ONE DOLLAR

From the Other Side of the Desk

It's like the song, "Everything old is new again."

For example, the book, All I Really Need to Know I Learned in Kindergarten, seems to be making a comeback as society has taken on the role of telling us what to do about everything. It's about washing your hands, keeping those hands to yourself, cleaning up your own messes, and sharing.

And while all of that is fine, I'm getting a bit tired of being placed in Time-Out. I mean, I didn't put paste on the teacher's chair or pull anybody's pigtails. Not this time, anyway.

We all need to be safe, we're told. Agreed. No doubt.

But the fight in the teacher's lounge over who gets to be in charge of what we can and (more often) can't do, is not helping either.

So while this isn't exactly an original idea, I think I could help the government out by breaking all of this down to two simple rules.

You don't have to write these down, there won't be a test.

1. If you are sick, stay home. Or if you go anywhere, go to the doctor. Weren't we doing this already?

2. If you aren't sick, please remember that you still can stay home. But only if you want to. The rest of us will just take our chances (or freedom, if you prefer), like we were doing before...every single day.

Actually, everything old (and new) is kind of getting old.

Things you might need to know:

More Testing Doubles Known Cases

Hardeman County saw the COVID-19 cases double in a week as the county prepared to open businesses in response to the most recent executive order issued by Governor Bill Lee.

As of April 28, the State of Tennessee website listed 11 cases in the county, but due to an increase in testing (see below), confirmed cases almost doubled, to 20, as of May 5, per tn.gov. The website listed 567 negative tests in the county.

With the increase in confirmed cases, Hardeman County Mayor Jimmy Sain said he is being told those infected are being monitored.

"I am being told the Department of Health is checking on them daily," he said.

BEA and TVA Team Up Via Churches

Bolivar Energy Authority is proud to announce that it has partnered with the Tennessee Valley Authority (TVA) to award $5,000 each to Zion Temple Church, Rivers of Life International Ministries, First United Methodist and First Baptist Bolivar to help the local community during the ongoing COVID-19 crisis.

"BEA wants to be here to help our community", said, Tony Kirk, President/CEO of Bolivar Energy Authority. "The churches will be using the donation to help households with payment of utility bills, rent, food and needed medical supplies. BEA is partnering with these churches to help get people back on their feet during this unforeseen circumstance."

These funds will be distributed by the four local churches on a needs basis. Contact one of the partner churches directly for assistance with getting these funds. Each individual church will make the decision on who is awarded the funds and how much each request will be given.

Funding from Bolivar Energy Authority will be matched by TVA's COVID-19 Community Care Fund, which helps local power companies meet immediate needs in their communities by providing matching funds for local initiatives addressing hardships created by this pandemic.

"In the spirit of public power, we are honored to partner with local power companies to address the unprecedented challenges facing those we serve, "said Jeannette Mills, TVA executive vice president and chief external relations officer. "TVA has a mission of service to make life better for the people of the Valley and providing these funds to address immediate needs is one way we can help ease the burdens on families and communities.' But while the economy is opening for many businesses, the fun is still on hold.

"Social and recreational gatherings of 10 people or more are prohibited, including but not limited to festivals, fairs, parades, youth and adult sporting events, and overnight summer youth camps," says the order that has an expiration date of May 29.

This continued restriction would keep events such as Music on the Square in Bolivar, Dizzv Dean Baseball and Softball, and Bolivar Central High School and Middleton High School graduation plans on hold, although all have announced plans to resume activities based on the May 29 expiration date.

City Hosts Free COVID-19 Testing

More than 200 people were tested for COVID-19 on Thursday, April 30 at the Bolivar Hardeman County Library as Bolivar General Hospi-

Dolly (#19597) is an adult female, terrier mixed breed. She is about two years old and weighs a little over 40 pounds. This sweet girl is a little too thin, and the volunteers are working to put some weight on her. She was found on the highway the day after Christmas and nobody has come to claim her. She looks like she has been on her own for some time. She likes to roll over for bellyrubs and is still very nervous around all the loud dogs at the shelter. Sadly, she is heart worm positive and will need treatment. This sweet girl just needs a place

Creating a Habitat for Butterflies by Carolyn Tomlin

"If you plant it...they will come!" says Emilie Dickinson, a West Tennessee native. "It's true of many different species and it's certainly true of butterflies (Lepidoptera). This elusive creature is one of God's marvels of nature. From a tiny egg, to a caterpillar or larva, to a chrysalis, and finally a graceful adult butterfly—these four stages have intrigued gardeners for centuries." Dickinson should know, as she has planted her yard in flowers that attract butterflies and wildlife.

