From the Other Side of the Desk

Well I was wrong again. Again. Big surprise.

In this instance, I got a call from one of the attorneys in the salary dispute case. Seems her charge titled "media" was for her talking to the Jackson Sun. (It's a newspaper from up north, in case you only read the Bolivar Bulletin Times)

Of course, I'm happy I'm not as big a part of the $1.1 million in legal fees as I thought I was, but as a good friend told me, it's not anything to celebrate either...not being worth $350 an hour to talk to. Being worth exactly squat to converse with, he reminded me. I guess I need to make up my mind...

Survey says: I'll live with it. Happily.

The other side, however, named the Bolivar Bulletin Times by name so he can't call me (not that he's talked to me since I guessed he'd ask for $415,000 in legal fees...was I WAY off) and claim "it's not you, it's me or someone else."

Again. If I had a dollar for every time I've heard that...

I've read his expenses. Stayed awake until almost the end even. Wow. And I thought I was a creative writer. I'm in the minor league tee-ball league compared to this guy. Why?

Because $962,911.41 for a case that was almost dismissed twice (or was it three times?) is way too much.

Just my opinion. This week, it's only a dollar, by the way.

Darrell Teubner, Editor

Note: I'm not really worried about him suing me for saying all of this. Number one, it's fair comment. Number two, he probably wouldn't want to pay his own ridiculous fees to file it.

What You Saw Was...*

*What you got...

Provisional ballots in Hardeman County Municipalities were waited upon but too few provisional ballots were collected to change leads in Middleton and Hornsby, while Toone's razor thin margin total did not change at all.

In Toone, Jackie Kelly led David Wayne Williams 51-50 after election night, with provisional ballots needed to be waited upon in order to finish the total, but in the case of Toone, the unofficial count did not change.

Provisional ballots are to ensure voters have a chance to cast a ballot if their eligibility is uncertain. The ballots are counted after Election Day after they are investigated to determine if they were cast under legal guidelines.

And while Hardeman County Administrator of Elections Amber Moore anticipated having final results by Monday, November 9, the records from the state agency took a few more days, due to a heavy volume of voting statewide.

In Middleton, incumbent Mayor Jackie Cox trailed Robert "Evan" Mott 145-132 and according to the election commission, not enough provisional ballots were cast to change the outcome. The same occurred in Hornsby, where Megan Hedwall had an 82-54 lead on incumbent Mayor Mack Carter, Jr. after election night.

Other races with no opposition including Jim Daniel remaining Mayor of Saulsberry, Grand Junction elected three aldermen and Silerton saw Mayor Willard Beshires run unopposed as well.

The election is scheduled for certification on November 17.

Council Passes Raise on 1st Reading

The Bolivar City Council passed a raise to $6,000 per year for each member on the first reading by a 4-2-1 vote at the regular meeting of the city council on November 9.

And while it was only the first reading and will require a second reading and second vote by the council to make it official, the room had the feel of a final vote debate.

"What do you have to justify $500 a month?" asked councilman Jonathan Joy. "Justify it! I'll vote for it. I don't know who was in the committee meeting, but justify it. You want extra money? Go to Walmart and be a greeter!"

"We had a park dedication," began councilman Melvin Golden. "And you weren't there."

"I wasn't invited," interrupted Joy. "I've done stuff out of my own pocket. I've done stuff you don't know about. But you want to take it from the citizens? Go ahead. But you ain't got my vote."

After a motion by Golden and a second by councilwoman Carole Spinks, councilman Larry Crawford, also a member of the committee with Spinks and councilwoman Suzanne Rhea, proposed an amendment to the ordinance to put the monthly salary back to $275 but pay the council members for committee work at the rate of $50 per meeting. The motion died as no one on the council seconded the motion.

The final vote had Golden, Rhea, Spinks, and councilman Todd Lowe voting for the raise, while Crawford and Joy voted no. Councilman Larry McKinnie abstained from the vote. Present at the meeting, but unable to participate was State Senator Page Walley, prohibited by statute from participating after his recent election to the 26th District spot in the senate.

New Councilman Sought for Bolivar

The election of Bolivar City Councilman Page Walley to the Tennessee Senate made for an immediate opening on the Bolivar City Council as the Vice-Mayor was no longer able to serve the city, even though the election results are yet to be certified.

"It's not when I'm sworn in," explained Walley to the city council. "They tell me I became the senator the moment I was elected."

While Walley's spot is up for election in 2021, a replacement will be elected to the council at the December meeting.

