From the Other Side of the Desk

A few hundred words about dogs. Some mine, some from other sources.

1. No one dislikes dogs. Maybe they don't want one, but it is a rare person that says they don't like them. Avoid these people at all costs.
2. The phrase "sicker than a dog" just makes me sad. Dogs shouldn't be sick. Or die.
3. The dog is said to be man's best friend. Maybe because they stay off Facebook.
4. Try to pet a dog everyday. The dog might enjoy it and benefit from it as well.
5. When you're feeling down, your dog is a great comfort. One of the biggest reasons is that they don't ask why you're down or try to give you advice on how to fix it.
6. Dogs are happier and better adjusted in most areas of life. Mostly because they don't own golf clubs. Or a boat. Or a smartphone.
7. Dogs know when the fight is over and when to retreat. They rarely double down on anything that didn't work the first time. Unless it's forgiveness.
8. A dog is pretty predictable. That's a good thing.
9. Your dog doesn't announce that you've grown apart and need a break.
10. Your dog liking you isn't evidence you're not a jerk. But it's nice anyway.
11. Science self-righteously claims that we evolved from a lower species into better specimens of life in all areas. Dogs are proof that Darwin was wrong, or that we've still got a ways to go in a lot of areas. Like kindness, for instance.
12. A dog wags his tail instead of his tongue. That's a good policy.

Zoning Board Approves Royal Oak Site

The Hardeman County Regional Planning Commission approved the rezoning of 317.03 acres to provide property for Royal Oak Enterprises, LLC, to build a plant near Whiteville to manufacture lump charcoal.

The recommendation will be passed to the Hardeman County Commission, who will consider the change during their next meeting on October 16. A public hearing will be held to allow anyone with concerns to be heard prior to the vote on the rezoning.

Originally zoned at FAR (Forestry, Agriculture, Residential) the request changed the area east of Highway 179 and north of Mt. Tabor Road to I-2 (Restricted Industrial). The Tennessee Department of Transportation has committed to a $3.1 million price tag to build an industrial access road on Richland Road, which is currently gravel-covered.

Royal Oak has 10 facilities across the Southeast and is the #1 Hardwood Lump charcoal producer in the United States.

The Hardeman County Regional Planning Commission is made up of Jerry Cheshier, Russell De-

Berry, Bobby Doyle, Mary Ann Polk, Levi Smith, Sandy Hammons, and Harold Wilhite. All members with the exception of Wilhite were present at the meeting. Photo: The plant will be constructed with exhaust from the kilns leading to a central incinerator that will eliminate air pollution from the site.

Providing Books for Kids since '95

Hardeman County Mayor Jimmy Sain declared it Imagination Library Week in Hardeman County in conjunction with the statewide recognition of the program and presented a $2,500 check on behalf of the county.

Dolly Parton's Imagination Library is a book gifting program that mails free, high-quality books to children from birth until they begin school, no matter their family's income. What began as a way to help her community in 1995, grew statewide by 2004, resulting in more than 100 million books being sent to children. More than 1.3 million kids have been registered.

County Improves Jobless Numbers

Hardeman County unemployment numbers dropped 0.2 from June to July, one of 57 Tennessee counties that improved in July.

The statistics were released by the Tennessee Department of Labor and Workforce Development (TDLWD).

Hardeman County is one of 33 counties that has a rate of 5.0% or greater and ranks 67th in the state. Hardeman County is better than two surrounding counties, McNairy at 6.4% and Haywood at 5.9%; but ranks behind Madison at 4.3%, Chester at 4.3%, and Fayette at 4.1%.

Eight of the top ten Tennessee counties with the lowest unemployment surround Davidson County, while Knox and Sevier Counties round out the list. Seven of the state's counties with the highest unemployment rates are located in West Tennessee, with the remaining three in East Tennessee.

Tennessee had a seasonally adjusted statewide unemployment rate of 3.5 percent in July, which mirrored the rate from the past two months. Nationally, the seasonally adjusted unemployment rate experienced a slight decrease, down 0.1 of a percentage point to 3.9 percent.