Gardeners who have welcomed these jewels of nature to their yard recommend you start small. It's better to have a miniature plot kept attractive than to plan an overgrown garden that you can't maintain. If you don't have a garden, use large pots on your patio. Larger containers are easier to care for in hot, summer weather as they require less water. Consider the location... sun or shade? Are the plants compatible as to needing a similar amount of water? An organic mulch not only cuts down on your work, but it keeps the plants moist and requires less water.

The following factors provide a habitat that not even the most elusive butterfly can resist. Provide both host and nectar plants

Caterpillars are very particular in what they munch on the menu. Include the plants native to your area when possible. Native plants thrive in the environment, are usually resistant to disease and insect. They also adapt to the moisture level in the area.

The idea of Go Figure is to arrive at the figures given at the bottom and right-hand columns of the diagram by following the arithmetic signs in the order they are given (that is, from left to right and top to bottom). Use only the numbers below the diagram to complete its blank squares and use each of the nine numbers only once.

Strawberry Mess

Ingredients

- For the meringue cookies: 3 large egg whites 1/4 teaspoon cream of tartar 3/4 cup of superfine or caster sugar (see notes) 1/2 teaspoon pure vanilla extract
- For the whipped cream:
- 1 cup heavy whipping cream
- 1/2 teaspoon pure vanilla extract
- 1 tablespoon granulated white sugar

For the strawberries: 1-pound fresh strawberries

2 tablespoons granulated white sugar

Instructions

Meringue Cookies: Preheat oven to 200 degrees F and place the rack in the center of your oven. Line a baking sheet with parchment paper.

In the bowl of your electric mixer, with the whisk attachment, beat the egg whites on medium speed until foamy. Add the cream of tartar and continue to beat the whites until they hold soft peaks. Add the sugar, a little at a time, and continue to beat until the meringue holds very stiff peaks. Beat in the vanilla extract. (Note: The meringue is done when it holds stiff peaks and when you rub a little between your thumb and index finger it doesn't feel gritty. If it feels gritty, the sugar has not fully dissolved so keep beating until it feels smooth between your fingers.

Before placing the cookies on the cookie sheet, place a little of the meringue on the underside of each corner of the parchment paper. This will prevent the paper from sliding. Then, using two spoons or a cookie scoop, place 12 equal sized mounds of meringue onto the prepared baking sheet. Bake the meringues for approximately 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 hours, rotating the baking sheet from front to back (about halfway through) to ensure even baking. The meringues are done when they are pale in color and fairly crisp. Turn off the oven, open the door a crack, and leave the meringues in the oven to finish cooling. Makes about (12) 2-1/2-inch meringues.

Whipped Cream: In a large mixing bowl place the whipping cream, vanilla extract, and sugar and stir to combine. Cover and chill the bowl and wire whisk in the refrigerator for at least 30 minutes. When chilled, beat the mixture until stiff peaks form.

Strawberries: Place about one third of the strawberries in your food processor and process until just pureed. Or you can just mash them with a potato masher or fork. Cut the rest of the strawberries into bite size pieces and place in a small bowl, along with the pureed strawberries. Sprinkle the granulated white sugar over the strawberries and stir to combine

To assemble: Break five to six meringue cookies (use more or less if you like) into bite size pieces. Then fold the strawberries and meringue cookies into the whipped cream. Serve immediately.

FAITH

Jesus Now? Part 3 by Jeff Capshaw

All prior lessons were based on the Epistle of Hebrews, because there isn't a better place in the New Testament for the current focus. So, in this week's concluding meditation on the topic of Christ "now work," the same course is followed. What is another lesson believers may take away from Christ's present, priestly work?

