ONE DOLLAR

From the Other Side of the Desk

I had to go to Bolivar Hardware yesterday. More than once.

Visit #1 took about 10 minutes. I got 26 bolts, 26 of those things that go into the wall and spread out, and 26 washers.

Visit #2 was to get a level. Stanley brand.

(I was trying to put a few bookshelves on the wall. A level seemed like a good idea, although not right away.)

Visit #3 was for a 3/8" drill bit. The 1/4" was not big enough.

(They asked me what I was working on. I said I wasn't really sure.)

Visit #4 was for 26 bolts, 26 of those things that you drill a 3/8" drill bit into the wall and then hammer the things (wall anchors I'm told) so you can put the screws into the wall. I was too ashamed to return the first sets of 26, instead I told the people at Bolivar Hardware (where I was now on a first-name basis with everyone in the store, including some customers) that I had a different project. They just smiled. They knew. That was nice of them.

Visit #5 was for smaller screws, wall anchors, and washers. This time I was not ashamed to return the second set of items (while still keeping the first - see above), since I'd only been gone for 15 minutes.

At this point it was unknown who thought I was dumber. Those at Bolivar Hardware or those at my office. Let's call that a tie for now.

But now, armed with the proper equipment, I was able to install the necessary items for my project with minimal injury to everything but my pride as a craftsman.

And all is quiet at Bolivar Hardware. Until I have another project.

But at least I know where I'll go...

Bolivar Gets New Pickup Line

It's hard to get fired up about garbage, but Bolivar Mayor Julian McTizic is thrilled to see a new method of waste disposal come to the city.

"I'm so excited to finally see this awesome change for our city's sanitation department," said McTizic. "This is definitely a step into the future, no longer will our employees have to ride on the side of a truck in unsafe and hazardous weather conditions to collect residential trash instead they will be providing more manpower to mow right of ways, pick up litter, and our street sweeper will run daily. Most importantly the citizens will not see any increase in pickup fees. We are now in the early planning stages of offering these services to our small commercial users and county residents."

New garbage containers will be distributed in the days prior to November 4, with instructions on placing it out for pickup and items that will be allowed to be thrown away detailed.

McTizic said no current full-time employees will lose jobs in the change, instead, temporary employees that did not have status as city employees would no longer be used. The savings come from a reduction in labor costs from $137,800 per year to $32,000 per annum for a single driver versus a driver and four employees.

The change was unanimously approved by the Bolivar City Council this past summer, according to McTizic.

Bolivar Man Guilty of Weapons Charge

After a two-day trial, a federal jury has found Pierre Woods, 38, of Bolivar, guilty of being a convicted felon in possession of a firearm. U.S. Attorney D. Michael Dunavant announced the guilty verdict.

According to information presented in court, on February 20, 2019, officers of the Bolivar, Tennessee, Police Department were called to a motel. Woods' pregnant girlfriend informed officers that Woods had marijuana in the motel room and a gun in his car. She also said that she had been physically abused. Officers located marijuana in the room.

Woods had driven the car to work but was not present in the car when officers arrived at his workplace. The officers obtained a search warrant to search the vehicle. When asked, Woods told them he did not have the keys to the vehicle, and that his mother had them. Upon searching the vehicle, officers found a Kel-Tec 9mm pistol. The jury found Woods, who was already a convicted felon, guilty of being a felon in possession of a firearm. This is Woods' second conviction in this district for this offense.

Sentencing for Woods is scheduled for January 14, 2020 before U.S. District Court Chief Judge S. Thomas Anderson, where he faces a possible sentence of up to 120 months in federal prison.

U.S. Attorney D. Michael Dunavant said, "Convicted felons who possess firearms are an inherent danger to the community, and in this case, Woods was a violent domestic abuser who continued to possess a firearm and illegal drugs despite his prior felony conviction history. This is one more recidivist gun-toter that will be removed from the streets, and Bolivar and Hardeman County is safer as a result."

The Bolivar Police Department and the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms and Explosives (ATF) investigated this case.

This case was prosecuted by the Eastern Division of the U.S. Attorney's Office.

