ONE DOLLAR

From the Other Side of the Desk

The adventure that was the 2019 Bolivar Central Lady Tiger softball team came to a close last Saturday in Lexington.

What a ride it was. We went places we never had any reason to go. The TSSAA has been in charge of the softball playoffs for many, many years, but it rarely made much difference to us.

Until this year. Our hosts, Lexington, were and are perennial visitors to the state championships. They had never played us this late in the season. Our fault, not theirs.

Until this year. Normally, softball ends the first week in May in Hardeman County. We would play a game or two in the district and that would be it.

Until this year. We wouldn't have a send off from the Hardeman County Courthouse, hundreds of people wouldn't have traveled with the team, with many more listening to the radio.

Until this year. Playing Lexington (44-4) used to be rather tough for the Lady Tigers of Bolivar, just like it was for everyone else. Usually, we had to work pretty hard just to get their attention.

Until this year. But, we got it. We played them tough. We led for a bit. The result was not a foregone conclusion, it was a hard fought game. Yes, Lexington beat us, but they had to play well to do it.

The group that brought us where we had never been were stars in the Dixie state tournament years ago. We hadn't been there either.

Softball is looking pretty good in Bolivar. Our girls gave us a great season to remember. We won more games and went farther in the playoffs than any team, ever.

Well, hopeful, until next year.

Four Elected to City Council

Victories for the two incumbents and two open slots were filled as the Bolivar City Council set their panel for the next two years.

The closest race of the election was Carol B. Spinks, who won 60% of the vote in defeating Lajuana Polk in District A, Position 1, while the other open slot was the biggest landslide of the night as Larry Crawford defeated Barbara Jean Fitzhugh, winning 82% of the vote.

Spinks will replace Tommy Woods on the council, while Crawford takes the seat held by Tracy Byrum, who served two terms as city councilwoman.

The incumbents also had a relatively easy time as Todd N. Lowe beat Jimmy Howell and Daisy M. Harvey. Lowe, who will begin his third term on July 1, won 61% of the vote.

Larry McKinnie, Sr., currently the longest serving councilman on the council, received 79% of the vote in defeating Donell Polk, Jr. McKinnie will begin his 13th year on the council when the panel is sworn in on July 1.

The unofficial results are in the box to the right.

County OKs First Budget Reading

The Hardeman County Commission on May 21 voted unanimously to accept the 2019-2020 budget presented to them on the first reading after the Budget Committee itself barely moved the budget numbers out of their five-man committee.

The 16-0 vote pushed the process forward to the second reading and public hearing, which is scheduled for June 18. If passed in June, it would make the budget official.

The Hardeman County Budget Committee consists of commissioners Jackie Sain, Chris Bell, and Johnny Lanier, with Junior Jimmerson and Jerry Watkins rounding out the committee.

The final vote from the committee saw Sain and Bell reject the budget but it moved forward to the full commission with yes votes from Watkins, Jimmerson, and Lanier.

The Hardeman County Commission voted to meet monthly for the second time in two meetings as the commission voted 12-4 in favor of the measure. Voting against meeting monthly were Gary Barber, Chris Bell, Johnny Lanier, and Jackie Sain.

In March, the commission voted 12-3 to meet monthly. Voting against the move in March were Bell, Lanier, and Chandra Lake. Mac Vaughn did not attend the March meeting, but voted in favor of the change this week. The monthly meetings would begin in July.

Larry Ross Wins Statewide Award

Tennessee Wildlife Federation, one of the largest and oldest non-profits dedicated to the conservation of Tennessee's wildlife and natural resources, recently hosted its 54th Annual Conservation Achievement Awards and awarded Larry Ross of Hickory Valley the Dan and Cherie Hammond Sharing the Harvest Award for his Hunters for the Hungry program.

As one of the first volunteers for the program, Ross' support got the program off the ground in Southwest Tennessee and set the standard for volunteers across the state. From raising tens of thousands of dollars, to securing 275,000 meals for hungry Tennesseans, to hand-delivering venison, to advising program leaders, Ross' commitment to the program is singular.