The 11th Hour of the 11th Day of the 11th Month

The American Legion Post 198 gathered at the Middleton Veterans Wall at 11:00 a.m. on November 11 to commemorate and celebrate the armistice signed at Le Fancport near Compiegne at that same date and time in 1918 that ended all fighting in World War I between the Allies and Germany.

Although the agreement was made in advance, fighting continued up to 11:00 a.m. that day, with 2,738 men dying on the last day of the war.

The armistice ended the fighting on the Western Front, it had to be prolonged three times until the Treaty of Versailles, which was signed on 28 June 1919, took effect on January 10, 1920.

These Things, Part 4 by Jeff Capshaw

The prior three articles centered upon Paul's letters to Timothy and Titus, because the churches in Ephesus (Timothy) and Crete (Titus) were thrown into disarray by false teachers. They were also men of shady character. Paul confronted these problems, because the churches' families needed to recenter and refocus on the Gospel mission in their pagan cultures (Ephesus & Crete).

To accomplish this, Paul began a character-building program. He was trying to bring foundational stability to the core sociological groups in these churches, where distraction and disorientation had resulted from his nasty opponents.

Paul encouraged Timothy and Titus to teach the various sociological groups some specific things. For example, all men are to pray, but the older men are to be "sober-minded, dignified, self-controlled, sound in faith, in love, and steadfastness." Moreover, Paul urged "the younger men to be self-controlled" (Titus 2:6).

Women were to practice modesty, self-control, propriety, godliness, and good works. They also were to be known for their internal character and not for making external shows. They were not to be given to much wine nor slander. Instead, "they are to teach what is good..." (Titus 2:3).

The next sociological group he instructs the young Pastors to admonish were the wealthy, and he has much to say to this group. He writes, "as for the rich in this present age, charge them not to be haughty, nor to set their hopes on the uncertainty of riches, but on God, who richly provides us with everything to enjoy" (1 Timothy 6:17).

Because of their tangibility, material possessions may give owners a false sense of security or control over life. The wealthy may also forget from where their wealth comes. Moreover, Paul tells the wealthy that "they are to do good, to be rich in good works, to be generous and ready to share, thus storing up treasure for themselves as a good foundation for the future, so that they may take hold of that which is truly life" (1 Timothy 6:18-19).

These admonishments to the wealthy are for good reasons. While the above instructions offer the practical implications for properly handling and mishandling wealth, the final text aimed at the rich gets at the heart of the matter. One's attitude toward money, wealth, and prosperity is of paramount importance, both positively and negatively.

Paul writes, "but those who desire to be rich fall into temptation, into a snare, into many senseless and harmful desires that plunge people into ruin and destruction. For the love of money is a root of all kinds of evils. It is through this craving that some have wandered away from the faith and pierced themselves with many pangs" (1 Timothy 6:9-10).

If believers are blessed with material means, they should understand both its proper uses and its potential pitfalls. In another place, Paul urges Christians to work and earn in order to give to those who without (Ephesians 4:28). Finally, an unhealthy love something tangible and temporary like money may also lead to evil and pain.

Differences by David Coy

Some people in the midst of their journey with grief have adopted the attitude, what is done is done, I cannot do anything about it, so I will get on with my life. If this is our attitude or we know someone who is applying this mindset we might ask a question, is this how we/they really think or feel? John W. James and Frank Cherry in their book, The Grief Recovery Handbook think this may not always represent the true circumstances in a person's life. I was listening to someone the other day who made this statement, 'you have to feel pain before you can let it go.' With every maxim or opinion there is the possibility of some truth. I think some people do process, heal and transition quickly from their previous life before their loss to their current life with whatever may be required.

One approach is to live suppressing feelings in their journey with grief. Some people believe that this method of dealing with sorrow is unhealthy and will only get worse with time. It is true that some people do not cope well with loss and live isolated from expressing any emotion and this works reasonably well for them. If someone is struggling mightily in coping with loss words of comfort may be appropriate, or words of encouragement such as, you will be able to climb your mountain, working through your struggle believing all the while you will endure and eventually heal from your pain. Another approach is in harmony with the phrase silence is golden. When you do not know what to say, do not know how to say it, if talking may hurt someone, when people do not want to hear it, or they would rather suffer in silence. Dionysius said, "Let your speech be better than silence, or be silent." Respect differences. This is Sunrise Aftercare, sunrise@sfdcares.com