A4

To answer that question, we will circle back to the very beginning of this rich epistle and remind readers of whom is in control of the events which have befallen us. It certainly isn't we, nor it is any government. Rather, it is the ascended and seated Creator and Sovereign of the universe, Christ Himself.

Consider the opening verses of Hebrews and be encouraged by it. "Long ago, at many times and in many ways, God spoke to our fathers by the prophets, but in these last days he has spoken to us by his Son, whom he appointed the heir of all things, through whom also he created the world. He is the radiance of the glory of God and the exact imprint of his nature, and he upholds the universe by the word of his power. After making purification for sins, he sat down at the right hand of the Majesty on high, having become as much superior to angels as the name he has inherited is more excellent than theirs" (Hebrews 1:1-4, ESV).

There are three statements for consideration in this passage concerning Christ's work. First, the entire Creation belongs to Him. God the Father appointed Christ to be the "heir of all things." That means he has custody of it. Although the creation is fallen and vividly messy to us, especially in recent weeks, the Son will see to it that this fallen creation will one day be put back into its original, pristine condition. Pandemics do not take creation's owner by surprise nor thwart his ultimate plan of Redemption.

Second, not only is Christ the heir of all things in the created order, but he was somehow the agent of Creation. This is an instance in Scripture that strains our imagination. We have nothing in our experience to compare it to. How exactly was the pre-existent Christ involved in the Father's creation of the world? From the book of Genesis, we are told that God the Father created by his spoken Word and declared that creation good. In verse 2 of Genesis, we are also told the Spirit of God "hovered over the face of the waters." Thus, from the very beginning, we see all three members of the Triune Godhead involved in the very act of creation.

That makes the final statement even more meaningful. "He (Christ) upholds all things by the word (literally 'a word') of his power." Here is one encouraging take-away. Since Christ is the Creator, the Heir, and Sustainer of all creation, then there is also nothing that comes into our lives that he cannot handle. Rest in the present work of Christ.

Hang On by David Coy

"Hope delayed makes the heart sick, but a longing (desire) fulfilled is like a tree of life" (Proverbs 13:12). These are very discouraging times, depressing times, as we strive to build a new normal out of the rubble that is our loss. Many have lost loved ones during this new Coronavirus outbreak. The above text is a reminder that hope yet exists to be realized and become a cause for happiness still. When we allow our hope to become weak we become sick of heart. We lose our focus of our dreams, goals, our aspirations when we think or feel our hope is gone. It is then we are in danger of despair, entering a very dark place in life that some do not return. Yet, hope has been described as medicine and an anchor of the soul.

There is a story of an individual who lost all that was dear and precious. Through their struggle to build anew they learned their life yet had purpose. They further learned life does not exist in a bubble or on an isolated island to and by ourselves. We need work, to be industrious, as well as social interaction. Physicians also have reminded us that our immune systems also do not thrive in a vacuum of isolation. Babies pick up many things with germs on them and touch them and taste and this strengthens their immune system. Isolation does not. To keep hope alive we must keep reaching out beyond, keep learning, keep growing, keep in physical and social interaction with each other, keep believing. Faith is the substance or conviction of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen. Thus faith is based on evidence. This is what keeps hope alive and anchors our soul to what is real, what is important and essential. It is hope that gives us the motivation to continue past all loss and anguish, realizing it too will pass. This is Sunrise Aftercare, sfdcaares.com

Smart Moves for Women Business Owners

Mother's Day is upon us. If you're a mother, you'll enjoy the recognition you get from your family on this day. And given the health concerns caused by the Coronavirus, your appreciation of family may be even greater this year. As we all know, mothers have a difficult job. And many mothers also run their own businesses - another demanding task made even more difficult these days. What special challenges do women face who embark on careers as business own-

Of course, motherhood itself presents a major challenge. As a society, we have not achieved gender equity yet, in terms of family responsibilities, so mothers - even busy business owners - still face time constraints and interruptions from work to care for children. And it's not just children, either - the vast majority of caregivers for elderly relatives are women, according to a study from Northwestern University. So, many women business owners may be coping with multi-generational family issues.