Lawsuit Settlement Going Slowly

Hardeman County Sheriff John Doolen will ask the Commissioner of the Tennessee Department of Safety and Homeland Security (TDSHS) to appoint a consultant to help with administration of the Hardeman County Sheriff's Department.

The request comes after the Sheriff and County Mayor Jimmy Sain did not agree on a choice of who would fill that role. The settlement, which ended the John Doolen (as Sheriff) vs. Jimmy Sain as (County Mayor) lawsuit, stated the two would agree within ten days of the settlement on the identity of the consultant or the role would be filled as decided by the TDSHS.

"We gave him a few names, but they haven't selected one," said Doolen, speaking on October 29.

And while it was thought CTAS (County Technical Assistance Service) could offer a consultant for free, Doolen says that was not the case.

"CTAS gave us a name of someone who would work on a paid basis, but they said they'd prefer not to be in the middle of a lawsuit."

Mayor Sain did not respond to a request for comment on the hiring of a consultant by the county.

Doolen noted that while Mayor Sain (who by law was mandated to be the defendant in the lawsuit) has adhered to a timely paying of invoices submitted by the department, the new system to clock department employees in and out has not yet been implemented, as specified in the

Benches for Better Health in Bolivar

Be More, Live More benches were installed at Pleasant Run Park. The benches allow for a walking break in a beautiful setting. They are accompanied by exercise instructions that will allow adult users to stretch and do muscle-strengthening activities. Instructions for both easy and advanced exercises are available, including sit ups, push-ups, toe touches, and squats.

According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, adults—including older adults—should do at least moderate muscle-strengthening activities two times per week. “These benches provide an opportunity for strengthening exercises along with a walk,” said Amy Elizer, Ed.D., UT Extension specialist. “Even though the temperatures are cooling down outside, people now have the choice to bundle up, burn calories, and strengthen their muscles—along with a walk.”

Hardeman Healthy Outreach’s BE MORE campaign encourages people to make healthy food choices and move more each day to help prevent chronic disease. For people just starting to exercise, it to talk to their doctor to make sure how much time and what types exercise are right for them.”

BEMORELIVEMORE benches will be installed in the coming weeks and months at Bolivar’s Sand Beach Lake Park, Grand Junction, Hickory Valley, Middleton, Pocahontas, Saulsbury, Toone and Whiteville.

This project is funded by the CDC’s High Obesity Program (HOP) and is working with The University of Tennessee Extension to improve access to food and physical activity opportunities throughout Hardeman County. For more information, email Amy Elizer (aelizer@utk.edu) or find and like @BeMoreHardeman, the project’s new Facebook page.

Hudson Drug Store is Back!

After a few years as a pharmacy under the Fred’s Pharmacy umbrella Hudson Drug will return under its old name, purchased by an independent Tennessee-owned company.

“We intend to take care of our customers and get away from the restrictions of a corporately owned pharmacy, with local values and care,” said Staff Pharmacist Amanda Baker.

“We combined with the Fred’s on Tennessee Street, and kept our pharmacist from that location as well. So people will be able to see the same friendly faces,” she added.

Staff pharmacists Jason Carter, Michelle King, and Randall Castellaw remain, and they plan to continue their delivery service to local customers.

Pharmacy hours are 8:30 a.m.-6:00 p.m. Monday thru Friday, 8:30 a.m.-4:00 p.m. on Saturdays and closed on Sundays.

Doolen said his attorney isn’t finished on the details of the case.

“As soon as all of the provisions of the agreement are met, we will be done,” he said. On October 8, the Hardeman County Commission met in special session and settled the three-month standoff between the Hardeman County Sheriff’s Department and the Hardeman County Commission. The commission voted 13-1 to settle the case.

The sheriff’s department, who originally sought approximately $1.4 million dollars, settled for $102,000, which was close to the amount the Hardeman County Commission cut from their budget from 2018-2019 to 2019-2020 fiscal years.

