SINCE 1865

ONE DOLLAR

From the Other Side of the Desk

Back in the '80s, I played racquetball.

I played with my friends in college. Young, athletic and quick, I figured I'd be pretty good.

It didn't work out that way.

The best among us was Chuck. He was 5'11", 320.

He kind of just stood in the center and waited for the ball to come to him. And it did.

Meanwhile, my 6'0", 125 pound body ran around the court like my hair was on fire. I had unlimited energy, and I figured my superior quickness would win me point after point after point.

I didn't work out that way.

He hammered me. Game after game after game.

He hit the ball where I couldn't chase it. He zigged the ball while I zagged with my body. His ball yinged while I yanged.

The harder I hit the ball, the more it seemed to bounce wherever he was, two steps to the right or two steps to the left. And he hit it just hard enough to make me chase and occasionally run into walls, while not hitting the ball.

So, I changed my strategy. I hit it softer. I'd make him run and I'd beat him.

It didn't work out that way.

He changed his strategy. He took my soft shots and hammered it past me.

No matter what I did, he stayed calm and beat me. Every time. I mean every time. Not one time did I beat him.

After college, I ran around making a living in more than one place, always looking for the next best thing.

He went back home and got a job. A good job. He's still there. As you can guess, I'm not surprised.

Destination Bolivar Begins

The City of Bolivar moved on November 19 to begin a project that has been on Mayor Julian McTizic's mind for a long time.

It began as his proposal to purchase the area in East Bolivar known to locals as the "Sand Pit", that was approved by the city council.

"We're trying to create this area as a destination with walking trails, fishing, and hiking. The possibilities are endless," said McTizic. "I have had a vision for this side of town and this is the first step."

Where They Care: 2018 Voting #s

Candidates may want to pay attention to who is paying attention to elections in Hardeman County and beyond.

District 7 in Hardeman County, which includes Hornsby, Silerton, and Dixie Hills precincts were more interested in choosing their leaders during the county general, but Hickory Valley had their eye on the national election, according to numbers obtained from the Hardeman County Election Commission office.

District 7 had 46.9% of their registered voters go to the polls in August, which was narrowly ahead of District 1 (Bolivar) by a point and a half.

In the November Federal Election, 57.1% of Hickory Valley registered voters went to the polls, ahead of District 7 at 56.6%.

The lowest amount of interest in all three categories was Whiteville. Only 33.4% of registered voters voted in the county election, while only 50.5% voted in November. The low voter registration number of 20.6% is due to the fact that prisoners at both Hardeman County Correctional Facility and Whiteville Correctional Facility are included in the population that is represented by District 3 lawmakers.

The highest number of registered voters out of the entire population was Middleton, who have 64.2% of their citizens registered to vote. This statistic can be argued as misleading due to the age of the population variances across the county.

See statistics on A4.

It's Beginning to Look a Lot Like...

Yes, yes it is...

Christmas celebrations in Hardeman County will begin November 30, as the annual Hope Holiday Mart will be at the Bolivar Municipal Center. The two-day event vendor fees go to Hope House, a shelter for those in need of domestic aid.

Also, the Hardeman County Arts Council will show Elf The Musical Jr. the first weekend. See story below.

The City of Bolivar will kick off the next week with their annual Christmas Parade on Monday, December 3, followed live entertainment and the opening of Santa's Village in downtown Bolivar courtesy of the Bolivar Main Street Program. See advertisement on A2.

Coming to a Hardeman County Arts Center Near You

The Hardeman County Arts Council will present Elf The Musical Jr. as their Christmas show this holiday season.

Elf The Musical Jr. is the story of Buddy, a young orphan, who mistakenly crawls into Santa's bag of gifts and is transported to the North Pole. The would-be elf is raised, unaware that he is actually a human, until his enormous size and poor toy-making abilities cause him to face the truth. With Santa's permission, Buddy embarks on a journey to New York City to find his birth father and discover his true identity. Faced with the harsh reality that his father is on the naughty list and that his half-brother doesn't even believe in Santa, Buddy is determined to win over his new family and help New York remember the true meaning of Christmas.