The unemployment numbers for August 2018 are scheduled to be released this week.

ROSIE POLK NOVEMBER 27, 1923 - SEPTEMBER 1, 2018

A TIME TO BE BORN . . .

In the beginning was the word and the word was with God and the word was God

The word of God was spoken and Mrs. Rosie Lewis Polk came forth. She was born November 27, 1923, the first child of the late F. L. Lewis, Sr. and the late Velma Ballard Murphy. During her ninety-four years and nine months of living her life, she had many experiences and touched many lives. Both her parents and a stepfather (Mr. Rent Murphy) whom she came to love as her own father preceded her in death. Two loving sisters and three brothers also preceded her in death.

"The Lord is my Shepherd, I shall not want"

At an early age, she professed her faith in Jesus Christ as her Lord and Savior and joined Maze Hill M. B. Church in Hickory Valley, Tennessee. She later was a member of Hunts' Chapel Church and Hopewell M. B. Church in Grand Junction, Tennessee. Upon moving to Bolivar, Tennessee in later years, she became a member of New Bethel Missionary Baptist Church where she attended regularly and served as a Mother of the church until her health limited her ability to attend. She attended school in Hardeman County until the eighth grade when her father became ill and passed away suddenly. After the death of her father, she had the responsibility of helping her mother to gather the crops and care for her younger siblings.

A TIME TO PLANT . . .

Miss Rosie Lewis was united in holy matrimony to Mr. Lee Toy Polk at a tender age. Unto this union eight children were born. Although the love of her life, Mr. Lee Toy was called home to God much too early according to Mrs. Rosie, God abundantly blessed her and granted her over ninety-four years to love, support and care for four more generations of her family. She was very fond of her neighbors and adopted those in need as her very own. She was known and loved by many as "Muh."

Mrs. Rosie was well known as a hard working woman regardless of what she set out to do. During the early years, she and her late husband were sharecroppers. She would proudly pick well over three hundred pounds of cotton every single day. Upon moving to Bolivar in the late 50's, she began day work as a cook and housekeeper in private homes. She had the privilege of working with her husband as a factory worker at Tennessee Foods in Bolivar and Rossville, Tennessee. She was honored to be among the first employees at Bolivar Community Hospital, where she proudly retired as a custodial worker. After retiring she enjoyed being home with her youngest grandchild, Yakina and her great grandson, Jonathan. Both of them were spoiled rotten by her and their step grandfather, Edward Harris. Later in life, Mrs. Rosie grabbed at the opportunity for a new experience as a foster grandparent at Whiteville Elementary School. She was

A TIME TO DIE . . .

"To everything there is a season of which is spent here on earth, but when the time has come that which is here on earth is called back into which it came forth from."

At ninety-four years and nine months, she lived an amazingly blessed life. On September 1, 2018, God spoke once again closing her tenure here on earth at 9:50 a.m. at Pine Meadows Healthcare. She was surrounded by family.

She leaves to cherish her memory: a brother, Willie Murphy, Jr.; eight children, Lee L. Polk (Elena), Ruby Ruffin (Theodore), Joe Frank Polk (Doris), Robert Nelson Polk (Cleo), Helen Messenger (Glen), Thomas Polk (Mammie), Shirley Dickerson (Luzon), Robert Benny Polk (Ruth); twenty-six grandchildren; fifty-nine great grandchildren; a host of great-great grandchildren; a sister-in-law, Aggie Lewis; and a host of nieces, nephews, and cousins. Called before Mrs. Rosie's tenure were grandchildren: Andrewnetta Polk, Cheryl Ruffin Thomas, Baby Elijah Neely, Almeke Woods, and Victor Robinson; grand daughter-in-law, Linda Ruffin and special son-in-law, Theodore Ruffin.

We all loved her, but God loved her best.

Sunrise: Tortured Grief by David Coy

Years ago I saw a film based upon a true life account of a parent's child who was brainwashed into a cult religious group. As you might expect the family of the child was more than distraught and grief-stricken over this news and sought to learn all they could about the organization and information of how they could extract and deprogram their child from the cult. Examples of cults have existed and continue throughout history.

