsteps of his father who retired from the Selmer Police Department. He recalls that working with campus security for a short period while in college revealed to him his calling to serve as a police officer. He applied to become a police officer as soon as he turned 21 years of age. Chief Jones is married with five children and five grandchildren.

"Chief Jones brings with him a wealth of knowledge and experience to lead this department and has proven himself to be an exceptional leader," said Mayor McTizic. "I expect that his famil-arity with the department's operating procedures and personnel will result in an efficient and flawless transition for the department."

Chief Jones reported that some of his first goals as Bolivar's new Chief of Police will be to fill the department's vacant positions, assist neighborhoods in starting neighborhood watch programs, implementing crime prevention education programs, and becoming more proactive with the public.

Jones replaces Pat Baker, who served as Bolivar Police Chief since 2011. Baker resigned November 28. Assistant Chief David Sipes served as interim until Jones was named.

The public is cordially invited to meet Chief Jones and attend the Oath of Office and Promotion Ceremony on Thursday, January 17, 2019, at 6:00 p.m. at the Bolivar Municipal Center, which will be followed by the State of the City Address by Mayor Julian McTizic.

Packed House for TWRA Meeting

by Paul Steinsultz

The Tennessee Wildlife Resource Agency (TWRA) conducted a meeting with local residents concerning the rampant Chronic Wasting Disease (CWD) found in deer in Hardeman and Fayette Counties. According to Don King, TWRA Chief of Information and Education Division, the focus of the meeting was to enhance the working relationship between the TWRA and hunters in this region, in specific regard to dealing with CWD.

The meeting, which was held the evening of January 8 at Bolivar Middle School, consisted of presentations from TWRA officials as well as them accepting questions from those attending. The TWRA officials made clear their desire to have open communication with the hunters in this region through additional check stations, which are staffed full-time during the weekends, as well as freezer stations, which are open throughout the week. These are staffed to accommodate hunters needing to have their deer harvest tested for CWD.

New Eatery Begins Construction

Brad Grantham Construction began work at 217 North Main Street in Bolivar this week by pouring concrete in preparations for The Biscuitry Restaurant.

The Biscuitry plans to serve a full breakfast and a "meat and three" lunch, with other menu options available, according to owner-operator Jerry Goss.

Goss directed operations at the Blues City Cafe on Beale Street in Memphis for many years.

Brad Grantham Construction is the architectural design builder, with project manager Jerry Watkins.

Short Film Shot in Bolivar Gets Recognized at Indie Memphis

The film crew that used Bolivar as part of their backdrop for a short film saw the fruits of their labor as they were one of seven films screened on opening night of the Indie Memphis Film Festival held November 1-5.

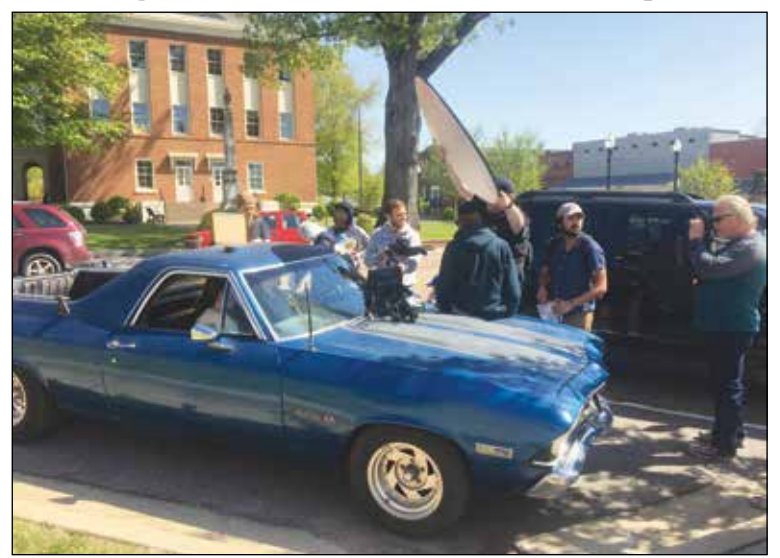

"For our first film to get recognized was pretty cool," said Producer and Director Joshua Cannon. "We did better than we anticipated."

The Luez Theatre in Bolivar is planning to screen the 15-minute film, Waikiki Beach Forever, sometime in the near future as perhaps an "opening act" to a regular movie night.

Cannon also hopes to use Bolivar and the Luez Theatre to shoot a film that will begin production in the spring.

"I can't wait to get back down there," said Cannon. "I'd love to keep shooting movies in Bolivar."