Approximately twenty are in the show that has everyone in a singing role at one time or another.

Tickets for the Christmas show at the Hardeman County Arts Center, Elf The Musical Jr., is available at the box office, but are available now online at hcactn.myboxoffice.us. The show will run November 30- December 2.

Box office hours are Monday-Saturday, 10:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. The box office will be closed during Thanksgiving break.

The Hardeman County Arts Council (HCAC) provides an artistic forums in a wide range of venues to educate, entertain, and enrich the community. In so doing, amateur artists will be facilitated to develop their artistic talents to levels that satisfy their own artistic objectives and goals, as well as benefiting the public. The HCAC seeks to provide the best in artistry, entertainment, and culture. They hope to inform, enchant, and inspire the community through the presentation of local groups, individual artists, and major art organizations, that will nurture and promote the arts.

The purchase of approximately 122 acres, with funds from the scaled-down Hatchie River Project at the former location of the Boat Dock on Highway 18 North, would include the lake and area surrounding it on all sides.

McTizic hopes for the lake and surrounding area to attract tourism.

"We think it will be a very nice setting for families and groups to come visit for the day and longer if they like," he said. "It's very much a place someone could use as a retreat to nature."

Unanimous support (7-0) was given by the city council. Tracy Byrum was not present at the meeting. With approval given, McTizic said he hopes to finalize the purchase soon.

Now the fast and furious, intense Countdown to Christmas begins! For those of you who have not yet decorated, it's time to get busy. Personally, all my Christmas decorations are up and ready to go.

The Toone School PTO is asking for everyone's help in collecting Box Tops that the school can redeem to purchase school supplies for the classrooms. Even if you don't have a child at TES, they still need your help. Each box top is worth ten cents to the school, so you can see how valuable they are how they help the students.

The TES Bobcats will be in action again, December 3, with an away game at Whiteville. Tip-off will be at 5:00 p.m. On December 6, the Bobcats host Whiteville at home at 5:00 p.m.

The TES teams travel to Hornsby to take on the Bulldogs, December 7, at 12:00 noon, then Hornsby pays a visit to the Bobcats at Toone, December 14, at 12:00 noon.

Nothing says Christmas quite like picking out a tree as a family. Go see the nice folks at Falcon Ridge Farm before December 22, and actually go out into the fields to cut down your dream Christmas tree!

Bonnie Leathers is back at home after a stay in the hospital. Please continue to keep her in your thoughts and prayers. We wish her a very speedy recovery at home.

Please join me in sending out a belated Happy Birthday wish to, Amelia Pyles McCarver, who celebrated her big day on November 16. I hope she will post some photos of the cake that Larry baked for her.

Happy Birthday wishes go out to, Kathy Burkhead King, whose big day was, November 20. Be sure to drive up Kathy's Street to check-out the decorations she and the neighbors put out every year.

Don't forget the Bolivar Christmas Parade, Monday, December 3. It's always a great way to kick off the Christmas holiday season!

UN-NATURAL:::::
With the two day duck season opener Saturday/Sunday (November 24 & 25), the "Dreaded" R word keeps popping up in my mind:: REFUGE!! Word has it, N/West TN, refuge's are teaming with ducks. NO, I'm not glad to hear that. For all the water fowlers in Hardeman County, where do you think "our" ducks are! It's a very easy question to answer :: DUH:::: For those that hunt near a refuge, at least to get to see ducks/geese in the air. I see it like this:::: Like computers, they're PROGRAMMED (imprinted) where they will be safe/fed. I don't see ANYTHING natural about that AT ALL! I'll Never give up my challenge of getting the Refuges Hunted!! They need to be re-minded that:: It's our "time" to kill/eat them!! Yes, it's that SIMPLE!!!!
As Always::: Safety First::::: HOOT::::: note, I'll be giving Middleton Elementary School, a sample of the "Wild Side" Monday, November 26.

THANK YOU

We just want to thank our local fire department, Lynn Price and his staff, for their work in insuring that every home has a working smoke detector. They came by our home on Saturday, checking our smoke detector and making sure it was working properly. It was especially helpful for us because we are senior citizens and it is difficult for us to change batteries and also to replace the detector. It is a great work they are doing - so thanks again Lynn and your staff.