An example was the People's Temple, and there are numerous others that could be given. I can only imagine the grief and worry that parents would feel when their child isolates themselves from contact with all who are not a member of the group, especially family members. In November 1978 hundreds of people drank deadly grape juice at the instruction of their leader, in 1993 seventy-six people were directed to their death. In one study between two million and five million young people join cults annually. Self-murder seems to be a common theme among members. Often Leaders use community organizations or some type of individual improvement to entice new recruits.

Much study has been done in the development of cults and how leaders gain such control over their devotees. One dictionary defines 'cult' as hinting toward self-willed opinion that rejects authority of truth, leads to division, and causes the formation of a sect. Dr. Michael Langone has done a great deal of research in the area of mind-manipulating movements. Likewise,

Why The Gospel is Good News #2

Brought to you by the MIDWAY CHURCH OF CHRIST

For a free Bible study appointment, contact Dwain Barnes at (731) 267-7979
Or write to: P.O. Box 153 Middleton, TN. 38052

For a variety of reasons the gospel of Jesus Christ contains good news for all of mankind! In fact, the Greek word euangelion, from which the word gospel comes from, literally means "good news" or "good message." The message of the gospel contains not only the divine love of God demonstrated, but also provides the answers to man's greatest needs! The gospel has: (1) Facts to be believed (1 Cor. 15:1-4), (2) Commands to obey (Rom. 6:17-18; 2 Thess. 1:7-9), and (3) Promises to be enjoyed (Acts 2:38; Col. 1:5).

(2) The Gospel Settles Our Sinful Past.

When we look at our past misconduct in sin, it is very often with regret and shame for the deeds we have done. We would love to change things and would do anything to go back in time to undo the mistakes and sins of our past, but we can't. And there are many who have a hard time with the deeds of the past and letting go. But the good news of the gospel is that we can have a sense of closure to our past and move forward! God offers us a new beginning, God offers us a chance to start over with a fresh slate in the gospel. And that is awesome news to hurting hearts troubled by past consequences of sin! We all have sinned and need the forgiveness that only God can give to us (Romans 3:23; 6:22-23). Notice the words of great comfort those receive—who come to God for release & forgiveness:

In Isiah 1:18, God was offering the Israelites forgiveness, as He said, "Come now, and let us reason together," Says the Lord, "Though your sins are as scarlet, they will be as white as snow; Though they are red like crimson, they will be like wool." Twice God offers them a chance to start over, as God would not remember their sins against them any longer in Isiah 34:25, "I, even I, am the one who wipes out your transgressions for My own sake, and I will not remember your sins." (see also Jeremiah 31:34) God expresses His willingness to forgive in Micah 7:18-19 "Who is a God like You, who pardons iniquity and passes over the rebellious act of the remnant of His possession? He does not retain His anger forever, because He delights in unchanging love. He will again have compassion on us; He will tread our iniquities under foot. Yes, You will cast all their sins into the depths of the sea." What beautiful pictures of God's love and forgiveness expressed in words and concepts that we can appreciate what God does with our sins! And only with God's provision can we truly "walk in newness of life." (Romans 6:4; 2 Corinthians 5:17)

Amos: A Prophet for Us - Part 1 by Jeff Capshaw

Last week I began a series on the book of Amos. I also stressed reading the Bible as Holy Scripture and not as an encyclopedia or ancient textbook, because the Bible is a religious-covenantal book.

The Old Testament was the Bible for Ancient Israel and for Jesus, the Apostles and the Early Church. Furthermore, it was the only Scripture the Church had until the formation and completion of the New Testament (circa 40-90/100 AD).

Although Peter mentions Paul's writings (2 Peter 3:16), all New Testament references to Scripture refer to the Old Testament. The Church historically takes seriously the Old Testament as the Word of God too. Only relatively recently have some Christians de-emphasized the legitimacy and relevance of the Old Testament for the Church today. This is a serious mistake, because the two testaments of our Bible are remarkably related. As Saint Augustine said, "the new is in the old concealed; the old is in the new revealed."