Photo: Cannon's crew was in Downtown Bolivar on April 29 last year to shoot scenes on the Hardeman County Court Square and at the Centennial Bank east branch in Bolivar. Bolivar native Mica Jordan was the set dresser for the production.

Movie Review: Aquaman

It's a classic tale of Mermaid meets Lighthouse Keeper in Aquaman, at the Luez Theatre beginning January 11.

It all begins when Atlanna Queen of Atlantis (Nicole Kidman) washes up on land only to be swept off her tail by Thomas the lightkeeper. And while the romance is brief (perhaps Atlanna found empty Long John Silvers wrappers in the trash), it produces Arthur (Jason Momoa), the half-man, half-fish, half-prince, half-longshoreman, child.

Later on, as Arthur's half-brother King Orm (played by Patrick Wilson) plots war on the land dwellers to protest the nations polluting the seas, Arthur is caught in the middle and he might be the only one with a chance to make a difference.

What happens next is to be found out at the Luez Theatre beginning January 11 at 7:00 p.m. Also showing January 12 and 17 at 7:00 p.m. and January 13 at 2:00 p.m.

Packed House for TWRA Meeting continued from A1

Hunting enthusiasts from all over the region attended the meeting, filling the gymnasium at Bolivar Middle School to capacity. TWRA officials accommodated them with in-depth presentations that informed about such topics as which species are considered infectious to CWD as well as those which are not, and that there is no known treatment for animals infected with CWD. In addition, they also explained how symptoms of CWD can be observed in the appearance and behavior of the deer, yet they also noted that some symptoms can be attributed to other diseases as well. This, according to TWRA officials, is why it is crucial to have the deer samples tested.

Each of the TWRA officials that presented were adamant in letting the concerned hunters know that they feel the same anxieties as the hunters and told them: "We are all in this together." According to the data presented in the meeting, there have been 24 deer that have tested positive, so far, in Hardeman and Fayette Counties. According to Jennifer Wisniewski, Chief of Communication and Outreach, the TWRA has the hunters to thank for their cooperation and contribution to the data collected. ## Silerton

Mary Lynn Lambert

Prayers needed: The following people with connection to our community would appreciate prayers. Keith Raines is undergoing chemotherapy. Mrs. Todd Naylor (Joyce) is recovering from surgery for a broken bone. Trudy Stack is dealing with health issues.

Larry Lambert had a very busy schedule spreading Christmas joy. Larry made 15 visits dressed as Santa Claus. Not only does his audience enjoy him, Larry stated that he truly enjoys the times dressed as Santa. He said, "No matter where you go or how old the audience, I always receive smiles." He began his 25-year Santa career while he was working for the US Post Office in Jackson, TN. One Christmas, he asked his boss if he could dress in his Santa suit for the employees. His boss approved. The next year Larry wore the Santa suit on his mail route which he did for the next ten years. After retirement, he continues to go to the post office dressed as Santa and enjoys seeing all his former fellow workers. He has been retired 15 years and the number of his visits seem to increase each year. This year, his visits included the assisted living facilities in Henderson and Lexington, Chester County Senior Citizens, North and South Jackson Post Office branches, Auto Clean Express, Fred's Department Store in Henderson, Jacks Creek Community Club, Chester County Bank, State Farm Insurance, Chester County Court House and he visited an elderly church member and a shut-in friend of a postal employee who had requested he visit him. Larry said, "The funniest moment this year was when Anita, his wife, dressed in her elf suit walked over and 'laid one on me' as the musician was singing, I Saw Mommy kissing Santa Clause." Larry said that the senior citizens had the biggest laugh. During his lengthy career, Larry has worn out one suit and now is wearing his second suit.

A big shout out to Tommy Naylor. His mother, Brenda Cooper, is proud to announce that her son has been awarded the Policeman of the Year. She reports this is the second year he has received this honor. Tommy is employed by the Whiteville Police Department.

With the start of a new year, several citizens are starting new adventures. Joseph Lambert is now employed by Thyssenkrupp as a welder. Not only is Joseph excited about his new job but is looking forward to a much shorter drive to work. Butch and Debbie (Simer) Ross recently moved to their new home on the Simer Farm off Pinetop Road. With the start of the new year, Bobby Naylor is enjoying his new Dodge Ram 4-wheel drive pickup.

On January 1, the Stack siblings enjoyed their annual tradition of gathering at Brenda and Walter Cooper's home for hog jowl, black eyed peas, and greens with several other side dishes. Everyone enjoyed Walter's fried jowl and fellowshiping with their siblings.