FAITH

The New Man by Jeff Capshaw

The last three columns were based on John 3. Two of them discussed the New Birth, and last week's column focused on the newly created order. That new creation is part of God's cosmic plan of redemption. This week I will stay with that theme of "newness" but as it relates to the believer as a "new man[kind]." As mentioned before, the Gospel intends to do more than merely save human souls. The redemptive plan of God will renovate all of the created order severely marred by the Fall.

The texts which mention the concept of the "new man," obviously, do not refer just to male believers. They also include believing women as being re-created by the Gospel. Several passages in the New Testament mention the notion of the new man, but the classic statement is 2 Corinthians 5:17. Paul writes, "therefore, if anyone is in Christ, he is a new creation. The old has passed away; behold, the new has come" (ESV). Thinking back to John 3 and the new birth leads one to consider the birth and infant analogy. Christians begin their spiritual lives as newborn babies, but the goal is to reach full maturity in the faith as a fully matured new man or woman created in Christ.

That maturity process happens as believers learn, by grace and the power of the Gospel, to apply truths like Romans 6:6. Paul writes, "knowing this, that our old self was crucified with Him, in order that our body of sin might be done away with, so that we would no longer be slaves to sin; . . ." Although that old self isn't completely eradicated, the New Testament teaches that the new self—the new creation of 2 Corinthians 5:17—ought to become more and more prominent in the life of the believer.

That only happens when believers are able to apply to themselves the truths of Ephesians 4. "Learning Christ," as Paul mentions there, or growing in Christ suggests the believer is able "to put off your old self, which belongs to your former manner of life and is corrupt through deceitful desires, and to be renewed in the spirit of your minds, and to put on the new self, created after the likeness of God in true righteousness and holiness" (vv. 23-24).

In summary, Scripture teaches that becoming a new believer is like a new birth. The new birth is God's plan of redeeming humans who are only a small part of his grander, cosmic plan to redeem all of creation. Becoming a believer in Christ puts one in the position of being a "new hu[man]." As new men and women in Christ, believers ought to mature by putting off the old man and its behavior which has been crucified with Christ. Moreover, they are to put on the new self and its behavior which, according to Colossians 3:10, ". . . is being renewed to a true knowledge according to the image of the One who created him."

Traumatized Life by David Coy

I may have been raped behind a dumpster, but I don't know by who or when or how. In newspapers my name was unconscious intoxicated woman. If I told them, (family) I would see the fear on their faces, and mine would multiply by tenfold, so instead I pretended the whole thing wasn't real. I tried to push it out of my mind, but it was so heavy I didn't talk, I didn't eat, I didn't sleep, I didn't interact with anyone. After work, I would drive to a secluded place to scream, and I became isolated from the ones I loved most. I became closed off, angry, self deprecating, tired, irritable, empty. The isolation at times was unbearable. I can't sleep alone at night without having a light on, like a five year old, because I have nightmares of being touched where I cannot wake up, I did this thing where I waited until the sun came up and I felt safe enough to sleep. For three months I went to bed at six o'clock in the morning. I used to pride myself on my independence, now I am afraid to go on walks in the evening, attend social events with drinking among friends where I should be comfortable being. I have become a little barnacle always needing to be at someone's side, to have my boyfriend standing next to me, sleeping beside me, protecting me. It is embarrassing how feeble I feel, how timidly I move through life, always guarded, ready to defend myself, ready to be angry. Moments with the Mayor by Julian McTizic

When I was growing up, we were taught that the first "Thanksgiving" happened in 1621 in Plymouth, Massachusetts. The pilgrims celebrated a good harvest with Native Americans who had helped them through the previous winter by giving them food at a time when it was scarce. Now, I have found that even the first Thanksgiving is up for debate according to information on the world wide web. As I poured through the various articles on the origin of Thanksgiving, one thing became abundantly clear. People inherently complicate things.

To some, Thanksgiving is all about a holiday feast with turkey, dressing, casseroles, candied yams, mac & cheese, pies, and much more. It is a day set aside to be with family, relax, eat, take a nap, and watch the traditional Thanksgiving Day parade and football games. To some, it is about being in service to others.

Thanksgiving is defined as the act of giving thanks; grateful acknowledgement of benefits or favors. It is as simple as that. In the overall scheme of things, where and when the tradition started or what you choose to do on Thanksgiving Day is not nearly as important as the message of Thanksgiving - to give thanks.