The ceremony was held in Nashville and presented 17 awards to recipients from all corners of the state, including Congressman David Kustoff and five others from West Tennessee.

Elvis and Rockland Road Come to the Amphitheatre

Old friends from near and far will entertain on May 24 when the Bolivar Downtown Amphitheatre opens for Hardeman County Live.

Headlining the night is Rockland Road. Fueled by a mutual passion for many genres and longing for a fun, family-friendly musical experience for their kids, Paul and Jamie Martin began singing together in 2010 with their four children: March, Kell, Texas, and Tallant. Quickly realizing that the kids all showed an uncanny knack for hearing harmonies, as well as for playing instruments, they began performing shows together. Originally named "The Martin Family Circus," they changed to Rockland Road in 2018.

Opening up the night is Hardeman County's Brian Lee Howell as Elvis. The evening is scheduled to begin at 7:00 p.m.

OUR COUNTY

Mobile Job Unit is Coming to Town

The Tennessee Department of Labor and Workforce Development's (TDLWD) Mobile American Job Center (MAJC) will travel to the Hardeman County Chamber of Commerce Thursday, May 23.

The MAJC will be on-site from 9 a.m. until 3 p.m.

MAJC staff will help job seekers complete online applications, resumes, and to register or update their information on www.Jobs4TN.gov, Tennessee's online workforce development website that has more than 150,000 current job openings. The mobile job center offers nearly all the services of a full-service center, at locations that are easy for job seekers to access.

This event is free and open to anyone looking for employment, who may be underemployed, or who is interested in changing careers.

The Mobile American Job Center is Tennessee's one-stop career station, conveniently delivering workforce services across the state. The resource extends TDLWD's reach into communities that do not have access to an American Job Center and brings helpful services to events in the state's larger cities. The mobile American Job Center is one way Tennessee is working to create the nation's No. 1 workforce by assisting both job seekers and employers.

Adoptable Animal of the Week by Sara Vonderheide

Oden is a young adult pointer mixed breed. This handsome boy is about a year old and still has a lot of puppy energy. He will need a fenced area to run and play in. Oden loves everyone and has a wonderful personality. He will make a great family dog, but he will need some training since he is young and energetic. He is heartworm negative and will be neutered before adoption. He is healthy and up-to-date on his shots. Are you the right human for Oden? If you would like to meet Oden, please contact a volunteer (preferably by text message): Charla Cooper at 731-234-4421 or Jennifer Smallwood at 731-609-0408. You can also check out our Facebook page, Hardeman Adoptable Animals, Inc. You can also come to the shelter. We are located inside the county landfill (Walton Road), and volunteers are there between 9-1 each day. HAA, Inc. is a 501©3 not-for-profit organization. Adoption fees are $125, and this includes all vaccines, spay/neuter, and care while at the shelter. If you are calling to report a loose dog, please call Animal Control at 731-658-9032. To call the shelter looking for a lost dog or to speak to a volunteer, please call 731-659-3040 and leave a message. Need to have your dog OR cat spayed or neutered? Need to have it done for free? Contact us to find out how you can do that!

Attention TN Achieves students: Your eight hours of community service must be completed by the end of June. Text 731-234-4421 to set up your hours at the shelter! You must set this up in advance to make sure your hours are counted.

Looking for plans for Father's Day? HAA will be the non-profit organization of the game that day at the Memphis Red Birds game! Come spend the day at the ball field having a good time and supporting HAA. Contact us for tickets!

FAITH

Jesus as God, Part 1

by Jeff Capshaw

The Christian scholar and theologian, Wayne Grudem, said that the greatest miracle in all the Bible is the fact that Jesus is fully divine and fully human. There just is nothing in our normal experience which enables us to comprehend this truth. It is a mystery which defies common sense and is utterly counter-intuitive, but this is not unique to theology.

According to modern science, many facts about nature prove to be totally unrelatable to our normal experiences. There simply are no sufficient analogies or illustrations that will elucidate them. Additionally, one would be considered foolish or delusional to deny some of them.