GO FIGURE! by Linda Thistle

NATURAL GAS FACTS

- 1 Natural gas is naturally colorless and odorless. Mercaptan, which some describe as having the smell of rotten eggs, is added to natural gas to make it easier to detect a leak.
- 2 Natural gas is a very safe and efficient source of energy.
- 3 If you ever smell gas and think that you may have a leak, DO NOT operate any light switches, or create any open flame, please leave the area immediately, and call the Bolivar Utility Department during regular business hours at 731-658-5894 Monday-Friday 8:00 a.m.-4:30 p.m., if after hours, dial 911.
- 4 If you hear a hissing sound or dust/dirt blowing up from the ground, leave the area, and call Bolivar Utility Department or dial 911 after hours.
- 5 If you ever have the need to dig in your yard or property, call Tennessee One Call System at 811 and we will be notified to mark gas pipelines that is the property of the Bolivar Utility Department.
- 6 If you ever see any suspicious activity near a pipeline or someone intentionally trying to damage a pipeline, please call Bolivar Utility Department at 731-658-5894 or after hours, dial 911.

Protect Your Finances from "Cyberthieves"

You've no doubt heard reports of personal data being stolen and used for financial fraud – anything from online shopping on your credit cards to actual theft from your financial accounts. This problem won't go away anytime soon – but you can take steps to defend yourself.

Here are a few suggestions:

Use multifactor authentication or other extra security options with online accounts. Many of your online accounts offer extra security by giving you the option to prove your identity in different ways. With multifactor authentication, you must provide at least two different factors to prove your identity when you log in to an account. This additional layer of security provides you with much greater protection.

Be creative with passwords. Create different passwords for work, financial services sites, social media and email – and give each password some length and complexity. Consider passphrases – actual words combined with symbols and numbers (for example, "ThisIsAPassphrase!2468"), for sites that allow them.

Protect your computer and your key data. Keep your antivirus software updated. And don't install bootleg or unlicensed software, which could infect your computer with a virus. Also, back up your important data.

Watch out for fake websites or apps. When making financial transactions, be sure you're on the website of your bank or financial institution – and not on a fake site established by hackers. Your financial statements should have the legitimate website, so bookmark it and use it when doing anything with your accounts. Also, be careful when downloading apps – stick with those from established providers such as Google Play or the App Store.

Avoid "over-sharing" on social media. Cyberthieves constantly stalk social media platforms for information they can use to commit their crimes. You can help stymie them by limiting what you share online. It's a good idea to keep your full name, address and birthday private. You might also avoid discussing your plans for upcoming vacations. And review your privacy settings periodically so that only people you know or approve can see your information.

Limit use of public Wi-Fi. Hackers often set up their own Wi-Fi networks in public areas, such as the computers found in hotel business centers. Ask an employee for the name of the legitimate network. And even when you use it, log off when you're finished.

Don't take the bait of "phishers." Cyberthieves go "phishing" for sensitive information – usernames, passwords and account numbers – by sending communications, such as emails, purporting to be from a business or financial institution with which you often do business. They may claim your account was "suspended" or that an "unauthorized transaction" was made, and you'll be asked to click on a link that takes you to what appears to be the company's website.

If you go along with this request, you could find malicious software being downloaded on your computer. But legitimate businesses generally won't ask for account numbers or passwords unless you initiate the transaction. Other signs of phishing include threatening language, "urgent" requests, misspelled words or odd word choices. If an email does look suspicious to you, delete it without opening it.

This list is not exhaustive, but by putting these steps to work, you can at least reduce the risk of becoming victimized by cybercriminals.

BEA Partnering with Silicon Ranch for New Solar Farm

Bolivar Energy Authority (BEA) has signed a contract with Silicon Ranch Corporation for a new solar project in Hardeman County. Once completed in 2022, the 3.45-megawatt (MWAC) facility will provide enough low-cost solar energy to power more than 500 homes.

Earlier this year, the Tennessee Valley Authority (TVA) announced that for the first time in its 87-year history, it has begun offering local power companies (LPCs) the flexibility to meet a portion of their power needs through their own generating sources. BEA is one of the first LPCs in the Valley to execute a deal under these new terms, selecting Nashville-based Silicon Ranch as its partner for the solar project.

“As a public power utility, BEA cares about the well-being of our community, and this solar project is a win for our customers and our region,” said Tony Kirk, BEA President and CEO. “We look forward to working with Silicon Ranch—a Tennessee company and a national leader in solar energy—to help maintain and keep rates as low as possible for our customers and bring the benefits of this project to Hardeman County. On behalf of our team and our Board of Directors, I want to thank TVA for making generation flexibility available to us.”