Oftentimes, we are so focused on what we do not have that we cannot see all that we DO have. As a city, we have a lot to be thankful for. We have beautiful parks, awesome scenery, great neighbors, good streets, a diligent police force, good utility service, a great fire department, an attentive city council, a variety of local businesses, good restaurants, awesome musical talent, good schools, caring teachers, and tremendous events. We have a beautiful city full of the most extraordinary people!

This Thanksgiving, let us take time to be THANKFUL for all that we do have. I love this city, and I love its people. Most importantly, I am THANKFUL for this city, I am THANKFUL for its people, and I am THANKFUL for the opportunity to serve as your mayor.

Wishing you and your families all the best this holiday season!
Julian McTizic, Mayor

Millennials May Need to Boost Life Insurance

If you're a Millennial – born between 1981 and 1996 – you're either in the very early or relatively early stages of your career, and as the old song goes, you've got a lot of living to do. Still, it's not too soon to think about a financial issue you may have overlooked: the need for life insurance.

Regarding this topic, Millennials need to ask three key questions: When should I purchase insurance? The answer to this question depends somewhat on your stage of Millennial-ism. If you're a young Millennial, perhaps just out of college, single, and living in an apartment, your need for life insurance may not be that great. After all, you may well have other, more pressing financial needs, such as paying off your student loans. But if you're an older Millennial, and you've got a mortgage, a spouse and – especially – children, then you unquestionably need insurance, because you've got a lot to protect.

How much do I need? Millennials who own life insurance have, on average, $100,000 in coverage, according to New York Life's 2018 Life Insurance Gap Survey. But that same survey found that Millennials themselves reported they need coverage worth about $450,000, leaving an insurance deficit of approximately $350,000. That's a pretty big gap, but of course, these figures are averages and may not apply to your situation. Still, you should know how much insurance you require. You might have heard that you need life insurance worth about seven or eight times your annual salary. And while this isn't a terrible estimate, it doesn't apply to everyone, because everyone's situation is different. A financial professional can look at various factors – your age, your marital status, number of children, size of mortgage, etc. – to help you arrive at an appropriate level of coverage.

Keep in mind, also, that your employer may offer life insurance as an employee benefit. However, it might be insufficient for your needs, especially if you have a family, and it will probably end if you leave your job.

What type of life insurance should I get? Many people initially find life insurance to be confusing, but there are basically two types: term and permanent. As its name suggests, term insurance covers a given time period, such as 10 or 15 years, and provides only a death benefit. It's generally quite affordable, especially when you're young and healthy. Permanent insurance, on the other hand, offers a death benefit and a savings component that allows you to build cash value. Consequently, the premiums are higher than those of term insurance. Again, a financial professional can help you determine which type of insurance is most appropriate for your needs.

Thus far, we've only been talking about life insurance. But you may also need other types of protection, such as disability insurance, which can replace part of your income should you become ill or incapacitated. And you may eventually want to explore long-term care insurance, which can help cover you for the enormous costs of an extended nursing home stay.

You should at least consider all forms of insurance as part of your overall financial strategy. The future is unknowable – and as a Millennial, you've got plenty of future ahead of you.

Sisk Assumes Top Role at JSCC

Dr. Jeff Sisk, Jackson State Community College alum and president of the Tennessee Colleges of Applied Technology at Jackson and Whiteville, began his tenure as interim president of Jackson State today, October 16.

He was appointed interim president by Tennessee Board of Regents Chancellor Flora W. Tydings after Jackson State President Dr. Allana Hamilton accepted a job with the Board of Regents. Her last day at Jackson State was Tuesday, October 15.

Sisk, who said he will not be a candidate for president of Jackson State, will serve until a search for the next president is concluded and the new president takes office.

“I am honored that Chancellor Tydings asked me to serve as interim president during the search,” Sisk said. “Jackson State has a special place in my family’s heart. I’m an alum, my wife Stephanie is an alum, and my son Mitch is a freshman baseball player here.”