Take Quantum Mechanics (QM); even experts call it bazaar. The late Nobel Laureate, Richard Feynman even said, "nobody understands QM." QM is the study of the behavior of infinitesimally small atoms and their sub-atomic constituents. At those tiny scales, classical physics breaks down and no longer works. For example, humans can see objects down to about a length of 0.1 millimeter. That's smaller than a grain of salt. Yet, electrons are so small that no one has been able to determine their size, but they have calculated the largest their radius could be, and that's one billionth of one billionth of a meter.

Moreover, according to some interpretations of QM, particles can be in superposition: two places at once. Also, physicists are only able to calculate either their position or momentum but never both simultaneously. Oddly as well, particles, once they become entangled, appear to be able to communicate with each other at great distances and at speeds faster than light, thus seemingly violating Einstein's Theory of Relativity. As a matter of fact, he called it "spooky action at a distance" and died believing there were hidden variables yet to be discovered about QM.

Finally, some interpretations suggest that somehow, by measuring a particle, it collapses its wave function. Yes. The observer somehow impacts the behavior of particles. Although QM has been marvelously successful and enabled the wonders of modern technology, these and other mysteries remain unsolved as do many other phenomena of nature.

So, just because we can't get our heads around something, it doesn't mean it isn't so. Scripture is clear. "In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. He was in the beginning with God. All things were made through him, and without him was not anything made that was made" (John 1:1-3, ESV). John goes on to say, "And the Word became flesh and dwelt among us, and we have seen his glory, glory as of the only Son from the Father, full of grace and truth (1:14).

Think about it this way. If it were not for the second person of the Trinity (God the Son) becoming a man, if it were not for the "beginning Word's" becoming a man, then that Word, that God might well be just another abstract philosophy.

Sunrise: Live On

by David Coy

For many who love deeply, losing someone they loved deeply and highly esteemed is one of the most difficult traumatic events that can occur in a person's life. What is a true axiom was well said by Alfred Tennyson when he said, "I hold it true, what'er befall; I feel it, when I sorrow most; 'Tis better to have love and lost than never to have love at all. Perhaps this is no more true than when a mother is the one who is lost. All those who are deeply loved and are lost are difficult to recover from and rebuild life apart from them can be extremely challenging. Mothers are not exception, someone has said concerning them, "No painter's brush nor poet's pen in justice to her name, has ever reached half high enough to write the mother's name. Make ink of tears and molten gems, and sunbeams mixed together; with holy hand and golden pen, go write the name of mother."

How do we move forward from a deeply felt traumatic loss, such as one might experience with the loss of a beloved mother or child? Begin by understanding basic truths. Life, our life is a journey we did not have any choice in. Life is brief and is filled with commotion. Longfellow wrote what may be described as a psalm of life. "Tell me not in mournful numbers, life is but an empty dream! For the soul is dead that slumbers, and things are not what they seem. Life is real! Life is earnest! And the grave is not its goal; dust thou art, to dust returnest, was not spoken of the soul." Death also will not be a choice we make for us or a loved one, but it is a journey we will make. Thus we should while life is ours make the choice to live our life a prepared life of honor and full of purpose for today and in hope of tomorrow for life is brief. Areas affected by the planned outage include City of Grand Junction, Jenkins Rd area, Park Swain Rd. area, Holder Rd. area, and Indian Creek Rd. area.

This planned outage is weather dependent and will be rescheduled in the event of inclement weather.

Equine Disease Found in West Tennessee

The Tennessee Department of Agriculture is advising horse owners of a case of equine infectious anemia (EIA) in West Tennessee.

A horse stabled at a farm in Shelby County recently tested positive for EIA. The horse has been euthanized, and state officials are now testing additional horses that stabled with or live near the infected horse.

EIA is not contagious to humans. It is a blood-borne illness that can be fatal for horses. Symptoms may include fever, weakness, swelling, loss of appetite, or colic. However, an infected horse may not show any clinical signs. There is no treatment or vaccine. Once infected, a horse must be permanently quarantined or euthanized.