Additionally, I urged reading the Scripture as a story with a distinctive beginning-middle-end. It is a story structured around the themes of Creation, Fall and Redemption with the overarching message that God is building a kingdom of redeemed people for his glory.

Modern readers should also be aware of the Bible's 3 constituent parts: literature, history and theology. For example, the Prophet Amos utilized an array of Ancient Near Eastern literary devices. Much of his book is comprised of Hebrew poetry. He also employs irony, metaphor, puns, hyperbole, groupings into seven things, repetition and other rhetorical devices.

Historically, Amos was written at time in Israel's history (circa 750 BCE) when there was national peace and great prosperity. Yet the people had become lazy and spiritually apathetic. So, instead of taking his message to kings and spiritual leaders like the prophets Nathan, Elijah and others before him, Amos aims his message directly at common people.

Theologically, Amos reminds the people of the Covenant God made with Israel centuries before and the consequences of failing to keep it. He insisted that obedience brings Yahweh's blessing, but disobedience brings God's disfavor and often terrible consequences.

Thus, instead of reading Amos as a fortune teller looking into a crystal ball to predict the distance future, readers should understand him as a covenant prosecutor. Amos was called by God from his shepherd/famer vocation as a spokesman for Yahweh, and he preached a relevant message to the people of Ancient Israel living during his own time.

Hello from the friendly Town of Toone, where summer is hanging on tight, but as I see more and more leaves falling to the ground, it's clear that autumn is patiently waiting in the wings. I suppose I'm ready for fall this year. Although it marks the end of boating season for another year, I do enjoy the colors and all of the events and festivals that go along with it. Before you know it, will be chasing the turkey around the yard and hanging up twinkling lights on our houses. Yes, we are definitely on the downhill side of 2018!

And speaking of Christmas decorations, I saw my first major display of them in a Cracker Barrel Restaurant on my way home from Kentucky last weekend. It seems that stores choose to put them out earlier and earlier each year. Maybe they should just go on and leave them out year-round and be done with it. I can remember when you had wait till after Thanksgiving to even see a Christmas decoration in a store. Nowadays, Thanksgiving is so overshadowed by Christmas, we barely have time to eat our turkey before it's time to mix-up the Christmas Egg-Nog. That is sad, too, because I love Thanksgiving. It is one of my favorite holidays of the whole year. In our family, Thanksgiving is a celebration that lasts all weekend. Relatives begin arriving on Wednesday and early Thursday, and most stay until Friday or Saturday. We all gather here at the Yarbrough Farm each year, and everyone enjoys delicious food and warm fellowship, along with hunting, fishing, shooting and riding four wheelers through the trails on the farm. So slow down and take the time to enjoy Thanksgiving! There will always be time to begin decorating for Christmas on the Monday after turkey day!

The first opportunity for students to turn in their cookie dough orders & money will be Friday, September 21. The final day will be Friday, September 28, so all of you TES students out there, get on the phones, go knock on your neighbors' doors, and sell that cookie dough! This is a very important fundraiser.

The 2018 Leathers Family Reunion was held last weekend at the home of Danny and Kim Leathers Payne. There was a great turn-out this year, and everyone spent the day enjoying delicious food while reminiscing and sharing family stories.

For the first time in many years, the Forest Festival returns to Hardeman County this week! For many years, this festival was a big event for Bolivar and Hardeman County. Talk began last year about resurrecting the festival, and with the work of many, many dedicated volunteers, it is finally coming together. There will be an entire week of celebration that includes the big parade, a beauty pageant, fashion show, arts and crafts, food vendors, a loggers' breakfast, and much much more! For more information, go by or call the Hardeman County Chamber of Commerce at: 731-658-6554. Hope to see you there!

A belated Happy Birthday to, Mary Katherine Higgs, who celebrated her big day, September 18. Although Mary Katherine now lives away, we still think of her as our Toone neighbor.

Until next time... talk to your neighbors!