Piney Grove Baptist Church enjoyed watching the new year come in on January 31. Everyone enjoyed the finger foods, games and fun, and fellowshiping with their church family.

Remember to call with your memories or news so we can stay connected.

Hello, and Happy New Year from Toone. As I drive around town, I see that most of the Christmas decorations and lights have been taken down. Out here on Cloverport Rd., I must admit that I still haven't gotten around to removing mine yet. I've had the best of intentions, but just can't seem to find the time. I wonder if anyone would notice if I left my tree up and decorated until next Christmas?

So far I am doing pretty well with my New Year's resolutions. I've kicked most of the holiday junk food and have been eating healthier and have actually shed a few pounds. I'm going to the gym on a more-regular basis and feeling pretty good. Now I just have to stay the course!

I would like to send out a BIG Thank You to Sandi Blankenship and her crew of hard-working volunteers for their great job of decorating the city park. Even though Sandi has been dealing with some health issues recently, she still found a way to get the job done.

I want to send out a Happy Birthday wish to one of our former Toone neighbors, Carey Young, who celebrates his big day, January 12. Carey, who now lives in Connecticut, tells me that he still receives the Bolivar Bulletin by mail to keep up with our local happenings!

Wishing you all a happy and prosperous 2019! Until next time. . . talk to your neighbors!

Holiday Mail:::::

It's a well known fact, Christmas mail can be late. My letter to Santa must have arrived a week late.

Saturday, January 5, I'm almost positive as we looked at ducks in the air I vaguely heard, "Merry Christmas to All, and to All Good night?" These were new ducks, at first very high in the sky, then very "workable". We ended up one shy of a three man Mallard limit. To say there was an adrenaline flow would be an understatement.

The next day, it was as though the ducks were highly educated to the area. Opinions vary about "where" they (ducks) came from. Like Christmas Mail::::: They're late, but, greatly appreciated.

The Will of God: Part 1

by Jeff Capshaw

Some scholars suggest the debate over free will is as old as the early forerunners of Western Philosophy (e.g. Plato and Aristotle, circa 4th Century BC). Moreover, a long history of the debate between free will and determinism begins as a significant theological debate most famously with St. Augustine (354-430 AD).

Philosophers and theologians still haggle over whether our choices are entirely free or entirely determined (by God, genetics, laws of nature, evolutionary processes, etc). Another position suggests that free will and determinism are somehow compatible with one another. Compatibilists believe that free will and determinism are mutually compatible and that it is possible to believe in both without being logically inconsistent.

What is not debatable, however, is whether God has His own free will. Certainly, on the Orthodox, Christian view, God does have free will. What is hard for us to grapple with is God's absolute sovereignty over his creation, including us humans. According to John Piper, "God forbids some of the things he brings about. And he commands some of the things he hinders. Or to put it most paradoxically: God wills some events in one sense that he does not will in another sense." That aside, what, therefore, are some things we KNOW that God wills?

Years ago, I discovered a simple book written by Pastor John MacArthur, Found: God's Will. I believe it was either a sermon or series of sermons he preached at his church. In that book, he explains the handful of times the Testament says, "X is God's will." For example, God wills the salvation of mankind (1 Timothy 2:4). God wants believers to be set-apart from sin (1 Thessalonians 4:3), Spirit-filled (Ephesians 5:18), submitted to human authorities (1 Peter 2:13) and, finally, giving thanks (1 Thessalonians 5:18).

Most every Bible believing Christian can understand and affirm these five scriptural propositions, though surely there is disagreement on what these mean and look like for Christians. These five texts alone are worth careful reflection and serious adherence. Yet, there are many situations in life where the will of God is not spelled-out so clearly in the Bible. What do we do then?

How shall we determine the answers to questions like: whom should I marry? Where should I live? What career track should I take, or should I make a major purchase of a house, a car and so forth? Does scripture have any guidance for believers in these "gray areas" of decision making and the will of God? I think so. Stay tuned for part two.

Sunrise: Love & Support

by David Coy

William Shakespeare said, "Everyone can master a grief, but he that hath it." It truly is not about trying to master our grief no more than we can run away from our sorrows by changing our location. Changes can be healthy when they are productive and purposeful. They can also be harmful when executed for the wrong reasons. That is why it is usually advised to wait a year at least before making any major changes, yet this is also just a general rule of thumb, not a concrete law to be followed absolutely. There are principles that make one's journey easier when implemented.