TVA is a national leader in carbon rate reductions. Over the next ten years, TVA is implementing a plan to reduce carbon emissions by 70% from 2005 levels.

“TVA is building the energy system of the future, and we applaud BEA for leveraging the flexibility option to grow renewables in the Valley,” said Doug Perry, TVA Senior Vice President of Commercial Energy Solutions. “TVA is pleased to work with BEA and Silicon Ranch to meet local customer needs with local renewable energy.”

Silicon Ranch pioneered utility-scale solar in the state of Tennessee and remains a market leader, with more than 35 operating facilities across the Tennessee Valley. On behalf of BEA, the company will fund, construct, own, operate and maintain the solar facility and sell the power to BEA through a long-term power purchase agreement.

“Silicon Ranch takes great pride in our Tennessee roots and in our role as a trusted local partner to help TVA and LPCs deliver value to the customers and communities they serve,” said Matt Kisber, Silicon Ranch Co-Founder and Chairman. “We applaud TVA for its vision to provide LPCs with generation flexibility, and we’re honored to work with BEA to deliver low-cost, locally sourced solar power to meet customer needs and recruit new business.”

Silicon Ranch is the U.S. solar platform for Shell and one of the largest independent producers of solar power in the country.

Making the Streets Safer in Hardeman County

Through the COVID-19 pandemic, UT Extension’s Hardeman Healthy Outreach has continued work to make streets in the towns of Hardeman County safer for people to walk, run and cycle. Now there is a virtual opportunity for residents to provide feedback about unsafe roads, crossings, and intersections—along with the best routes to get to exercise and to everyday locations.

“Due to COVID, many of the peer projects across the country have moved from in-person walk audits where people walk together to identify trouble spots that are barriers to safe walking and cycling. Wikimapping is a less expensive way we can find and help the towns plan for possible crosswalk or signage improvements in the future,” Amy Elizer, UT Extension specialist said. “I shared the program with partners in Middleton and they feel it will move walkability throughout the county to the next level,” she continued.

“Last year, Dr. Fitzhugh helped Middleton look more closely at places people walk for exercise to help the town have data to apply for the funding to improve walkability here. Many things have been on hold because of the pandemic, but this virtual opportunity will keep us moving forward. I want to encourage everyone to participate,” said Linda Earnest, Middleton city recorder. Dr. Gene Fitzhugh guides H2O’s physical activity work; he is a UT Knoxville associate professor of kinesiology, recreation, and sport studies.

“Quite a few people walk to the trail at Middleton park instead of driving there so they get even more exercise. We have sidewalks in most of the area, but it’s along the highway. I think what H2O learns will help the towns be safer for people who want or need to walk or ride a bicycle. It can help me have a better idea of where there may be speeding issues that I’m not already aware of,” Matthew Maness, Middleton police chief added.

People can remain anonymous or create an account to provide information to the Wikimapping site that can be found at <https://wikimapping.com/Hardeman.html>. A short video on using the program was created by Dr. Fitzhugh and can be found at <https://vimeo.com/367022574>. Amy Elizer is available to share information to community groups; her contact information is 731-697-7209 or aelizer@utk.edu.

This project is funded by the CDC’s High Obesity Program (HOP) through The University of Tennessee Extension to improve access to food and physical activity opportunities throughout Hardeman County. ## The Editor’s Inbox...Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,

On December 20, 2010 in one sentence from the doctor, my husband and our lives changed forever. We were given the diagnosis of liver cancer with widespread metastasis. We spent New Year’s weekend in shock. On January 3, 2011 we met with the oncologist who was honest with us in explaining that the disease had progressed and was widespread and no treatment was offered, other than some radiation to gain a few days. He was barely able to do five days of radiation, as disease was progressing rapidly, and my husband became too weak to travel in the car for treatment. Pain was excruciating.

We started hospice within a few weeks of diagnosis. Hospice was a godsend to my family and I. I, myself am a Registered Nurse, but it was immediately clear to me that I could not handle all this on my own. I have one daughter, who was also devastated. No other family in my hometown.

From the moment my hospice team entered our home, I felt a sense of security and peace that sustained me throughout the final four weeks. I was not able to think clearly; my daughter and I were in such pain, we were treading in unknown waters – without hospice support we would have drowned. Their professional expertise and genuine compassion held us up during the darkest days of my life.