In January, four horses stabled at a farm in Rutherford County were euthanized after they tested positive for EIA. Six other horses at the same farm tested negative.

State law requires an annual Coggins test to check for the presence of EIA before any horse is transported from its home farm to a different location. Although that paperwork is valid for one year, horse owners may want to consider testing their livestock more frequently.

“Early detection and containment are critical to preventing the spread of EIA,” Interim State Veterinarian Doug Balthaser, D.V.M. said. “We urge horse owners to practice good animal husbandry and regularly test their horses. As always, contact your veterinarian if you notice any signs of illness in your livestock.”

Other tips include:

- Don't co-mingle your horse with other, unfamiliar horses.
- Do not share needles or any other medical supplies that come into contact with blood.
- Keep the area in and around your barn clean to reduce the fly population.

The C.E. Kord Animal Health Diagnostic Laboratory offers a full line of equine disease testing, including West Nile virus, equine infectious anemia, equine herpes virus, equine protozoal myeloencephalitis, eastern equine encephalitis, and equine influenza virus. Contact your veterinarian for more information.

Take a Closer Look at Myths Surrounding 529 Plans

If you want to help pay for your children's college educations, you might want to consider contributing to a 529 plan. With this plan, your earnings grow federally tax-free, as long as the withdrawals are used for qualified higher education expenses such as tuition and room and board. Yet, you may have heard some things about 529 plans that are keeping you from investing in one. However, these concerns may be more myth than reality – so let's take a look at a few of them.

"I need a lot of money to contribute to the plan." This myth has essentially no truth to it. Typically, only a modest amount is required to open your 529 plan, and you can generally transfer small sums to it from your checking or savings account.

"If my child doesn't go to college, I lose out on the money I've put in." This myth runs counter to one of the 529 plan's greatest benefits: flexibility. If you've named one child (or grandchild) as a beneficiary of a 529 plan, and that child or grandchild decides against pursuing higher education, you can simply change the beneficiary to another eligible family member. Furthermore, if none of your intended beneficiaries will need the 529 plan, you can name yourself the beneficiary and use the money to take classes or receive some other type of qualified education opportunity. In a worst-case scenario, in which the money is never used for education, you will be taxed on the earnings portion of the withdrawals – but had you never contributed to a 529 plan, the funds would have been taxed, anyway. (However, you might be subject to a 10% penalty tax, in addition to regular income taxes, again on the earnings portion of the withdrawals.)

"I have to invest in my own state's plan." Not true. You're free to invest in the 529 plan of any state, no matter where you live. But it could be advantageous for you to invest in your own state's plan, as you might receive some tax breaks for state residents. (The tax issues for 529 plans can be complex, so you'll want to consult with your tax advisor about your situation.) Investing in your own state's plan also might provide access to financial aid and scholarship funds, along with possible protection from creditors.

"A 529 plan will destroy my child's chances for financial aid." While a 529 plan could affect your child's financial aid prospects, it might not doom them. And the benefits of building significant assets in a 529 plan could outweigh the potential loss of some needs-based financial aid.

Before investing in a 529 plan, you'll want to explore it thoroughly, as you would any investment. You can find details about a 529 plan's investment options, share classes, fees, expenses, risks and other information in the plan's program description or offering statement, which you should read carefully before making any purchasing decisions.

But, in any case, don't let "myths" scare you off from what could be one of your best college-savings vehicles.

A big shout out to Vicki Rush for sharing about her recent trip to Italy. She writes, "At the beginning of March, several members of the Rush family and several friends headed to Italy. Some stayed for a month and some stayed for a week! We flew into Florence and rented a car and headed to our home in Siena. We rented a house outside the city limits, where an 11th century manor and bell tower had been converted into a rental property. The owners lived in a separate house in the middle of an olive grove and vineyard where they made their own wine and olive oils. During the first week, Stan, Susan and Vicki Rush along with two of Stan's children, Will and Mallory, took a long and exciting one-day trip to Rome. Susan drove, Will navigated and the others prayed. Italian drivers believe in charging ahead and always being aggressive. Susan was happily able to keep up with no problem. We visited the Coliseum, the Pantheon, the Vatican Museum and the Sistine Chapel, St Peter's Cathedral, Piazza Navona, The Trevi Fountain, the Spanish Steps, and everything in between. Mallory said, 'Rome wasn't built in a day, but we saw it all, in a day!' For the remainder of the week with the family and friends, there were cooking classes wine tastings, trips to Florence, San Gimignano, Pisa and Leaning Tower. The days were filled with great food, stunning scenery, incredible art, beautiful leather goods and a lot of focused and determined shopping." Vicki, Susan and friends stayed for a month visiting many other Tuscan hill towns, Venice and the Prosecco Road. The trip was supposed to be the trip of a lifetime, but they are hopeful of returning next year.