Hamilton was appointed vice president of academic affairs for the Board of Regents and chief academic officer of the College System of Tennessee. She was president of Jackson State for nearly three years.

Regent Barbara Prescott will chair a search committee appointed by the Board of Regents. The committee will include some board members and representatives of the Jackson State faculty, students, staff, alumni and the broader community served by the college.

Sisk will remain president of the Tennessee Colleges of Applied Technology at Jackson and Whiteville and keep his office at the TCAT Jackson campus.

“TCAT Jackson and JSCC both have great leadership teams in place,” Sisk said. “Also, technical college and community college presidents in Tennessee attend many of the same statewide meetings. Those factors will make my schedule manageable.”

Sisk has also served as an Assistant Director, Student Services Counselor and Instructor of Computer Information Technology on various campuses in the technical college system. For the past 22 years, his career has focused on helping students learn the skills necessary to be successful in the workplace.

He earned both a doctorate in higher and adult education and a master’s degree in educational leadership from the University of Memphis. He holds a bachelor’s degree from Lambuth University and an associate degree from Jackson State.

“Jackson State was where I restarted my academic pursuits – a few years after not succeeding at a local four-year institution,” Sisk said. “It was exactly what I needed at the time. My experience at JSCC jumpstarted my career and is a major reason I am where I am today.” He said Jackson State faculty members when he was there in the late 1980s and early 1990s were personally invested in his success and made a huge impact on his career.

Jackson State Community College provides accessible learning opportunities that enhance the lives of individuals, strengthen the workforce and empower the diverse communities of West Tennessee. The institution offers traditional and contemporary associate degrees, certificates, continuing education and enrichment, and college-readiness programs

Free Flu Shots Available in Hardeman County November 19

The Hardeman County Health Department is offering flu vaccines at no charge to the community during a special FightFluTN vaccination event November 19.

“Getting a flu vaccine is the best way to protect yourself, your family and others from the flu and help keep our community healthy,” said Hardeman County Health Department Director Elise Powell. “The flu can make you very sick, keep you away from work, school and other activities, put you in the hospital or even take your life. We urge everyone in Hardeman County who has not received a flu shot yet to get one now, and this event is a great time to do it.”

The Hardeman County Health Department will provide flu shots November 19 at no cost to anyone who wishes to receive one at Bolivar Fire and Rescue Department from 9:00 a.m. to 12:00 p.m.

Seasonal influenza activity is spreading in Hardeman County and across Tennessee and is expected to continue for months, so it’s important for anyone over six months of age who hasn’t had a flu shot this flu season to get one now. The flu vaccine is especially important for infants, young children, pregnant women, adults over age 50 and those with chronic medical conditions. The flu shot remains the best protection against influenza.

For more information about the flu and getting a flu vaccine, contact your health care provider, call the Hardeman County Health Department at 731-658-5291 or visit tn.gov/health/fightflu.

Toone

Glenn Yarbrough

Howdy from the colorful Town of Toone, where it is FINALLY beginning to look and feel like fall. As I drive around our area, I'm seeing more and more trees and bushes showing-off their colorful Autumn foliage, but due to the dry weather we've had the past few months, the color show may be short-lived as the leaves turn brown and fall. Oh well, we can enjoy it while it lasts!

Mrs. Bernice Finley says it was a wonderful day of worship last Sunday at Clover Chapel Baptist Church as the members there celebrated the church's 124th Anniversary.

Pastor Eugene Ellison and members of the Union Baptist Church were special guests, and Pastor Ellison delivered a soul stirring message entitled, Lord We Need Help. Miss Bernice said the fellowship hall was beautifully decorated by Ms. Roseland Renee Fuller, in observance of Breast Cancer Awareness Month.

Due to the heavy rains last weekend, the Toone Fire Department's Fall Festival had to be down-sized and limited to indoor activities at city hall. Visitors enjoyed good BBQ and desserts and bidding on items in the silent auction. Pre-ordered Boston Butts were available for pick-up, and I will tell you that mine was delicious. Our thanks go out to the members of the Toone Fire Department for all they do for our town, and to the many volunteers who work so hard each year to raise money for new and more modern fire-fighting supplies and equipment to better protect our town's residents. Thanks also to, Tony Hooper, who generously loaned his big smoker rig to cook the boston butts. Hopefully next year the weather will cooperate, and the festival will be bigger and better than ever!