You can't change the demographic pressures you may face, but, as a business owner, you can take some steps to help improve your financial outcomes. Here are a few ideas:

Seek networking opportunities. You can find useful, and empathetic, allies in other women business owners, who may be able to direct you to valuable resources. To illustrate: Women's businesses often lack financial support to a greater degree than men's, and it is unfortunately not uncommon for women to be denied loans because of gender and cultural biases. But if you become active in a network of women business owners, you could find some leads to financial institutions that have showed themselves to be free of gender-based

Be extra aware of investment risks. Everyone should always be aware of investment risk, of course, but if you have most of your assets tied up in your business, you may need to be extra diligent. You're already taking a fair amount of risk by just having a business, so you may need to balance this risk in your investment portfolio by choosing the mix of investments that can help you move toward your goals without subjecting you to excessive market volatility.

Establish a retirement plan for yourself. Have you established a retirement savings plan for yourself? About one-third of business owners haven't, and 40 percent are not confident they can retire before 65, according to data compiled by SCORE, a nonprofit organization that works with small businesses. Fortunately, you have several good retirement plan options, including an "owner-only" 401(k), a SEP-IRA, a SIMPLE IRA or even a solo defined benefit plan, which func-

Create a succession plan. You may need a strategy for transferring or selling your business. Do you want to keep the business in the family? If so, who do you want to take it over? Or would you prefer to simply sell it to someone else? Your decisions, whatever they are, will affect your financial picture and possibly that of your family, so you will want to consult with your tax, legal and financial advisors to arrive at a plan that works best for your needs.

You've got some twists and turns ahead of you on the road to financial security. But planning ahead, considering various possibilities and seizing your opportunities can help you smooth out the journey.

Tales from The Yellow House

by Lee McAlpin

A8

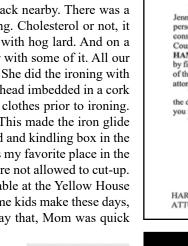

It has been said time and again that the kitchen is the heart of the home. The same held true at the Yellow House during the fall and winter months. In the summer months, the heat from the wood cook stove placed the temperature equal to that in the cotton fields. A lot of the fixtures that were essential in the early country kitchens have all but disappeared, what with all the welcomed new conveniences for the lady of the house. The old wood cook stove, with it's warming closet, stood statley in our kitchen. The warming closet was a treasure trove of goodies. There were always some baked sweet potatoes, combread, and some fluffy cat-head biscuits in there. Our flour barrell, wooden dough bowl and rolling pin was hand carved by our great Grandfather and were used by Mom to produce thousands of her famous biscuits. She didn't use a biscuit cutter. She used the pinch-off and pat-out method. Often, I would get one of the biscuits, punch a hole with my finger nearly all the way through the side of the biscuit, fill the hole with sorghum molasses and chow down. Still good as a Hostess Twinkie.

There was a table that held the water-bucket, dipper, washpan and a towel on a rack nearby. There was a twenty gallon lard stand that held the hog lard rendered out from the last hog killing. Cholesterol or not, it sure made the food taste good. Everything that Mom boiled or fried was seasoned with hog lard. And on a few occasions, when I could not find any Q-Ban hair oil, I shined my curly red hair with some of it. All our food was cooked in black iron cookware. Mom would do her ironing in the kitchen. She did the ironing with a heavy black iron which she heated on the cook stove. She had a little mini shower head imbedded in a cork that she inserted in an RC Cola bottle filled with water that she would dampen the clothes prior to ironing. After heating the smoothing irons, she would rub them across a cedar tree branch. This made the iron glide smoother and also gave the clothes a cedar aroma. Our kitchen also had a stovewood and kindling box in the corner. In one end of the kitchen opposite the cook stove was our dining table. It was my favorite place in the house, as one of my favorite things was, and is, eating. During our meals, us kids were not allowed to cut-up. And for some reason, I have not figured this one out yet, but singing at the dinner table at the Yellow House was near an unpardonable sin. And we were never to make a comment like I hear some kids make these days, such as "I don't like this", or "I wish I had so and so to eat". The one time I did say that, Mom was quick to tell me," You better be glad you have that to eat, for some poor kids does not have anything". We didn't have to be told to eat everything on our plate, we gladly ate it all.