Hello to all! The Hornsby PTO is very busy trying to get things rolling for the annual Harvest Festival, which will be held on November 3rd. A list of the local businesses, which have given in the past, was distributed to each student asking parents to help collect donations. Please look at the list and contact the school if you are able to collect from any of these businesses. Children were also given instructions on the poster contest that will take place to help advertise the festival. All posters must be turned in by 8:00 a.m. on Friday, October 5th. These posters will be distributed throughout the county to promote the day and times of the event, if you would like one put up in your business please contact the school. There will be lots of activities on that day with games, bouncers, great food, candy store, and the auction which will start at 5:00 p.m. If anyone is willing to help work or donate, you can contact the school at 658-5707, I know the staff and PTO would greatly appreciate it.

The Hornsby Baptist Church Youth provided a free lunch Sunday by having a salad and potato bar for the congregation. The meal was free but donations were very much appreciated for their mission work next summer. The church has several different ministry fields if anyone who would like to participate in any of the mission work they can speak with Bro. Matt and he will be happy to get you started. November 10, 2018 will be the annual 5K for Christ run. Anyone who would like to participate can go to the hornsbybc.org website and get signed up or on race line. We are very excited by the events that will be taking place and we pray you will want to be a part of it. Practices for both the adults and children Christmas programs have started, if you would like to be a part of either please contact Lynn Gibson or Amber Moore.

If you have anything you would like to share please contact me I will be happy to put it in the article. ## Hand in Hand::

LJ (Larry Joe) and I went down the creek (Hatchie), not only to squirrel hunt, needed to pull our lines too. Total bag for the hunt was five, haven't been skunked "yet!" After being very lucky and getting all of our lines, I was pondering something. The safety factor of the river. I understand the "Historic" value, I understand its scenic value. What grabs me about certain things is::: how can this be enjoyed if it's a SAFETY HAZARD to utilize its joys? I would think if our "Park System" had dangers blocking trail or major roads, immediate action would be taken, and I'm sure they are. Don't get me wrong, the crew that works very hard removing trees on the river do an OUTSTANDING job!! No dredging allowed!! So, the main channel gets blocked by sand every time the waters extremely low. Appears to me some thought should be given to make our "NATURAL RESOURCE SAFE!"

Hey, I'm just a Retired Opinionated Marine. Kinda like the Refuge System, let's change the Waterfowls Natural Migration::: DUH!::: As Always ::: SAFETY FIRST::: HOOT

How Can Life Insurance Help You?
You may not be aware of it, but September is Life Insurance Awareness Month. Of course, you probably recognize, at least in a general sense, the importance of life insurance, but do you know the various ways in which it can help you?
Life insurance can play a sizable role in your ability to achieve some important financial goals, such as these:
Helping your family maintain its lifestyle – If you are married and have young children at home, you and your spouse may need to work. If you were no longer around and your earnings were gone, could your family still afford to live as they do now? Adequate life insurance can help them preserve their lifestyle.
Helping your children continue their education – Even if you weren't planning to foot the entire bill for your children's college education, you still might be doing what you can, such as contributing to a 529 education savings plan. If your income was lost, could your family still afford to continue these contributions? With enough life insurance, you can improve the chances that your children will at least get some financial help for college or vocational training.
Helping your survivors pay off debts – Are all your debts paid off? If not, you could be leaving your family on the hook for some of them, such as credit cards and car loans – not to mention your mortgage. Also, as uncomfortable as it may be to consider it, funeral and burial costs can easily run into the thousands. The proceeds of your life insurance policy can help pay down debts, handle your final expenses – and relieve your family of costly burdens.
Helping your spouse build resources for retirement – It's almost impossible for most of us to save too much for retirement. Your spouse may already have some retirement accounts, such as a 401(k) and an IRA, but will these be enough to sustain a long retirement? Through life insurance, you can potentially add significant amounts to your spouse's retirement assets.
As we've seen, you can accomplish a lot with life insurance. But how much do you need?
If you want the appropriate amount of coverage, you should consider a variety of factors. How much do you earn? How much does your spouse earn? How many children do you have? How old are they? How much do you owe on your home? By answering these and other, similar questions, you can arrive at a coverage level that's suitable for your needs. Also, keep in mind that those needs will change – for example, if your children are grown and you've downsized your living arrangements, you may require less insurance than at earlier times in your life.
Life Insurance Awareness Month is a good time to remind yourself of the importance of insurance and of the need to own the correct amount. So, review your coverage soon – after all, you can't predict the future, but you can still prepare for it.