It was a natural and God-driven transition for me, as a nurse, and a widow, to now “pay it forward” to other suffering families’ by volunteering with Hospice of West Tennessee. My heart and soul will forever be dedicated to easing the pain and providing comfort to another person/family’s journey through the process of illness to death. I will be forever grateful to my hospice team for the love and support that carried me to this day in 2020.

November is National Hospice Palliative Care Month, an important time to help others understand the important resource we have in our communities. It’s never too early for a family to learn about the services hospice can provide. Hospice of West Tennessee is here for you. To learn more, call 731.664.4220 or visit www.wth.org/services/hospice.

Sincerely,

Lynn Williams

The ordinance will be presented at the December meeting and will include a public hearing prior to the vote.

Joan Henderson submitted funny for the week: While driving in Pennsylvania, a family caught up to an Amish carriage. The owner of the carriage obviously had a sense of humor, because attached to the back of the carriage was a hand printed sign... "Energy efficient vehicle: Runs on oats and grass. Caution: Do not step on exhaust."

Please continue to deposit your Best Choice labels in the container at Food Giant service desk. This helps with the Middleton Woman's Club fund raising for community projects especially since we have had to cancel two bake sales due to COVID-19.

Toone

Hello from Toone, where the past couple of weeks it's felt more like early June than November, but waking up this week to low temps back down into the 40's reminds me that winter is not far away. This dry weather has been very helpful to the farmers and timber loggers and other outdoor workers. Once again it seems we are riding the crazy West Tennessee weather rollercoaster!

The USDA is sponsoring a "Farmers to Families" Food Box Distribution, November 12 & 19, at First Baptist Church in Middleton, TN. This food drive is open to all Hardeman County residents, with no pre-registration required. There is a six-box limit per family unless you call ahead to arrange more with, Stephanie Middleton, at 731-658-2421 or 901-770-5248, before the date of the drive. They ask that you do not arrive to get in line before 8:30 a.m.

Hardeman County Schools is seeking input from families regarding scheduling performance. To complete the survey, go to the TES Facebook page and follow the instructions. Please, only one survey per household.

Mark your calendars, folks! "Choose 'n' Cut" Christmas Trees begins November 21, at Falcon Ridge Farms. They will be open Saturdays and Sundays for walk-up customers, but appointments are required on weekdays. For reservations and more information, call Falcon Ridge at: 731-658-5200, or visit them online at: FarmAtFalconRidge.com/events/christmas-trees.

We are saddened to hear of the passing of our good friend and long-time Toone neighbor, Billy Joe Tyson. Billy was born, September 5, 1936, and passed away, November 4, 2020. Billy owned and operated Four Seasons Pest Control, until his retirement when his son, Rick, took over the business. Billy enjoyed riding horses, fishing in farm ponds, hay-farming and coon-hunting with his brothers. Please keep Billy's wife and family in your thoughts and prayers.

Please join the congregation of the Toone Baptist Church in wishing a Happy Anniversary to their pastor, Brother Anthony, and his wife, Michelle Vaughn. The couple celebrated their anniversary, November 3. We wish them many happy returns of the day.

The Chism family of Toone is asking for your prayers for their Brother, Aaron Chism, who suffered a massive heart attack. At the time of this writing, Aaron is in ICU at Methodist North Hospital, in Memphis. Aaron is a retired Tennessee Highway Patrolman, and now makes his home in Bartlett, TN.

Happy Birthday to my older Brother, Paul Bailey Yarbrough, who celebrated is big day, November 12. Paul now lives in Hendersonville, TN, with his daughter, Lindy. Happy Birthday to, Tim Moss, on November 13. Even though Tim does not live in here in Toone, he probably spends more time here than in Bolivar, managing the A.L. Keller Farms. He was also a substitute Toone rural mail carrier for many years. Happy birthday, Tim!

Until next time. . . talk to your neighbors!

Bolivar PD to Run Safety Campaign in November

As the Thanksgiving holiday approaches and more drivers hit the roads, the Bolivar Police Department is partnering with the Tennessee Highway Safety Office (THSO) to remind motorists to “Click It or Ticket.” From November 16 - 29, participating agencies across the state will increase seat belt enforcement as part of the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration’s (NHTSA) nationwide mobilization.

“During the ‘Click It or Ticket’ campaign, we’ll be working with our fellow law enforcement officers across local and state lines to ensure the seat belt safety message gets out to all drivers and passengers,” said Bolivar Police Chief Michael Jones. “By far, buckling up is the simplest thing you can do to limit injury or save your life during a crash. We see the results of not wearing a seat belt all the time. We see the loss of life and devastating injuries that could’ve been prevented with the simple click of a seat belt. That’s why buckling up is more than just a good idea—it’s the law.”