Who can forget the smell and beauty of a shiny new red and white checkered oil cloth for the dining table. That, plus a mason canning jar full of Moms roses and peonies sitting in the center seem to whet the appetite that much more. The country kitchen was and still is the heart of the home, even into the future when Moms will pre-dial their daily menus into a computer for a pre-cooked five course meal. I wonder why that everytime I write, it wakes my appetite.

HARDEMAN COUNTY SCHOOLS "Preparing for the Future, One Child at a Time"

Bobby Doyle ~ Interim Director of Schools

April 30, 2020

Hardeman County Parents, Students, and Teachers,

I hope this update finds you and your family healthy and safe. Last week, Governor Lee held a press conference and shared important information for school systems to consider as we plan the closure of this school year. Each school will be contacting parents/students with the dates and times that personal belongings may be picked up from the building. Please return textbooks, library books, or other materials that belong to the school. (Note: Consumable textbooks that students write in may be kept). Report cards will also be issued during this time.

understand the unknowns disappointments seniors, I and For endured during end to their have been that an unexpected last school year. With our state just now beginning to release certain restrictions, we feel it is best for the health and safety of everyone to go with June dates for graduation. The following has been decided regarding graduation (dependent upon further state guidance):

- Middleton High School will hold graduation ceremonies on June 13 at 4:00 p.m. and 6:00 p.m.
- Central High School will hold graduation ceremonies on June 19 at 7:30 p.m. (Rain date is June 20 at 7:30).
- Schools will be contacting each graduate about practice dates, times, and other pertinent information specific to each high school.
- There may still be some specific guidelines we have to establish to host this event if social distancing recommendations are still in place. Examples of this could be that we may have to limit the number of guests, provide specifics on entering/exiting the area, use of restrooms, etc. If this is the case, that information will be shared by June 5.
- If a graduate is unable to attend the ceremony, the school will work with them to schedule a brief, individualized ceremony or arrange for the diploma to be picked up or mailed.
- For now, we have no choice but to cancel prom activities at both high schools.

We certainly appreciate your continued support. Please know that when decisions have to be made in times like these, my hope is that we always make the best and safest decision for our children, even when there is no good solution. Please continue to stay safe and always be mindful of the continued recommendations for your health and safety.

God Bless and Stay Safe,

Bokk Byer

The season, tentatively scheduled to begin June 8, will run through June and into July, but plans for postseason play within the state is unknown.

The national Dizzy Dean organization will not host the World Series in 2020.

"Dizzy Dean Baseball sanction fees have been waived and each state will have the authority to have a State Tournament should things clear up in time for them to do so prior to school starting in August. We wish all of you the best and will be available to assist in any way that we can during this unprecedented time in all of our lives. Keep your family safe and we look forward to seeing all of you in Southaven in 2021," said National Commissioner Danny Phillips.

Simply Amazing:::::

April 27 would find Anthony (Southern Woods and Water TV) set-up in my River bottom. This would be his third time dealing with this turkey, my fifth.

We intentionally set-up very early, not knowing what was fix'n to take place. As if on cue, he gobbled roughly 100 yards away. 2 1/2 hours later we took pics and Anthony had footage for the $\dot{\mathrm{TV}}$ show (I'll get the word out when it's gonna be aired). That same morning, I got a "tip" from good friend and neighbor Terry. He had seen a gobbler strutting with three hens near my farm. On that information, I went to the closest proximity and set-up before daybreak.

The soon to be TV star the day before did gobble and strut for the camera. This morning's turkey went berserk, I was truly amazed he didn't get Laryngitis! What I figured would take a couple of hours, actually happened very quickly (he was roosted a long ways off). When he stepped out of the tree line, he gobbled, strutted and ran to the decoy. Simply Amazing!! As Always:::: SAFETY FIRST:::: HOOT

The Tennessee State Fire Marshal's Office (SFMO) announced that two Hardeman County volunteer fire departments were selected to receive funding through the Volunteer Firefighter Equipment and Training Grant Program.