Another big shout out to Harry Rush. Recently I drove by his home on Hurst Road and thoroughly enjoyed seeing his house and yard beautifully manicured. Memories flooded my mind of the days when Ms. Pauline Rush lived there and always maintained beautiful bushes and flowers around her lovely home.

Bill and Vonda Siler enjoyed their recent visit with Bobby and Wanda Fry in their home.

Hello from friendly Town of Toone. Well, it appears we had a very short spring and have been thrown right into summer time temps. Needless to say, it's been a crazy weather year. The severe weather we normally get in the spring, seems to have come earlier in the winter this year. But, never count-out dear old Mother Nature, as she always seems to sneak up and fool us when we least expect it. At least the rains are only coming once a week or so now instead of daily like we've had for the past several months. And the best part of it all is that boating season has begun! I have missed those lazy, relaxing days floating in the water and cruising around on Pickwick Lake Aboard the Toone Pontoon. Summer vacation has begun for the students and staff at Toone School. Everyone has worked hard this school year, and I'm sure all are ready for their well-deserved summer break. I would also like to say Congratulations to the eighth-grade graduates of, Toone Elementary School, as they end their time at TES and move on to the next chapter in their lives at Bolivar Central High School. I know you all join me in wishing them the best in their high school careers!

Amelia McCarver, enjoyed a day-trip, May 14, with the senior group from Englewood Baptist Church in Jackson. The group traveled to the "Johnny Cash Storytellers Farm and Museum", near Centerville, TN. After the museum tour, everyone enjoyed a delicious meal at "Montgomery Bell State Park Restaurant". Amelia says the group is already planning their next trip.

If you weren't at the Hardeman County Arts Council theater last weekend for their production of Smoke on the Mountain, you missed one of the funniest and most entertaining shows yet! The talented cast did a wonderful job bringing the Sanders Family to life, and the gospel music was very uplifting. Congratulations to the show's director, Wanda Young, and everyone involved with the show on a job well done. The fun will return for the Holiday production of Sanders Family Christmas. Stay tuned!

Happy Birthday wishes to, Lisa Higgs, and Daughter, Laura Ann Higgs, who share a birthday, May 29. Looks as if Bob has two cakes to bake!

Happy Birthday to our Teague neighbor, Tom Young, May 30. If you see Tom out and about, be sure to wish him a happy day!

I hope you all have a very happy and safe Memorial Day weekend. Whether you are away on vacation, spending time at the river or lake, or just relaxing at home with family and friends, I hope you enjoy your holiday. Let's all remember the reason for this special day as we pay tribute to those who gave their lives protecting our rights and freedom in this great country. Please take time to pay tribute to these brave men and women.

Remember to share your summer vacation adventures with your neighbors by calling me or emailing me via the information above. Until next time . . . talk to your neighbors!

Limb Shakers:::~::~:

Just a sampling from last years bounty. This past Friday Uncle Si (James) and I hit the river full of high expectations. Early Saturday morning we met at the boat landing with a very high morale. Speaking of "hit", the river was falling. I eased to the boat and BAM!! My feet were airborne and my worst nightmare (gravity) once again showed me "it's " always in charge! Uncle Si had that "deer in the headlights" look, my head left my signature in the concrete along with my perfect buttocks imprint. I shook it off the best I could and we were on the memory trail.