FAITH

Gratitude by Jeff Capshaw

Last week I completed a ten-part series from the book of Amos. Therefore, it seems prudent to depart from a serial plan during the holidays.

This can be an especially difficult time for many. For some this may be one of the most trying periods in life. If that is the case, then surely my heart goes out to you, regardless of whom or for what reason.

For me personally—and for lots of reasons—there was a period of years when I woefully dreaded the holidays. The pain and heartache were often unbearable, and regardless of how hard I tried, nothing helped me to cope very well. I simply endured them and longed for January 5th to arrive, the day after my birthday, so that I could put it all behind me. I deceived myself into thinking I had nothing for which to be thankful.

For those who are grieving the loss of a loved one, suffering some other traumatic event or some sense of great loss, my advice certainly will seem counter intuitive. For some it may seem impossible. But, if you can muster up the courage, the faith, the hope and the strength to be grateful; it can help you significantly.

There have been numerous studies conducted on the physical, emotional and psychological benefits of gratitude. I recently heard a talk from the British scholar, Rupert Sheldrake, on this very idea. In his book, Science and Spiritual Practices, Sheldrake enumerates seven spiritual practices which lead to more meaningful, happier and healthier lives, even for those not religious. Second on his list is gratitude.

For my fellow Christians, let us be reminded of what the Scripture says for our benefit and for God's glory. Only a handful of times does the New Testament explicitly say,

A message from parents to their deceased daughter.

My Dear Daughter Vanessa,

Thank you for teaching us about Autism, sign language, learning disabilities and anatomy.

Thank you for the laughs and good times. Thank you for showing us the human spirit and the will to live.

Thank you for showing us the vast limits of human endurance. Thank you most of all, for showing us that love has no limits. We will love you forever.

In my grief I do not walk alone, you shadow walks beside me, holding my hand.

You are with me when I go to the library asking to go on the 'puter'.

I hear you say "firetruck, hose, water, sshh, whenever the fire whistle goes off.

I hear your soft goodnight goose when I go to sleep.

Good night goose, I cannot say goodbye. ~Mom & Dad.

I am exhausted as I groan; all night long I drench my bed in tears; my tears saturate the cushion beneath me. ~Psalm 6:6.

Even in laughter the heart may ache, and the end of joy grief. ~Proverbs 14:13.

OBITUARIES

BETTIE SUE GALLOWAY RAY OCTOBER 28, 1946-NOVEMBER 19, 2018

Services for Betty Sue Galloway Ray, 72, were held Wednesday, November 21, 2018 at 2:00 p.m. in the Shackelford Chapel in Bolivar. Burial was in West Memorial Cemetery near Saulsberry. Mrs. Ray passed away Monday morning, November 19, 2018, at her home in Bolivar.

She was born in Memphis on October 28, 1946 to Cleo Franklin and the late Addie Elizabeth Burnette Galloway and lived most all of her life in Hardeman County where she was a 1964 graduate of Grand Junction High School.

On August 29, 1964, she was united in marriage to Winfred Ray and together they enjoyed 54 years of marriage. Betty loved her fellow members at Rocky Springs Baptist Church where she was a member and, in years past, served as song leader. In her leisure time, she enjoyed riding on their motorcycle trike with Winfred, cooking and spending time with family, especially her grandchildren.

In addition to her husband, she is survived by her daughter, Tammy Ray McDonald and husband, Roger, of Bolivar; her son, Terry Ray and wife, Angela, of Knoxville, TN; her father, Cleo F. Galloway of Saulsberry; 11 grandchildren, Jonathan Graham and wife, Nikki, and Christy Graham, all of Jack's Creek, TN, Tara Smathers, James Tyler Ray and wife, Amber, Melody Grace Evans and husband, Jordan, Joshua, Charity, Jeremiah, Gloria, Josiah and Kathryn Ray, all of Knoxville; and three great-grandchildren, Connor, Jackson and Baylynn Graham, all of Jack's Creek.