The program, which was created Governor Lee, received State Representative Johnny Shaw's support and was approved by the Tennessee General Assembly, earmarked $500,000 for the purchase of firefighting equipment by Tennessee's volunteer fire departments or to help volunteer departments meet local matching requirements for federal grants for purchasing equipment.

The majority of Tennessee's firefighters are volunteers. The 22,065 active firefighters that have been reported to the SFMO consist of 14,218 (64.4%) volunteers and 7,847 (35.6%) career firefighters.

Chief Lynn Price and Bolivar Fire and Rescue were awarded $13,250 and the Grand Valley Fire Department will receive $11,900 to support their respective fire departments.

Our firefighters are instrumental in keeping our communities safe and put their lives on the line each and every day," said Shaw. "I hope rural communities will benefit from and receive more of these grants in the years to come."

Cycling for Health in Hardeman County by Amy Elizer

As we approach summer, many of us may be pulling our bicycles out of the garage to enjoy some nice scenery while getting exercise.

Cornell Falls', a local cycling enthusiast, has seen physical and mental health benefits since taking up the hobby. "I've lost 20 pounds. I enjoy a ride at the end of the day to relieve stress from the work day. I sleep better." Going for a bike ride also improves heart health, is easy on joints and can even help to maintain balance.

We Put Collision Damage

Falls started out riding in his neighborhood and in local parks like Pleasant Run Creek Park. He also rides on the wide shoulders of Highway 64 and has even used cycling to help run errands. In Hardeman County, you can also access trails at nearby Chickasaw State Park, which allows biking on park roads, including many in Chickasaw State Forest.

Dr. Fitzhugh, UT professor or recreation and kinesiology and a cyclist himself, states, "the roads of Bolivar are well connected, which allows for both recreational cycling and cycling to destinations like running errands."

According to Dr. Fitzhugh, it's important to remember to check your bike before going out for a ride. The ABC Quick Check is an easy way to make sure your bike is in good working order. Check the air in the tires, make sure the brakes aren't worn, check for gunk in your chain and that cranks aren't loose, that the Quick release on each tire is closed, and finally, check the bike out on a slow brief ride. The League of American Bicyclists has an excellent video that demonstrates the ABC Quick Check (https://youtu.be/mQ1_yx_6B-U). The League also has some great resources for you on how to fit your helmet (a must to be safe!), what type of clothes to wear, and how to set up your bike to be as comfortable as possible. Just go to this website to find more information -- https://www.bikeleague.org/content/smart-cycling-tips-0.

OUR COUNTY

Saving the Thin Mints[™] for a Better Day

Girl Scouts Heart of the South announced to its members this week that the council will buy back unsold Girl Scout Cookies from troops throughout its 59-county area. As a result of the COVID19 pandemic, the 2020 Girl Scout Cookie Program was cut-short during the booth sale season, leaving many troops with cookie inventories and no way to complete their sales.

"At a time when we are all focused on family, work, finances and health, Girl Scout Cookies should not be a financial concern to families, troops or volunteers," said Girl Scouts Heart of the South CEO Melanie Schild. "It is with these concerns in mind that we have announced the Cookie Relief Program to relieve Girl Scout troops of any financial burden due to unsold cookie inventory."

The 2020 Girl Scout Cookie Program was cut short due to health and safety concerns during the COVID19 outbreak. In a normally 4-week program of booth sales, only two full weeks were able to be held. The third week of the program saw a sharp decline in the number of troops continuing the public booth sites, leaving many troops with cookies on-hand and responsibility for payment. Some Girl Scouts continued sales through porch drops and other social-distancing methods of delivery but were not able to deplete their inventory with limited options of reaching customers.

"Many girls are disappointed to miss out on reaching their goals for the 2020 program. They plan their programs, trips, service projects and troop activities for the year around meeting their goals," Schild continued. "Even through online sales and donations, troops have not been able to continue the program at the rate they had planned and prepared for."