Another big event that was planned for last weekend also had to be re-scheduled. The new date for the Toone Elementary School PTO Golf Tournament is, Saturday, November 2, at Chickasaw State Park Golf Course. All activities associated with the tournament will still take place, and the shotgun start will still be at 8:30 a.m. For more information regarding the tournament, contact, Natalie Sowder, at 731-609-1766.

The 2019 Toone School Basketball season is now underway! Come cheer for the Bobcats as they host the Hornsby Elementary Bulldogs, November 7, at 5:00 p.m. at the TES Gymnasium.

Please join me in wishing a very Happy 84th Birthday to our long-time Toone neighbor, Howard "Buck" Young, November 1. Howard is one of 11 children of, Stat and Tot Young, and he and members of the Young Family have lived in the Toone area for many decades.

Happy Birthday to, Ms. Dorothy Mullen, November 4. On top of her Mother and Grandmother duties, Miss Dorothy owns and operates Dot's Country Kitchen in Bolivar.

Margo Tims Jackson will celebrate her Happy Birthday, November 7, so if you see Margo out and about, please wish her a happy day!

I hope everyone has a happy and safe Halloween. I can remember back to many, many Halloweens when we kids in Toone dressed in our costumes and went door-to-door collecting candy. Back then, many households gave candied apples, popcorn balls, fresh baked cookies, cupcakes and other homemade goodies, and some even passed out, nickels, dimes, quarters and occasionally, we hit the jackpot with a crisp, new $1 bill. The kids in town always looked forward to Halloween each year, and even though we soaped the occasionally window and rolled a yard or two now and then, the main focus was filling our bags with candy and other treats! Be sure to go slow and be aware of the little ghosts and goblins out on the streets that night.

Contact me via the information above to share your Halloween memories and your community and family events. Until next time. . . . talk to your neighbors!

Ricky and Jennifer Wilson and family traveled to Kansas during the school fall break. They enjoyed visiting with Kendall and friends while their daughter, Dixie, was able to spend time with her family.

Friends and family from Chester County traveled to the Ruskin Cave Venue in Dickson, TN, for Abbey Lambert and Sam Cafferty's wedding. Abbey is the daughter of Brandon and Teresa Lambert, Murfreesboro, TN, and granddaughter of Larry and Anita Lambert. Anita Lambert stated that she had never seen a more beautiful wedding. While Abbey and Sam walked over a bridge making their way to the ceremony site near the cave, the bells in the bell tower were tolling. Abbey and Sam repeated their vows in front of a waterfall. Abbey was a beautiful bride and Anita was honored that she asked to wear her pearls. A few pictures may be seen on Anita's Facebook page.

Mr. and Mrs. Steven Claybrook (CC Lambert) and family from Apex, NC traveled to Henderson to visit with family and to attend Abbey Lambert' wedding with Larry and Anita Lambert. While here, they were able to spend time with Janet, her mother and grandmother. Janet also attended the wedding.

Ronnie and Mary Ann (Siler) Russell and Lee and Betty (Siler) Stewart traveled to East Tennessee. They spent a night at the inn at Christmas Place in Pigeon Forge and then traveled to Asheville, NC. They stayed two nights at the Hotel in the Village on the Biltmore estate. Mary Ann stated that the lovely grounds and the mansion is beyond words. On the way home, they stopped at the Opryland Hotel where they met, their son, Cliff Russell, and his family for a night there. They visited the Hermitage the next day.

Gail Mayfield reports that Kenny Brown with the Hardeman County Solid Waste plans to have the convenience center up and running by mid-November. There will be a 'shoulder-high' red box for only bagged trash. If the volume increases sufficiently, he plans to install a larger container later and build a ramp along its side. Hours will be posted on the gate. Residents need to use the facility and encourage their neighbors to use it also.