Memorials go to the American Cancer Society (cancer.org) or St. Jude Children's Research Hospital (st.jude.org).

FORREST DEAN ROBINSON, SR. MARCH 17, 1940-NOVEMBER 10, 2018

Forrest Dean Robinson, Sr. was born to the late Mr. Homer, Sr. and Mrs. Alberta (Wilks) Robinson on March 17, 1940. Forrest was the youngest of five children, all of which preceded him in death.

His funeral service was held on Saturday November 17, 2018 at 1:00 pm at Greater Springfield MBC with Pastor Robert Parham in charge. Burial was in the Bolivar Community Cemetery with Dixie Funeral Home in charge of the professional service.

He attended Bolivar Industrial Elementary School and spent his high school years at Allen-White in Whiteville, Tennessee. He became a member of Greater Springfield M. B. Church during his early teens.

Often he sought to spend quality time with his maternal grandfather, "Papa Morgan" Wilks, after the death of his father and stepfather, Mr. Alvin Bradford. Nothing could take the place of the lessons he learned from Papa Morgan about life and hard work.

Reaching for better things in life, Forrest took the Building and Trade class under Mr. Earl Anderson, and acquired the skills to build almost anything. While in high school, he gained real work experiences as a part time employee at Eastside Market in Bolivar under the ownership of Mr. Jere Miller. As a young adult, his work experiences advanced through a number of other jobs such as driving taxi for Peoples Cab (owned by His godfather, the late John Archie Williams), working at The Bolivar Gin, driving a school bus for the Hardeman County School System, and rendering janitorial services at Bolivar Industrial Elementary School.

Reassuring the care of his aging Mother until her death and providing for a growing family, his willingness to work opened up avenues never before treaded by African American males in Hardeman County. He became one of the first black deputy sheriffs of Hardeman County and the first black manager of a local grocery establishment (Creekmore's Food Center). He held this managerial position for over 30 years and retired after the store underwent new management.

Entering parenthood at an early age, he fathered one daughter (Teresa Young). Later he united in holy matrimony to Sally Frances Marshall on February 7, 1965. To this union three children were born, Nikita Lorraine, Mia Faith and Forrest Dean, Jr.

Serving as a member of Greater Springfield, he sang in the male chorus, drove the church van when needed, became a junior deacon under Pastor Harold Middlebrook, and treasurer of the mission fund.

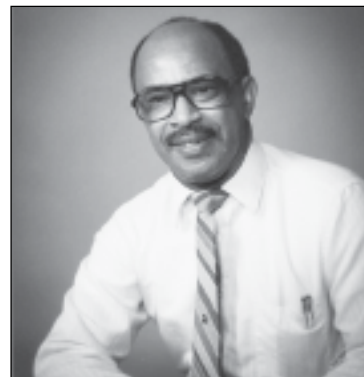

The precious memories of his life and legacy will be treasured by his wife Sally; three daughters Teresa Young, Denver, CO; Nikita (William) Starnes, Nashville, TN; and Mia Pointer, Madison, TN, one son Forrest Jr., Bolivar, TN; three grandchildren, Jerilyn Bass and Johnnie Young, Jr., both of Denver, CO, and Nakia Robinson, Bolivar, TN. His memory will also live on in the hearts of his loving god mother Mrs. Shirley Williams, one god son, Leon (Virginia) McNeal, two sister-in-laws, Betty Meadows, Woodruff, SC and Naomi Washington, Nashville, TN, one brother-in-law, John (Shirley) Wylie, Nashville, TN, a host of nieces, nephews, cousins, and his church family.

JAMES NOVEL JONES APRIL 27, 1943-NOVEMBER 14, 2018

Memorial services for Mr. James Novel Jones, 75, of Middleton were held Sunday, November 18, 2018 at Grace Apostolic Church near Middleton. Mr. Jones passed away on Wednesday, November 14, 2018 at his home near Middleton.

A native of Ripley, TN, he was the son of the late Novel and Virginia Sue Dunavant Jones and lived a large portion of his life in Memphis before moving to Hardeman County. He worked as a painter.