Girl Scouts Heart of the South serves more than 6,200 girls in west Tennessee, north Mississippi and Crittenden County Arkansas. The council expects to see a financial loss of approximately 40% of its annual cookie program income. Council proceeds from the annual Girl Scout Cookie Program remain in the local area and are used to provide program, summer camp and travel opportunities for girls, along with training and support for more than 1,700 volunteers.

"We are grateful to our communities for their continued support of the annual Girl Scout Cookie Program. We are dedicated to continuing our extraordinary programs and support for our members and will be exploring ways to reduce expenses without diminishing the Girl Scout Program Experience," said Schild.

Local Girl Scout Service Units – a collection of troops in a particular county or geographic area, have an opportunity through the Cookie Relief Program to take possession of remaining cookie inventory, when it is safe to do so, and sell remaining cookies to the public in order to raise needed funds for local, community-based programs, girl memberships, new troop start-up funds and service unit events. Potential customers may see additional opportunities to buy cookies from the service unit efforts if safer-at-home advisories are lifted in time to do so.

"We are committed to continuing the Girl Scout Experience which prepares girls for a lifetime of leadership, success, and adventure in a safe, no-limits place designed for and by girls," Schild stated. "No other organization in the world gives girls as many opportunities as Girl Scouts and we'll see this short-fall through for our girls, troops and families to ensure that no family carries this financial burden while we all strive to stay healthy and safe."

OPINION

The Editor's Inbox...Letters to the Editor Dear Editor,

I was thinking that it would be a good idea for once weekly to have a story of quarantine fun. Due to kids being out of school because of the Covid 19 virus, families and care givers may be searching for ideas that they can do while they are quarantined. Examples, a nature Scavenger hunt outdoors or even doing this indoors with hiding alphabet letters that would be put together to spell words, Nerf gun target shoot indoors using balloons or empty plastic bottles, also pine cones, acorns, and rocks can be collected to paint, and glue for crafts.

This would be especially helpful for people becoming depressed. I am a Boy Scout with the Troop 922 in Middleton, Tennessee, this is part of my requirements for the Communication Merit Badge. Will Durham, Middleton

Toone Glenn Yarbrough 731-609-0939 gnyarb@bellsouth.net

Hello from Toone. As we get into May, it appears that with the new implementation of the reopening of some local businesses, more and more people are getting out and taking advantage of the new shopping and dining opportunities. But, the only way this will work is if everyone proceeds with caution and follows the rules and guidelines set forth. I have already seen a few places where crowds are beginning to gather again and people are not keeping their distance from one another. If this becomes a problem, and we start to see a spike in the COVID-19 cases, the government will react with closures of these businesses and gathering places, and the last thing I believe any us wants is a repeat of April. Hopefully we can all work together to keep this from happening and get our communities back to a more normal state.

On a personal note, after 6 long weeks of shaggy hair hanging over the back of my neck and over my ears, I finally got a good haircut, and it sure feels better. It is amazing to me how much we all miss the little things in life when we can't have access to them. One of the upsides of this whole ordeal for me has been learning to be a better cook. It has allowed me time to play around with recipes and try-out new dishes. If I do say so myself, I have cooked some pretty good meals lately. I have also learned that my crockpot is my best friend!

Toone Baptist Church will be resuming worship services at the church, Sunday, May 10, at 11:00 a.m., but there will be no Sunday School or Wednesday night prayer meeting services. Brother Anthony Vaughn says the church will be doing their best to practice social distancing and take all measures to insure members' safety. More information and details can be found on the church's Facebook page and their new website: ToonebaptistChurch.com after May 10, the church will continue to live-stream services for those members and guests who do not feel comfortable being back around others right now and for those who are in the high risk category. These people can continue to connect with the services online. As I receive more information on the local churches schedules, it will be posted here in this weekly article.

Please join me in wishing a very Happy Birthday for two of my Cloverport Road neighbors, Debbie Bryce, and, Savana Denton, who both will celebrate their big days, May 14.

Speaking of Savana, she and her husband, Drew Denton, are expecting their first baby (a boy) in August. Toone Grandparents, Judge Boyette (Bodeen) and Melissa Denton, are very excited about their first grandchild. Congratulations to Savana and Drew and their families!