To our surprise:: No Fish!! We both knew this wouldn't be the final chapter for this fishing season. The outing was the prize catch for the day. As I always say::: you don't know if you don't go.

As Always::: SAFETY FIRST::: HOOT. (Along with life jackets, a motorcycle helmet might be in order)

The Best Season Ever Ends

The Bolivar Central Lady Tigers saw their most successful season ever come to a close on May 18 with a 5-1 loss to Lexington in the sub-state game, the latest the Tigers have ever lasted in the playoffs.

Head Coach Dylan Hill said it was bittersweet.

"While this is not where we wanted it to end, we can't help but be proud of all that we accomplished. This team has been special. I'm so humbled by the fact that I got to be their coach. Each girl on this roster played an integral role in our success, but I can't say enough about our senior leadership. Those three girls held this team together through everything. Our fans didn't see the behind the scenes work of these girls. They were true leaders and the program will miss them," he said.

Hill is saying goodbye to the program and Bolivar Central High School after this year, choosing a career in the ministry.

"Five years ago, I thought I would do this for the rest of my life. God has other plans, but I am so grateful that He allowed me these five years with this program. I've learned a lot. I've learned about softball, humility, patience (lots of patience), sisterhood, friendship, and pride. But more than anything, I've learned about resilience. I've watched a program change so much over the last five years. These girls turned a mediocre softball program into an opportunity at the state tournament. Every single girl I had the privilege to coach played a part in making it what it is today. I'd like to thank Jeff Barnes for taking the chance on me five years ago. I had no experience in or out of the classroom, but he trusted me with the program. I can't go without thanking Jordan Stack for being there every step of the way. He was the mind behind the on-field play. I couldn't have done any of it without him. And I have to thank my dad. No one knows the sacrifices and work he put in to this program. He was our bus driver, score keeper, and announcer, but more than anything, he was our encourager. The girls were able to get a brief glimpse at the man I've known all my life and I know they were blessed by it. Finally, thanks to the citizens of Bolivar who never failed to cheer us on. I am proud to be a Tiger, forever."

Bolivar Middle School golfer Carson Daniel shot 78-68-146 to win the 2019 TMSGGA West Regional Championship at the Links at Galloway on May 15-16.

The team finished fourth among six teams. Besides Daniel, Clay Strope (84-92--176) Tucker Parker (94-83--177) and Gunnar Barnes (98-98--196) rounded out the team total.

"This year's team was talented, competitive and showed great sportsmanship. Carson, the youngest player on the team, plays with ease, a controlled temperament, and has a natural ability for the entire game of golf," said Coach Kim Sain.

Bolivar Central High School announced on May 22 that Montrell Craft has been hired as the next football coach at Bolivar Central. Craft, who was the Defensive Coordinator for Bolivar Central last season, was hired in 2018.

Bolivar Central lost five-year head coach Woodrow Lowe in April when he announced he was taking the Defensive Coordinator position at Lausanne in Memphis. Lowe had a 25-28 record that included three consecutive trips to the TSSAA Playoffs.

Bolivar Central opens the 2019 season at Freedom Prep in Memphis.

The Bolivar Hardeman County Boxing Club is accepting applications from people ages 8-80, call Director Obie Beard at 731-402-1078 for more information.

NASCAR legend Dale Earnhardt Jr. will speak at Freed-Hardeman University's annual benefit dinner December 6. The annual event raises funds for FHU scholarships.

Earnhardt is a third-generation driver in the first-family of NASCAR racing. Race fans have selected him a record 14 consecutive times as NASCAR's Most Popular Driver. His appeal, however, is not limited to race fans, as Earnhardt has appeared on Harris Interactive's annual survey of America's Top 10 Favorite Athletes.

FHU's annual benefit dinner is typically the state's largest single-night fundraiser. For the past 19 years, it has generated more than $1 million annually.

The First Annual Community Open House at Lone Oaks Farm will be June 8. The gates will be open to all from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. to enjoy a free fishing day at the main lake.

Barbecue sandwiches, chips, drinks and desserts will be available for purchase and games will be set up for kids.