AT&T Donates to TCAT-Whiteville

As part of AT&T's continuing commitment to supporting quality education across Tennessee, the company has donated $3,000 to the Tennessee College of Applied Technology in Whiteville. The contribution will provide for the purchase of wireless networking equipment which will help support training for high-skill jobs requiring technology-based skills throughout Tennessee.

"The training supported by this contribution will help provide our students the skills required to compete in today's technology-based economy," said Dr. Carolyn Beverly, President, Tennessee College of Applied Technology - Whiteville. "Creating and maintaining a workforce that is ready to meet the needs of our region is vitally important and through donations like today's we will be able to reach even more Tennesseans."

This donation is part of AT&T's $81,000 gift to the Tennessee Board of Regents. Funding will provide 26 TCATs up to $3,000 to purchase new wireless networking setups used to teach infrastructure design, security and planning, and to practice implementing and protecting networks and operating plans. As a result, students will have expanded opportunities to learn the skills they need for careers in information technology fields.

"Higher education often creates a pathway to prosperity for those looking to quickly enter the job market and today's announcement aims to enrich that opportunity for more students," said State Senator Dolores Gresham. "AT&T's investment in programs like this exemplifies its commitment to furthering education in Tennessee."

"TCAT-Whiteville does a tremendous job preparing students to enter the workforce with a strong foundation for future success," said State Representative Johnny Shaw. "Thanks to their commitment to quality education, Tennessee has a first-class workforce ready to meet the needs of the rapidly evolving 21st century economy."

"As Tennessee's economy continues to grow we must focus on workforce readiness to ensure employers have the skilled workers they need to flourish," said Bolivar City Mayor Julian McTizic Sr. "And colleges of applied technology are instrumental in preparing our workforce to meet the needs of an ever changing 21st century economy."

Tennessee's information technology and technical needs are growing at an exponential rate, creating increased demand for well-trained IT personnel that are crucial to the economic development of Tennessee businesses and industries.

"Through AT&T Aspire, we are focused on developing a 21st century workforce that can promote continued prosperity and a stronger economy across Tennessee," said AT&T Tennessee Regional Director of External and Legislative Affairs Chuck Thomas. "We are excited to continue our support for the TCATs to help more students gain the high-demand skills necessary to compete for quality job opportunities and to empower more students to reach their highest potential."

Tales from the Yellow House by Lee McAlpin

The cotton patch at the Yellow House only covered about two acres, but to us youngsters, pulling our six and nine foot tar-bottom cotton sacks up and down the rows of the fluffy white snow-bank landscape, it seemed like it was one thousand acres at the least. I remember that Mom put a strap on a flour sack when we were real young and we would pick along side them in the cotton patch.

Sooner than I would have wanted, we graduated to the six and nine foot sacks. Pain was ever present in the cotton fields. What with the dreaded stinging worms, and the pain from sticking a sharp cotton boll burr in a finger that had chaffed and cracked open. Then there was the threat of being hit up side of the head with a green cotton boll catapulted by my brother Don or another picker across the patch. Us kids were firm believers in the American Indians custom of rain dancing. At the appearance of the tiniest cloud in the sky, my sister Joyce would immediately go into a raindance frenzy, slinging cotton bolls, dust and chanting some unknown language not even known to herself. We were hoping that a rain would drive us from the cotton patch. Sometimes it would come up a shower, but I don't give sister Joyce's dance any credit for the shower.

Sometimes we would swap out cotton picking with a neighboring farmer. At the time, I thought that it just wasn't fair to go and pick cotton somewhere and not get paid. We had to save the money we made from picking cotton to order clothes from one of the mail order businesses, such as Sears & Roebuck, Aldens or Spiegals. This usually consisted of two pair of jeans, two flannel shirts and sometimes a pair of shoes for us boys, and yes, usually a pair or two of long handle underwear.