Good luck to all of you out there, and remember please be safe and follow the rules! Until next time. . . . talk to your neighbors!!

Silerton Mary Lynn Lambert 609-6455

Condolences to the family and friends of Bobbie Barr. Bobbie had a unique way of lifting the spirit of people she was around.

Please continue to pray for John Jordan as he recovers at home. He was recently discharged from the Jackson Madison County Hospital.

Silerton residents will miss Rebecca Gloyd. She recently moved to Bolivar. Bolivar's gain was Silerton's loss.

We welcome Alfred and Jonna Ewing to 170 Lambert Lane. Jonna is the oldest daughter of Frankie Lambert. They moved here from Portage, Ohio. Both had lost their jobs. Despite the quarantine, each has obtained employment. Jonna states there has been a lot of adjustments but the biggest adjustment has been poor cell phone service. Like most grandmothers, the thing she misses the most is not seeing her six grandchildren. No telephone service makes it very hard. Now she can't see them and has problems with having a good cell phone signal. Jonna stated that she loves the fact that she can walk down the hill and see her dad. She is enjoying the peace and quietness of Silerton. She said, "The pace is much slower here and life seems to be more stress free."

Silerton Baptist Church plans on having services on Sunday, May 10.

Piney Grove Baptist Church organized a drive-in church service where everyone sat in their cars and listened to Bro. David deliver his message.

There will be no Decoration Day services at Wesley Cemetery on the 2nd Sunday in May due to Covid 19. I would appreciate if you would call and share some of your news and thoughts or memories so we can stay connected.

Hornsby Amber D. Moore 731-609-1210 amber.moore_04@yahoo.com

Hello to all! I pray everyone is doing well. I know cases have increased in the county so I hope everyone will continue to try and stay safe. I see so many projects going on around people's homes, which hopefully when things get back to normal everyone can enjoy visiting with family and friends. Please remember to support the local businesses all that you can, I know they would appreciate it. I am very thankful for the businesses trying to do all they can to help us through this.

Hornsby Baptist will have church service this Sunday, but will do it's best to remain as far apart as possible. Churches are continuing on line sermons also so if you don't feel safe to get out yet just listen to one or more this Sunday. This Sunday will be very different because there is usually a packed house and we have a wonderful meal together for Mother's Day. Moms are such wonderful blessings. I miss my mom, she loved her family and made every holiday so memorable. If you still have yours lift her up and tell her just how much you love her. Please remember to check on folks who you know do not get out much and if they need anything the church is happy to help as I know all the churches are happy to help.

Prayer is a powerful thing and I know there are a lot of wonderful folks who are happy to pray for you or someone you know. Please continue to lift the following people up in your prayers: Lynn Allen, Joe Anderson, Mimi Anderson, Hugholene Barnes, Ricky Bass, Diane Cross, Sue Day, Norma Emerson, Rich Emerson, Robert Gibson, Crystal Grantham, Thomas Green, Sue Hall, James Hanna, Marilyn Hanna, Willie Lou Hannis, Richard Hazelwood, Justin Hodge, Sue Hodge, Willis Hornsby, Jo Edna Howell, Charley Johnson, Ann Kelly, Aubrey King, Lucy King, Debbie Laster, Sawyer Jane Luttrell, Bobbie McBride, Betty McMahan, Orville McMahan, Margie Moore, Carolyn Morgan, Evan Nield, Lockie Newman, Joyce Overton, Gay Pierce, Gail Pope, Scarlett Sipes, Stacy Spence, Ronna Spoon, Susan Thompson, Benjamin Tucker, Martyn Venuti, Tommy Warner, Eddie Webb, Jennifer Wheeler, Piper Williams, the men and women who serve our country, the families of the ones who are fighting cancer, all the health care workers, the leaders of our country and especially the ones who are lost.

His Word for the week in honor of all moms: Proverbs 31:30-31 "Favour is deceitful, and beauty is vain, but a woman that feareth the Lord, she shall be praised. Give her of the fruit of her hands; and let own works praise her in the gates." Praise God and thank Him for all moms!