Among his survivors, he leaves a sister, Charlotte Lopez and a brother, Roger Dale Jones, both of Ottawa, Illinois; and a sister-in-law, Carmen Jones of Middleton. In addition to his parents, he was preceded in death by a sister, Martha Irene Ellingburg; and four brothers, George, Walter and David Jones and Eddie Dunavant.

Dear Hardeman County Community,

The body of Bolivar Central High School would like to thank everyone that attended, those who sent their prayers, those who donated and supported the Veterans Appreciation and Awareness event that was held November 7. It would not have been as successful without your support for this worthy cause. Thank you! And most of all, thank you veterans!

Respectfully, The Veterans Appreciation and Awareness Committee

Bethany Miller, Deborah Hodge, Sherri Johnson, Shereka Phinnessee, and Barbara L. Rogers.

Share Your Financial Abundance with Your Family

Thanksgiving is almost here. Ideally, this holiday should be about more than turkey, football, Black Friday and Cyber Monday. After all, the idea behind Thanksgiving is to share what we have with our loved ones. But if you want your family to take part in your abundance, you will want to look beyond one day in November. To help ensure you leave the type of legacy you desire, you will need to follow a detailed plan of action, including these steps:

Review your estate plans. If you haven't done so already, take this opportunity to review your plans for managing your estate – and if you haven't yet drawn them up, it's never too soon to start. You may want to work with a legal professional to create a will, living trust and other documents essential to your plan.

Preserve your financial independence. If your financial independence were to be jeopardized, your adult children might be forced to use their own resources to help support you – an outcome you obviously would never want. How can you protect yourself and your financial assets? For one thing, it's a good idea to work with your legal professional to create a power of attorney, which would enable someone – possibly a grown child – to make financial decisions for you, should you become incapacitated. Also, you may want to guard yourself against the devastating costs of long-term care, such as an extended nursing home stay. Consider this: The average annual cost for a private room in a nursing home is more than $97,000, according to a survey by the insurance company Genworth. Furthermore, Medicare typically pays very little for these expenses. Consequently, you may want to consider protecting yourself in advance by purchasing long-term care insurance or permanent life insurance with a long-term care provision. A financial professional can help you evaluate your options and recommend which ones might be appropriate for your needs.

Share your wishes with your family. It can take some time to put your plans in place – and, even then, you may need to make changes periodically, based on altered circumstances in your life, such as changes in your marital status, new family members, new property, etc. In any case, as your estate- and legacy-based plans evolve, you'll want to communicate them to your family – because, by doing so, you can help spare them some potentially unpleasant surprises when it's time to settle your estate. Also, by making your wishes known to your family far ahead of when any action needs to be taken, you'll help prepare the right people for the roles you wish them to assume – power of attorney, executor of your estate, and so on. You'll also want to acquaint your family with the legal, tax and financial professionals you've selected to work on your estate and legacy plans. By introducing these professionals early on, you can provide your family members with a greater degree of confidence in the overall estate-planning process.

Thanksgiving goes by in a blur. But by taking the steps described above, along with others, you can demonstrate the spirit of sharing with your family for years – and possibly generations – to come.

Dauids Slay Goliaths

With no one over six feet tall for the Lady Tigers, it looked like a problem to Rick Rudesill when Harding Academy had two players taller than him, both going at least 6'5".

"When I walked in I noticed they had some big girls," he said. "So we had to play fast and get in their face on defense all over the floor," explained Rudesill. "In the half court, we were overmatched."

It worked as the Bolivar defense and shooting 8-19 from the three point line eventually wore down the resolve of the Lady Lions in the Lady Tigers' 60-57 victory.

Hailey Hardaway led Bolivar with 34 points, 26 of them in the second half, while Dekiya Jarrett had four three pointers and 16 points.

The boys struggled early on offense and fell 78-75, but not before mounting a furious comeback that came up short. Antavious Shaw led Bolivar with 14 points and six rebounds.

Bolivar will be off until November 27, hosting Chester County. Bolivar added a game to their schedule, and will host Bolton on November 30. They are expected to make up the West Carroll game postponed by weather on November 17 on January 4.