Geese are amazing creatures. As each goose flaps its wings it creates an "uplift" for the birds that follow. By flying in a "V" formation, the whole flock adds 71% greater flying range than if each bird flew alone. When a goose falls out of formation, it suddenly feels the drag and resistance of flying alone. It quickly moves back into formation to take advantage of the lifting power of the bird immediately in front of it. When the lead goose tires, it rotates back into the formation and another goose flies to the point position. The geese flying in formation honk to encourage those up front to keep up their speed. When a goose gets sick, wounded, or shot down, two geese drop out of formation and follow it down to help and protect it. They stay with it until it dies or is able to fly again. Then, they launch out with another formation or catch up with the flock.

People support others because they care, this is why love is the supreme attribute of Holy Scripture. When we give support to each other in good times and in times of sorrow, we make the journey more pleasant and enduring. ### Roth vs. Traditional 401(k): Which Is Right for You?

For many years, employees of companies that offered 401(k) plans only faced a couple of key decisions – how much to contribute and how to allocate their dollars among the various investment options in their plan. But in recent years, a third choice has emerged: the traditional versus Roth 401(k). Which is right for you?

To begin with, you need to understand the key difference between the two types of 401(k) plans. When you invest in a traditional 401(k), you put in pre-tax dollars, so the more you contribute, the lower your taxable income. Your contributions and earnings grow tax-deferred until you begin taking withdrawals, which will be taxed at your ordinary tax rate. With a Roth 401(k), the situation is essentially reversed. You contribute after-tax dollars, so you won't lower your taxable income, but withdrawals of contributions and earnings are tax-free at age 59-1/2, as long as you've held the account at least five years.

So, now that you've got the basics of the two types of 401(k) plans, which should you choose? There's no one right answer for everyone. You essentially need to ask yourself these questions: When do you want to pay taxes? And what will your tax rate be in the future?

If you're just starting out in your career, and you're in a relatively low income tax bracket, but you think you might be in a higher one when you retire, you might want to consider the Roth 401(k). You'll be paying taxes now on the money you earn and contribute to your Roth account, but you'll avoid being taxed at the higher rate when you start taking withdrawals. Conversely, if you think your tax rate will be lower when you retire, you might be more inclined to go with the traditional 401(k), which allows you to avoid paying taxes on your contributions now, when your tax rate is high.

Of course, you can see the obvious problem with these choices – specifically, how can you know with any certainty if your tax bracket will be lower or higher when you retire? Many people automatically assume that once they stop working, their tax liabilities will drop, but that's not always the case. Given their sources of retirement income from investment accounts and Social Security, many people see no drop in their tax bracket once they retire.

Since you can't see into the future, your best move might be to split the difference, so to speak. Although not all businesses offer the Roth 401(k) option, many of those that do will allow employees to divide their contributions between the Roth and traditional accounts. If you chose this route, you could enjoy the benefits of both, but you still can't exceed the total annual 401(k) contribution limit, which for 2019 is $19,000, or $25,000 if you're 50 or older.

You may want to consult with your tax advisor before making any decisions about a Roth or traditional 401(k) – or Roth and traditional 401(k) – but in the final analysis, these are positive choices to make, because a 401(k), in whatever form, is a great way to save for retirement. Try to take full advantage of it.

Jackson State Hosts FAFSA Workshop

The "FAFSA Frenzy" continues at Jackson State Community College. Jackson State Community College is hosting a series of workshops to assist students and their parents in completing the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) for the 2019-2020 academic year. There are four more workshops scheduled for January.

Completion of the FAFSA is an essential requirement to access financial aid for attending college. This requirement extends to all of those who have applied for or receive the last-dollar scholarships known as Tennessee Promise and Tennessee Reconnect.

Brian Gann, Vice President of Student Services, encourages everyone to attend the free workshops at JSCC. "This is a great opportunity to take care of this detail that is essential for receiving financial assistance of any kind," said Gann. "With a small amount of preparation, this task can be completed in approximately 30 minutes, and we are more than happy to help."

The documentation needed at the workshop includes tax returns, W2 forms, amounts for child support paid or received, and any other relevant financial documents. Students who are claimed as dependents are asked to bring a parent with them.

For a complete listing of dates and times, visit www.jsc.edu/fafsa. Call (731) 424-3520 ext. 50373 for any other questions.

State Pension Funds Among Healthiest in Country

Senator Dolores Gresham heralded the success of Tennessee's public employee pension plan which has been rated among the five best-funded state plans in the U.S. A recent Pew Charitable Trust study showed the Volunteer State with a pension-funded ratio of 94 percent, well above the national average of 66 percent.