Mark your calendars now for the annual Veterans Program and a talent show at the Silerton Fire Department on Saturday, November 9. Hamburgers can be purchased on site. If you would like to perform in the talent show, please come prepared.

Remember to call with news or your memories so we can stay connected.

Hello to all! The week of the Harvest Festival always brings lots of fun and laughter to the students of the school. The children get to dress up different every day which they love, and get to participate in several different activities. One thing that the children were able to participate in was raising money to witness their principal get a pie in the face. The children had to raise $1,000.00 and succeeded by not only raising the $1,000.00 but by raising over $2,000.00. Mr. Kessler is a great sport and we thank you for the work you do. Hornsby may be a small community but it has a lot of people with big hearts. Thank you to everyone who donated to this event I know the PTO and students really appreciate it. The activities will start this Saturday, November 2 at 12:00 noon with games, bounce, escape room, candy store, hayride, lots of good food and a live auction at 5:00. Just come on out and enjoy the fun! The girls had their first win in basketball against Whiteville. Monday, November 4, Whiteville will travel to Hornsby to play at 5:00 p.m., so come out and support this great group of kids.

Hornsby Baptist Church had a packed house Sunday when six people were baptized and we are so excited for these folks. It was a very special service as scripture was read before each individual was baptize. If you don't have a church we would love to have you. Project 4:13 had its annual Trunk or Treat, and the weather didn't stop it from being a huge success. Thank you to all the members for donating the candy and to all those who helped work the event. We need runners, walkers and spirit runners for the annual 5k for Christ! This wonderful ministry will take place on November 9, and you can go to the following link to register https://raceroster.com/events/2019/24155/5kforchrist. We are always excited for this wonderful event that helps the church support so many wonderful ministries. If you would like to know more please reach out to Bro. Matt Emerson, Lily Barnes, or Amber Moore. The adults are practicing every Sunday night for the Christmas program, come join us at 5:45 if you would like to be a part of this. The children will be working on their program every Sunday at 4:00. There is a new senior ministry that has started at Hornsby Baptist Church, they meet on the second Tuesday of every month. If you would like to know more contact Steve Byrd at 731-361-9050.

Magic :::::

There's really no magic involved when taking a young sportsman/woman hunting. It does however seem magical every time I get to watch another daybreak appear. I can assure you I was just as excited as the young sportsman/woman, I'd be taking on the last morning of young sportsman deer hunt.

Emma Grace McArthur would be the "Huntress" for the hunt accompanied by "Pop-Pop" Terry McBride. We were lucky enough to see two deer, although too early to consider a shot. We sat patiently till around 9:00, at that point I ask Terry would it be ok to take her around the farm on my 4-wheeler. After getting the thumbs up, we headed back to the house. I got the 4-wheeler and an extra coat for Emma, off we went. It was apparent by the number of deer tracks we saw the deer had "moved" big time after Friday/Saturdays Monsoon. When we got back to the house, Terry had that "you won't believe this" grin on his face. He had walked to my garden area (only a few hundred yards from the deer stand). Several deer ran through the timber, of course the "if" factor was talked about. Although no shot was fired, it was a very enjoyable hunt. I give tons of kudos to Pop-Pop and Emma's mother Donna. It's not only evident about safety with Emma, but she's being taught very well about our (hunters) loved sport. I invited Emma to come hunt during the regular gun season. I'd be so proud in assisting her with the taking of her first deer. Pretty sure there's going to be a duck hunt in her future and a turkey hunt thrown in to help complete the circle.

As Always:::: SAFETY FIRST:::: HOOT. Note: there was an episode in the deer stand that had Me and Terry almost tearing with laughter. You'll have to check with him on that!!

OPINION

I WAS WRONG

I owe Mayor Sain and apology. I had stated in an earlier Letter to the Editor that two elected officials were suing each other when, in fact, it was only the sheriff suing the mayor.

I still feel that the county commissioners, as the county's legislative body, should have been able to contrive a compromise in order to settle the issues without the lawsuit, thusly saving the taxpayer's money.

Concerned citizen, Billy M. Washam, Hornsby

Algebra? This was the October 3, 2019 article FROM THE OTHER SIDE OF THE DESK.