The cold winter walk down the railroad tracks to school called for the long handles. A pair of shoes would not last more than one season walking on railroad rocks and crossties. One highlight of cotton picking was when we occasionally found a ripe watermelon that had somehow reached maturity under the cotton stalks. The cool, red, sweet melon was quickly devoured by a hungry bunch of cotton pickers. Sometimes we ate the ripened fruit of the apricot vines which grew in the cotton fields. Some people called them may-pops. Whatever they were, we ate them.

I can remember walking home from the field in the late afternoon just before sundown. The coolness of the fall evenings and knowing that supper was in store and another night's rest, helped ease the aching backs. I did not make too much money when I hired out to pick cotton. I wanted at least a four course lunch. That being one can of potted meat, one can of Vienna sausage, some crackers and a sweet of some kind. By the time I paid for all that coupled with my inability to pick a lot of cotton left my financial situation in the red most times.

September is Suicide Prevention Month

In Tennessee, an estimated 950 men, women, and children die by suicide each year. More people die by suicide each year than from homicide, AIDS, or motor vehicle accidents. Suicide is the leading cause of violent deaths in our state, nationally, and worldwide, far above homicide and death due to natural disasters. Suicide is the second-leading cause of death among youth and young adults ages 15-24 in Tennessee and for the United States at large. According to the Tennessee Department of Health, there were 1,065 recorded suicide deaths in our state in 2015, at a rate of 16.1 per 100,000 population.

In a lot of cases, suicide can be traced to unrecognized, untreated, or poorly treated mental illness. It can happen to people of either sex, any race or ethnicity, and any economic status. The average suicide death leaves behind six survivors—family and friends of the deceased—all of who are at increased risk for a suicide attempt themselves. As if the emotional and psychological toll were not enough, suicide and suicide attempts cost the state of Tennessee $1 million a year in medical treatment, lost wages, and lost productivity.

The Tennessee Suicide Prevention Network (TSPN) and its allies in the public health, mental health, and social service fields are joining forces to recognize the month of September as Suicide Prevention Awareness Month. During this annual observance, TSPN and its allies arrange several educational and memorial events across Tennessee. These projects help teach the public about the problem of suicide and how it can be prevented. They also give us an opportunity to remember those lost to suicide; to encourage survivors of suicide, survivors of suicide attempts, and people who have triumphed over mental illness; and to recognize individuals who have made notable contributions to suicide prevention efforts in our state. Source: tspn.org

If you or anyone you know has had thoughts of suicide or are experiencing suicidal tendencies, please text TALK to 741-741 or call 1-800-799-4889.

For non-emergency information on suicide prevention, contact the Tennessee Suicide Prevention Network at 615-297-1077 or tspn@tspn.org.

Severe Storm Program Scheduled for October 11

The fall severe storm season is approaching. Are you ready for whatever is in store? Do you have a severe weather plan at your home and your workplace? Can you recognize the clues that suggest large hail, flash flooding, or a tornado is possible? Do you want to become part of the severe weather warning system in your county?

As part of its area-wide weather preparedness campaign, the National Weather Service in Memphis will answer these and many other questions at the Skywarn storm spotter training program on Thursday, October 11, from 6:00 to 8:00 p.m. The program will be in Bolivar at the Bolivar Municipal Center, 211 N. Washington St., and is held in partnership with Hardeman County Emergency Management.

The program will discuss thunderstorm formation, severe weather production, and features associated with severe storms. The presentation will also review tornado formation and behavior, non-threatening clues which may be mistaken for significant features, and safety tips to keep in mind when thunderstorms threaten. The program will discuss spotter operations and recommended reporting procedures. The two-hour presentation will be in multimedia format, featuring numerous pictures of storms and nearly 25 minutes of storm video clips.

The network of trained storm spotters plays an important role in Hardeman County. "Real-time reports from storm spotters play a huge role in our warnings", said Gary Woodall, Warning Coordination Meteorologist at the Memphis NWS Office. "Radar and satellite are great tools, but they only tell us part of a storm's story. The combination of spotter reports and electronic data gives us the best possible picture of the storms and what's going on inside them."