According to Pew, underfunded public pension systems have become a significant fiscal challenge facing states and municipalities with some failing to set aside enough money to fund the pension promises made to employees. The Tennessee General Assembly has appropriated money each year to fully fund employer contributions, earning the state the highest marks for financial management.

"The management of our public pension plans affects taxpayers and the thousands of teachers and public employees who depend on these funds for retirement," said Senator Gresham. "The Pew rating illustrates our strong commitment to keep our promises and to ensure that our state is in the best financial position moving forward. It is also a key factor in maintaining our state's excellent bond rating."

Tennessee holds the highest bond ratings issued by all three major credit rating agencies. The state's triple-A status reflects the extremely strong confidence the rating agencies have in Tennessee's capacity to meet its financial commitments.

"Our ranking as one of the best financially manage states in the nation and our low tax, low debt status benefits us in many ways, including serving as a recruitment tool for new jobs and economic investment," Gresham concluded.

Murphy Inducted into BCHS Basketball Hall of Fame

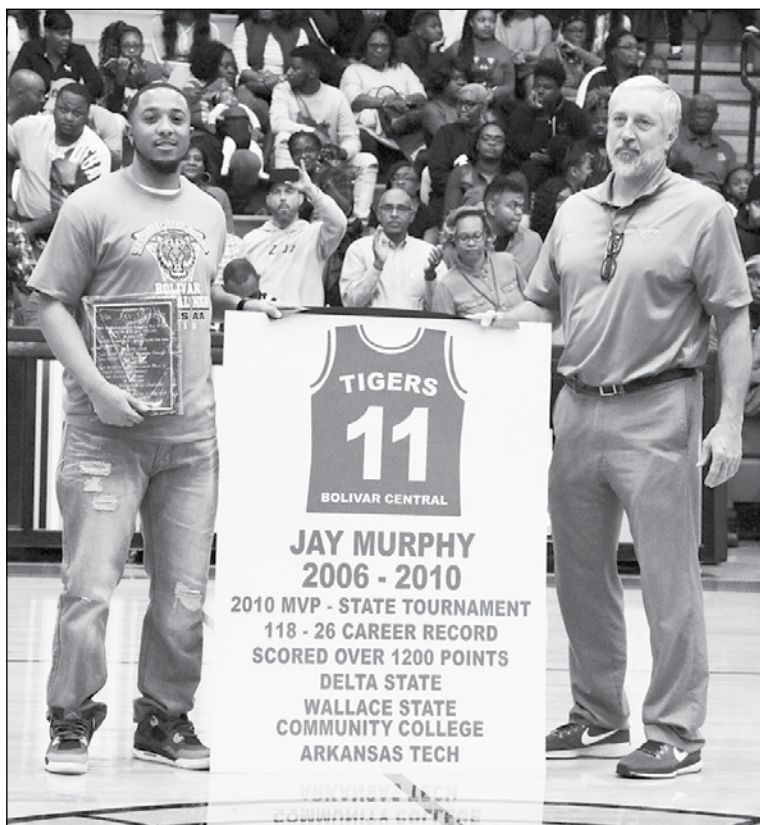

Bolivar Central High School inducted 2010 Bolivar Central graduate Jay Murphy into their Basketball Hall of Fame on January 8 during the Tigers' games against Fayette Ware.

A four-year starter at point guard, Murphy was the MVP of the 2010 TSSAA State tournament during the Tigers state championship season, was all-region three years, all district four years, and made three state tournament appearances and a sub-state appearance.

"He was a leader on and off the court," said Rick Rudesill. "Even in the weight room. And he was surrounded by a good group of ballplayers that did great things here."

Murphy scored more than 1,200 points in his career.

Hardeman County Sports Notes

The Bolivar Hardeman County Boxing Club is accepting applications from people ages 8-80, call Director Obie Beard at 731-402-1078 for more information.

Bolivar Parks and Recreation offers a Pickleball Clinic at the Bolivar Municipal Building in the gymnasium on Mondays and Fridays from 9 a.m. until 11 a.m.

Pickleball is a paddle sport that combines elements of badminton, tennis, and table tennis. Two or four players use solid paddles made of wood or composite materials to hit a perforated polymer ball, similar to a Wiffle Ball, over a net. The sport shares features of other racquet sports, the dimensions and layout of a badminton court, and a net and rules somewhat similar to tennis, with several modifications. Pickleball was invented in the mid 1960s as a children's backyard pastime.

For more information on the clinics, call the Bolivar Parks and Recreation Department at 658-7529.