Who knows how to do Algebra and what would be the point if they knew? I have a 4-year college degree and don't know X from Y about Algebra. And now that I have reached the ripe old age of 82, I still don't know one single person who knows how to solve an Algebra problem.

Learning Algebra reminds me of my introductory accounting class in college: The instructor insisted that we should debit the left and credit the right. Why? No reason, just do it. I finally got it. After dropping the class twice, I finally realized that the instructions did not have to make sense; just always debit on the left and credit on the right. Then I worked in accounting for 13 years -- examining debits and credits. The balance sheets always balanced; the income and expense statements always balanced. I got paid. I got promoted a couple of times. I even trained high school students in the craft. Still, I don't know why accountants debit on the left and credit on the right. Likewise, I don't know Algebra and in my work life, never needed it. I haven't a clue as to what one does with Algebra if they know it. For the record, I learned my alphabet and multiplication tables at Bolivar Industrial School and still remember them both - use them routinely.

For 18 years, I worked as a Compensation Analyst and Director of the Compensation Division at a prestigious university. But I didn't use (or need) Algebra. Go figure.

I am a native Bolivarian. Grew up there and moved away at the age of 13. I have been a subscriber to the Bolivar Bulletin and thoroughly enjoy reading it, your column most of all.

Keep up the good work and keep me laughing. Your children probably enjoy having your around occasionally.

Mae Duncan, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Gibbs Scores Four TDs as Bolivar Wins

The pouring rain at Eagle Stadium in Henderson didn't slow down senior Rayveon Gibbs as he and the Bolivar Tigers beat the Eagles 30-14 on October 25.

Gibbs' night began with a 39-yard touchdown catch from sophomore quarterback Tyler Rice to give Bolivar an 8-0 lead with 2:51 left in the first quarter and the pair hooked up again in the second quarter, this time from six yards out.

Bolivar extended their lead when Gibbs picked up a fumble and ran 31 yards for his third score of the night with 3:04 left in the first half. For good measure, Gibbs ran in the extra point and the Tigers led 22-0.

Chester County began the scoring the second half, driving the length of the field to make it 22-8.

Gibbs then helped put the game away, returning the ensuing kickoff 70 yards for his fourth touchdown of night and a 30-8 lead.

On the night Gibbs caught three passes for 85 yards and ran for 98 yards on seven carries to earn the Vaughan Oil Player of the Game.

On the season, Gibbs leads Bolivar in scoring, rushing yards, rushing touchdowns, receptions, receiving yards, receiving touchdowns, return yards, and interceptions.

YOUR GARBAGE COLLECTION IS CHANGING

BEGINNING NOVEMBER 4

THINGS YOU NEED TO KNOW ...

WHERE TO PUT THE CART

Your cart has been positioned in the best place for the automated truck to reach it. Place it by the curb approximately 3 feet from the street, with the handle facing your house.

Carts should be out by 6:00 a.m. on your collection day. To ensure your cart is picked up, it is best to place it at the curb the night before your collection day. Remove your cart after collection, and do not leave it at the curb.

WHAT GOES IN THE CART

Only typical household garbage goes in the cart. The garbage should be placed in plastic bags and sealed, to prevent litter and to help keep your cart clean.

WHAT DOESN'T GO IN THE CART

Do not put lumber, shingles, rocks, dirt, batteries, or old tires in the cart. Do not use the cart to dispose of hazardous wastes such as paint, motor oil, poisons and flammable liquids. Do not place hot coals from your barbecue grill in the cart...it could melt or catch fire.

WHAT ABOUT BULKY ITEMS?

Items that are too big or bulky to place in the cart- such as appliances, mattresses, furniture, etc. will be picked up on a quarterly basis during the bulk item removal months of January, April, July, and October. NO ITEMS CONTAINING FREON, TIRES, CONSTRUCTION OR DEMOLITION MATERIALS WILL BE PICKED UP!

YARD WASTE collection will continue as normal. Please DO NOT place yard waste (grass trimmings, brush, or limbs) in this cart.

Questions regarding the upcoming changes to garbage collection should be addressed to city hall at (731) 658-2020.