The program is free and open to the public. "If you want to learn about tornadoes and storms, this program is for you," Woodall said. "Even if you don't become an active storm spotter, you will learn about how storms work and the visual clues you can identify when storms are in your area. We will discuss severe weather safety tips. This will help prepare yourself and your family for the threats that storms pose."

The Hardeman County severe weather program is one of 12 that the Memphis NWS Office will conduct between late September and early November. The National Weather Service in Memphis provides forecasts, warnings, and weather services for 57 counties across the mid-South. For more information on severe weather and the National Weather Service, visit the Memphis Forecast Office's website at <http://www.weather.gov/memphis>.

Hardeman County Sports Notes

Bolivar Parks and Recreation offers a Pickle Ball Clinic at the Bolivar Municipal Building in the gymnasium on Mondays and Fridays from 9 a.m. until 11 a.m.

Pickle Ball is a paddle sport that combines elements of badminton, tennis, and table tennis. Two or four players use solid paddles made of wood or composite materials to hit a perforated polymer ball, similar to a Wiffle Ball, over a net.

Pickle Ball will be played as a part of the Tennessee Forest Festival, in Bolivar, on September 29.

For more information on the clinics, call 658-7529.

The Bolivar Hardeman County Boxing Club is accepting applications from people ages 8-80, Monday through Friday from 3:00 - 6:00 p.m. at their location at the former Hardeman County Jail Annex on Third Street in Bolivar. Call Director Obie Beard at 731-402-1078 for more information.

Fifteen players picked 11 games correctly in week three of the 8th Annual SEC Football Pick'em contest. The cancelled game between South Carolina and Marshall was counted as a win for everyone.

A drawing was held to determine the winner of the weekly prize and James Poore of Saulsbury was the winner of the weekly t-shirt. The season winner will get a chair from Weems Furniture.

Two players are tied at the top with 35 games, Mikey McMahan of Bolivar and Joe Reynolds of Grand Junction are tied for the lead.

The team competition is led by Loaded with Laniers, Morrislite and the Four Horsemen at 130, with two teams (Zorro, 3 Dudes and a Chick) are one game back. Two more teams are tied two games behind.

The competition asks players to pick all of the games in the Southeastern Conference Football season prior to the year. There is no fee to enter.

See standings on A11.

Historical Treasure Goes Up for Auction

by Ken Savage

One of Bolivar's hidden jewels, The Gardens, lies at 212 West Sycamore Street and will be up for public auction on September 22. Lynn Jackson Auctions and Real Estate will offer the 3000+ square foot home and many other items connected with the house beginning at 10:00 a.m.

The home is just a couple of blocks from the Hardeman County Courthouse, yet it sits secluded on 5 1/4 wooded acres of land.

While it was originally known as "The Gardens," it is not listed on the National Historic Registry. It is located on the City of Bolivar Historical Zoning Area.

The Gardens was designed and built by noted architect and builder, Fletcher Sloan. Fletcher Sloan and half brother Samuel Sloan (also a famous Philadelphia architect) came to Bolivar before the Civil War. They both had designed The McNeal Place in Bolivar. Fletcher Sloan then designed St. James Episcopal Church, and after the war, designed many of the buildings and houses in this area including this Swiss Chalet style home, The Gardens in 1871. The home was considered to be several years ahead of its time in design. Fletcher Sloan also designed many southern churches and courthouses including the ones in Bolivar, Tennessee, Holly Springs and Oxford, Mississippi.

The Gardens was originally built for noted Bolivar attorney, Frank Fentress and his family. Woodson J. Savage, Sr., Bolivar merchant, was the second owner of the home in 1914. In 1924, Mr. Savage purchased the old iron fence that was erected around the Hardeman Courthouse in 1870. He installed the fence around the large park like grounds that surrounds the home. Susan Bradley Young and her family became the third owners of this home and property in 1971. Then in about 1976, Patricia Vincent bought the home and lived there until her recent passing.