According to NHTSA, in 2018, there were 9,778 unbuckled passenger vehicle occupants killed in crashes in the United States. In that same year, 56 percent of passenger vehicle occupants killed at night (6 p.m.–5:59 a.m.) were not wearing their seat belts. That’s why one focus of the “Click It or Ticket” campaign is nighttime enforcement. Participating law enforcement agencies will be taking a no-excuses approach to seat belt law enforcement, writing citations day and night.

For more information about seat belt safety or the THSO, visit www.tntrafficsafety.org.

November Madness :::::

Squirrel Guru LJ (Larry Joe) arrived at my house just before daybreak. We'd hunt around my house. He'd go to the left, I'd go across the road. We knew they (squirrels) were hitting the acorns pretty hard. When getting back to the house we had gotten 10 that morning. This hunt was the third or fourth time we had hunted this area. That was our best morning so far in this area. We talked about the hunt, LJ mentioned squirrels follow the food. They travel like all wildlife in search of the upcoming winters bounty. When it comes to squirrel hunting, LJ knows what he's talking about. As the squirrels move, so does he!!

With full blown deer season now in, I'm focused on getting Emma her first. Duck season opens November 28-29. Then December 5 till 31 January. Final preparations are being made for that. Good luck to everyone this season!! As Always, SAFETY FIRST::::: HOOT

Note::::: This duckseason is very special to me. I'll be taking Purple Heart Recipients from Fort Bragg N. Carolina. Preparation is key!! I'll keep y'all informed as I get more detailed information.

Woods Signs with Three Rivers

Bolivar Central Lady Tiger Softball four-year starter Shelby Woods (seated middle right) signed November 11 to attend Three Rivers Community College in Poplar Bluff, MO and will compete in the Missouri Community College Athletic Conference (MCCAC).

"Shelby is the athlete that I never had to worry about "not showing up," began Coach Kim Emmerson. "She is my 'I can't...I have softball' kid, yet excelled in her school work, FFA activities, and found time to kill some turkey and deer. She dreamed of this moment and worked hard for it to become a reality. Three Rivers is getting not only a great athlete but a great all-around young lady."

In 2018-19, the last full year played in the MCCAC, the Lady Raiders went 40-9 overall, with a MCCAC record of 15-3, good enough for the championship.

The MCCAC awarded its first conference championships in men's basketball and men's baseball in 1968 and was named the Midwest Junior College Athletic Conference (MJCAC). Since then the conference has gone through two name changes. The name was changed to the Midwest Community College Athletic Conference in the 1980's to reflect the growing trend in changing names of junior colleges to community colleges.

In 2014, the name was altered to reflect the conference schools all being from Missouri. Charter members included: St. Louis Community College-Florissant Valley, St. Louis Community College- Forest Park, St. Louis Community College- Meramec, Three Rivers Community College, and Mineral Area College.

County Teams Get Re-Alignment News

Middleton and Bolivar will have almost a whole new look with regard to teams in their districts for football and basketball beginning with the 2021-2022 school year.

Bolivar football will only keep one team from last year as Covington will be part of the six team 7AAA region, joining Bolton, Millington, Ripley, and Dyersburg.

Middleton will have a completely new region, competing in Region 8A with B.T. Washington, Bluff City, MASE, Memphis Middle College, and Westwood.

Basketball will split from three classes to four classes in the 2021-2022, throwing Bolivar into a district that will be familiar...to Middleton fans.

Bolivar basketball will be in 13AA playing against Adamsville, Decatur County Riverside, Madison Academic, and Scotts Hill High School.

Middleton basketball will again head west and compete in District 16A with Bluff City, City University, Memphis School of Excellence, and Westwood.

Softball and baseball will follow the basketball guidelines, with very few exceptions.

Hardeman County Sports Notes

Three players are tied for the lead in the 10th annual SEC Football Pick'em Contest. The winner will get a Lazyboy chair from Weems Furniture.

Eight players are one back and 18 are two off the lead with three official weeks left, but an extra week expected for games postponed by COVID-19.

In week seven, only six players picked all four games correctly. Team Bo (Mike Nuckolls, Jim Nuckolls, Bub Stevens, and Thomas Stevens) increased their lead from nine to eleven three teams: The Smithereens, Loaded with Laniers and the 2019 team champions Zorro.

Any games not played in the week they are listed on the schedule will be tabulated in the week they are made up.
